Br'er Groundhog may be or may not be a good weather prophet, but the weather of the past week would indicate that the old saw in regard to him being a weather wise prognosticator is correct. Zero weather on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, with very little moderation since, is real winter and the only consoling feature of the situation is that its drawing nearer the Fourth of July every day.

The armory, however, will for the first hour belong to the maskers, after which time the general dance will begin. Elaborate decorations, good music, a comfortable room, substantial refreshments and much to amuse you, along with a cordial welcome from the women, are inducements sufficient to fill the armory with Bellefonte people and their friends. Tickets for seventy-five cents can be gotten either from any member of the Club or at the door on the evening of the dance.

WITH THE BOROUGH DADS.—President Harry Keller and members Judge, Walker, Brockerhoff, Grimm and Cherry were present at the regular meeting of council on Monday evening. The minutes of the last meeting were read by secretary W. T. Kelly and approved. There were no verbal communications.

Under the head of written communications letters were received from Mrs. J. A. Aiken and Miss M. E. Graham, relative to their assessment for the building of the state road, in which they made complaint about the imperfect condition of the street adjoining the curb and gutter, but signifying their willingness to pay upon the assurance of council that the paving would be made right.

A communication was received from the county commissioners asking council to pay one-third of the cost of building the new High street bridge, or $2,916.66; and stating that as the county is in need of funds they would like to have the money now. This led to an airing of the liability of the borough for the building of the bridge. A year or more ago when arrangements were made for rebuilding the old bridge at an expenditure of $4,500 council, through the Street committee, verbally agreed to stand one-third the cost thereof, or $1,500. When the York bridge company was stopped in their work of repairing the old bridge and later a new contract was made for the building of the present structure, which is not yet finished, the commissioners asked council to put themselves on record as to what they would be willing to do. Accordingly a special meeting of council was held on the evening of October 5th, and a resolution was unanimously passed pledging the borough to pay $1,500 of the cost of the new bridge. The next day the county commissioners were verbally notified of the action of council but when the new board went in they wanted something more material and secretary W. T. Kelly sent them a certified copy of the minutes of the special meeting at which council pledged the $1,500. This was on January 6th, and under date of January 26th the commissioners wrote demanding one-third the cost of the new bridge. After some discussion Dr. Brockerhoff moved that the letter be received and filed and that is the way the matter was disposed of for the present.

In the reports of the various committees the Water committee presented a very comprehensive answer from the Yeager Swing company to the demand of the Underwriters Association for better fire protection at the old Phoenix mill property, in which they claim that the protection is better now than it was when the insurance was taken on the building. The matter was ordered referred back to Col. Reynolds to communicate with the Underwriter's Association.

The Finance committee reported a balance of $1,051.60 in the hands of the borough treasurer. The matter of paying the bill of J. C. Showers for paving at the corner of Mr. J. L. Montgomery's property was brought up and upon recommendation of the borough engineer payment was authorized. M. R. Johnson's bill for $51.00 for putting down the pavement at the Benner property was left in the hands of the committee because it was not explicit in stating what per cent. of the total cost it represented.

The Finance committee asked for the renewal of notes for $1,000 and $2,000 for one year from February 6th at five per cent, and an authorization to have a note for $7,000 discounted at the Bellefonte Trust company to take up a note of like amount; providing that the rate of discount would not exceed five per cent.

The Finance committee also presented the auditors report for the nine months from the first Monday in March, 1911, to the first Monday in December, 1911, and on motion the same was accepted and referred to the Finance committee and borough solicitor for investigation and if found correct they were empowered to have the same printed.

Chairman Grimm, of the Water committee, presented a very comprehensive statement of water rent collected by Wm. A. Ishler covering the years 1907 to 1911 inclusive. The balance due and yet uncollected was given as about $850, but out of this amount exonerations were asked in the sum of $314.41. These exonerations were mainly for houses and other buildings from which the water had been turned off six months or the entire year, and council voted to grant the same.

Bills to the amount of $1,229.39 were approved and council adjourned.

CHARTERS GRANTED.—A dispatch from Harrisburg states that on Tuesday charters were granted for seven electric companies to operate in townships in Centre county and to have offices in Bellefonte. The capital of each company is named at $5,000 and the incorporators are A. W. Lee, J. W. Wrigley and A. J. Musser, of Clearfield. The districts for which the charters were granted are Howard, Potter, Boggs, Benner, Spring and College townships and Centre Hall borough. The same men also applied for charters for the Howard, State College, Unionville and Milesburg boroughs and Union township, but there was nothing in the dispatch to indicate whether these were granted, refused or held under further consideration. The incorporators so far have declined to make public their object but it is rumored that they intend to utilize the water in Bald Eagle creek to furnish power for a hydro-electric plant at which to generate their current.

