THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Exit the trout.

—A little daughter arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grubb one day last week.

—A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith, at the Bellefonte hospital, on Sunday.

—Mrs. D. G. Bush is slowly convalescing from the illness which has confined her to her room for the past two weeks.

—Captain Henry Montgomery and his grand-daughter, Miss Marie Montgomery, are ill at their home on Bishop street. The condition of both is such as to cause their friends some alarm.

—The Epworth League of Filmore will hold a festival on the lawn at the church in that place Saturday, August 12th. Ice cream, cake and all the delicacies of the season will be served.

—A burning chimney on the house occupied by Fred Bryan, on Thomas street, was the cause of a fire alarm on Wednesday evening but before the firemen reached the scene the fire had burned out.

—Toner Hugg, of Milesburg, has taken the agency for Centre county for the Metz automobile and will soon be driving the first one to be seen in this section. It is manufactured only as a runabout and is one of the cheapest cars on the market.

—Work is progressing very nicely on the repairs and improvements at the Bellefonte fish hatchery and by the time spawning season comes around in the fall the work will be complete and the hatchery will be in a better condition than it ever was before.

—On Tuesday John Beezer took charge of the Laugenbacher meat market in Tyrone and will conduct the same in the future. He is an old butcher and knows the business from A to Z so that there is no doubt but that the residents of that city will be served some nice juicy roasts and steaks.

—Robert Schroyer, of New York city, was brought two weeks ago to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schroyer, of Altoona, in a helpless condition, suffering from inflammatory rheumatism and malaria. Although there has been no change in his condition it is thought he will recover.

—The Presbyterian church, chapel and parsonage are to be given a general overhauling in anticipation of the election and reception of a new pastor. This will include painting and frescoing in the church and chapel, painting and papering as well as a number of alterations in the parsonage; new concrete pavements, etc.

—The prolonged drought and general dry spell was broken on Wednesday afternoon when a hard rain storm swept over Centre county from one end to the other. While it was a dashing storm for a half hour or longer rain fell at intervals during the fore part of the night and it will do a lot of good to the corn and late potatoes.

—It is only a few days over two weeks until the business men's picnic and the time will pass all too soon, so that you had better begin your planning now in order to have everything out of your way so that nothing will interfere with your attendance. It is the big gathering of the year and everybody ought to be there.

—George W. Udyke, of Tyrone, a member of the Bald Eagle valley work train crew, was recently killed on Tuesday afternoon by being struck by a train between Tyrone and Bellwood. He was born at Spruce Creek, Huntingdon county, and had a number of relatives in Bellefonte and Centre county. Burial was made at Franklinville yesterday afternoon.

—In our notice last week of J. C. McCargar's trip to Tioga county we inadvertently got him mixed up with the Prudential life insurance company when it should have been the Equitable. Of course it really didn't make any difference to his policy holders but the comparison between the two companies is great enough that we are only too willing to make the correction.

—The Misses Harper have vacated the rooms they have been occupying in Mrs. Hibler's house, on Allegheny street. Miss Harper having secured rooms with Mrs. Charles Smith, on Bishop street, will for the present make her home there, until Miss Jennie will spend the time while her wedding with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper, at Curtin, and with her sister at Mrs. Smith's.

—Contractor R. B. Taylor has been engaged this week in repairing that portion of the state road on north Water street and west Linn street put down last fall and which is not proving satisfactory. A new top of cinder with a dressing of real asphalt and ground limestone is being put on and it is believed this will make it as good as the asphalt portion of the road on Allegheny and Bishop streets. The latter gives every indication of good wear and permanency.

ARRESTED FOR VIOLATION OF GAME LAWS.

—Five well known business men of Bellefonte and a prominent resident of Spring township were arrested last Friday afternoon on the charge of violation of the game laws by shooting two deer during the 1910 hunting season. The men are L. H. Gettig, E. J. Eckenroth, J. Benjamin Gentzel, Isaac Miller and Charles Stover, of this place, and David Moyer, of Pleasant Gap. The arrest was made by constable R. B. Montgomery on a warrant sworn out by game warden H. E. Hummelbaugh, of Clearfield county. The entire bunch voluntarily went before justice of the peace W. H. Musser the same evening and gave bail in the sum of two hundred dollars each to appear for a hearing on Thursday of next week, August 10th.

Naturally all the men maintain their innocence of the crime charged. They admit killing deer and bringing the same home but aver that they were all bucks, and that nobody can produce proof to the contrary. Just what evidence warden Hummelbaugh has in his possession upon which to swear out a warrant for the arrest of the above men is not known, but it seems rather peculiar that he should wait until this time, practically eight months after the close of the deer hunting season, to prefer his charge. A charge of such a nature, even if true, will be ten times harder to substantiate now than it would have been during the hunting season when a man could be taken with the goods on him.

