BOGUS CHECK MAN CAUGHT.—The man who two weeks ago passed forged checks on the Potter-Hoy Hardware company, A. C. Mingle, Faibles and Sim Baum, was caught in Olean, N. Y., on Sunday and brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail on Monday evening. The man who pretended to be J. R. Parker is really George Page, who was born and raised in the vicinity of Oak Hall. He is the same man who under another name passed a forged check for $17.75 on Harry Yeager during fair week last fall. At the time Mr. Yeager succeeded in learning the man's identity and that he had gone to Olean, N. Y., but for some reason the law was not invoked to bring him back and make him answer for his crime.

When the fact was learned that the checks passed on January 13th were forgeries the police department took the matter up. Chief of police Harry Dukeman secured the old check from Harry Yeager and comparing the writing on that one with those recently passed found it to be identical. The facts were then laid before district attorney D. Paul Fortney and he willingly consented to do all he could to bring the man to justice. He called up the chief of police of Olean and inquired if Page was there. A day or so later he got information that he had been located in that place, working in a cutlery manufacturing plant. Chief of police Dukeman went to Olean on Sunday and that night placed the young man under arrest and brought him to Bellefonte on the 4.44 train Monday evening and lodged him in jail. Page made no resistance to the arrest and waived the right of requisition.

When arrested and brought to Bellefonte he was wearing the overcoat and sweater secured at Baums, the shoes he bought at Mingles, the tie he got at Faibles and was carrying the watch he got at the Potter-Hoy Hardware company with the fob and charm he bought at Casebears and paid cash for. He admitted his guilt and said that he came here purposely that day to buy the stuff he did and pass the bogus checks because he had not been arrested for the one he passed on Harry Yeager last October. He came to town on the train which usually arrives here at 1.07 p. m. but which did not get to Bellefonte that day until after two o'clock on account of the wreck at Howard, and left again for Olean on the 6.45 train over the Central. Page is a young man about twenty-one years of age and claims that he was to have been married to an Olean girl in about three weeks.

"DICK" TAYLOR ELECTED CAPTAIN OF COMPANY L.—At a regular meeting of Company L, Twelfth regiment National Guard of Pennsylvania, of this place, held in the armory last Friday evening, Edwin R. Taylor, better known as "Dick," was elected captain to succeed his brother, Col. Hugh S. Taylor, who tendered his resignation on January first. The election was conducted by Col. H. F. Barber, of Lewisburg. "Dick" has been connected with the Bellefonte company the past fifteen years and has risen in the ranks from a private by his soldierly qualities and strict attention to duty. During the past year or two he has been the first lieutenant of the company. His promotion to captain of the company left a vacancy in the first lieutenantship which was filled by the election to that office of second lieutenant W. H. Brown. No election of a second lieutenant was made, but the choice lies between Linn S. Blackford, of this place, and Clyde Smith, of State College.

CRUSHED TO DEATH IN STEEL MILL.—William J. Mountz, of Altoona, but who was born and raised near Bald Eagle, was crushed to death in the Carnegie steel mill at Braddock on Saturday morning. The railroad siding at the mill is sunk in a pit to make it easier to load and unload cars. Mountz was caught between the cars and side of the pit and crushed so badly that he died four minutes after being taken to the hospital.

Deceased was a son of John and Isabella Mountz and was 42 years, 1 month and 20 days old. He is survived by his wife and three children, two brothers and three sisters. Funeral services were held in the Bald Eagle Methodist church at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in the Bald Eagle cemetery.

DROWNED IN MEV. DAM.—Considerable excitement was created on Monday morning by the finding of the dead body of a woman in the dam above the Phoenix mill pumping station. William Rine discovered the body between seven and eight o'clock and at once notified the police. William Beezer, who was on duty at the time, with the assistance of Mr. Rine, dragged the body from the icy water and carried it into a room at the pumping station, afterward notifying the coroner, Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion.

The dead body was easily recognized as that of Mrs. Sarah Paul, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Folk. How she met her death is problematical. She spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bond Fisher, but according to all accounts left there about ten o'clock that evening. James McCafferty, night watchman at the Garman house, avers that he saw her pass the hotel shortly after five o'clock on Monday morning, coming down Jail hill. When the body was found all the indications were that it had been in the water only a comparatively short time.

When coroner Fisher arrived on the scene he inpanelled a jury for the purpose of investigating the cause of the woman's death. On the breast of the dam, near where the body was found was a two ounce vial of carbolic acid, about two thirds empty. It bore the label of a Lock Haven drug store. In the judgment of the coroner and his jury the woman drank a quantity of the poison then jumped into the dam. Her lips and mouth were not burned, but the coroner stated that the almost immediate dilution of the poison by contact with the water would prevent that. The jury's verdict was that the woman had committed suicide.

The woman was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Joshua Folk and was born in Bellefonte on October 6th, 1870, hence was 41 years 3 months and 16 days old. She was twice married, her first husband being Samuel Fisher. After his death she married a Mr. Paul but the two have not lived together for some time. Whether it was domestic troubles which caused her to commit suicide can only be conjectured. For some time past she has been making her home in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bond Fisher and doing housework at various places around town. She leaves one child, her parents and a number of brothers and sisters. Following the coroner's inquest the body was removed to the home of her parents on Jail hill from where the funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon. Burial was made in the Union cemetery.

"LITTLE MISS KUT-UP" COMING.—The attraction at Garman's opera house next Wednesday and Thursday evenings will be "Little Miss Kut-Up." The company carries thirty people and plays at the popular prices of 25, 35 and 50 cents. The Olean (N. Y.) Tribune of December 4th, 1911, has the following to say of their appearance there:

"Little Miss Kut-Up" was given its first presentation at the opera house last evening, and today when the question is asked: "What did you think of the show?" the invariable reply is: "It's a corker. Decidedly clever and all to the good." From the time the curtain goes up until the close of the performance the whole production has a swing and 'go' that carries the audience with it, and the laughable situations keep everyone in a roar. Hugh Fay, the comedian as "Sherlock Hunter" a detective, is a host in himself. He has a close second in Elmo Delaro as "Maude Johnson; and there are several stars in the cast, including Bob Finley, Jerry Driscoll and Elsie Mayne, a dainty little actress who takes the part of "Lillian Johnson."

The support all around is good, the choruses lively, the costumes bright and attractive and there are some good voices. An especially pretty thing is the song "Good Night, Mr. Moon" with light effects and darkened house. In the song "Bella-a-Merai" by James Cunningham and chorus, there were at least a dozen recalls, and the company was completely tired out before the audience would let them go.

PENITENTIARY NEWS.—Warden John E. Francis and John M. Egan of the prison commission, have been in Bellefonte this week seeing how the preliminary work is being prosecuted in preparation for the building of the new penitentiary at Peru. The four men who are here making the briefs of title to the various properties expect to complete their work about the middle of February when everything will be in shape for drawing the deeds and a legal transfer of the property to the Commonwealth. Three corps of engineers, over twenty men in all, are now on the grounds making a survey and marking the different lines and boundaries. This work will keep them busy until well into the spring. The plans for the new institution are being completed as fast as possible and in two months from now it is expected to have several hundred men at work on the job.
