FARM NOTES.

—Try a patch of alfalfa.
—A full silt makes a fat pocket book.
—The manure spreader is a profit collector.
—The pigs and light porkers should go to market early.
—Save all of the pumpkins. They are relished by dairy cows in the winter. Pumpkins may be stored and saved for home use or for feeding animals.

—It takes more than 80 tons of water to an acre to make an inch of rainfall. A gentle drizzling rain does the most good, as it does not pelt down the soil.

—Grape boxes should be covered with wooden strips if they are to be shipped by train. For the local market they can be covered with fly netting to keep insects from injuring them.

—A soil well supplied with humus is practically immune from drought and excessively wet season, as the soil is easily percolated with any superabundance of water and also has a greater storage capacity to stand a drought.

—Crab grass makes excellent hay, but it is rather difficult to cut with a mower because of its creeping habit of growth. It is well worth saving, even if a large per cent of hay is left by the mower. Animals are very fond of crab grass hay.

—The morning ration of the farm horse should contain about one-fourth of his daily ration. At noon another fourth should be given, and at night the remaining heaviest feed. Most of the hay should be given at night and before the grain is given.

—The disposition of a horse is bred in him. He may have behind him long generations of heredity that had bad manners in it, and they will crop out, but a good deal of the disposition of a horse is a matter of development by the people who handle him.

—Two years' experiments by the Georgia station show that curculio can be controlled by arsenate of lead at a ratio of two pounds to 50 gallons of water, to which is added a milk of lime solution made from three pounds of stone lime. Three applications of this spray are recommended.

—Give the white-faced black hornets' nests a wide berth rather than destroy them, for these hornets live on the flies that annoy horses and cattle and fill our houses whenever they get a chance. The fact is, those big flies that take such a lot of blood out of the stock at a single meal are most highly relished by black hornets.

—The aim of the sheep breeder during the early life of the lamb should be to produce bone and lean tissue, to get surface; in other words, on which to later put the finish. This aim is best achieved by feeding a very little grain while the lamb is nursing, gradually increasing the amount as it grows, and able to handle it, and later on turn it out to pasture.

—The Department of Agriculture advises two systems of farming for the average renter, namely: The four-field system and the five-field system. In the former all the cultivated land on a farm is divided into four fields of equal size, and rotation followed in this order: First, corn; second, wheat seeded to clover; third, clover for hay or pasture; fourth, wheat; fifth, clover for hay or pasture.

—While on pasture the sheep will get all the nutrients it needs without any danger of getting more than it can handle. Throughout its whole existence any change in feeding should be gradual and its growth steady. A lamb that is docked and castrated while still young, so that it does not suffer any setbacks and that is grown as indicated, should develop into a fine, robust type for later finishing.

—The man who is trying to grow hogs and keep up the fertility of his land will do well to grow a good deal of clover for the use of the hogs every season, and at the same time buy annually a little phosphorus in the shape of steamed oatmeal or ground rock phosphate. The pasture should by all means be kept in clover, though this will mean the annual re-sowing with clover on some of the land.

—The difference between "moist soil" and "wet soil" is not understood by all farmers. All soils consist of small atoms or soil particles. In a wet soil all space between these particles is filled with water, excluding the air. In a moist soil each particle is enveloped in a film of moisture, allowing the air to penetrate between the particles. A wet soil rots the seed. A moist soil sprouts it and promotes its growth.

—There are two methods of manuring, one spreading it on the surface, and the other plowing or digging it in. As the result of long experience it is found that much better results are achieved by surface manuring than by the other method. In fruit trees, especially, this has been found to be the case. The top dressing should be applied as soon in the spring as the frost is gone, or, at least, in time to get the benefit of the spring rains, which carry the fertilizing material a little way beneath the surface of the soil.

—The interest taken the past few years in agricultural pursuits is something wonderful, and the work of the United States Government in this particular is worth nothing. Aside from the valuable bulletins on all agricultural topics issued by both the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Experiment Stations, is the great work done by the Farmers' Institutes annually held throughout the country. The past year Farmers' Institutes were held in all of the States and Territories, excepting New Mexico, Nevada, Alaska and Hawaii.

—There were in all 5651 regular institutes held. These were made up of 3339 one-day and 266 of three days. The whole number of days of institutes in 1910 was 7935, an increase of 801 over 1909. The number of sessions held was 16,586, or 1051 more than in 1909. The attendance reported on all of the regular institutes was 2,395,808, as against 2,240,925 in 1909, an increase of 154,883.

