—Harry Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pearce, of Coleville, fell into Buffalo Run on Sunday afternoon and alighting on his wrist on a broken bottle, cut a deep gash and severed an artery. He was stunned by the fall and was rescued by two men who saw him fall in. His wrist bled profusely and it was some minutes before the flow of blood could be stopped.

—Last fall Dr. J. M. Brockerhoff sowed a small field in alfalfa on his farm east of Bellefonte. The seed was thoroughly inoculated and a surprisingly good set was the result so that now the doctor has a field of alfalfa over two feet in height. He is using it for feed for about fifty young shoats, at least half of which number he expects to have ready for the early September market.

—Last Saturday John Wagner came down town with a sprig of an apricot tree on which were three small apricots about the size of a large cherry. The fruit was perfect in every particular and Mr. Wagner was displaying the sample as the beneficent result of spraying. He told the writer that the tree from which the sprig was taken was simply over-burdened with fruit, in fact he stated that there were just twenty-eight thousand young apricots on it, though he admitted that he hadn't counted them.

—The great number of people in the Catholic church last Saturday morning, for the requiem mass, for Harrison Sourbeck, was a tribute of the esteem in which he was held by people of all denominations in this community. Patient, hopeful and uncomplaining, during his three years of constant suffering, he won for himself friends, who perhaps took no thought of his bright, genial disposition when in health. With his friends, his books and nature, all of which constituted his life, his sickness was not a cross to him and to these friends it will be a never to be forgotten example of a beautiful life well lived, which has left its imprint on the community only for good. In addition to the many people of Bellefonte, a number of relatives from out-of-town attended these funeral services.

WORK BEGUN THIS WEEK ON IMPROVING ROAD TO STATE COLLEGE.—Work was begun this week on improving the road from Bellefonte to State College by way of Rishel's hill, although it will naturally be some time before the road will be fully opened to traffic owing to the damage done by last Friday evening's storm, especially the washing away of the bridge at the foot of Rishel's hill.

The movement for the improvement of this road had its inception at a supper given the automobile club of Bellefonte by Dr. E. E. Sparks, at the Nittany Inn, State College, about a month ago. The matter has been persistently pursued ever since and the final meeting was held at the College on Monday evening when some ten or twelve Bellefonte automobiles took a crowd of local enthusiasts as well as a number of prominent farmers of Benner and College townships, and the supervisors of Spring township, to that place to meet the people interested at that end of the line. The meeting was to have been held in the engineering building but on account of the extreme heat the crowd adjourned to the spacious veranda surrounding Dean John Price Jackson's home, in the cool shades of the forest at the rear of the college buildings, where about fifty people assembled to help the work along.

Robert F. Hunter, chairman of the joint committee, presided and Dr. Sparks was asked to address the crowd. He responded briefly and stated that the very fact that so many were present at the meeting augured well for the eventual success of the scheme to make the road between Bellefonte and State College better in every way. The presence of a score or more farmers showed that they were willing to do their part and when everybody showed a willingness to put a shoulder to the wheel something would have to go. Of course it was not the expectation to build a state highway between the two towns, but to improve the road as much as possible with the means at the command of the men in charge. By removing the loose stones and the breakers and filling up the low and rough places much of the profanity would also be removed from the road, declared the speaker.

Dean Jackson also addressed the crowd and told of several instances where communities had gone together under similar conditions and improved a certain piece of road, the direct result of ideas they got from the good roads special on its tour through the State the past winter and spring. Judge Orvis spoke briefly and told the farmers that they must get away from the idea that good roads only benefit the automobilist. They are of as great benefit to the farmer in dollars and cents as to any other class of people. His wagon will haul bigger loads, and the wear and tear on same as well as on his harness and horses will be appreciably smaller.

H. D. Hershey, of Lancaster, an engineer of the State Highway Department, was present and stated that he had been sent here to assist in the work of putting the road in better condition and was willing to do all he could and ready to go to work at once. This practically ended the talk part of the meeting and the chairman asked those present as to what progress had been made towards soliciting either cash or labor. The State College committee stated that they had raised upwards of $150 cash pledges and felt confident they could make it $250. The Bellefonte committee thought they could do equally as good. Farmers along the line reported that they would contribute teams and help for from two days to a week, as their growing crops would permit.

The Spring township supervisors stated that they had intended putting in a good deal of work on Rishel's hill, but they were up against a different proposition now on account of the damage done by last Friday's storm. They stated, however, that they would do what they could. Regarding the bridge at the foot of Rishel's hill the recommendation of viewers for a new concrete bridge there was approved by the grand jury at the December term of court and such a bridge will be placed there in the near future to take the place of the one washed away.

The Benner township supervisors secured the College improved road making machinery on Monday and began work on their portion of the road on Tuesday. College township supervisors and farmers gave assurance that they would fall in line, so that there is every reason to believe that the road will be measurably improved in the near future.

