THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—The Bellefonte High school team will go to Lock Haven and play the Normal reserves on their own grounds.

—The Angelo Vitale's Venetian band one of the premier entertainments of the year will be here next Thursday night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

—At the dinner given at the home of Mrs. D. H. Hastings, last Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Presbyterian church one hundred and sixteen dollars were realized.

—Miss Elizabeth Kimpfort, one of Harris township's oldest and most revered residents, is lying at the point of death at her home at Walnut Grove, below Boalsburg. Her great age leaves little hope of her recovery.

—Dr. J. L. Seibert has been made chief of staff at the Bellefonte hospital, a position made vacant by the death of Dr. George F. Harris, who held the position from the opening of the hospital until his death.

—Blaine Port has returned home after a siege of seven weeks in a Philadelphia hospital, where he underwent a surgical operation. He has recovered his health and will soon be as strong and robust as ever.

—The congregation of Saint Paul's Methodist church, State College, recently made a contribution of $47.00 to the Austin sufferers, particularly to the pastors, Revs. Harter and Durkee and their afflicted congregations.

—Judge Harry Alvin Hall, of Ridgeway, will preside over the special term of court to be held in this place next week. This will be the first time since he has been a judge that he has come to Centre county court to preside.

—There will be no services in the Reformed church next Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Schmidt, leaves for Philadelphia this week to attend the 165th annual sessions of the Eastern Synod of the Reformed church, to which he is a delegate.

—The Potter house at Philipsburg will change owners just as soon as the license can be transferred. Walter Waple, who has been conducting the hotel recently will retire and J. H. Groesbeck, of Johnstown, will take charge.

—The many friends of Mrs. Frank Brown, of Boalsburg, gave her a pleasant surprise on her birthday in a handkerchief shower, and her Sunday school class, of fifteen young ladies, presented her with a beautiful bible. All were greatly appreciated by Mrs. Brown.

—The pavement surrounding the Benner property at the corner of the Diamond has finally been repaired and brought up to grade and travel at that place has thus been rendered less dangerous. There are yet a number of other pavements in the borough that ought to be repaired before cold weather comes and winter sets in.

—Miss Abbie Cook, daughter of Mr. Charles F. Cook, who is a trained nurse in Kansas City, Mo., is seriously ill with a bad attack of typhoid fever and for a week her life was despaired of. She is still a very sick young woman and by no means out of danger but at last reports the fever had gone down and her condition was more favorable for her recovery.

—The venerable S. F. Kline, of Howard, was ninety-one years old on Thursday and his many friends remembered him with a post card shower. Mr. Kline is the oldest resident of Howard borough and one of the best known and most esteemed citizens of that place. Notwithstanding his advanced age he is still in the enjoyment of good health and takes a lively interest in all the doings of the day.

—When the new bridge is built over Spring creek and the street paved between that bridge and the one over the race, an improvement will be made around the Bush house by putting down a concrete pavement. Mr. Daggert also intends erecting two lights in front of the entrance to the hotel similar to the lights now on the Diamond. This will greatly improve the appearance of the lower end of town.

—A request is made by the teachers of the sewing school for patches, of any size and washable materials, for making doll clothes, bags aprons or any of the articles upon which the children are learning to sew. Anything sent to the rooms in the High school building Monday afternoon from three until four, will be greatly appreciated by those who are donating their time and patience to this worthy work.

—On Monday afternoon Albert Thompson, the liveryman, was driving along the railroad near the Pennsylvania depot when his horse frightened at a train. The animal reared and plunged and one shaft penetrated his left side right back of the foreleg, cutting a fearful gash and severing an artery. As it happened there was not a veterinarian in town and Dr. Dale undertook to tie the artery but found he was not up on horse anatomy. He did succeed, however, in stopping the flow of blood thus saving the animal's life.

DEVELOPMENTS ON NEW PENITENTIARY SITE.

