

Dogs in Harness in Belgium. Dogs that work in Belgium are bought and sold in the open market like horses, and if strong and well broken they bring from $20 to $25 each.

A Drop of Water. Figures are sometimes impressive simply by being so stupendous that the human mind grasps them with difficulty.

When Baronets Were Bold. It was in the reign of good King James that baronets first came into existence. Today you could hardly tell a baronet from a banker.

An Unbeliever. "This here paper says as how they've just discovered the remains of a thirty-five foot saurian in Nevada."

When He Was Sad. It has been said that you never know a man till you travel with him, and certainly traveling has a tendency to bring out all the depravity innate in human nature.

Whales in Nets. Just south of the Bay of Islands, New Zealand, where in a landlocked harbor beautiful Wangamumu nestles in the shadow of Cape Brett, there is established a whaling station, and here is carried on the unique business of catching whales by means of nets set in a narrow channel between rugged rocks.

The Word Vaudeville. The word "vaudeville" sprang from Vaux de Vire, the name of a hamlet in the picturesque town of Vire, in Switzerland.

He Didn't. The wife of a clergyman warned him as he went off to officiate at a funeral one rainy day:

The Reason. "Why is that man always grunting so about his business?" "I don't know, unless it is the force of association. You see, he deals in pig iron."

He Was Immune. Morrow—it makes me very uneasy if I owe a dollar to any one. Borrow—Great Scott! If I felt that way about it I'd have St. Vitus' dance.

Eddystone Lighthouse. The Eddystone lighthouse, fourteen miles off Plymouth, England, and exposed to the full fury of the south-western seas, was built by Winstanley in four seasons. Begun in 1096 and finished in 1700, it was destroyed in the dreadful storm of 1703.

An Effective Prayer. "Years ago," says a well known actor, "I appeared in an amateur performance of a play that had a distinct religious flavor. The leading player had studied for the ministry and had a deep and sonorous voice.

The Bible as a Detective. The Bible was used until quite recent years for the detection of thieves. Dr. Jessop told in 1882 how there were still persons living who had witnessed the ordeal to which an East Anglican parson subjected his servants when his cash box was missing.

Pyramid of the Sun. The most colossal structure of prehistoric man in America, known as the pyramid of the sun, is at Teotihuacan, Mexico, not far from the capital. Close to the great pyramid stands the pyramid of the moon, which the builders regarded as the wife of the sun, and surrounding them are nearly 200 mounds of greater or lesser magnitude.

A Real One. "Is this a problem play?" asked the one night stand critic of the manager. "It is," replied that worthy. "And what," asked the critic, "is the special problem presented?"

The Other Side. "It's all very well for the minister to preach from the text, 'Remember Lot's wife,'" said an overworked, discouraged matron, "but I wish he would now give us an encouraging sermon upon the wife's lot."

The Puzzle. A Boston girl who was watching a farmer milk a cow adjusted her glasses and said, "It is all very plain except that I don't understand how you turn it off."

They Get It. Nell—Men are such helpless things. Belle—Yes; they can't even fall in love without a good bit of assistance.

Most of our riches lie in the ability to check foolish desires.

CORPS OF ROGUES

French Foreign Legion a Unique Military Body.

CRIMINALS FILL ITS RANKS.

It Gathers Recruits From the Social Outcasts of All Grades of All Other Countries—Iron Discipline and Brutal Punishments.

The French Foreign Legion is unique. There is no other military organization like it on earth. It was first raised in 1831 for service in the then newly conquered colony of Algeria.

The Foreign Legion exists but to march. To this one end its whole training is devoted. To fall out on the march is the one unpardonable sin in a legionnaire. The system of marches is brutal. No matter what the distance, it has to be completed in one stage.

The legionnaire who straggles in the desert is lost. Hundreds of men have died a dreadful death in this way. The Arab women pounce upon them, lying helpless in the sand, and, with shrieks of fiendish delight, proceed to torture and mutilate them before killing them outright.

A legionnaire's pay is only a half-penny a day. True, wine in Algeria costs only a penny a quart, and tobacco threepence to fourpence a pound. But—a halfpenny a day!

The discipline is ruthless in its severity; the punishments are cruel in the extreme. For grave offenses, like desertion, insubordination or striking a superior officer, death is frequently inflicted, or, failing that, the offender is sent to serve in the penal battalion on the edge of the Sahara desert.

Minor offenses are punished with from twenty to a hundred days in prison or with "cellule," which is solitary confinement in the dark plus starvation. I have seen strong, robust men so reduced after doing thirty days cellule that they have hardly been able to stand, yet they had to resume their ordinary duties nevertheless.

The sun beat upon him by day; the cold night mists penetrated to the marrow of his bones. He could not lie down, for the bottom of the silo sloped to a point. He just crouched, a huddled heap, until not infrequently death mercifully relieved him from his sufferings.

The crapaudine consisted in trussing a man as a fowl is trussed, his hands and feet being tied together on his back in such a manner that they formed a sort of semicircle. This resulted in such frightful cramps that the pain sometimes drove men mad. Both the silo and the crapaudine, however, have now been abolished.

To escape from these tortures men mutilate themselves, usually by cutting off one or more fingers, or they will purposely make themselves ill. One favorite trick is to take a drink from the sewers under the Arab prison. This loathsome draft almost invariably brings on an attack of typhoid of a peculiarly malignant type.

In Its Due Order. Dr. Thirdly was dividing up his sermon into its appropriate heads one Sunday morning, when a member of the congregation shouted irascibly: "Meat, man! Give us meat!"

The Feminine of It. Tencher—Tommy, what is the feminine of the masculine "steg?" Tommy (whose mother is a society leader)—Afternoon tea, ma'am.—Sphinx.

Thoughts are mightier than the strength of hand.—Sophocles.

Are Children Worth Bringing Up? It can't be done without RUBBERS.

This is what appeared in a recent number of the American Journal of Health: The family doctor should din it into the mother's head all the time, that the health of their children lies in the feet. Keep the feet dry. Never let them get wet. No child should be allowed to go out in snow or rain, or when walking is wet, without Rubbers.

REMEMBER, Yeager's Rubbers are the best and the prices just a little cheaper than the other fellows.
