Notes of Interest to Church People of all Denominations in All Parts of the County.

FORGIVENESS FOR ALL.

No doubt many people have had their minds drawn toward the execution of Bert Delige, and some have been not a little concerned about his eternal welfare. Shortly after the murder of Mrs. Baudis, a man asked me if there would be any salvation for the criminal, since "No murderer hath eternal life," to which I made reply, quoting 1 John 3:15, "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer; and whosoever murdereth his brother, his blood shall abide in him." In Galatians fifth chapter there are seventeen sins mentioned, among these the three crimes of Delige, adultery, murder and drunkenness are reported without any extra emphasis. "All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men."—Matthew 12:31. While we look with horror and dread upon this awful crime and are convinced that it was none other than the desire to do hell manifest in the flesh, we "desire to grope by the Word that even for this sin there is pardon." "Though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson they shall be as wool."—Isaiah 1:18. "If we confess our sins he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."—1 John 1:9. I have had the privilege of visiting Delige several times in the prison, and as a witness between the dead and the living I believe that he has made his peace with God. I do not desire in the least to commend unto any the life of Delige, but rather to commend unto all "the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation."

Steel Earnings Decrease.

The United States Steel corporation reports earnings for the quarter ending March 31, of $23,519,203.

This compares with $25,990,978 for the quarter ended Dec. 31; $37,365,187 for the quarter ended Sept. 30, 1910, and $37,616,876 for the quarter ended March 31, 1910.

The regular quarterly dividends were declared on preferred and common stock. The report gives the net earnings of the corporation for the quarter ending March 31 at $20,001,817.

The board of directors re-elected all the old officers with the exception of W. B. Dickson, who resigned his position as vice president some time ago. His place was not filled.

Former Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, authorized a denial of a story that in the near future he would retire from the head of that organization.

Divided Victory in Catholic Case.
The first of the pending decisions in the Catholic church cases in Pottsville, Pa., brought by the late Archbishop Ryan, was made when Judge Bechtel informally stated from the bench that the three county judges are a unit as to the law governing the conduct of Catholic cemeteries.

The decision is that the lay members of the congregations, under the laws of Pennsylvania, have supervision over all such cemeteries, and can manage the financial affairs, hire the grave diggers, etc.

But on the question of who is to be buried in consecrated ground, the court holds that the priest alone has authority; and that lay members cannot decide whether a person has been in good standing in the church so as to entitle him or her to burial in a Catholic cemetery.

This is a divided victory for the parties to the suit.

Second Body Found in Creek.

Spa creek gave up the second of the bodies to the dual mystery that has baffled the Annapolis, Md., police authorities for nearly two weeks past, when the body of Miss Alice Shores, who disappeared with her younger sister, Mrs. Dora H. White, on the night of April 5, and whose body was recovered on Sunday, came to the surface.

Whether the women came to their deaths by drowning by accident or suicidal intent or by violence is still being probed by the authorities.

Though the face of Miss Shores bears several pronounced marks of discoloration, nothing in the way of the severe bruises as marked the face and neck of Mrs. White was discovered when the body was taken from the water.

Fasts For 26 Days.

While loading lumber a month ago William T. Marvel, of Seaford, Del., stuck a small splinter into his thumb.

The accident happened on a Friday, and Sunday afternoon the pain was so excruciating that a doctor was summoned, and upon his arrival lockjaw had developed.

Everything was done to relieve him, but without avail. Fasting was ordered and Marvel was kept alive for twenty-six days by hypodermic injections of morphine.

Marvel has now recovered and he shows no ill effects from his fast and attack of tetanus.

Dynamite Cap Kills Woman.

A dynamite cap which Mrs. Rose Schultz, a widow, residing at Guth's Station, near Allentown, Pa., held in her hand while she picked it with a hairpin, exploded.

Both her hands were torn off and her face, chest and abdomen frightfully lacerated, exposing the intestines. She was sent to the hospital at Allentown, where she died.

Mrs. Schultz is the mother of three children, one a nursing babe. The cap was found by her little boy, from whom she took it while he was playing with it.

Farmer Finds Corpse of Child Nailed in a Coffin.

For the second time within two weeks Coverdale Reynolds, a farmer, living between Seaford and Bridgeville, Del., has plowed up in his field a human body.

This time it was the body of a small child, securely nailed in a coffin, and quite a distance from the first one plowed up. The authorities will make an investigation.

Reedsville Man Kills Eagle.

Emery Ayers, of Reedsville, Pa., shot and killed a bald eagle, measuring six feet from tip to tip, adjacent to Lewistown. When killed the bird was circling over a brood of chickens.

Reciprocity Passes House.

Goes Through in Form it Came From Committee.

President Taft won a substantial victory when the house of representatives passed the Canadian reciprocity agreement by a vote of 205 to 89.

Seventy-eight Republicans, one less than a majority of representatives of that party in the house, voted against the measure. Sixty-four Republicans upheld the hand of the administration. Eleven Democrats deserted their party organization by voting against the administration bill.

The bill, which has President Taft's entire approval, practically is identical with that submitted at the last session.