On Monday of this week options were executed on the land in Benner township offered as a site for the new penitentiary and sent to warden John Francies, in Pittsburg, for the consideration of the board of prison inspectors. Since then word has been received from Mr. Francies that the entire board will come to Bellefonte on Wednesday of next week for final action in the matter.

The options sent to Mr. Francies include all the farms of Col. W. Fred Reynolds, about 2,641 acres; the H. E. Zimmerman farm of 241 acres; the I. J. Dreese farm of 214 acres; the John Ishler farm of 196 acres, and the S. H. Hoy and W. E. Crust tracts of about 100 acres each, or a total of 3,466 acres. The Reynolds option includes his peach orchard property, the Spring creek power, in fact, all his real estate in that section. The price asked is practically what the commission offered and is considered a very reasonable one.

As stated in last week's paper the inspectors spent two days in Bellefonte and on Thursday evening held a meeting in their rooms at the Brouckhoff house, at the conclusion of which they gave little encouragement as to the Benner township site being selected. This was mostly owing to a misunderstanding and when the matter was straightened out and the details satisfactorily arranged, they asked that options on the different properties be sent on for their consideration. These options are good for sixty days and the matter will be settled one way or the other in the near future.

W. C. Hagan, of Pittsburg, who is at the head of the movement to build the trolley line from Bellefonte to State College, stated when he was here last week that as soon as the matter was settled as to a certain tract the penitentiary would be built in Benner township he could raise enough money to build the road in one day, and that they would begin work very soon. Mr. Hagan will be in Bellefonte again this week, and as he is in close touch with warden Francies and the entire board of inspectors, it looks quite favorable for the selection of this site.

On Wednesday evening a large and enthusiastic meeting of the business men of Bellefonte was held in the grand jury room at which a committee was appointed to meet the commission when they come here next Wednesday and also offer them all extra entertainment possible. A subscription was also taken up to defray what little expense is entailed in securing the options, making maps, etc., of the land offered for the penitentiary site. The sentiment of the meeting was unanimously in favor of securing the penitentiary, if possible.

HALLOWEEN DIVERSIONS.—Miss Eva Crissman will give a special dance next Monday evening as a Halloween diversion. It will be somewhat on the leap-year order, inasmuch as the young ladies are given the privilege of inviting their escort. Refreshments will be served.

Miss Sarah Shuey, a member of the Senior class in the Bellefonte High school, will entertain the class at a ghost party on Halloween, at her parents home on High street, and the same evening Mrs. Earle C. Tuten will have a children's party for her little son Tirrell.

A masquerade at which Eleanor Weston will be hostess has been arranged for Monday night; in continuation of the Tuesday night parties, will be a progressive masquerade originated by the three girls entertaining, starting at Ethel Wetzel's they will go to Marguerite Lamberts and from there to the home of Hazel Dickinson, a progressive dinner being served during the evening. Mary Saylor has issued invitations for a Halloween party. Mrs. Morris Yeager will entertain a number of her friends and Mrs. James Schofield will give a child's party for her little granddaughter, Mary Charlotte Parker.

"A PAIR OF COUNTRY KIDS."—"A Pair of Country Kids" is not a Si, Hi or Josh play with a farmer band or a threshing machine, but is a distinct novelty and departure from the well worn path of the regulation farmer play. The kids are livelier than any ten Uncle Josh's you have seen and they are too bright to be worked by a bunco man or a lightning rod agent; in fact, they are two up-to-date rustlers for fun that will give you a good evening's amusement. The kids will be assisted by a first-class company of ladies and gentlemen, who in addition to the play, will introduce ten musical numbers and specialties. The engagement is for one night only, Monday evening, October 30th, at the opera house.

Next Tuesday will be All Halloween night and while it is only natural to expect Young America to be abroad they should conduct themselves in a proper manner. Have all the fun you can, as long as it is fun that will not injure anybody or do any damage to any person's property. There is nothing so reprehensible as to wantonly destroy property, even in a spirit of fun, or do an injury of any kind just because you feel privileged to do so on account of it being Halloween. A good safe rule to follow is to not do unto the property of others what you would not want done to your own possessions.

