Rowland, of Phillipsburg, is president, has awarded the contract opening up a new drift at their No. 10 mine which is to be one hundred and fifty feet in length from the first timbers. When completed employment will be given to more than one hundred additional men and the output will be increased from six hundred to one thousand tons a day.

Small Crowd Sees Bert Delige Executed

The Sentence is Carried Out on Tuesday Morning Shortly After Ten O'clock. Condemned Man Met Death Bravely and Spoke Three Minutes from Scaffold. Full Details.

At just seventeen minutes and one second after ten o'clock on Tuesday morning sheriff W. E. Hurley pulled the lever which sprung the trap and Bert Delige dropped from life into eternity as the penalty the law exacted of him for the assault and murder of Mrs. John Baudis, of Scotia. He went to his death with the same calm and fortitude that has so characterized his whole conduct since his arrest and conviction, the only apparent weakness displayed being when the straps were being adjusted about his limbs, and that was for but the fraction of a minute.

Delige's bearing all along has been something remarkable. He always conversed quite unreservedly with visitors to the jail and even joked and laughed with them, at all times maintaining that he had truly repented of his crime and sincerely felt that he had been forgiven. As late as 10:30 o'clock on Monday night the sheriff and deputy sheriff accompanied by George Hurley, of Phillipsburg, went into the jail and left Delige out into the corridor for a few minutes recreation. He walked up and down the corridor and chatted freely and laughed heartily at a few harmless jokes. Shortly after that he retired and slept quite soundly all night.

He awoke about six o'clock on Tuesday morning and ate a hearty breakfast of oatmeal, ham and eggs, bread, butter and coffee, after which he was given his new outfit of clothing in which he arrayed himself. About 8:30 o'clock he was visited by his pastor, Rev. P. E. Paul, of the A. M. E. church, accompanied by Rev. H. N. Hepler, of the Free Methodist church, with members of the Salvation Army, who held a one hour's prayer and praise service and remained to accompany him to the scaffold.

On account of the lateness of the arrival of several of the men selected to compose the jury and the necessity of picking new men the intended time of execution was delayed a few minutes so that it was just ten minutes and fifteen seconds past ten o'clock when the condemned man, supported on either side by the sheriff and his deputy, appeared at the door leading from the jail office to the jail yard, the trio being preceded by Revs. Paul and Hepler. The prisoner walked with a firm step and mounted the scaffold without an apparent quiver. When the five men stood upon the platform Rev. Hepler offered up a brief prayer while Rev. Paul prayed at greater length. At 10:13 o'clock the prisoner was given an opportunity to speak if he had anything to say. He stepped to the railing of the scaffold and spoke for three minutes. The most vital points of his remarks are as follows:

Gentlemen and friends, it's a very pleasant day. I thank God my life has been spared this long. I have been bad and committed a crime and I am willing to suffer for it. I feel thankful for the belief that God has forgiven me and in a minute I hope to be with Jesus, just as soon as the drop falls. God bless you one and all. I wish to thank the sheriff and deputy sheriff, as well as those who had me in charge, for treating me so good. I also wish to say a word about the grub I was given ever since I was in jail. It was good and so nicely cooked and served by the sheriff's good wife. I pray all my brothers to turn from a sinful life and live right with God. Let them take warning from me. I hope none of my family may ever be where I am now. Again God bless you all and keep you right. Goodbye to everybody.

At the conclusion of his remarks Delige stepped back upon the trap and while the sheriff and deputy adjusted the straps exhibited the only signs of fear, but it was only momentarily. It took one minute to adjust the straps, noose and black cap and it was just ten o'clock 17 minutes and one second when the drop fell. After the body fell, aside from a slight swaying from side to side the only thing noticeable was a brief twitching of the fingers and a convulsive drawing up of one leg. Eleven minutes after the drop fell the physicians in attendance, namely: Drs. M. J. Locke and W. M. Feidt, of Bellefonte; coroner S. M. Huff, of Milesburg; Walter J. Kurtz, of Howard, and P. S. Fisher, of Zion, announced that the heart had ceased to beat, but he was not officially declared dead until 10 o'clock 31 minutes and 40 seconds, 14 minutes and 39 seconds after the trap was sprung. At 10:48 the body was cut down and turned over to undertaker S. S. Osman, of Port Matilda, who placed it in the coffin already in waiting.

An examination by the physicians disclosed the fact that Delige's neck had been broken by the fall. There was no delay in the disposition of the body. As soon as the rough box containing the remains was nailed up it was loaded onto a wagon furnished by liveryman Bartley, of this place, and the journey to Scotia begun. The same afternoon the remains were buried on a plot of ground owned by the Delige family not over one hundred yards from their house.

