TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Now for the Granger's picnic.
—Miss Overton's primary school will open on Monday, September 11th.
—Rev. William C. Isett, of Pittsburg, will fill the pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, both morning and evening.

—Don't stand over the hot stove and bake. Buy what you want from the Epworth League in the Bush Arcade on Saturday.

—Quite a number of students have already returned to State College and in another week or two the place will be crowded with them.

—Oliver Witmer is out for the nomination for councilman on the Republican ticket in the North ward and Harry Ebberhart on the Democratic ticket.

—Bellefonte is noted throughout the country for its pretty girls but you'll miss it if you don't see "The Missouri Girl" at the opera house on the evening of the 14th.

—James Fox, who has been clerking in Parrish's drug store the past two years, will leave on Sunday for Philadelphia to enter the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy.

—Borough engineer J. Henry Wetzel has had a force of men at work this week fixing up Lamb street and it must be confessed that the work is not being done before it is needed.

—Mrs. Robert Sechler, who has been seriously ill for the past year, and operated at the Bellefonte hospital last week, is growing better so rapidly that her friends hope for a complete recovery.

—The Blue Goose at State College having been sold by Miss Betty Stuart, to S. S. Grieb, Miss Stuart will spend the winter at Dover, Del., where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Girvin.

—It is five years since "The Missouri Girl" has been seen in Bellefonte but it is just as good now as ever, and you can see it at the opera house next Thursday evening, September 14th. It will mark the opening of the theatrical season in Bellefonte.

—Mrs. Peter Collins, of Philadelphia, has announced the marriage of her daughter Anna, to Anthony B. Gallagher, which occurred in that city on Sept. 2nd. Mrs. Gallagher is well known here, having visited frequently at the Collins and Shoemaker homes in this place.

—The last of the Hecla park afternoon and evening dances will be given tonight, Friday, September 8th. The statement in our last issue that the last of these occasions would be on September 1st, it seems, was in error and there will be another dance this afternoon and evening.

—If Col. H. S. Taylor walks a little more dignified these days than usual it is all because he is the father of another son, who was born in the Bellefonte hospital last Friday evening. It weighed twelve and a half pounds and both the babe and Mrs. Taylor are getting along splendidly.

—Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, has been named by Governor Tener as one of the delegates of Pennsylvania to represent the State in the sixteenth International Dry Farming Congress and Congress of Farm Women to be held at Colorado Springs, Colorado, October 16th to 20th inclusive.

—The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold an exchange in the grocery store of Paul D. Sheffer, on Allegheny street, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon from two until five o'clock. Home made bread, pies, cake and candy will be on sale. The patronage of the public is cordially solicited.

—We are requested to announce that the subject of Dr. VanTries's address before the Centre County Veteran Club, at their annual reunion at Centre Hall, September 12th, during the Granger's picnic, will be "Echoes from the Southland," an account of what the doctor saw and learned in the south. Everybody invited.

—The Gowland Manufacturing Company's plant in Phillipsburg was last week purchased by Robert A. and John D. Gill, Jr., and will be operated under the firm name of John D. Gill's sons. The company will manufacture mining tools and machinery of all kinds and also do a general foundry and machine business.

—The Curtin furnace is now out of blast while a new hearth is being put in and some other alterations made which it is believed will increase the output and efficiency of the plant. The Curtin and McCoy & Linn furnaces are the only two charcoal furnaces yet remaining in Centre county, of the many that used to dot this section.

—On Sunday evening about eight o'clock three young boys broke into Wm. Doll's ice cream room in the rear of the Bush Arcade. They were arrested and taken to a hearing before Squire Brown on Wednesday were let go with the payment of the costs, after the Squire had given them a good lecture, a talk, by the way, the boys had better take to heart and profit by.

SEEKING SITE FOR NEW PENITENTIARY.

—John Francis, head warden of the western penitentiary, was in Centre county on Tuesday and Wednesday looking over various sites for the new penitentiary to be built by the State. J. Linn Harris acted as host and accompanied by several other Bellefonte gentlemen took him to inspect a number of localities. Among them were the Crider farm between Howard and Blanchard, the ground in the neighborhood of Snow Shoe intersection and up at Unionville; the Zimmerman farm in Benner township and the Reynolds farms adjoining; the section in and about Houserville, as well as places in Harris and Potter townships. The most favorable locations are the Benner township site and the one near Pottery Mills, owing to the fact that the water facilities are better at those places than any of the others. While warden Francis is favorably impressed with what Centre county has to offer he is not in a position to give any positive statement as to the location he will choose.

