

The Methodist parsonage is being overhauled and quite a number of much needed improvements are being made.

The wedding of Miss Nancy McEntyre, a daughter of Mrs. G. E. McEntyre of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Dundore, of Lancaster, who is working with the Westinghouse people at Pittsburgh, will take place Wednesday, June 14th, at the home of the bride's mother in Pittsburgh.

John P. Harris Jr., has opened a lumbering contract at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, and on Friday of last week moved his family there from Unionville. Frederic Schach, son of Dr. Edith Schach, went along with him and will spend his summer vacation on the lumbering job, barring mosquitoes and homesickness.

F. W. Crider has had a new concrete pavement put down around the stone building on the northeast corner of the Diamond, which is not only a good pavement, but improves the appearance of that corner fifty per cent. Other property owners along the brick paved street, who have not yet done so, should fix up their pavements now and not wait till the summer is half over.

Last Saturday two men made an attempt to kidnap Richard Clemson, the two year old son of Ralph E. Clemson and grandson of D. M. Clemson, a former Centre countyman, from the Clemson home in Pittsburgh, but in mistake carried off Ralph Benson, a son of Mr. Clemson's chauffeur. Although detectives have been working on the case since up to this writing they have failed in finding any clue to the kidnapers.

The special train over the Bellefonte Central Railroad leaving Bellefonte at 8.15 Wednesday morning, June 14th will reach State College for the regular graduating exercises, at which the Chinese Minister, Chang Yin Tang will speak on the Chinese question. An oil painting of the late Judge Samuel Linn was added to the gallery in memorial hall in the court house yesterday. It was painted by W. L. Antrim and W. A. Landsy and is pronounced by Mrs. Cheney, a daughter of the deceased judge, to be a remarkable likeness of her father, and of the quality of work equal to some of the masters. The picture was presented to the gallery by Mrs. W. P. Wilson. The picture of every judge who presided in Centre county should be in this collection.

C. C. Richards is in Bellefonte making a measurement survey of the town and securing data for the purpose of compiling an insurance map for the different insurance companies. Not only every street will appear on the map, but every building, whether of stone, brick or wood, its size, general condition and by what occupied. Also if it is in close proximity to any other building that is a bad risk. The map is used by the insurance companies and the underwriter's association for the adjustment of rates, etc.

Central City young men have organized a baseball team and tomorrow (Saturday) will play the Bellefonte match factory team on the grounds at Central City. The following Saturday, June 17th, they will play the Hecla park nine. The married men of Central City and the married men of Milesburg were scheduled to play a game on Wednesday evening, but only two of the Milesburg crowd showed up and after waiting a reasonable length of time the umpire declared the game forfeited to Central City and the two lone Milesburgers took their playthings and went home.

James Kerstetter is just completing the erection of a house on his farm east of Bellefonte which he purchased from Sears, Roebuck & Co., of Chicago, and this is no joke, either; neither do we mean it as an advertisement for the Chicago firm. Mr. Kerstetter wanted to build a new house and he got estimates here as to the cost of the lumber necessary. Thinking the estimates a little high he wrote the Chicago firm and got an estimate which was a little more than five hundred dollars less than the lowest bid obtained here. The lumber was cy-pressed, cedar and South Carolina pine and was shipped here with door frames and window frames and sashes, and all other frame work ready to erect. With such a condition prevailing here is it any wonder Bellefonters and Centre countyans send away for what they need?

Few Die From Smallpox.

In nearly 20,000 cases of smallpox reported in the United States during 1909 there were only ninety-two deaths, making the average mortality rate less than one-half of one per cent.

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.
