The league shall undertake to double the membership of the association during a period of four working days, the time being from September 26th to the 29th inclusive. Each team must turn in at least four members on or before nine o'clock p. m. of each day in order to secure a perfect score. Teams securing perfect scores of thirty-six members shall receive a mark of 100%. Teams in which each member of that team secures a perfect score of four members, shall receive a mark of 100% plus. BONA FIDE APPLICATIONS. Only those applications will be honored and counted in the campaign which are accompanied with $5.00 for the Men's Department and with $2.50 for the Boys' Department. On the evening of Tuesday, October 3rd, a banquet will be served by the association to the members of this league and to all persons who secure personally four members during this campaign. Honorable mention will be given to all teams who succeed in securing the score of 100% plus. A prize to the value of $10.00 in gold will be awarded to the individual securing the largest number of members during this campaign. A second prize to the value of $5.00 in gold will be awarded the individual turning in the greatest amount of money from membership fees during this campaign. The members of each team will wear a badge of the same color.

TO SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Centre county Sabbath school association, held in Bellefonte Tuesday, September 19th, for the purpose of gathering statistics to place Centre county in the "Front Line" list, it was found that it lacked twenty cradle rolls and fifteen home departments. The county has qualified in the number of teachers' training classes, but needs a record of the additional cradle rolls and home departments. The establishment of these departments is urged upon superintendents. A report of these together with those already established and not yet reported is greatly desired before the state convention at New Castle, October 11th, 12th, and 13th. Centre county deserves to be a "Front Line" county in Sabbath school work and will be so if all these departments are reported. Please send such reports to Mrs. L. W. Nuttall, Philipsburg, Pa. C. L. GRAMLEY, President. W. F. ZEIGLER, Sec. Protem.

Nineteen persons were taken into full membership in St. Paul's Methodist church at State College last Sunday. At the communion services in the morning the handsome individual communion cup service recently presented to the church was used for the first time. Next Sunday the pulpit will be filled morning and evening by Rev. Wilbur H. Norcross, of Williamsport. Work was begun last week on the finishing of the main auditorium and Sunday school room in the new church and the congregation is looking forward to the time when the new edifice will be entirely completed.

Rev. John B. Rendall, Jr., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church at Greensburg, Pa., is expected to occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church next Sabbath, morning and evening. He is a fine preacher and should be greeted by good audiences. RUNVILLE RIPLINGS Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wood, of Spring Mills, were the guests of Mrs. Ellen Friel on Sunday. Miss Kathryn Lauck, of Filmore, was the guest at the home of John Walker several days last week. Mrs. Anna Heverly and children, of Mt. Eagle, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Fetzer. Mrs. Biedert, after a visit at the home of her sons returned to her home at Corning, N. Y., Saturday. Mrs. George Lucas was called to Milesburg on account of the serious illness of her granddaughter, Elizabeth Lucas. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Poorman, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Poorman and son Ralph attended the Grangers picnic at Centre Hall on Thursday. Forecast for Next Winter. MIDDLE HADDAM, CONN., Sept. 19th.—Horace Johnson, Connecticut's aged weather forecaster, who achieved some prominence by foretelling the blizzard of 1888, now foretells a long and severe winter this year. He says: "There will be a snowfall as early as October 18, and ice will form on the streams by November 12." He also forecasts a drought for 1912. "Butter will come some times much quicker than others, due generally to differences in temperature."

PINE GROVE MENTION.