Quite a number of Bellefonte people are doing all they can to secure the institution for Centre county while others think it would be a stigma upon the county. One thing is evident. It would mean the expenditure of a large amount of money in the building of the penitentiary and a continual expenditure even afterwards for supplies and the living of the hundreds of officers and employees connected therewith. If the location in Benner township were chosen it would undoubtedly mean the building of the much talked of trolley line from Bellefonte to State College, and in more ways than one would be a financial help to Bellefonte and the entire community. These things are worthy of careful consideration by all who feel any interest in the matter.

LABOR DAY IN BELLEFONTE.—Labor day on Monday was more generally observed in Bellefonte than ever before. Of course, being a legal holiday, all the banks were closed and the postoffice observed holiday hours. All the stores except the cigar stores and green groceries were closed and most everybody took a day off.

The Bellefonte Lodge Knights of the Golden Eagle and a big delegation of members of the Lady's Temple went to Lock Haven to attend the annual convention of the Susquehanna district association of that order, returning home the same evening, but most pleasure seekers went to Hunter's park, on the Bellefonte Central railroad, where the Odd Fellows of Bellefonte and State College held their annual reunion. This gathering was more largely attended this year than ever before. The crowd in the afternoon being estimated at from twenty-five hundred to three thousand people. Various amusing sports and contests were held during the afternoon for which prizes were awarded. There was also dancing in the pavilion and other features of interest to keep the crowd occupied and in a good humor.

The only attraction for those persons who remained in Bellefonte was a game of ball between a team of colored men of Milton and a similar local aggregation, the visitors winning by the score of 14 to 10.

CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING.—Upwards of one hundred people, including their children, grand-children and friends, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Bridgens, at Mill Hall, last Friday, the event being one of unusual social prominence in that town, many persons from Centre county being present. Mrs. Bridgens was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Kunes, of Eagleville, and she was married to Mr. Bridgens at the home of her parents on September 1st, 1861. Less than a year after their marriage Mr. Bridgens enlisted in Company G, 203rd Pennsylvania volunteers and served until the close of the war when he returned to Eagleville and the family lived there until about twenty years ago when they moved to Mill Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Bridgens were the recipients of many valuable and useful presents last Friday.

KILLED BY TROLLEY CAR.—Raymond, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nestorode, of Johnstown, but formerly of Blanchard, was instantly killed by a trolley car in the Flood city street on an errand on crossing the street he ran out from behind a car on one track in front of one on an adjoining track. The motorman was unable to stop the car and the child was struck and instantly killed. The remains were taken to the home of the child's grand-mother, Mrs. Martin, at Blanchard, on Friday, from where the funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, burial being made in the Disciple cemetery.

THE MISSOURI GIRL.—The theatrical season in Bellefonte will open on Thursday evening, September 14th, with Fred Raymond's great production, "The Missouri Girl." This show has been in Bellefonte once or twice before this and always gave complete satisfaction. It is not a cheap melodrama but a play of more than ordinary interest. As evidence of its popularity Mr. Raymond this year will have four companies on the road in order to fill his engagements, and the company which will be seen in Bellefonte will be one of his best.

—William Hunsinger has resigned his position as mechanic at the Bellefonte shirt factory and his place has been taken by Jesse Showers. Mr. Hunsinger expects to move away from Bellefonte in the near future.

—Mrs. W. W. Montgomery had quite a bad fall at her home on Allegheny street the past week and, although no bones were broken, she sustained quite a severe nervous shock. She had just recovered from a several months illness and her injury is very unfortunate.

—On Saturday the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal church will have a sale in the vacant room in the Bush Arcade on High street. Bread, pies, cake, cookies, candy and all the good things for which the League is famous will be on sale. Ice cream and cake will be sold in the afternoon and evening. Come and buy your edibles for Sunday.

—Following the suggestion made in the WATCHMAN of last week the borough authorities have had Spring creek from the falls up to Waite's implement store cleaned of the moss and refuse which has made it such an unsightly and unsanitary place the past month or so. In this connection it might be added that there are other portions of Spring creek that would likewise be improved by a cleaning out.

