

—Mr. George W. Young, of Nittany, celebrated his seventy-sixth birthday anniversary last Friday.

—A baby boy arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Heverly, of Axe Mann, last week, the first accession to the family in six years.

—Miss Grace Lyon will entertain a party of young people at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lyon, on Penn street, this evening, in honor of Miss Bessie Sharp, of Trenton, N. J.

—The many friends of Mrs. Charles Koontz, of east Bishop street, gave her a delightful surprise party Wednesday evening as a celebration of her birthday. Everybody present had a delightful evening and none enjoyed the occasion more than the hostess.

—Company L, of the Twelfth regiment, Bellefonte's National Guardsmen, returned from their week's camp at Selingsgrove Saturday evening, looking somewhat tired and sun-burned but all in good physical condition. During the week they were in camp not a man was sick and to the credit of the boys it can be said that the company was considered the crack company in the regiment.

—Mr. Arthur Thomas' candid and very surprising statement: "I am doing religious work now," has been the cause of his selling tickets for the festival which the Coleville Methodists will hold on Saturday evening like hot cakes. In fact Arthur is finding it so easy and pleasant to do good that we wouldn't be surprised to hear of his graduation from the festival business to leader of the prayer meeting.

—The fourth annual reunion of the northwestern Pennsylvania association of veterans of all wars will be held at DuBois, Wednesday, August 9th. Able speakers have been secured to entertain the crowd and it is expected that this will be the banner reunion of the association. A business meeting will be held in the afternoon and a camp fire in the evening. All friends of the old veterans are invited to attend.

—Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell's annual picnic supper was given on her lawn Friday evening of last week; Monday afternoon Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker entertained a number of her daughter, Martha's friends at Hecla park; the same evening two dinners were given at the Country club, one by Miss Mary Blanchard, for which sixteen covers were laid, the other by Miss Brockerhoff in honor of her niece and nephew, Miss Margaret and Henry Brockerhoff, of Philadelphia.

—A large crowd attended the Methodist Sunday school picnic at Hecla park on Tuesday and the day being ideal for an outing they all had an enjoyable time. Quite a number of young folks stayed down for the evening and it was a long evening they had of it, too. On the return trip from Mill Hall to Bellefonte the engine of the passenger train on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania broke down east of Lamar and it was necessary to send a special train down and transfer the passengers, so that it was after midnight when they finally reached Bellefonte.

—On Tuesday night, or rather Wednesday morning, because it was almost one o'clock, Misses Anna and Rebecca Lyon, who were all alone in the Judge Orvis home on Linn street, sent in a hurry call for the police as they believed somebody was trying to burglarize the house. Policemen Justice responded to the call and was accompanied by several other men. They made a thorough search of the Orvis premises, inside the house and out, but found nothing. If any person had been there he evidently was frightened away before the officers arrived on the ground.

—A telegram from Switzerland dated July 24th, was sent to our city papers last week saying that Miss Louise Thomas, an American, and her Swiss teacher, Miss Levanichy, were drowned in Lake Lemano, near Claren, today. They were in a row boat with four others when their craft was run down by a motorboat. Their companions were saved. Marie Louise Thomas was the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Thomas, of Canton, Ohio, and was about nine years old. Having gone abroad early in the spring with her mother, who was Miss Louise Comerford, and sister Elizabeth she had entered school in Switzerland, expecting to remain there during their stay in Europe.

—The men who are backing the McGarvey electrical automatic weighing scale beam, invented and patented by Edward McGarvey, of this place, now feel very much encouraged over what they believe will be a big thing in every way. They now have the beam perfected to such an extent that expert scale manufacturers have become greatly interested and deeply impressed with it. In fact the Standard Scale & Supply company has made a proposition to manufacture the beam and put it on the market but the present company prefers keeping a tight hold on it. They are now at work on four or five beams which they intend to complete and put on exhibition in the larger cities. The beam can be manufactured to put on any scale, and the fact that it records and prints the weight prevents any argument as to its correctness.

—If you want high class job work come to the WATCHMAN office.

GOVERNOR TENER GIVES J. LINN HARRIS AN APPOINTMENT.—Governor John K. Tener has appointed J. Linn Harris, of Bellefonte, a member of the State Forestry Reservation Commission to succeed Hon. John Fulton, of Johnstown, who declined a re-appointment. The members of the commission receive no salary but are allowed all necessary expenses when traveling or attending a meeting in the interest of their appointment.

Marriage Licenses.
Jacob B. Sprow, of Centre Hall, and Sadie C. Bower, Coburn.
Walter A. Fink and Ida McMonigal, both of Hannah.
Gottlieb Sadboskia and Mary Dopotka, both of Munson.