In the course of the debate on the measure, amendments for free lumber, fresh meat, canned meat, shingles and laths were voted down on the ground that they would break the Canadian agreement.

The debate was concluded with the speeches of the three leaders in the fight, Representatives Underwood, of Alabama; McCall, of Massachusetts, and Dalzell, of Pennsylvania. Crowded galleries heard the concluding speeches, Mrs. Taft occupying a seat in the executive gallery.

Representative McCall declared that the farmers of the United States had been pushed forward to hide the real interests opposed to the agreement. He said that he spoke in behalf of all Republicans who were in favor of the measure. He ridiculed the "eulogies upon the farmers," which he said had characterized the majority of the speeches against reciprocity.

"The farmer is not the sad-eyed monstrosity that he has been painted in the house," declared the speaker. "The opening up of the cheap lands of Canada to United States markets would not be injurious to this country," said Mr. McCall.

In a final attack on the bill Mr. Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, declared the agreement had been made without authority of law; that it had been made without popular desire for it and under the guise of a measure to reduce the cost of living. He held that neither the president nor congress had the right to make an agreement with a foreign country involving revenue questions.

Mr. Dalzell called the agreement a "bungling piece of statesmanship," and further characterized it as an "open, avowed, free trade measure," declaring that its passage would threaten the whole policy of protection to American industry.

Body is Exhumed; Murder Exposed.

Post mortem examination of the body of William F. Warrington, who died in the city jail at Easton, Md., after it had been exhumed in Odd Fellows' cemetery, proved that he had died of a fractured skull, received, it is alleged, when he was thrown into a cell after arrest, and while he pleaded his innocence of the charge against him. Charges of murder, it is expected, will follow.

The body was exhumed at the request of the boy's mother, Mrs. John Newell, who declared that her son was murdered by the police. The examination was attended by a large crowd, including women and children, but several of the latter were forced to retreat when the body was brought from the grave, and surgeons began cutting it.

Warrington's death occurred on Dec. 17, and shortly after the inquest was held and everyone exonerated. Burial followed. Mrs. Newell refused to believe that her son had died of natural causes and received a report from the undertaker that the neck of her son was discolored, and that it appeared to him as if the neck were broken and caused death.

Mrs. Newell made an investigation and placed her evidence of police brutality before Magistrate Stengle. He communicated with Governor Crothers, who ordered the body to be exhumed.

Rich Girl Weds Chauffeur.

Miss Margaretta D. Hambleton, the daughter of Mrs. Frank S. Hambleton, and Owen Frank Monahan, twenty-one years of age, an automobile mechanic, were privately married in Baltimore.

The bride is twenty years of age. Her father, the late Frank S. Hambleton, was a prominent banker of Baltimore, and the family is of the highest social position. Mrs. Hambleton, the mother, was out of the city, and it is understood that she had no knowledge of her daughter's purpose.

The newly wedded pair left on an automobile trip through the south immediately after the ceremony.

Monahan, who is a college graduate, accompanied the Hambleton family to Europe three years ago as an expert chauffeur and was thus thrown much in Miss Hambleton's company.

It is understood that there were strong objections to the match on the part of the bride's family. Advantage was taken of the opportunity offered by the absence of the mother; a friend of the groom procured the necessary license, and soon after the ceremony was simply and quickly performed at the rectory of St. Philip's and St. James' Catholic church.

Find Woman's Body; Murder Suspected.

The body of Mrs. Dora White, who, with her sister, Miss Alice Shores, disappeared from Annapolis, Md., April 5 last, was found floating in Spa creek, near that place.

The upper part of the body was badly bruised, and a coroner's jury, of which Mayor Strange is foreman, would not render a verdict, but ad-

Journal until Tuesday to permit of a report by the county physician as to whether the bruises were received before or after Mrs. White fell or was thrown into the water.

The creek has been persistently searched since the woman's disappearance, but aside from the finding of Miss Shore's hat in the water near a bridge where they were last seen, no trace of them was found until Sunday.

License to Drink.

Representative F. H. Knight, of Clarion county, Pa., is drafting a bill requiring every man or woman who desires to drink spirituous, malt or brewed liquors in Pennsylvania to take out an annual license at a cost of $5.

Representative Knight figures that there are at least a million out of the state's nine million people who would want such a license and that therefore the revenue would be $5,000,000 a year.

His bill would prohibit the issuance of licenses to habitual drunkards and would make it a misdemeanor to serve intoxicating drinks to any one who did not have a license.

Lloyd, Puzzle Maker, Dies.

Sam Lloyd, the puzzle expert, whose problems have interested not alone the rising generation but others, died at his home in Brooklyn from a stroke of apoplexy. He was seventy years of age.

For many years Mr. Lloyd had been famous throughout the country for his popular problems for the amusement of newspaper and magazine readers. In this unique calling he built up a fortune that has been estimated at more than a million dollars.

Henry E. Huntington, son of the late Collis P. Huntington, paid $50,000 for the famous Gutenberg Bible from the Robert Hoe collection in New York, which is almost double the price ever paid for a book in the history of book dealing. The purchase was made at the auction sale of the Hoe collection.