An audit of the estate of Chambers O. Templeton, of Tyrone, who is now serving a term in the western penitentiary for embezzlement, was approved by the Blair county court last week. The total amount of money misappropriated by Templeton is placed at $108,000, and his creditors will receive two and a half cents on the dollar, which means that after all expenses are paid Mr. Templeton's estate will be worth about $2,700 to $3,000.

The Bell telephone company and the Western Union telegraph company have become affiliated concerns and Mr. W. S. Mallalieu has been appointed superintendent of both companies for Bellefonte and this district. Mr. A. W. Moore will of course remain in Bellefonte as operator and manager of the telegraph company but the channel of business in the future will be through Mr. Mallalieu's office, between the telegraph office and telephone exchange.

Howard F. Gearhart, who the past three or four years has been with the Adams Express company at Newark, N. J., has been given the agency at Coatesville and took charge there on Monday. Mrs. Gearhart, who has been in Bellefonte the past six weeks or two months, left on Monday to join her husband at Coatesville and help get located in their new home. The Coatesville office is a good appointment and the fact that Mr. Gearhart has been placed there is evidence of the confidence reposed in him by the company.

L. C. Bullock, of Milesburg, is having serious trouble with his eyes. In 1906 a spawl from a piece of steel flew into his left eye penetrating the pupil. He had constant trouble with it until July of last year when he lost the sight of that eye. Of late his right eye has been affected somewhat through sympathy for the other eye and specialists whom he has consulted advise the removal of the left eye as the only sure way of preserving the sight of the right member. Mr. Bullock expects to go to Philadelphia during the coming month and if the removal of the eye is the only possible hope he will submit to an operation.

There is one chap that don't appear to mind the cold weather one bit but works right along whether it is zero weather or warmer, and that is Mr. Stork. He made a trip through the town last Friday and just to show his liberality left two little boys with Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Leary, who live in the McQuestion house, on west High street. As these were their first born they no doubt were just a little bit flustered at first, but all the same they are quite proud of the two little chaps, who are healthy, robust fellows. In the fore part of last week the Stork left a son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spearley, in Benner township.

A picture of unusual interest will be shown at the Scenic on Tuesday of next week, February 13th. It will be the most interesting scenes at the Durbar at Delhi, Ind., by the Pathe company. An idea of the enormity and gorgeousness of the Durbar can be gathered from the fact that in the big parade were one thousand gaily caparisoned elephants in addition to various other modes of conveyance. One thousand feet of film is used in showing this picture. A number of other feature films will be shown at the Scenic in the near future so in order to avoid missing any of them you should attend each evening. No extra charge is made for big features, five cents all the time.

The great feature of the costume dance to be given as the Charity Ball, in the Armory Thursday evening, February 15th, will be the grand march beginning promptly at eight-thirty o'clock. Although the committees in charge have given everyone the privilege of using their own pleasure as to their dress, they would suggest that as many as possible go in costume, whether with or without a mask, to aid them in carrying out successfully their plans for the evening. The grand march will be composed only of those wearing masks, and no mask will be removed until half-after-nine, after which time the pleasure of the individual will be consulted as to the time of disclosing his or her identity. The armory will be well heated and elaborately decorated, making it comfortable and most attractive for those not dancing. Tickets for seventy-five cents can be gotten from club members or at the door on the evening of the dance.

William Foster, brother of Hon. Robert M. Foster, of State College, with his wife came near being asphyxiated on Sunday night. The Fosters occupy a suite of apartments in Congressman Ben. K. Focht's building at Lewisburg. It is the building in which the Lewisburg News is printed and on Sunday the gas froze up and it was impossible to get a fire. Some person employed in the News office was in the building and on going home left several gas jets open. The gas people thawed out the gas Sunday evening and when it came on the flow from the open jets in the News office soon permeated through the entire building. Mr. Foster, who several months ago was stricken with paralysis, was unable to get out of the building. Passerby smelling the escaping gas and notified Congressman Focht who got out of bed about eleven o'clock and went and turned off the gas. Mr. and Mrs. Foster were partially overcome but with fresh air soon revived.