During the meeting on Monday evening Mrs. Jackson served lemonade and cake to all present for which a vote of thanks was tendered her before adjournment.

Since the above article was put in type we have learned definitely that the supervisors and farmers in Benner township are at work on their entire stretch of road. They are going all over it with the road scraper and taking out every breaker on the road. When they have a good grade established it is their intention to put on crushed stone wherever needed and make it a complete job in every way. This is enterprise of the right kind and Spring and College township people should fall in line and do their part.

—Mrs. Harry Keller and Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell, received last evening after eight o'clock, on Mrs. Mitchell's lawn. With them was Mrs. William H. Keller, of Lancaster, for whom the reception was given.

—According to the request of the board of health manager T. Clayton Brown kept the Scenic closed this week but he will re-open without fail tomorrow (Saturday) evening with a big program of moving pictures. For the benefit of the people of Bellefonte it can be said that during the time the Scenic has been closed it has been given a thorough fumigating with formaldehyde so that there is no danger of any disease germs lurking therein.

—During his recent visit to western Pennsylvania Dr. Thomas C. Van Tries gave his new lecture on "Matters Matrimonial, or Getting Married," in the Presbyterian church at Irwin, on May 8th and the following evening gave his recital, "Famous Men and Women Whom I Have Seen and Heard," in the Presbyterian church at Blairsville. On the evening of May 19th, he repeated his lecture in the Blairsville M. E. church and at each place was given an enthusiastic reception.

—The new milk condensary at Mill Hill has created such a demand for milk throughout Nittany and Bald Eagle valleys that F. W. Crider is seriously considering the proposition of turning a good part of his farm in Liberty township into a dairy farm. His project, though not yet fully determined upon, is to put one hundred acres into alfalfa next fall and if he secures a good seed then stock up with one hundred head of full-blooded Holstein cows. With a herd of this size he would be able to supply a large quantity of milk to the condensary and at the same time turn a nice profit into his own bank account.

—Paul Brosius, of Lock Haven, but who is quite well known in Bellefonte, will likely be numbered among the lumber kings of the south before another year has passed away. Recently he and E. M. Campbell, of Ridgway, secured a controlling interest in a tract of seven thousand acres of timber land near Andrews, N. C., on which it is estimated there are fifty million feet of marketable lumber. Mr. Brosius has been down in North Carolina and secured the right of way for a railroad seven miles in length into the heart of the timber tract, and will superintend the building of same which is to be begun at once.

—During Mrs. David J. Kelley and children's sojourn in Snow Shoe Mr. Kelly is baching it and some time on Monday night sneak thieves went through the family refrigerator on the back porch and stole a leg of lamb and everything edible except a crock of butter. Mr. Kelly was at the road meeting at State College that evening and did not get home until after eleven o'clock when he sat down on the front porch to finish his cigar. While sitting there he heard a noise in the rear of the house and at the time thought it was the dog, but it must have been the robbers, of whose visit he was ignorant until he came down stairs in the morning. Three "medicine" bottles in the ice chest were not molested.

—On Wednesday H. W. Orwig was driving up Pennsylvan in his new Franklin automobile and in the vicinity of Linden Hall attempted to pass Jacob Zong, who with his son Glenn were driving along the road in a buggy. Whether there was not room to pass or Mr. Orwig miscalculated the distance is not known, but he failed to get around the buggy safely. Instead his machine collided with Mr. Zong's vehicle, not only upsetting it, but completely wrecking it. Mr. Zong and his son were thrown quite a distance and while the former sustained only a few bruises the boy received a badly broken arm as the result of the accident. This is the first accident of the kind in Centre county since the automobile has come into general use.

—Last Friday evening's flood was a test of the grade of the paved portion of Allegheny street and the Diamond. The water swept down jail hill and washed the mud in such quantities as to fill up the gratings over the sewers at each corner of the court house pavement, with the result that the water had no outlet and formed a miniature dam all along the pavement. On Pike alley the water came down from Penn street with a rush, overflowed the curb at Parrish's drug store, swept down over the pavement and after carrying away a lot of new filling just put in by Dr. Locke emptied into the cellar of the Hibler residence. Naturally Mrs. Hibler would like to know how she is going to come out in the matter and everybody is wondering if every rain will flood the new pavement the same way.

—Lock Haven newspapers are bragging over the fact that there are only five prisoners in the Clinton county jail. In the Centre county jail there are only four prisoners and so good are we becoming in Centre county that there was not enough litigation to justify holding the regular May term of court. The quarter sessions court for last week was continued on account of the illness of district attorney W. G. Runkle, but at that time there were only a few minor cases for trial. Of the common pleas list scheduled for last week there was only one case that would not call the jurors to Bellefonte for one case. The same was true of this week. There was only one case for trial, and that an insignificant one, and the court again annulled the week's session. However, court was in session about an hour on Monday morning to hear any petitions and motions members of the bar might have to present.