C. M. Dale is building a new straw shed to his large barn. Mrs. Albert Musser, of Clearfield, is visiting her Centre county friends. Uncle Shedrick Wilson, of Stonevalley, is visiting friends in the valley this week. Dr. S. H. Gilliland, former State Veterinarian is visiting his parental home at Oak Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shugert, of Altoona, were mingling among the Grangers last week. Philip Saul, of Axe Mann, spent Sunday with his son-in-law, Charles Smith, in the Glades. Harry Scott and wife came over from Petersburgh to spend Sunday with grandmother Wilson. H. L. Flanders, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday with his family and returned to his job Monday morning. E. E. Royer is erecting a new cider press at Bloomsdorf and will be ready to squeeze the juice in a few days. George Tate, of Pittsburg, came over to mingle with the Grangers and is spending a week among Centre county folks. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Markle came up from Bellefonte to see Mrs. Markles' aunt Mrs. J. I. Markle, who recently underwent a surgical operation. George Baney, formerly of the Branch but now of Pottsville, was a Centre county visitor last week, having been called to Lewisburg to bury his brother. This (Friday) evening the Rev. Dr. Moses Drexel will deliver an address in the Presbyterian church in the interest of Home Missions. Every one is cordially invited. Luther Smith, a former Pine Grove Mills boy, came up from Johnstown to spend a week with relatives. He is looking well and has prospered in this world's goods and is a genial good fellow. On a jaunt down Nittany valley recently we dropped in on Sergeant Thomas Evers, who waded across the river in the early days of the Civil War, and whose faculties are not in the least impaired, though at times he has twitches of rheumatism. He was the color sergeant of the gallant Fifty-fifth regiment and passed through twenty-three hard fought battles during the Civil War. He is still interested in politics and expects to take a hand in the coming primaries.

Girls Fake a Burglary. Officer Green, of the state constabulary, found a bag containing $50 hidden in a bed of lilies in the Conestoga creek, just south of Lancaster, Pa. A sensational story, told by Lillian Benedict, aged fourteen years, whose grandfather, Hiram Rineer, keeps the tollgate on the New Danville turnpike, near where it was secreted, led to the finding of the money. One night last week, during the absence of her grandparents, Miss Benedict fired a pistol, and when neighbors came, declared a thief had entered the tollhouse and stolen the bag of money. Under examination the girl broke down and confessed that she and Myrtle Hammond, aged fifteen years, had "faked" the burglary, cutting a shutter and smashing a window to give it the appearance of reality. She said that her lover, Robert Dussinger, aged twenty, had threatened to kill both girls if they did not take the money and conceal it in the lily bed. All three have been arrested. A misdemeanor charge has also been preferred against Dussinger.

Shoe Machinery Trust Indicted. Two indictments were returned by the federal grand jury in Boston against five officials and a large stockholder of the United Shoe Machinery company. The indictments alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade under the Sherman act. The officials indicted are Sidney V. Wisniow, of Orleans, president; Edward F. Hurd, of Newton, vice president, assistant treasurer, director and member of the executive committee; George W. Brown, of Newton, vice president, member of the executive committee and director; William Barbour, of New York, vice president, member of the executive committee and director, and Elmer P. Howe, of Boston, counsel, member of the executive committee and director. The penalty provided is a fine of $5000 or imprisonment for one year, or both. The six defendants did not appear, but probably will plead within the next ten days.

Racing Auto Kills Nine. Several more deaths are expected to swell the list of nine which resulted from a racing automobile going seventy-five miles an hour plunging from the water-soaked track and crashing into the throng at the side at the New York state fair grounds at Syracuse, N. Y. Leo Oldfield, the driver of the car, is in a serious condition at the hospital under the guard of a police officer. For more than twenty miles, it is declared by spectators, he had driven his car on a slippery course with one of his shoes flapping. Urged by his manager, it is said, to pass the leading car, Oldfield went on until he lost control of the car and dashed through a fence at a point where spectators were lined up ten deep. Nine were killed and five probably mortally injured. The rest of the racing program was continued, with scores in danger as they thronged the track about the scene of the tragedy.