PINE GROVE MENTION.
J. F. Kimport and wife visited friends at Fairbrook on Sunday.
John Corl is making some needed repairs to his flouring mill at Struble.
Geo. Hall and wife spent the Sabbath at the Wm. Breon home in the Barrens.
Mr. and Mrs. Adam Krumrine, of Tusseyville, were State College visitors last week.

This week will see the bulk of the oats crop in the barn, and it is a light one.
Alex McCoy, of Potter's Mills, was here last week buying cows for the Philadelphia market.
Chas. C. Goss, one of the Pennsylvania trainmen, is home from Harrisburg taking a little needed rest.
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carver spent Sunday visiting the Daniel Kustaborder home at Warriorsmark.
J. B. Witmer is building a large implement shed 36x25 feet. Ed. Witmer, of Bellefonte, is the carpenter.
Bessie and Maggie Bloom, with Master Leroy Bloom, are visiting friends at Warriorsmark and Altoona.
George E. Harper is arranging to move to State College and is offering his farm in West Ferguson for sale.
A party of the younger set enjoyed a chicken and corn feast Monday night at the foot of Old Tussey.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kimport were out enjoying a drive Sunday and spent the day with friends in Bellefonte.
Miss Etta Keller is home from Philadelphia spending her vacation at her parental home on Main street.
The Baileville picnic is billed for Saturday, August 19th, near the railroad depot at Pennsylvania Furnace.
Adam Bloom, of Lock Haven, is here looking over the stamping ground where he used to stump his toes when a boy.
Mrs. Frank Siegel and sister, Mrs. Henderson, of Water Street, visited friends in town in the early part of the week.
O. M. Sheetz, who was so severely injured by a fall from a load of hay July 4th, is now able to be around, but very frail.
Mrs. Lizzie Thompson, of Pitscairn, with her son Gray, are visiting the W. E. Stover home, where her mother is very frail.
Miss Ella Livingstone and Miss Kate McCormick, school mamas, are spending their vacation at Crystal Beach, Canada.
Grandmother Mary Gates, after spending all winter at Lock Haven, returned home Saturday looking well for one of her years.
Miss Vida Corl, who was ill the past month, is able to drive out and spent several days with her sister, Mrs. G. McK. Fry, near town.

Miss Mabel Holmes, of New Jersey, is being entertained at the Robert Way home, and spent several days at State College last week.
The ten Wilson sisters, scattered over several States, with their two brothers, held a family reunion at their mother's home Wednesday.
Miss Sue Garner, a trained nurse in the Presbyterian hospital in Philadelphia, is spending her vacation among her Centre county friends.
Hon. J. W. Kepler is sleeping with one eye open and resting on his repeater for the midnight hunter who recently relieved him of a lot of nice country hams.

Mrs. William Keller, of Pittsburg, who has been visiting her many Centre county friends, left Friday for Tyrone for a week's stay before returning to her home.
Miss Maria Bailey and Miss Selbert left on Monday for a month's outing in the Sunflower State. They went via Buffalo and the Great Lakes to the Windy city.
Wm. Eckley, of Pitscairn, spent last week here looking after his property, and succeeded in selling his home on Main street to D. L. Dennis, who will occupy it April 1st, 1912.
A. B. Lee, candidate for sheriff, was here looking up his Democratic friends last week. So was would-be register Frank Smith, who thus far has a cinch, and ought to win with hands down.

Mrs. Alice Buckwalter, with her two bright boys, Harry and Howard, came up from Lancaster and are spending their annual outing among their friends at Fairbrook, at the G. W. McWilliams home.
Miss Minnie Fortney, of Tyrone, has been visiting her Centre county friends the past fortnight after an absence of some years, during which time she had been teaching school in the Sunflower State.
A camping party composed of J. H. Williams, C. H. Martz, J. K. Smith, G. A. Goss and J. W. Everts are now near the old Whipple place for a week's outing. J. W. Sunday joined them on Monday to help keep some of the stuff from souring.
Anna M. Goheen returned recently from a week's visit in Phillipsburg and reports no improvement in the condition of Mrs. B. J. Laporte. The "Squire" also, is suffering from a partial stroke of paralysis, and it is indeed a stricken family.