The Round Table Conference of public school superintendents and principals held at State College on Friday and Saturday of last week was well attended and the proceedings quite interesting. Among the speakers were Profs. Robb, of Altoona, and Lose, of Philipsburg.

A number of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lyon, on Penn street on Friday evening, to join in a farewell party given to their daughter Grace, who left Wednesday for Cleveland, where she expects to take up nursing. After an enjoyable evening all left for their respective homes, bidding her a farewell and success in her new chosen profession.

The annual revival services will begin in the United Evangelical church next Sunday. Beginning with November 2nd and continuing for one week Rev. H. A. Benfer will preach the Word. Rev. Benfer is presiding elder of the Center district and is one of the foremost preachers of the Central Pennsylvania conference. The members and friends of this church will be delighted to learn of the opportunity to hear him.

In your enthusiasm to elect the entire Democratic county ticket don't overlook the fact there are also borough and township tickets to elect. While the offices are not the high salaried ones of a county office they are just as important in their way and the candidates just as fit and deserving as any on the county ticket. And every Democratic nominee is entitled to the full support of his party.

After the pleasant weather of last week another hard rain fell on Sunday afternoon and night, just enough to bring colder weather and postpone the playing of the world's series baseball games. But at that no fault can be found with the weather man this year, as the season has really been a phenomenal one. Remarkable as it may appear, we have had only two or three frosts, neither of which was unusually severe.

The ladies of the Guild connected with St. John's Episcopal church intend holding a bazaar on November 3rd and 4th, in the Parish house and will have for sale fancy goods, dolls, home made candies, aprons, ice cream and home made cakes. In the delicatessen store connected with it will be found all sorts of good things, such as "mother used to make," and the grab-bag will show the children that they have not been forgotten.

The congregations of the Centre Hall charge of the Reformed church have extended a call to Rev. Raymond Jones, of Sagerstown, to become their pastor, fixing the salary at $850 per year. Rev. Jones preached in the different churches on Sunday and pleased the congregations very much. Although he has not yet signified his intention it is believed he will accept and will enter upon his pastorate about the first of December.

The one crop that hasn't been reported so far this year in Centre county is the turkey crop. WATCHMAN correspondents in one or two sections of the county state that young turkeys are very scarce but whether the same condition prevails generally is not known. One thing is certain, it is getting along right smart toward Thanksgiving, when this toothsome bird is always in great demand, and the lovers thereof are becoming somewhat anxious over the outlook, and especially the price.

The campaign is nearing an end and you will soon have to make up your choice of candidates, but in the matter of moving picture shows there is nothing better than the Scenic in Bellefonte or anywhere else, for that matter. In the race for popular favor it easily wins out with an unanimous vote. This is clearly demonstrated by the large attendance every evening. Every picture cannot please every individual but the program in general always pleases the public, and there is never any change in price.

Shortly after eight o'clock last Friday night a white girl baby about a week old, snugly encoiled in a basket, with a bottle of milk and other baby paraphernalia, was found on the door step of the home of Mrs. Margaret Champ, a well known colored woman living on Pine street Philipsburg. Mrs. Champ cared for the infant over night and Saturday morning the overseers of the poor found it in an abiding place for the present in the home of Mrs. Walter Holling. No clue to the mother of the babe has so far been found.

Saturday was another field day for Centre county football teams. On Beaver field State College defeated Villa Nova by the score of 18 to 0. During the first half the visitors managed to keep the local team from scoring but in the second half State played with more ginger and carried the pigskin over the goal line three times. On Hughes field, this place, the Bellefonte Academy eleven downed the strong Dickinson Seminary team by the score of 20 to 5. The game was as rough one throughout, but the Academy team had the better of the visitors in every way.

Following upon the same line of work, suggested by Mr. J. Horace McFarland, will be the illustrated lecture in the auditorium of the High school building, on Friday night by Dr. Hugh Baker, of State College. Dr. Baker as we all know is the head of the Forestry school and he has kindly offered to give us some practical suggestions upon the care of our trees and in substituting new ones will tell us of various kinds that are more beautiful and live much longer than the prevailing soft maple. Good, big hardy trees are no harder nor more expensive to plant than poor ones.