—The appropriations from all sources in 1910 were $432,374.25, or $86,707.76 more than in 1909. The appropriations from the State Legislatures directly for institute purposes was $372,430.48, and the amount received from other sources was $59,943.77. The amount expended for institute purposes did not equal the appropriations made by $17,027.96.

The Cleanliness of Animals.

Man seems to be the only animal whose food soils him, making necessary much washing and shiklike habits and napkins. Moles living in the earth and eating slimy worms are yet as clean as seals or fishes, whose lives are one perpetual wash. The squirrels in these resinous woods keep themselves clean in some mysterious way; not a hair is sticky, though they handle the gummy cones and glide about apparently without care. The birds, too, are clean, though they seem to make a good deal of fuss washing and cleaning their feathers.—From "My First Summer in the Sierras," by John Muir.

Old Wedgwood.

Modern Wedgwood is of greatly inferior quality, and it seems improbable that the success attained by Josiah Wedgwood will ever be reached again. Of all his creations in jasper his reproduction of the famous Portland, or Barberini, vase (the original of which is in the British museum) is the most important. About 1790 Wedgwood at great expense attempted to make fifty replicas of his vase, but it is believed that not more than thirty-five were actually finished. Of these original pieces only about fifteen have been identified.—Argonaut.

Ancient Sausages.

Antiquaries are baffled in their attempts to ascertain when sausages first became an article of human consumption. We know at least that among the ancient Greeks sausages, called "salantes" and "chordali," were a common article of diet, and every schoolboy knows, or ought to know, that sausages, black puddings and sausage sellers appear in the comedies of Aristophanes.—London Telegraph.

Sad Feelings.

"Jagsby takes even his pleasures sadly."
"He does?"
"Yes, and to such an extent that when he goes on a spree he never sees green serpents, pink monkeys or purple elephants like other fellows. He sees nothing but black snakes."—Baltimore American.

Easily Spotted.

"Is this dress apt to be easily spotted?" she inquired.
"At least four blocks off, I should judge," answered the gentlemanly clerk.—Washington Herald.

Who keeps one end in view makes all things sure.—Browning.

Medical.

The Only Way

MANY BELLEFONTE CITIZENS HAVE DISCOVERED IT.

Just what to do when the kidneys are affected, is a question that concerns both young and old. Weak kidneys neglected in childhood lead to life-long suffering. People of advanced years, with less vitality, suffer doubly. In youth or age, languor, backache, urinary irregularity, dizziness and nervousness make life a burden. There is one remedy that acts directly on the kidneys and cures these troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills owe their world-wide fame to the fact that they cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Follow the example of this Bellefonte citizen and you will be convinced that this is so. Mrs. James Rine, 239 W. High Street, Bellefonte, Pa., says: Some years ago I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Green's Pharmacy Co., and their use cured me of kidney complaint and backache that had caused me no end of suffering. At that time I told of my experience in a public statement and I now take pleasure in confirming that testimonial. The relief Doan's Pills gave me has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The drains and losses, the pains and tortments suffered by so many women are unnatural. They are against Nature and she is their uncompromising foe. Let a woman realize this and she must also realize that Nature is her friend, and stands ready to help her when she will put herself in a position where Nature's help can be given. It is at this place that the supreme worth of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is demonstrated. It is the means by which Nature can work with women for the restoration of health. Begin to use "Favorite Prescription" and you begin to be cured of ulceration, inflammation, female weakness and kindred ailments, because you begin to cooperate with Nature on Nature's plan. Of half a million women who have used "Favorite Prescription" ninety-eight per cent. have been perfectly and permanently cured.

—A considerable amount of food is as good as thrown away when hogs are confined in barren yards or close pens, when they ought to have the run of good pasturage.

Constitutional Amendments.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION SUBMITTED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL, OR REJECTION, BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, AND PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XV, SECTION 1, OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Number One.
A JOINT RESOLUTION.
Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as to consolidate the courts of Common Pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be adopted, to wit: That the courts of Allegheny County, in and for the city and county of Philadelphia, be designated respectively as the court of Common Pleas number one, number two, number three, number four and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be in said courts of Common Pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be so assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of Common Pleas shall be vested in one court of Common Pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from

A JOINT RESOLUTION.
Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—
Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.
Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of the assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, so as to read as follows:—
Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or any municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, borough, township, school district, or any municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the annual interest on said debt or debts, and of the annual debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted. Provided, That a sinking fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained."