That venerable couple, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Carver, who went to Wisconsin last spring to make their future home, returned to Centre county ten days ago and freely admit that they will be content to round out their lives in this State. They will make their home with their son George.
Your scribe deserves the call he got in last week's paper for the absence of Pine Grove Mills "Mentions," but pleads guilty only as a party before the fact. The letter was written and intrusted to a friend to mail but he was so busy attending to his own affairs that he forgot all about the letter until Friday. His apology, however, is readily accepted.
Ira L. Burwell returned from Washington, D.C., last week, where he was called on account of the death of his father, Rev. Joseph Y. Burwell, who died on July 16th and was buried on the 19th. The reverend was a native of Washington county, this State, and was eighty years old. He served actively in the ministry for fifty-four years, preached in five different States and during his service in the Master's cause united in marriage two hundred couples and baptized fifteen hundred people. He served during the Civil war in General "Pop" Thomas' command, in the Army of Tennessee, and in a brush with Hood's cavalry was badly wounded. His wife was Miss Lanham, of West Virginia, a daughter of the notorious scout and spy, Jerry Lanham.

SPRING MILLS.

When the wind blows over the oats stubble, they say fall is here—perhaps.

After an absence of two weeks Miss Anna W. Cummins returned home on Monday last.

After a change of a month or two C. L. McCool has resumed his former position in the Wheatland dairy.

Rev. Runkle and family, of Philadelphia, are here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Runkle.

Farmers say that a day or two of rains would be very acceptable just now and greatly improve the potato and corn crops.

Miss Ella Cummings is quite an adept in making ladies' purses and switches, and has been doing of late a very lively business in that line of work.

Elmer Ripka, in loading a lot of logs last week, met with quite a mishap. A heavy log took a no tion to tumble over, and striking him in the side broke one of his ribs.

Penns and Sinking creeks are remarkably low. Here we can cross over most any place and not be troubled with wet shoes. Sinking creek looks like a crooked lane, embellished here and there with numerous mud puddles.

H. I. Brian & Co. have their new coal sheds ready for the roofing. The new large shop for spouting, roofing and repair work is being fitted up with modern improvements, previous to their removal from their present location.

Quite a number of commercial agents were here last week, and nearly all report fall orders, (October dating), as not being very numerous. Merchants seem to be very cautious and are sailing close to shore, buying just what they need for immediate sales.

John Jacob Astor to Wed.
Colonel John Jacob Astor, whose first wife, formerly Miss Ava Willings, of Philadelphia, obtained a divorce from him, is to marry again.
His bride is to be Miss Madeline Talmage Force, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Force, of 64 West Thirty-seventh street, New York.
The engagement, in fact, follows an acquaintance of less than a year, for it was only last summer at Bar Harbor that Mr. Astor and Miss Force were introduced.
Miss Force was graduated only last May from Miss Spence's school in New York city.

The formal announcement was made by the parents of the future Mrs. Astor, but it did not come as a surprise, as the report of the engagement, although denied, was persistently circulated. Colonel Astor's attentions to Miss Force gave rise to the report as long ago as last winter.

Pension For Andy Toth.
Andy Toth, who was released from the penitentiary at Pittsburg, Pa., last March, after serving twenty years of a life term for a crime he did not commit, has been placed on the private pension roll of Andrew Carnegie.
Toth was convicted for participation in the killing of a watchman at Carnegie's Edgar Thomson steel plant at Braddock, but the confession of one of the rioters in Hungary cleared him and he was pardoned. Carnegie ordered that the man receive $40 a month.
Toth will leave Pittsburg for Hungary, where he will rejoin his wife whom he has not seen since his conviction.

Edward M. Shepard Dies.
Edward M. Shepard died at his country home at Lake George, N. Y., after several weeks' illness.

Death came to him just as the bell of the monastery crossed the lake from his home was ringing the angelus. During the afternoon he roused for a short time and, seeing the members of his family gathered about the bedside, said: "I know what you are here for." Soon afterward he died.
He was a candidate for the United States senate, but withdrew after a long fight in the present session of the legislature.
His home was in New York and he was a lawyer.

Potato Worth Two Beers and Nickel.
A new legal tender made its appearance in the town of Milliken, Colo., caused by the scarcity and high price of potatoes. P. A. Murphy stepped into a saloon at Milliken, ordered a glass of beer, and when that was gone a second, and then laid on the bar a potato. Murphy called for his change. The barkeeper gravely returned him a nickel and put the potato in the cash drawer.

Fearing Tuberculosis; Kills Himself.
Nathan Berkman, a member of the firm of Berkman & Cohan, trunk manufacturers, of Trenton, N. J., was discovered dead in bed. He was shot in the mouth. It was learned that the man was in deadly fear of tuberculosis, and that he had been ill for some time with the disease. It is believed that while in a fit of despondency he put the revolver to his mouth and fired it.

Only a Mask.
Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. I pills and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."
