

FARM NOTES.

Rye makes good winter and early spring grazing and liberal acreage should be planted in this crop.

The older raspberry has again made a fine record at the Pennsylvania State College.

The strawberries will need attention until quite late in the fall. Weeds often start late in the season, which if not destroyed may go to seed or live over winter.

The fruits of early tomatoes are often burned by the sun, especially in time of drouth. The injury from this cause would not be so great were the foliage more dense.

Experiments at one of the State stations showed that red clover ranked among the first as a hog forage, because of the palatableness of the feed throughout the season.

While it is true that it requires two pounds of ensilage to equal one pound of hay in feeding value, it has been shown that from an equal quantity of dry matter more milk was obtained from the ensilage than from corn fodder, corn stover or hay.

Golden Bantam sweet corn is a favorite variety on a farm in western Pennsylvania. It is the choice of every member of the family for home consumption.

A serious mistake is to allow the cabbage worms to cripple the plants before anything is done to check their ravages. The damaged plants never fully recover and the result is a reduced yield.

According to experimenters made at the Maryland Experiment station, formalin can be used to check scouring in calves. The method of using is to mix one-half ounce of formalin with 15 ounces of water for a stock solution.

Severe drouth in many parts of the country has been curtailing the crops of various classes of vegetables. Nothing is more disastrous to successful crop production than a deficiency in soil moisture.

Hundreds of vegetable growers in all parts of the country are making preparations to attend the great convention and exhibit in Boston, beginning September 19th.

Squash wants to be left on the vines as long as possible prior to hard frosts. This ripens them and hardens the shell, thus improving their keeping qualities.

All kinds of pears will ripen if picked a week or more before they are ripe. And there are several advantages in doing this. One is that they are prevented from dropping off and getting bruised.

A prominent reliable seedsman was at the Pennsylvania State College recently to inspect the experimental plots of early cabbage. These contain 29 plants of Jersey Wakefield cabbage.

Civilizing the Indian. The following is from "The Soul of the Indian," a book by Dr. Charles Alexander Eastman, himself an Indian: "Long before I ever heard of Christ or saw a white man I had learned from an untutored woman the essence of morality."

Signess of Big Ben. Big Ben, which marks the hours for parliament at the top of the clock tower at Westminster, is bigger than it appears from below. Looking at the dial of Big Ben from the northern footway, of Great George street or from the Thames embankment, it appears as if its diameter might be equal to the space that a man of medium size could cover with outstretched arms.

He Took the Cue. He was a man who gave little and got much. Today, for instance, he had got a clothes brush, a basin of water, a towel and a shive, and he had given nothing at all.

A Herculean Katydid. Experiments conducted by a naturalist attached to one of the government's scientific bureaus at Washington aduced an interesting example of the strength of the katydid. He harnessed a katydid to a kind of sled made by folding a piece of ordinary note-paper, and then loaded the sled with various articles.

Not a Parallel Case. A writer in the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post tells of a big overgrown, bashful booby of a farmer's boy who was afraid even to speak to a girl, and whose father one day finally lost patience and scolded him roundly for not looking about and finding some girl to marry.

Conferring a Title. While he was governor of Kentucky Proctor Knott sent to the Hon. Stoddard Johnston a certificate, officially signed and bearing the impress of the great seal of the state, duly commissioning him as "Mister," which he said was a distinctive and honorable title that no Kentuckian had ever previously borne.

The Comeback. Skins that have no money, but I will give you a little advice. Beggar—Well, if you ain't got no money your advice can be very valuable.—Christian Advocate.

A Matter of Color. "Why do you refer to your youngsters as 'the black sheep'?" "Because he paints the town red."—Toledo Blade.