—Notwithstanding the fact that a strong effort was put forth to run down the party or parties who robbed the ticket office at the Pennsylvania railroad station in this place, several months ago, it has so far been without result and there is little likelihood now of the robbers ever being detected. Whoever did the job not only did it quickly and completely but so covered his tracks that no trail has been found.

—One of the last announcements made by the late fish commissioner W. E. Meehan before he retired from office last Friday was his estimate of the number of trout caught during the past season, which he placed at half a million. Centre county is credited with four thousand. Centre county is also credited with one hundred and three stocked trout streams, the largest number of any county in the State.

—The Scenic is the only moving picture show in Bellefonte and the pictures are the best that manager T. Clayton Brown or any other manager can get. In addition to the regular service the Scenic always shows special feature films of interest when there are any on the market. And the price always remains the same, five cents. The best of order prevails at all times and you are sure to be entertained.

—George T. Bush returned on Monday from a trip to Williamsport and Philadelphia where he made arrangements for the illustrating and binding of his book on his trip around the world. It will be out about October first and is titled "Forty Thousand Miles around the World," or "A personal narrative of the experiences and impressions of an energetic traveler who crossed both the equator and Arctic circle on a tour."

—There is no bidding for the Centre county peach crop this year as there was last year and the year before; principally because there is no crop worth bidding for. The Reynolds orchard and orchards in Pennsylvania will yield but a scant crop and these will be disposed of entirely in the local market. Housewives, however, need not despond as reports from other peach growing sections indicate a good crop and the luscious fruit can probably be bought at about the same price as last year.

—The family of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Laurie, of Tyrone, formerly of Bellefonte, have more than their share of hard luck. Several months ago Mrs. Laurie suffered a nervous breakdown and for a time her life was in jeopardy. She was taken to the Mercy hospital, Altoona, and has so far recovered that she was taken home on Wednesday of last week, though she is not yet entirely well. On Saturday her youngest son, Andrew G., while playing on the grounds of the new school building, fell and cut a deep gash in one of his legs, which will lay him up for some time.

—The Y. M. C. A. will start a whirlwind campaign for two hundred new members in one week. The teams will meet for lunch on Monday night and begin the campaign. A clock will hang across the street, giving the progress of the teams. Mr. Will Zerby will be captain of the Blues and Russell Blair of the Reds. Every member and every one interested will wear either a red button or a blue, denoting the side he is on. The winners of the contest will be given a banquet and twenty free memberships to boys and girls—who are worthy—for the swimming pool. The pool is nearing completion and every citizen should show his appreciation to the donor by becoming a member.

—The Bellefonte Academy will open on Wednesday of next week and there is every assurance that it will be crowded with students. Mr. James R. Hughes, headmaster, came home the latter part of last week from a trip through the western part of the State and brought with him positive assurance of a larger number of students than has been at the Academy in any past year. And since his return he has received a number of letters from parents stating that they had decided to send their sons here. All this is evidence of the high standard of the Bellefonte Academy in every way and parents throughout Centre county who have sons and daughters to prepare for college cannot send them to a better place than the Bellefonte Academy.

GET READY FOR THE BIG CENTRE COUNTY FAIR.

—The twelfth annual exhibition and fair of the Centre County Agricultural Exhibiting company, which will be held the week of October 3rd to 6th inclusive, is now being billed throughout the county and Mr. Christ Decker started out this week distributing the annual premium list. Most everybody in the county knows Mr. Decker and when you see him get a list and look it over and see the long list of very enticing premiums offered. Last year the fair management paid out on the last day of the fair between seven and eight hundred dollars in premiums, all of which went into the pockets of Centre county farmers, their wives and their daughters. Is not that sufficient inducement for one and all to help make this year's fair the biggest yet? Remember there is no limit to the exhibitions. You can enter any number from one up and the more the better, not only for the fair but for yourself. Every head of stock, sample of fruit or article of handiwork may take a first or second premium, and every premium taken helps to swell the aggregate. In this way you will not only get to see the fair for nothing but make some money in addition.

The fair is only three weeks off and that is the reason it is time to begin to get your exhibits in readiness, if you have not already done so. Don't wait until the last week when you will probably have other things to occupy your time and mind, but begin now.