MARKLE—REED.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Reed, at Benore, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday noon of last week when their daughter, Miss Anna Mary Reed, became the bride of Harry J. Markle, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Markle, of State College. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gordon Arch Williams, of the Broad avenue Methodist church, Altoona. The bride wore a gown of white silk and the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Reed, was gowned in blue silk. William Gates, of Altoona, officiated as best man. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Clifford Reed, the bride's sister-in-law, and in the march to the floral altar the bridal couple were preceded by Robert Stewart, the little nephew of the bride, who carried a sheaf of white chrysanthemums. Forty guests were present to witness the happy event and immediately following the ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served. On Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Markle left on a wedding trip to Chicago and other points in the west and after November first they will be at home to their friends in Altoona, where Mr. Markle holds a good position with the Pennsylvania railroad company.

RUMBERGER—SMITH.—Announcement has just been made of the marriage on Wednesday, October 11th, of Daniel Rhoads Rumberger, of Altoona, and Miss Nora Beatrice Smith, of Lamar, Clinton county, the ceremony having taken place in St. John's English Lutheran church, Lock Haven. The bridegroom is a son of Benner W. Rumberger, of Hublersburg, and has many relatives and friends in Centre county. He is located in Altoona as general manager of the United States Health and Accident Insurance company, of Saginaw, Mich.

BATHGATE—NEESE.—At the United Evangelical Parsonage, Centre Hall, on Wednesday of last week, Willis B. Bathgate, of Lemont, and Miss Amelia M. Neese, of Benner township, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the bride's pastor, Rev. S. A. Snyder. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neese and the bridegroom is employed at the railroad station in Lemont, where they will go to housekeeping in the near future.

KINTON—CLARK.—W. Howard Kinton and Miss Letty Grace Clark, of Mann's Choice, Bedford county, came to the Presbyterian manse at Centre Hall on Wednesday, October 25th, and were married by Rev. W. Henry Schuyler. The young couple belong to well known Bedford county families and the young lady was a former parishioner of Dr. Schuyler. After a bridal trip they will settle down on a farm at home.

KORMAN—HOMLER.—Nevin L. Korman, of this place, and Miss Alice Homler, of Lock Haven, were married at the parsonage of the First United Evangelical church in that city, on Friday evening of last week, by the pastor, Rev. Edward Crumling. During the past year the bridegroom has been working in Renovo and it is in that city they will make their home for the present.

The hunting season for small game will open on Wednesday of next week, November first, and continue for one week. In some parts of the county squirrels are reported quite plentiful, though pheasants are said to be scarce. There are plenty of rabbits and these should afford good sport for hunters of the frisky cottontail. A large percentage of Centre county hunters, however, are waiting for the deer season to open. In this connection, it might be said, the outlook is very good. For instance, a woodsman out in the Scootac region one day last week saw a drove of twenty deer by actual count. These included several large bucks, a number of does and fawns. And they did not seem particularly wild, either. Deer have frequently been seen on the mountains in various parts of Centre county, and in a number of instances they come down into the fields.

Centre county farmers and fruit growers are almost through gathering one of the best apple crops in years. Thousands of bushels of hand-picked fruit have been shipped out of the county to eastern markets, farmers preferring to dispose of their crops now in preference to holding the fruit for the higher prices of winter and running the risk of losing out by decaying fruit. The only part of the crop housed was what the farmers desire to keep for their own use, with a fair percentage for the local market. Thousands of bushels of wind-fall apples have been converted into cider, so that the presses throughout the county have been kept pretty busy and apple butter boiling has been keeping the farmer's wives quite busy. The fruit is of a fine quality and there is a very noticeable difference between the sprayed and unsprayed.