Congressman Drops Dead. Edmund H. Madison, representative in congress from the Seventh Kansas district, died at the breakfast table at his home in Dodge City, Kan. Representative Madison was one of the striking figures in the strenuous fight over the rules in the last congress which resulted in the curtailment of the speaker's powers and radical changes in the code governing the house. Bloodhounds Trap Minister. Rev. W. H. Walstrom, pastor of a church at Versailles, Ill., pleaded guilty in court to the charge of robbing a restaurant of $30. After bloodhounds had gone from the restaurant to the Walstrom home three times the minister confessed.

British Cruiser Rams Olympic.

Greatest Steamer Badly Damaged in Collision.

The Olympic, the proudest of the White Star company's transatlantic liners, and the biggest passenger vessel afloat, returned to Southampton, England, four hours after she had sailed from that port for New York, with a big hole in her starboard bow, but with her more than 2000 passengers unharmed. The passengers had an exciting tale to tell of a collision with the British cruiser Hawke off the Isle of Wight. The steamer took considerable water, and it was at first thought that it would be necessary to beach her, and Captain Smith made for a mud bank in the Cowes Roadstead. The prompt closing of the collision doors, however, effectually stopped the rush of the sea, and her commander, convinced that there was no immediate danger, brought his vessel about and headed for Southampton. The Olympic is anchored off Calshot Castle at the entrance to Southampton Water. The hole in the Olympic's hull is forty feet long. Many of the first class cabin passengers are expected to return to London and the White Star company is engaging hotel accommodations there for them. The Olympic's passengers and mails probably will proceed for New York by the steamers sailing from British ports on Saturday.

Watchers at Cowes saw the steamer moving toward the shore, then stop, and believing that she had been beached, sent out the report to this effect. Later, when she drew away, it was supposed that the liner had been floated without assistance. The Olympic was off Osborne bay, on the north coast of the Isle of Wight, on the way to Cherbourg, her first immediate stop on the way to Queenstown and New York, when the accident occurred. An eye-witness of the collision said trials following extensive repairs at Portsmouth and was traveling at great speed when she overtook the Olympic. The cruiser was passing the liner to the starboard, when suddenly the former drew in and crashed into the steamer's quarter about twenty feet from the stern. This witness said he thought that the warship had been drawn against the other vessel by the suction. After the impact the Hawke drew astern and her crew threw the collision mats over a badly damaged bow.

The Olympic, as she drew away from the cruiser, exhibited an ugly hole into which great quantities of water raced. Captain Smith ordered the collision doors closed and turned his vessel toward the beach. At the same time he signalled for assistance to Portsmouth and Cowes, both of which ports sent tugs, but the later were not finally required. A quick examination showed that the Olympic was still seaworthy and she was brought about and steamed slowly for this port. The Hawke was also able to make Portsmouth without aid. The cruiser arrived there under her own steam, dipping slightly at the bow and steaming astern. There was considerable excitement, but no panic on board the liner, the passengers of which were quickly reassured by the officers. The weather was somewhat thick and there was a rain and squall at the time of the accident, but the haze was not sufficient to obscure either vessel from the other. Representatives of Leading Companies Say It Will Be Drastic. Representatives of the leading steel companies of the country are now in New York city conferring in an informal way on questions relative to the steel situation, the most important being the wage question. Independent manufacturers said that mills would have to enforce a drastic cut in wages and that action was likely to be taken in the near future. One manufacturer figures that the wage cuts will range between 10 and 15 per cent. Descendant of Penn Dies. Colonel William Penn Lloyd, a descendant of William Penn, and former senator from Cumberland county, died at his home near Harrisburg, Pa., at the age of seventy-four years.

Laughter at Joke Fatal. Laughter at a joke by her husband caused the death of Mrs. Joe Belmer, near Buochtel, Ky. She couldn't stop and finally fell over dead. Pelican Hunter Drowns. Louis J. Finn rode his horse into a reservoir in pursuit of a wounded pelican and was drowned at Fargo, N. D.