There will be the usual young people's department this year and they are asked to respond liberally. School children, especially, are urged to prepare exhibitions for this department. It is a feature the Centre county fair has provided exclusively for the boys and girls of the county and they should be encouraged in their interest by the older people. The free attractions this year will be better than ever before and each day will alone be worth the price of admission.

SEVEN EVENINGS WITH YOUNG PEOPLE.—An interesting series of meetings have been arranged for the young people of Bellefonte, to be held in the Methodist church September 14th to October 26th, Thursdays of each week at eight o'clock p. m. The meetings and addresses are primarily arranged and will be given for the profit and pleasure of young people. The persons who are to give the addresses will not be known until they appear upon the platform. Special music will be a feature of each meeting. The schedule of the meetings is as follows:

Sept. 14.—Learning to Read, by a Learner.
Sept. 21.—A Girl's Dream. A Boy's Story.
Sept. 28.—A Message, by a Merchant.
Oct. 5.—A Young Woman's Musings. A Young Man's Visions.
Oct. 12.—A Brief, by a Lawyer.
Oct. 19.—Richings, by an Editor.
Oct. 26.—Old Saddlebags, by an Itinerant.

BOROUGH SCHOOLS OPEN.—The public schools of Bellefonte opened on Monday and by this time are running along very smoothly. The total enrollment so far is 750, which is the largest for the first week in a number of years. There are two hundred students in the High school and about twenty-five from outside districts were refused admission on account of poor preparation. The number of applications from outside of Bellefonte was greater this year than ever. The attendance in the first grade schools show a slight falling off. The High school faculty is complete and is considered one of the strongest ever engaged.

CHURCH REDEDICATED.—The Reformed church at Hubersburg was rededicated last Sunday after undergoing extensive repairs. It was re-roofed, repainted outside and in, redecorated, furnished with a new pulpit, new pews and choir chairs and new lamps, at a cost of about $650. The sermon in the morning was preached by Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, who also had charge of raising the funds needed. The balance of $150 was raised at the morning service and the church rededicated by the pastor, Rev. H. I. Crow. An individual communion service was presented to the congregation at this service.

—Conductor J. Henry Cook made his last run over the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad last Thursday when he took his train from Bellefonte to Montandon. He began his service on this road when it was first opened in 1883 as far as Spring Mills and has been in continuous service since. He is now sixty-eight years old and being more or less afflicted with rheumatism took advantage of the rule of the railroad company which gives its employees the privilege of retiring at the age of sixty-five years.

—Whether it was because Monday was Labor day, or some other reason, not enough of borough dads could be gotten together Monday evening to hold the regular session of borough council. Only two members reported, Messrs. Grimm and Beezer. President Harper was on the sick list, Mr. Musser also had troubles of his own to contend with, Mr. Judge was busy getting the Hunter's park picnicers home and Messrs. Keller and Sheffer were out of town.

—At a special meeting of the West Susquehanna Classis held in the Reformed church at Hubersburg on Tuesday forenoon the pastoral relations existing between Rev. H. I. Crow and the Hubersburg and Zion churches was dissolved and the reverend dismissed to the Eastern Pennsylvania Classis; he having accepted the pastorate of the Reformed church at Bethlehem.

—Miss Frances Elmore was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin Saturday and Sunday of last week. Miss Elmore had been for the summer with her mother in New York state and was on her way to Pittsburg, to resume her work for the winter.

—A pleasant caller at the WATCHMAN office on Tuesday morning was Edgar Martin, a son of Mrs. Mary Martin, of Nittany. He graduated at State College in the class of 1909, and since that time has taken a two years general training course with the Westinghouse engineering plant at Pittsburgh which he recently completed and is now home on a two weeks vacation. Upon his return next week he will step into a much better position in the general offices of the company.

—We heard indirectly during the week from Mrs. Calvin Lose, of Atlantic City, who is one of the WATCHMAN's valued readers. She was formerly a resident of Bellefonte and remembers her friends here in memories fraught with many of the happiest times of her life, for while better business opportunities prompted them to move to the Shore some years ago they still look upon Bellefonte as "Home" in every sense but that of actual residence.

Mace is the outer shell of the nutmeg, resembling it greatly in flavor. It may be used whole or in powdered form.