The jury who attested to Delige's execution was composed of the following men: Col. H. S. Taylor, Robert Cooke, Harris Hugg, Hamill Holmes, I. J. Dreese, John P. Sebring, George Hurley, J. L. Williams, M. S. Betz, Henry Kline, Harry Weber and George Hamer.

Three ex-sheriffs of Centre county were present at the execution, namely:

Robert Cooke, H. S. Taylor and Henry Kline, while sheriff W. Howard Klepper, of Clinton county, was also a spectator. All told about one hundred people composed the crowd present.

The crime for which Delige on Tuesday paid the penalty on the scaffold took place on the evening of Sunday, October 16th, just as the church bells were tolling off the hour for the evening service. Then it was that he lay in wait for Mrs. John Baudis, a frail little woman, and after criminally assaulting her killed her by cutting her throat with a razor in order to keep her from exposing him to the wrath of a righteous public.

Mrs. Baudis' body was found shortly after seven o'clock in the evening and although there was no direct evidence against Delige for having committed the crime he was naturally suspicious because of his general bad character. The following day district attorney W. G. Runkle and sheriff W. E. Hurley made as thorough an investigation of the case as was possible in that limited time and the result was the finding of what was deemed sufficient evidence to warrant the arrest of Bert Delige, which was effected without any trouble and he was brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail.

The missing link in the chain of evidence was the absence of the instrument with which the murder had been committed. From every indication a sharp instrument had been used, evidently a razor, but all efforts to find the same proved futile until Bert himself told his brother where his razor could be found and the latter in turn told the authorities. After securing the razor Delige made a full and free confession of all the horrible details of the double crime, and while said confession was used against him in his trial at the December term of court it was not vitally necessary to his conviction, as a very strong chain of circumstantial evidence had been woven around him by the Commonwealth.

After being on trial three days the jury at nine o'clock on Saturday evening, December 10th, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. He was sentenced to be hanged by Judge Orvis on Saturday, December 17th, and remanded to jail until such time as the Governor should see fit to set a day for the carrying of the sentence into execution. On February 22nd Governor Tener named Tuesday April 25th, as the day on which the final mandate of the law should be carried out and now that such has been done the word finis can be written on one of the most revolting and dastardly cases that ever besmirched the court records or the fair fame of Centre county. And it is to be earnestly hoped that never again will a similar case occur in this county.

Hamill Holmes, of State College, is now driving a new Ford touring car which he secured through the local agency at that place.

It is only a week now until the appearance of the Bellefonte Academy minstrels in the opera house. For some weeks past we have tried to tell you how good they are going to be, but at that we have conveyed only a faint idea. They will have to be seen to be appreciated and it is up to you to give them your portion of appreciation.

The seventh annual convention of the Episcopal church, Harrisburg diocese, will be held in St. John's church, this place, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 9th and 10th. The convention will be made up of over one hundred clergymen and lay members and will be a religious gathering of considerable interest. Bishop J. W. Darlington, of Harrisburg, will preside.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. Wallace H. Gephart, C. T. Gerberich and Joseph L. Montgomery were selected as the building committee for the new swimming pool that is to be built through the generosity of Mrs. W. P. Wilson. The plans are about completed but the contract for building same has not yet been awarded.

The Bellefonte Academy baseball team will go to Lock Haven today to play the Lock Haven Normal team. Their first big game at home will take place on Hughes field on Friday afternoon of next week when the Bloomsburg Normal nine will be their opponents. On Saturday afternoon of next week they will play the Williamsport High school team on Hughes field.

Mrs. S. C. Hile has sublet her furnished rooms over Lyon & Co's store to Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brian, who the past winter occupied the Charles Smith house on Bishop street, and has gone to Pleasant Gap to take care of her invalid mother. As she will be away for an indefinite time she naturally desires to have her customers know the circumstances, inasmuch as the change was made quite suddenly.

It will be worth the price of admission to see John Blanchard, Hard Harris, Bob Hunter, Lewis Daggett and Russell Blair in the very laughable comedy, "Mrs. Flynn's Lodgers," as an after act of the Academy minstrels on Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. The regular performance will begin at 8:30 o'clock sharp and will not be drawn out so as to tire any one. Seats will be 75, 50 and 35 cents and the chart will be open at Parrish's at ten o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) morning.

PAVEMENT CAVED IN.—Last week the WATCHMAN published an item relative to G. McC. Fry, of Ferguson township, losing a horse which dropped out of sight in a large fissure in the limestone rock by the crust of earth breaking while Mr. Fry was plowing. On Monday afternoon a big patch of the top pavement in front of Temple Court caved in, though not entirely out of sight. For some time past the pavement at that spot has depressed gradually until it was two inches lower than the general level. On Monday Harry Baum tramped upon the spot to test it and the pavement cracked and sounded hollow underneath. About four o'clock in the afternoon Fred Lane decided to test the spot and on stepping upon it with one foot it gave way and dropped out of sight, leaving a hole about fifteen inches square. An investigation disclosed the fact that there was a big hole underneath and the overhanging pavement and surface were broken away, leaving a hole about five feet in diameter and six feet deep. No satisfactory solution of the cave-in can be given by any one. Some maintain there is an old well there, but others declare there is not. Some ascribe it to an old abandoned sewer, but there is nothing to show that such is the case. The most likely cause is that at some time there was a leak in the water main in that neighborhood and the water washed the soft clay into openings in the rock and that gradually the underground hole increased in size and the crust of earth underneath the pavement decreased until it was not strong enough to support the same and Monday's cave in was the result.