No. 1 Vol 6 of the X-collentidea, the Bellefonte Academy monthly, is out this week and it shows no deterioration from the standard of the publication in the past, notwithstanding the fact that the editorial staff is composed of young men entirely new to the work. John G. Love, Jr., is the editor in chief; Louis S. Schad is business manager; B. H. Taylor subscription manager and Hugh J. Bubb, advertising manager. Very few of the various sub-positions on the editorial board have been filled, but each department in the paper is complete and reflects considerable credit on the young writers.

—That prince of good fellows, ex-prothonotary W. F. Smith, of Millheim, has been in Bellefonte since Monday. He reported the farmers so busily engaged husking and hauling in their corn that all business is practically at a standstill. Politically the Democrats are all enthusiastic over the ticket nominated and will give a good return on election day.

—Horace Musser and John Bullock were in Jenkintown to attend the funeral of Dale Musser Friday of last week. W. H. Musser with his son Horace and Mr. Bullock have returned to Bellefonte, while Mrs. Musser remained in Jenkintown to be with Mrs. Dale Musser during the illness of her youngest child, who contracted the typhoid fever from his father.

—Samuel Baiser, of Johnstown, was a pleasant caller at the WATCHMAN office on Wednesday afternoon on his way home from spending three weeks at his old home up Buffalo Run. Sam is one example of how Centre county boys, who are industrious and energetic, make good when they go away from home, as he has been getting along splendidly in his present location.

—Miss Ella Levy returned to Milesburg Wednesday, after being for a year and a half with her brother in Wisconsin. During the short time Miss Levy will spend in Centre county she will see to the closing of her home at Milesburg, and upon her return to the west will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Susan Fisher, who will spend the winter in Wisconsin with her two children.

—J. D. Smithgall, who has been in Centre county most of the time since the Austin disaster, has returned to that ill-fated town to assist in re-organizing the schools of which he was principal, though it is hardly likely he will remain there permanently as over half the school children were either drowned or have moved away. Mrs. Smithgall and two children are in Centre Hall and have no desire to return to Austin.

REV. HEWITT APPOINTED GRAND PRELATE.—Word was received yesterday afternoon of the official appointment of Rev. John Hewitt as the Grand Prelate of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Pennsylvania. This is quite an honor to both the local Commandery and Rev. Hewitt, and one which he will grace with a great deal of dignity, both for himself and the Grand Commandery. Rev. Hewitt held the office in 1885 and 1886, but was compelled to resign at the time he went west for his health. The appointment will very probably carry with it a re-election each succeeding year as long as he remains a member of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania.

The appointment was made to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Thos. Boyle, of Pittsburg. The local Commandery will likely give Rev. Hewitt a reception at its next meeting.

SPECIAL FOOTBALL TRAIN TO PHILADELPHIA.—The State College football team will play the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia tomorrow (Saturday) and as it will be one of the most interesting games of the season a large number of the students will go down to see the contest. They have arranged for a special train to leave State College at 11:45 a. m. to-day, arriving in Philadelphia about nine o'clock this evening. Returning the train will leave Philadelphia at midnight Sunday night and is scheduled to arrive at State at seven o'clock Monday morning. The fare for the round trip will be $6.75 from State College and a number of Bellefonte enthusiasts will likely accompany the students.

The dinner given by Miss Daise Keichline Tuesday evening, for which eight covers were laid, was in honor of the two brides of next week, Miss Blackford, of Bellefonte, and Miss Esther Campbell, of State College. Miss Keichline will be a bridesmaid at the Devoe-Campbell wedding Wednesday at State College, and also at the Keefer-Blackford wedding Thursday in Bellefonte. Mrs. Zeller and her sister Miss McManus entertained Monday night in honor of Mrs. Harriet T. Kurtz, who will leave Bellefonte next week. At Mrs. Sheldon's bridge luncheon yesterday, Miss De Lagarde, of Boalsburg, was the honor guest. A dinner given by Miss Natt Saturday noon was in honor of Miss Adaline Holmes, of Wilkesburg, Mrs. James Harris' guest. Mrs. Donald Potter entertained Wednesday afternoon with a thimble tea.