THE SCARLET FEVER SCARE.—During the past week there have been five new cases of scarlet fever in Bellefonte but no deaths, and none of the cases are at all critical, while some of them are very mild. While the WATCHMAN does not intend to understate the gravity of the situation it is our opinion that it is very much overrated by the general public. Reports have been in circulation that there are from thirty to fifty cases in the town, and throughout the county it has been reported that the town has been quarantined and the State Board of Health appealed to for aid. All this is the veriest bosh.

The physicians of the town and the local board of health are working hand in hand to prevent anything like an epidemic of the disease and we have no doubt they will be successful in doing so. And to show just what grounds there is for the wild rumors current we give a complete list of all cases to date.

At Ferd Beezers, on Spring creek, three cases, two of which resulted in death and the other one convalescing nicely. House still quarantined.

Clayton Baney, one case, fully recovered and quarantine lifted Tuesday.

Norman Meyer, one death. House fumigated and quarantine to be lifted this week.

Robert Osman, one case; John Bauer, two cases; Samuel Monsel, three cases; Burns Crider, one case; Mrs. George Potter, one case; Mrs. Elizabeth Robb, one case; and Ezra C. Harter, one case, all still in quarantine.

Joseph Garbrick, one case, recovered, but quarantined after recovery.

William Beizer, one case, recovered and quarantine lifted Tuesday.

Joseph Beizer, three cases, all recovered but still in quarantine.

This makes a total of thirteen families in which there have been and now are fever cases, nineteen all told, with three deaths. From this the reader can draw his own conclusion as to the foundation for the big scare some people are endeavoring to create.

At that, however, it is well to guard against the spread of the disease as much as possible and to this end all public gatherings will be prohibited by the board of health until the town is free of the fever.

At a special meeting of the Bellefonte ministerium on Wednesday morning it was unanimously agreed for the safety of the public to close all church services next Sunday, May 28th, and that the board of health be asked to co-operate with the ministerium and close all public gatherings such as the Scenic, dances, etc., until such time as in the estimation of the board of health the safety of the public is assured.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT ON JUNE 20TH.—A special meeting of the Bellefonte school board was held on Tuesday evening and owing to the scarlet fever scare it was decided to annul the few remaining days of the present school year and keep the schools closed. The high school commencement, however, will be held on Tuesday evening, June 20th, all the exercises to be held in the one session, while the baccalaureate sermon will be preached on Sunday evening, June 18th. Examinations in all the schools will be dispensed with and awards and promotions will be made according to the grade of the work during the year. The Junior oratorical contest will not be held at this time, but will be held shortly after the opening of the next term of school in September.

The high school alumni association is very much mixed up over the customary annual reception to the graduating class of the high school, which was to have been held on Wednesday evening of next week. Some of the members are in favor of postponing it one week and holding it on June 7th but no date has been settled upon definitely. A meeting of the association was held on Wednesday morning and the sentiment expressed at that gathering is embodied in the following notice:

NOTICE TO THE BELLEFONTE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI.

Inasmuch as the school board has closed all the schools and discontinued the commencement exercises for the present, with a possibility of holding the same later in the summer, on account of the prevalence of scarlet fever throughout the borough, it has therefore been decided by the officers and the committee of the Alumni association to postpone the reception which was to have been held in the armory on Wednesday, May 31st, 1911. Should the commencement exercises be held at a later date the reception will likely be given at that time, and due notice thereof will be given to all members of the association.

ELIAS RANKIN, Secretary. JOHN J. BOWER, President.

SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCIL.—A special meeting of council was held on Monday evening to consider the request of the local board of health that an ordinance be passed giving them legal power to act and enforce anything necessary for the protection of the town and its good sanitary condition. Every member of the board was present and each in turn impressed upon council the urgency of immediate action now, when such a contagious disease as scarlet fever exists in the town. Five members of council were present at the meeting and they assured the members of the board of health that just as soon as they could procure a revised set of rules from the state board they would take action upon the same so as to give the local board power to act in any and all cases that may arise. The meeting then adjourned.

BREON—LEE.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Lee, just west of Boalsburg, was the scene of a pretty little wedding on Wednesday, the 17th inst., when their eldest daughter, Miss Mary H. Lee, became the wife of Ezra S. Breon, of Philadelphia. At precisely eleven o'clock, to the strains of a wedding march played by Ned Keller, the bridal party entered the parlor and took their places on a large rug immediately in front of a stand tastefully decorated with flowers. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the family and a few invited guests. The service used was the beautiful rite ceremony of the Lutheran ritual.

Congratulations over, refreshments were served and shortly thereafter the bridal party were taken by automobile to the train which carried them to Philadelphia where the groom had in readiness a newly furnished house for his bride. Mr. Breon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Breon, of Smulton, this county, and holds a position as book-keeper for the Pure Oil company, of Philadelphia.