THE HIGH STREET BRIDGE AGAIN.—Probably because the bridge is located right at the corner of the WATCHMAN office the editor of this paper is asked dozens of times a week when work will be resumed on High street bridge and how it is to be done. In this connection we desire to state that we know absolutely nothing about it. The members of the borough council know very little more and the county commissioners declare they know less. The only thing certain is that the petition for a new or rebuilt bridge must go before one grand jury at least and be approved by the court before anything can be done. Engineers are preparing plans on which the bridge can be rebuilt, and if the petition is endorsed by the grand jury and approved by the court then it will be up to the authorities to advertise for bids for the work. The grand jury will not be in session before the third week in May and if that body endorses the petition, it will take at least three weeks more before the contract can be awarded. That will run toward the latter part of June, then it will be up to the reader to figure out how long it will take the successful bidder to construct the material and get to work on the bridge. As it looks now it means that the High street bridge will be in a torn up condition practically all summer, and that is as near as the WATCHMAN editor can figure it out.

THE ACADEMY MINSTRELS.—The next big event in Bellefonte will be the Bellefonte Academy minstrels on Friday and Saturday evenings of next week, May 5th and 6th. It will be a big event from the Academy viewpoint and the people of Bellefonte want to make it big from every standpoint because of the fact that it is to be an athletic benefit, and the bigger the crowd the bigger the percentage to the Bellefonte baseball association. This is one reason why the minstrels should be liberally supported. Another reason is that they are bigger and better this year than in former years, with new songs, new jokes, new dialogue, etc. While the minstrels will give you more than your money's worth their performance will be followed with a one act comedy, "Mrs. Flynn's Lodgers," given by local talent under the direction of Mrs. John M. Shugert and others which in itself will be worth the price of admission. Therefore keep May 5th and 6th open for the Academy minstrels.

COURT HOUSE DEDICATION.—At a recent meeting of the Centre county bar association Judge Ellis L. Orvis appointed Gen. James A. Beaver, John Blanchard, Hon. William C. Heinle and J. Thomas Mitchell a committee to co-operate with the county commissioners in arranging for the formal dedication of the remodeled court house, which will take place during the first week of the May term of court, or to be more exact on Friday, May 19th. As now planned it will be a big day for jurists and lawyers in Bellefonte, as judges and members of the bar from all over Central Pennsylvania will be invited and prominent men from all over the State are expected to be present. Invitations will also be sent to the judges of the Supreme and Superior courts and to various State officials. There will be special exercises morning and afternoon, the full program of which will be announced next week.

COMMITTEE SELECTED.—At a meeting of the Bellefonte High school alumni association held in the office of Fortney & Fortney, last Friday evening, the following members were selected as the committee to make arrangements for the annual reception to the graduating class of 1911: Miss Eva Crisman, chairman; Jesse Derstine, Chester Barnes, Calder Ray, J. Irvin Noll, Edward L. Gates, D. Paul Fortney, and Misses Elizabeth Barnhart, Sarah Fitzgerald, Pearl Knisely, Catharine Willard, Daisy Barnes, Mary Woods, Helen Harper, Louise Brachbill and Helen Schaeffer.

—Miss Short, of Milford, Delaware, has been in Bellefonte for the past two weeks, the guest of Miss Sara Potter.

—Misses Ruth and Goldie Eberhart, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guests of Miss Helen Martin.

—Joseph Fauble, of Monongahela City, was an over Sunday visitor with his mother, brother and sisters in this place.

—John H. Wilson, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company in Altoona, spent Sunday with friends in this place.

—Mrs. John Odenkirch and Mrs. W. Frank Bradford, of Centre Hall, were in Bellefonte on a shopping expedition yesterday.

—John D. Meyer was down from Altoona over Sunday and one of his pleasant diversions while here was to interview the dentist.

—Mrs. Edward P. Irvin left Bellefonte Tuesday to join her husband at Cherry Tree, where they will make their home in the future.

—Frank W. Grebe, of Phillipsburg, Democratic candidate for County Treasurer, was a Bellefonte visitor in the early part of the week.

—Mrs. J. R. Lee, of Gregg township, was in Bellefonte on a shopping expedition on Tuesday and a very pleasant caller at this office.