The hunting party composed of the gentlemen named above spent the deer hunting season of 1910 in the Green woods along the border of Centre and Clearfield counties. The warrant was sworn out before a Clearfield county justice but the hearing will be held before Squire Musser next Thursday. The penalty prescribed by law for killing a doe is one hundred dollars and every man in a party is equally guilty. In this case the charge is that two does were killed and if the charge is substantiated the six men will be liable to fines aggregating twelve hundred dollars, and costs.

IT WON'T DOWN.—Like Banquo's ghost the old Coleville band went down. It seems that that Prof. Spangenberg, Phil Garbrick, Johnny Fagan and all the others who figure in the early history of this well known musical organization must have instilled the same elixir in it that cats are supposed to have, for local industries closing, causing men to leave town, internal dissensions and even the allurements of a great railroad corporation have killed it nigh unto death time and again, but just when it looked as though Billy Cox would have to put the torch out forever out she comes, with Sammy at the head, playing just a bit more brilliantly than the most optimistic hoped for.

That was the case Tuesday night when twenty-six pieces were mustered without Harry Garbrick, Louie Hill and Henry Brown, though they did have Frank Wetzler, the old-time virtuoso of the Milesburg band, and that regular army star, Johnson, who is home on a vacation and just filled in with his trombone for the enjoyment of it.

It was a fine concert and it is time that our people waken up to do something in the way of supporting it. The boys are most generous with their music. They love the band themselves, but love can't pay for uniforms, music or instruments. The pleasure the band gives the masses in Bellefonte should inspire those who are able to organize for its permanent support. We have bought uniforms and instruments for many "Bellefonte Bands," only to see them go up after a year or so of indifferent existence. But here is the old Coleville, always ready and willing and good, even when most run down, that Bellefonte has never made any concentrated effort to help.

Let us turn in and buy those uniforms for them. The old ones that they bought themselves were worn out playing for us.

BIG BARN BURNED.—During Wednesday evening's hard storm the barn on No. 2 farm of Col. W. Fred Reynolds, occupied by John S. Benner, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, with its entire contents of this year's crops of hay, wheat, oats, etc. Three calves and a brood sow were also burned, but all the rest of the stock was saved. This was the fifth time this barn had been struck by lightning, and the second time this year. It might be mentioned that it was not equipped with lightning rods. Those who saw the fire say that it was almost like applying a match to a can of gasoline. The entire upper portion of the barn seemed to become a mass of flames at the same time.

Col. Reynolds carried ample insurance on the barn and Mr. Benner had his crops and farm implements insured, having, it is reported, taken out five hundred dollars insurance on this year's crops as late as Tuesday, the day before the fire.

There was one peculiar incident in connection with the destruction of the barn. Harry Murtoff, of the Potter-Hoy Hardware company, had been up on the country selling plows. He was on his way home and seeing the storm approach asked Mr. Benner if he could drive into the barn and wait until the storm was over. Mr. Benner told him he could make town before the storm and advised him to drive on. Murtoff did so and he had not driven a half mile until the barn was struck by lightning and in a half hour it was in ashes. Had he been in it at the time he might have been killed.

—The season for motor tourists has begun as was evidenced by the fact that on Sunday just twenty-six automobiles passed through Bellefonte, not counting local machines that went out from here. Of the twenty-six, however, only a few stopped for gasoline and oil, and none for a meal.

—The concrete basin for the new Y. M. C. A. swimming pool was completed on Monday and the foundation for the building is about ready for the superstructure. At the rate of speed with which the work is being pushed the pool can easily be completed and ready for use by the early part of September.

—The Merchants' and Business Men's association of Tyrone, evidently will not accept the invitation extended by the Centre-Clinton Counties Business Men's Picnic association to join in the picnic at Hecla park on August 22nd, as last Thursday evening they decided definitely to hold their picnic this year at Stevens' park.

—At a recent meeting of the school board Irvin O. Noll was promoted from assistant principal to principal of the High school to take the place of Charles A. Auman, resigned. There is still one vacancy to be filled before the faculty will be complete and that will likely be done at the next meeting, if a suitable man can be found.

—A marriage license was granted in Philadelphia on Saturday to John W. Ostertag, of Bloomfield, N. J., and Rose R. Gamble, of Bellefonte. Mr. Ostertag is a graduate in the electrical engineering course at The Pennsylvania State College, class of 1911, while Miss Gamble is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Gamble, of east Linn street.