Woman Killed in Motor Wreck. In an automobile accident near Easton, Pa., Miss Catherine Warner, of Easton, was killed; her sister, Miss Helen Warner, was badly hurt, and George Diehl, probably fatally injured. It was Diehl's car and he was running it. Diehl is the engineer in charge of the work on the new Lehigh river bridge. $10,000 Missing From Mails. Ten thousand dollars sent by registered mail from the Northwestern National bank, of Minneapolis, to the Sioux Falls Savings bank, is missing. The loss has been reported to the postal authorities and search for the money is being made. Illinois Coal Output. The total output of coal from the Illinois mines for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, was 60,165,099 tons. A man was killed for every 319,523 tons mined.

Ex-Senator T. M. Carter Dead.

Thomas H. Carter, United States senator from Montana until March 4 last, died at his home in Washington. Senator Carter's illness was known only to his family and a very few intimates. It had lasted only a week, but had been alarming from the very first. Members of the family were overcome by the sudden death of Senator Carter, and owing to the prostration of Mrs. Carter it had not been intended to allow the fact of the death to become public.

Senator Carter is survived by his widow, Ellen Galen Carter, and two sons, John G. and Hugh Thompson Carter, both students in the art school of Georgetown university. Mrs. Carter and her sons were at the bedside when death came. Mr. Carter had been under the care of a physician for months. He was able to go about, however, and his ailment, a filling of the lungs with clotted blood, did not become acute until about a week ago. Held Police at Bay; Kills Self. Because fellow boarders faulted him that he was stuck up because he washed up in his room instead of in the kitchen of the boarding house at Mount Carmel, Pa., Alex Kaulic, aged twenty-two years, went out, got two revolvers and came back and fired at the boarders. One bullet struck William Mafeski in the stomach, inflicting a wound that may prove fatal. He then ran to his room and barricaded the doors. The police came, but he fired on them and drove them away. He held his position against all comers for five hours. By this time the entire town was in a state of great excitement. Kaulic fired on everybody who attempted to dislodge him. Finally Sergeant Walter Snyder and Private Hyde, of the state police, stationed at Shamokin, were summoned. When they arrived on the scene Kaulic had just driven back a constable who attempted to fire upon him from an adjoining house. The two policemen managed to get into the house and were going up the steps to the room, when they heard a shot. Snyder burst open the door of the room, to find Kaulic lying on a couch with a bullet hole in his temple. He had buckled an old sword that he used while in the Hungarian army around his waist and had an extra revolver stuck in the belt.

Robbers Make Haul of $315,000. Robbers broke into the branch of the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., and escaped with $315,000 in gold and bills. Three men entered the building by an unprotected rear window and dug through a brick wall into the vault, wrecked the cage door and dynamited the safe. They left $20,000 in gold on the bed where they had piled their loot, and about $80,000 more unaltered in the safe. The bank watchman was on his vacation, and the only person in the building was a Chinese janitor, who was sandbagged before he could give an alarm, gagged and tied to a chair. He had managed to work loose after the men had gone and reported the robbery. Censors Bar Beulah. The national board of censorship of moving picture films in New York notified the police of all the larger cities of the country that they had condemned the films posed for by Beulah Binford, one of the figures in the Beattie murder case at Chesterfield, Va., and requested the authorities of other cities to follow the example of New York and forbid their exhibition. Killed Watching Ball Game. Carl, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buttery, of Cleveland, Russell county, Va., was hit on the head by a batted foul tip and died in five minutes without regaining consciousness. Big Four Shops Prey to Flames. Fire caused damage estimated at $400,000 to the Big Four railroad shops in Brightwood, a suburb of Indianapolis, Ind. Two coach shops were destroyed. Wells Outpoints Attell. With at least fifteen pounds in his favor, Matt Wells, England's lightweight champion, outpointed Abe Attell, the American featherweight champion, in a scientific ten-round fight in Madison Square Garden, New York. Wells was the stronger and faster from start to finish. He forced the issue incessantly.