—Miss Sara Bogle, of Pittsburg, has been spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. E. Norris Bogle, at her home at the Forge House.

—Mrs. Edward Cooke and daughter Jeannette are home after spending four weeks in Pittsburg with Mr. Cooke, who is at present located in that city.

—J. W. Norris, street commissioner of Juniata, was in Bellefonte in the early part of the week on his way home from visiting friends up Buffalo Run.

—Dr. J. H. Pickle, of Millersville, was the guest for several days the early part of the week of Mrs. Pickle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Twitmore.

—Joshua T. Potter, of Centre Hall, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday, having come over on his way to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Philip Saul.

—Mrs. Robert Sechler, of Spring street, went to Lewisburg Tuesday morning, for an indefinite stay with her niece, hoping that the change might improve her health.

—Charles Larimer whose home is at Indiana, Pa., joined Mrs. Larimer and their daughter Elizabeth at Bellefonte this week, for a short visit with both his parents and Mrs. Larimer's parents.

—Miss Mary Grimm went to Alliance, Ohio, Tuesday, where she will spend some time with her uncle and aunt, expecting when returning east, to visit with other relatives in western Pennsylvania.

—William Showers, of Mingoville, was in Bellefonte on business Wednesday and a caller at the WATCHMAN office. He forsook Bellefonte two years ago for the farm and is making a good success of the undertaking.

—Mrs. Thomas Moore, of Philadelphia, is visiting her many friends in Bellefonte. Her husband expects to come up later to try his skill at enticing some of the big trout in the Centre county streams to bite at his alluring bait.

—Miss Maggie Whiteman is spending the week in Bellefonte and with relatives at Snow Shoe, having come from her home at Williamsport to see her aunt, Miss Margaret Whiteman, who is critically ill at the Bellefonte hospital.

—Fred Blanchard came to Bellefonte quite unexpectedly on Friday evening and remained until the beginning of the week. He was on his way back to Chicago on a business trip east and naturally stopped off to greet his numerous friends here.

—Mrs. Etta Wynn, of Sunbury, with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wynn, were in Bellefonte Monday attending the funeral of Mrs. Wynn's sister, Mrs. Montgomery, with the party was Charles Wycoff, a nephew of Mrs. Montgomery.

—Merchant Ira G. Burket, of Stormstown, and farmer Frank H. Clemson, of Buffalo Run, were visitors in Bellefonte over Monday night and both averred that their mission here was purely one of business and had nothing to do with Tuesday's unpleasant happening.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Cherry and their daughter Miss Mary Cherry, arrived in Bellefonte Monday morning, having come from their home at Big Springs, Texas, to see Mr. Cherry's mother, Mrs. Montgomery, who died last week at the Bellefonte hospital before the arrival of her son and daughter.

—John Larimer spent Sunday with his mother on Curtin street. He is now on the road selling cement and he avers that the backward weather has hurt business considerably, inasmuch as contractors have been unable to begin operations on contracts on hand so that the demand for all kinds of building material is very light.

—The people from a distance who were in Bellefonte Wednesday to attend the funeral of George W. Meese were his daughters, Mrs. Harry Bowes and Miss Margaret, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Thomas Keenan, of Roanoke, Va.; Mrs. Zack Steel, of Tyrone; Mrs. James Grubb, of Orviston, his son William B. Meese, of Woodland, and his sister, Mrs. Thomas Kline, of Grapeville, Pa.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Crossman having sold their large apple orchard in the State of Washington, where they have made their home since their marriage a year ago, will come east to live on a fruit farm which they have bought in the extreme northern part of Pennsylvania. The trip home will be made down along the Pacific coast across the Isthmus of Panama, and north along the Atlantic coast.

—Charles P. Spangler, of Millersville, Perry county, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday and Tuesday. He is a cousin of Col. J. L. and Howard Spangler, of this place, and was here merely on a pleasure visit. Mr. Spangler has accumulated a snug fortune traveling over the country with a small show and selling patent medicine and during the past two months has been in Clearfield county. His last trip to Bellefonte was twelve years ago.

—Harry Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Freeman, of Tyrone, was in Bellefonte Wednesday and yesterday visiting his sister, Mrs. Hugh N. Cridler and husband. He has just returned from Philadelphia where he spent several weeks in a hospital having his knee and eye treated. Several months ago while exercising in a gymnasium he sustained an injury on one of his knees and as a result, physicians allege, his eyes became affected. However, he has now almost recovered.

—Mrs. Samuel Osman went down to Glen Iron on Monday for spending the night with her husband's parents and Mrs. Osman Sr. went to Mont Alto and on Wednesday brought home her sister, Miss Bertha Mewshaw, who has been in the sanatorium there the past ten months for treatment. While at first she showed some improvement of late her condition has grown worse and it was deemed best to bring her home. She was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osman, on Thomss street.