BLANCHARD'S RESIDENCE DAMAGED BY FIRE.—Fire and water did upwards of five hundred dollars worth of damage to the home of Mrs. E. M. Blanchard, on Linn street, last Saturday evening. It was just about 7:30 o'clock in the evening when one of the maids in the Blanchard home went up stairs and discovered flames and smoke issuing from under the door of the linen closet located at the rear of the hallway. She ran down stairs crying fire and Mrs. Blanchard, who was the only one of the family at home at the time, called the telephone exchange and gave the alarm. Col. H. S. Taylor, who had just gone into the steam heating plant, ran across the school house grounds and he and Edward Hill were the first men on the scene. They immediately organized a bucket brigade and after Col. Taylor kicked in the door to the closet in which the fire was burning he braved the heat and smoke and threw water on the flames as fast as it was brought to him with the result that by the time the firemen arrived the fire was all out except a few stray sparks.

One line of hose was laid into the house and the place where the fire had been thoroughly saturated to insure all the fire being extinguished so that the damage by water was about as great as that by fire. The origin of the fire is a mystery. No person had been in the linen closet that evening with a light of any kind. The only light in the closet is electric light and whether the fire originated from defective wiring or not cannot be determined now as the wires were burned off in the fire. The loss, whatever it may be, is entirely covered by insurance.

WARDEN FRANCIS TO BE SUPERINTENDENT OF CONSTRUCTION.—While official announcement of the fact has not yet been made public Governor Tener has signified his intention of appointing warden John E. Francis, of the western penitentiary, general superintendent of construction of the new penitentiary at Peru. As his duties in connection with the building of the new institution will take up all his time a new warden will be appointed for the western penitentiary and Mr. Francis will move his family to Bellefonte and take up his residence here by the first of April so as to be on the ground constantly and push the work as rapidly as possible.

The men who have been in Bellefonte since the holidays searching the titles to the various properties will complete their work in another week or ten days, and just as soon as this is done, everything proved correct and the deeds can be drawn up the money for the properties will be paid over and the legal transfer made to the State. While the present options run for ninety days Governor Tener and everybody concerned is anxious to get everything closed up within sixty days, if possible, which will mean before the first of March.

LOOKING FOR HEADQUARTERS.—There is every evidence that many miles of state highway will be built throughout the State the coming summer, as over a half million dollars are now available for the work. Engineers have been engaged making surveys in various counties, one gang being at work in Pennsylvania the past week or so. To better facilitate the work of road building the State has been laid out in districts and Centre, Clearfield and Indiana counties constitute this district. Regular headquarters will be opened in each district, with an experienced engineer in charge. Mr. Anderson has been appointed engineer for this district and he was in Bellefonte last Friday looking up the desirability of the town for establishing permanent headquarters. He had already visited Indiana and Clearfield and while he was very favorably impressed with Bellefonte its location is rather against its being selected. The one way that Bellefonte might be selected as district highway headquarters is by having the Department change the district to either Clearfield, Centre and Clinton, or Clearfield, Centre and Union counties, which would make Bellefonte the logical headquarters town.

Thomas M. McClellan, editor and proprietor of the Mt. Jewett Herald, was in Bellefonte Wednesday in the interest of Asher R. Johnson, of Bradford, as a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National convention. Mr. McClellan was born and raised at Cold Stream, Clearfield county, though it is about thirty-four years since he left his native haunts and went out into the world to shift for himself. Of late years he has been taking quite a lively interest in politics in addition to editing his paper.

Christ Sharer, one of the best known residents of Taylor township, was a business visitor in Bellefonte on Monday. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was hovering around the zero mark Christ was in a very optimistic mood. He owns considerable coal and timber land in Taylor and Rush townships and the fact that New York capitalists have just bought out the trolley, electric light and steam heating companies over at Phillipsburg makes things look very rosy for him. He even has visions of a trolley across the mountain and down Bald Eagle valley to Bellefonte and then up past the new penitentiary to State College. In fact Mr. Sharer thinks that the bringing of the penitentiary to Centre county has turned the eyes of the business world this way and that Rockefeller, Morgan or some other big interests are back of the several moves to secure charters for big electrical concerns, and he predicts a wonderful business wave for this section during the next few years. And the best part of it is he hasn't got even a little bit jealous of Bellefonte for being the natural centre, as he says that what helps the town and the people here directly will help him indirectly, and that's the kind of a sentiment one might expect from such a big whole-souled gentleman as Mr. Sharer.