—The seventh annual reunion of the Wotring family will be held at Sand-Spring Grove, in Lehigh county, near Schnecksville, on Saturday, August 12th, to which all are invited and those coming from a distance will be looked after on arrival of trains at Allentown by R. D. Wotring, president, and Geo. F. Wotring, of that place, by order of committee.

—When asked if there was anything new in the sheriff's office deputy Fred Rees replied "yes, these," exhibiting several bills of sheriff sale which he was about to post. Such news, however, is not the kind that strikes any man very cheerfully and the poor fellow whose name was embodied in the clause "seized, taken in execution, etc.," would undoubtedly prefer reading anything else than such news.

—The scenic has been showing some superior moving pictures the past week and the excellent attendance shows conclusively that the public appreciates manager Brown's efforts to give the people of Bellefonte the very best there is in the motion picture line. He goes on the motto that there is nothing too good for Bellefonte and he gets it at any cost; while the price of admission is always the same, only five cents.

—Rev. Campbell, of Pennsylvania Furnace, will preach in the Presbyterian church in this place on Sunday morning and following the sermon will act as moderator over a congregational meeting to vote on the selection of a new pastor. There are six candidates now in the field, namely: Rev. Hort, of South Bethlehem; Rev. Hawes, of Bradock; Rev. Hugh Alexander Smith, of West Virginia; Rev. Laird, of Harrisburg; Rev. Fulton, of Waynesboro, and Rev. Nevin, of Philadelphia.

—Miss Ada Welshans, of Lock Haven, who several years ago spent a number of months in Bellefonte as manager of the Western Union telegraph office, was married in that city on Monday of last week to Robert Hager, a member of the Lock Haven High school faculty. The young couple kept their marriage a secret until Friday when the fact finally leaked out. Mrs. Hager is still remembered by a number of Bellefonters as a very pleasant and charming young woman.

—The 4.44 passenger train on Sunday evening was a half hour late owing to a peculiar accident at Lock Haven. While turning the train on the Y one of the rails broke in three places, right over the axle of the driving wheels rested on the side of the pit. There being no other passenger engine in Lock Haven the engine of a freight train on the P. and E. was secured and with that the train was taken through to Tyrone. The Lock Haven wreck crew succeeded in raising the derailed engine from the ash pit and putting it on a solid track, none the worse for the mishap.

—When the plant of the Bellefonte Electric company was destroyed by fire some eight or ten years ago a detective by the name of Perkins was brought here from Pittsburg, and George W. Vernes, from Renovo, to ferret out the firebrand. While they failed to discover the exact cause of the electric light plant fire a Bellefonte man was convicted for attempting to burn the armory a short time afterwards and he always maintained that the whole plot had been worked out by men in the employ of the Perkins agency. A strange coincidence in this connection is that on Saturday Vernes died at Renovo and the same day Perkins was sent to the penitentiary from Erie for blackmail.

REGARDING TURNPIKES.—On Monday a motoring party from Danville arrived in Bellefonte and spent the night at the Bush house, but this is only a secondary issue. When the driver of the machine came to the toll gate out beyond the furnace and was taxed eight cents for coming into town he protested most vigorously to the veteran toll gate keeper, Isaac Miller; no: to him personally for attending to his duties but to the turnpike and toll gate system in general, stating that he had to pay just eight cents toll in coming from Danville to Bellefonte.

There is no question but that the turnpike is a system of less advanced times and they ought to be condemned and abolished all over the State; something which will undoubtedly result with the advancement of the building of the chain of state highways as authorized by the Sprout good roads bill passed by the last Legislature. Just at present, however, Centre county is particularly fortunate in the small number of toll gates within its boundary. Years ago toll gates in this county were quite numerous and a man could not travel many miles in any direction without being held up by a toll gate. Now only three remain, one beyond Nittany furnace, one at Pleasant Gap and one in the Narrows on the pike from Millheim to Brush valley.

Every man who has ever driven the pike from Bellefonte to the top of Nittany mountain knows that ordinarily it is a very good stretch of road, while not a finer piece of road can be found anywhere than the pike through the Millheim narrows. It is perhaps worth a little extra to have such good road to travel over, but with the money assessed for road taxes throughout the county and the amount appropriated by the State it ought not to be necessary to impose the extra expense of toll service to keep even a stretch of road in good condition.

In this particular the Danville autist was hardly to blame for his criticism of the toll system, but he ought to travel through some of the eastern counties of the State where they not only have turnpikes but toll bridges to cross which cost from thirty cents to a half dollar. Paying toll is one of the material expenses of traveling in that section, according to Bellefonte autists who have made the trip.
