CARING FOR CUT GLASS.

How to Handle Delicate Ware So It Will Retain Beauty.

It is seldom that the girl who sells the cut glass in the big department stores can tell you precisely what to do in order to preserve these beautiful and expensive articles, but one young lady, who owns several costly pieces and who is overenthusiastic concerning them, says that with the proper care they are a joy forever and a delight to behold. As a warning she says that it requires considerably more care and attention than does sliverware, as cut glass will not stand an rough handling while being polish d. This brittle article is actually the most fragile in the world of the hors, wife. It seems to await its chance to shatter. and therefore if the following rules are adhered to breakage will be reduced

Never rinse under running water. Prepare water for washing in a wooden pan or dish tub and fold a towel on the bottom so that the pieces can rest on its cushiony layers.

Make the water tepid, add ammonia and have just a good white soap, a camel's hair brush (sold for this purpose and a lintless cloth.

Rinse with water of the same temperature and dry with a soft towel, polishing afterward with tissue paper that comes for this purpose, or you can use a new clean chamois.

Do not put grease of any kind in these pieces, not even butter, as grease makes them cloudy, and you can never polish them as brightly after so using. during his spare time for larger things. Brushing should always be done with the softest brushes procurable. Stiff brushes scratch unmercifully. But a brush must be used to clean the crevices, so it cannot be dispensed

HOW TO MAKE A FLYTRAP.

Apparatus Has Been Found Effective In Denver.

It is a simple thing to destroy flies in use in Denver. These traps were other season already falling. made by the convicts in the Colorado penhertiary.

The apparatus is simply a box, the size of a starch box or larger, of which the sides are removed, leaving the bottom and two ends, and replaced with mosquito wire. A large tin funnel. about ten or twelve inches across at the top, is inserted into the bottom of the flytrap in an inverted position. The box is supported so as to be about three inches from the ground. Under the funnel is placed a saucer of vinegar, and some brown sugar is scattered around After enting the sugar the flies go up into the funnel, the inside opening of which is near the top of the box. When the box is half full of dead files it can be emptied by removing the funnel or by making a trapdoor at one end.

How to Preserve Mauve Color. I was delighted to find by experiment that to prevent my lavender and mauve gowns or ribbons from fading it was only necessary to put the soiled articles in cold water with common baking soda added to the proportion of one tablespoonful of soda to half a gallon of water. The Motto on the Clock. The old Temple clock in London bears a curious inscription, the origin or which is ascribed to a chance re-

Some 200 years or so ago a master workman was employed to repair and put in a new face upon the clock. When his work was nearly done he asked the benchers for an appropriate motto to carve upon the base. They promised to think of one. Week after week he came for their decision, but was put off. One day he found them at dinner in commons.

"What motto shall I put on the clock, your lordship?" he asked of a learned

"Oh, go about your business!" his honor cried angrily.

"And very suitable for a lazy, dawdling gang!" the clockmaker is said to have muttered as he retreated. It is certain that he carved "Go about your business" on the base.

The lawyers decided that no better warning could be given them at any hour of the day, and there the inscription still remains.-Harper's Weekly.

The Exceptional Young Man. The exceptional young man, says Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine, is the one who looks upon his employer's interests as he would his own, who regards his vocation as an opportunity to make a man of himself, an opportunity to show his employer the stuff he is made of, and who is always preparing himself to till the position above him

The exceptional young man is the one who never says, "I was not paid to do that." "I don't get salary enough to work after hours or to take so much pains." He never leaves things half done, but does everything to a finish.

The exceptional young man is the one who studies his employer's business, who reads its literature, who is on the watch for every improvement which others in the same line have adopted and which his employer has not, who is always improving himself

Labrador's Short Summer.

How brief is the summer on the highlands of Labrador! says Hesketh Prichard in the Wide World. Snow does not melt till July, then with a rush midsummer comes. Grasses and leaves grow almost visibly, the wild cotton soon flings out its little white pennons, millions of berries ripen on the ground, the loon cries, the ptarmigan calls, and you may even see a butterfly balancing in the warm wind. But then also wakens the countless ermy of hunchbacks, lean and gray mosquitoes, piping blithely for blood. So summer reigns. Then suddenly one day at the end of August, after the sun has sunk behind the barren crags through a balmy warmth of evening, by the millions with a homemade fly- one may wake up to find everything trap similar in construction to those transfigured and the first now of an-

"Stars of Africa."

When King George was crowned he wore two jewels of rare value called the "Stars of Africa." They are enormous diamonds. One weighs 516½ carats and will shine forth in the scepter once used by Charles II, who was king of England from 1660 to 1685. The other weighs 300 3.16 carats and has replaced the sap-309 3-16 carats and has replaced the sapphire that was set in the crown of Charles IV (1820-30) just below the ruby of the Black Prince. William McClellan, 244 E. Lamb street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape and conseuently I think highly of them. I suffered for a long time from a pain and lameness across my back and some mornings I could hardly get out of bed. My back ached constantly and the Kidney secretions were irregular in passage. Hearing a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a supply from Green's Pharmacy Co. They cured me and I am now enjoying good health. My advice to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint is to take Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given Oct. 21, 1907.)

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION.

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of Common Pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met. That he following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article hereof.

posed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof.

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of Common Pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and coordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of Common Pleas number one, number two, number three, number four and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of Common Pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.
