PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TICKET OFFICE ROBBERED.—The ticket office in the Pennsylvania railroad passenger depot in this place was robbed in broad daylight on Monday evening, and, although the local officials refuse to state the exact amount of money taken, it was in the neighborhood of sixty-six dollars. The job was done some time between 6:10 and 6:40 o'clock in the evening, when the men were away from the depot and the watchman had not yet come on duty, and it was evidently the work of professional yeggmen. From the way the robbery was committed there must have been at least three, and perhaps four men in the gang.

Entrance to the ticket office was effected through the window in the ladies waiting room. The screws were removed from the lower right hand corner of the screen and the latter was then bent outward a sufficient distance to permit of a man crawling through, after the wooden slide in the window was forced. No attempt was made to force the safe, the robbers being content to get away with the "bank," which is the change drawer used in the sale of tickets. It took at least two men to do the job of going through the window and securing the money and there must have been one or two confederates on watch. Experienced yeggmen could do the whole job in less than ten minutes and get far enough away from the depot to be beyond detection.

When the robbery was discovered at 6:40 o'clock in the evening there was not a person within sight of the depot who could even be suspected, although later in the evening two tramps were picked up and locked up as suspicious characters. At the same time the men who committed the robbery had either gotten safely away, were in hiding or walking the streets of the town entirely unsuspected.

THE MOOSE PICNIC.—The Moose picnic at Hecla Park on the Fourth of July was the only near attraction for Bellefonters and was fairly well attended from this end of the line, eighteen hundred tickets having been sold at the Bellefonte station of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. The entire attendance, however, was not nearly as large as anticipated. Only six hundred tickets were sold at the Mill Hall station and very few at intermediate stations, so that the entire crowd did not aggregate over three thousand people.

A good many of those who did attend there to see the air ship flights of Walter Bauman, of Lock Haven, but in this they were disappointed, as that gentleman claimed that he failed to receive several parts of his motor and consequently couldn't go up. The general impression seemed to be, however, that he did not want to go up. The base ball games advertised were played and there was dancing all day with band concerts at various intervals.

The watch offered by the lodge to the young lady receiving the highest number of votes for "gypsy queen" of the picnic was won by Miss Florence Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, of Penn street. While the picnic was a pleasant day's outing it was not a big financial success for the Moose.

ADDITIONAL TEACHERS ELECTED.—At a meeting of the Bellefonte school board on Monday evening Edward Steidle, of Williamsport, was elected as teacher of sciences in the Bellefonte high school, and Miss Ellen Levy was elected as an extra member of the high school faculty. Mr. Steidle is a graduate of The Pennsylvania State College in the class of 1911, and stood high in his class. He will succeed Joseph E. Shultz, who declined a re-election in order to accept a professorship in Perkiomen Seminary. In addition to teaching the sciences Mr. Steidle will also have charge of the athletics of the school.

Miss Levy and her work as a teacher are too well known to need extended comment. She was a teacher in the Bellefonte schools for a number of years up until last year, when she went west to help nurse a sick brother.

BLANCHARD MAN HAS CLOSE CALL.—Lemuel Clark, of Blanchard, came near losing his life on Monday by being overcome by foul air while cleaning out a well for Samuel Gardner, at Beech Creek. Clark was lowered into the well and had hardly reached the bottom until he was overcome and dropped over. John Fritz and Frank Kunes saw his plight and volunteered to go to his rescue. They were lowered into the well and succeeded in tying a rope around Clark's body, but were so affected by the noxious gas that they both were limp when hauled out of the well. Clark was totally unconscious when hauled to the surface and it took a physician more than an hour to revive him. Though a sick man for a day or so, he is now all right again.

—The farm house of William Miller, about a mile east of Julian, was totally destroyed by fire a few days ago. Only Mrs. Miller and her daughter were at home when the fire occurred and they were unable to save any of the contents. Mr. Miller had five hundred dollars insurance on the house and one hundred on the furniture, but this is not half the amount of the loss.

Shriner, and Edward Day Curtis, a member of the Lock Haven Normal school faculty. The bride will be remembered by many people in Bellefonte from the time when her father was pastor of the Methodist church in this place.

—A person can't help but swelter this hot weather, and you'll swelter just as much outside of the scenic as in it. The big argument in favor of the latter is that while you are sweltering you are watching motion pictures of such interest that you forget the heat. Then the large electric fan always keeps the air pure and in good circulation so that it is not uncomfortable. Try it once.

—The eleventh annual reunion of the Reformed people of the Lock Haven, Bellefonte, Nittany Valley and Hublersburg charges, will be held at Hecla park Thursday, July 27th. Moore, superintendent of Bethany Orphan's home, Womelsdorf, will deliver the address at 10:30 a. m.

—Maurice Yeager on Monday received a monster moose head from his brother-in-law, J. M. Bentley, of Pittsburg, who shot the animal while on a hunting trip last fall on the shores of Tamauga Bay, in the north of Maine. An idea of the size of the head, as well as the animal, may be had from the fact that its antlers had a length and spread of six feet and were massive in proportion.

—One morning last week Joe Powell, of Mounth, who is in jail on a charge of larceny, made an attempt to escape and had it not been for the vigilant inspection of sheriff Hurley would now probably be roaming the wilds. He tore up some of the flooring in his cell and dropped through to the lower corridor. Then with a piece of iron torn from his bed dug a hole in the wall but failed to get the job completed when the sheriff made his rounds of inspection in the morning. Although Powell made an attempt to cover up his work until the following night it was discovered by the sheriff and now the gentleman occupies a steel cell.
