

PINE GROVE MENTION.

Farmers are busy and most of the corn will be planted this week. J. W. Sunday transacted business at the county capital Wednesday. Remember the M. E. ladies on Memorial day at the I. O. O. F. hall. Geo. Porter and lady friend spent Sunday at the Earl Smeltzer home. Jesse Pennington and wife are visiting friends in the Smoky city this week. Dr. J. C. Brungardner, of Stonevalley, was around buying wool last week. Miss Florence Kepler was in Bellefonte Saturday on a shopping expedition. G. W. Rossman was last week appointed road supervisor to succeed J. C. Sunday. W. F. Archey was among the railroad engineers in session at Harrisburg last week. Mrs. Emma Hess, of Bellefonte, was a visitor at her former home on the Branch last week. A. I. Tate, of Jersey Shore, is home for a few days with his family before going to Altoona. Prof. M. E. Heberling, of State College, spent Saturday evening among his old chums in town. Mrs. Mary Wright closed her house on Water street for a weeks visit among friends at Boalsburg. Milligan & Taylor, the popular drovers of Reedsville, bought a bunch of cows in the valley this week. Ira Hess, of Altoona, was angling along Centre county streams last week for his share of the finny tribe. Mrs. Elaine Brown, of Tyrone, is spending this week with her mother, Mrs. Eliza Leech, at Boalsburg. Miss Mary McWilliams, Miss Mary Gardner and Mrs. David Elder were in Tyrone Friday on a shopping tour. Chas. Strouse and family and Mrs. Peter Corl were entertained at the J. Cal Struble home at Fairbrook Sunday. Geo. Kustaborder and wife and Harris Harpster and wife, of Warriorsburg, Sundayed at the Henry Hoock home at Fairbrook. Ed. and Maude Koch were called to Altoona Friday to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. McIntyre, who died after a brief illness. Cyrus W. Hunter, the popular marble dealer at Stormtown, erected a suitable grave stone to the memory of W. J. Henry in the new cemetery Wednesday. Will McAlevy, of Massesburg, greeted old friends here on Thursday on his way to State College, where he made some purchases of pure-bred Durham stock. Over one hundred invited guests were present at the Samuel Everhart reception at the home of his mother at Franklinville Saturday evening. Everybody had a joyous good time. John Wright, of Boalsburg, I. O. O. F. Lodge; J. W. Miller, of State College Lodge; Musser Ward, of Halfmoon Lodge, and C. H. Meyers, of Pine Grove Mills Lodge, are attending Grand Lodge in session at Reading this week.

SPRING MILLS.

Misses Bessie Grove and Ella Cummings made a trip to Milroy on Saturday last. Michael Shires, of Scranton, formerly of this place, made us a flying visit on Saturday last. Martha Smith, the young daughter of Wm. Smith, has been seriously ill for the past week. Mrs. Charles Breen and Misses Rosie Smith and Jennie Decker left on Thursday last for a ten days visit in Altoona. It is reported that we are to have a knitting factory in our town. Is this report to be like the report of the condensation plant? Only, perhaps. What does Spring Mills intend doing about a sane Fourth of July? Why not get a general town picnic, and all have a good time. Where are the I. O. O. F. and K. G. E. They certainly will not allow the day to go by default. The committee appointed by the Spring Mills Grange have completed all the necessary arrangements for their grand festival on the evening of Memorial day. The festival will be of a most inviting and interesting character. Ice cream, cakes, fruits, etc., will be amply provided, and a cordial invitation is extended to everybody. The parade at Spring Mills on Memorial day will form at the Lutheran church at 5 o'clock p. m., sharp, to be at the cemetery at 6 o'clock. The parade will be preceded by the Coburn band followed by the very few old veterans we still have with us in carriages. The line will then consist of a large number of boys and girls, each carrying an American flag. All the boys in uniform and the girls wearing soldier hats, followed by citizens generally. There will be a regular flag drill at the cemetery, also some appropriate singing. An address will be delivered by Dr. Schmidt, of Bellefonte. At the Georges Valley cemetery the ceremony will commence at 2 o'clock p. m. An address by Rev. Price. At the Union cemetery the ceremony will be at 9 o'clock p. m. Address by Rev. R. R. Jones. The ceremony at Greengrove will be at 6 o'clock p. m., on Wednesday evening. Rev. Martin will deliver the address.

LEMONT.

Irvin J. Dreese is having a coat of paint put on his house. Linn S. Bortoff moved his family into the house vacated by Mrs. Edward Dale. Mrs. Harry Coble and sister spent two weeks visiting their sister in Hazelton. Last Wednesday we had a light frost but this week has been warm and pleasant. Most of the farmers are through sowing oats and a few have some corn planted. The gardens are doing fine and the wheat and grass are growing as fast as they can. Hezekiah Hoy went to Reading to attend a session of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge. John Fishel and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing big son, on Saturday. Prof. R. U. Wasson, of Coburn, spent a few days at the home of his mother, this last week. Sunday, May 26th, Rev. Samuel Snyder, of the United Evangelical church, will hold Memorial services for Capt. Robert Foster Post, in the Lemont church.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, ETC.

There is more than the usual amount of fiction in the June Century—"Stella Maris," a story of navy humor, "Fifery Holds the Meeting for the Candidate," "The Fugitive Blacksmith," a quaintly humorous story of the simple people of the Pennsylvania Dutch, "Revenge in Lehigh County," by Elsie Duncan Yale; and good stories to read in idle hours by Chester Bailey Fernald and Katherine Fullerton Gerould. Those who know Charles B. Towns, and the work he has done for the cure of drug and alcohol additions, will want to read his article in the June Century on "Hope for the Hard Drinker," a sane, authoritative presentation of the harm wrought by "the greatest of humanity's curses," a summary of our existing inadequate methods of dealing with the problem, and an optimistic statement of what can and must be done to save the man worth while. The dominating interest of the presidential campaign gives special timeliness to two narratives in the June Century of other presidential campaigns which have been important factors in our history; the story of "Cleveland's First Nomination and Election."

Big Electrical Convention.

The National Electric Light Association will hold its thirty-fifth annual convention in Seattle, June 10th to 14th. This is one of the most important electrical associations in the world, being composed of the foremost operating companies in the land—Pennsylvania alone having a membership of one hundred companies. The associate membership is composed of the employees of the various operating and manufacturing companies, among whom will be found the brains of the electrical world, the men individually responsible for the growth of the industry, which in thirty-five years has grown from nothing to a business requiring an investment of almost $1,000,000.00 for the production of electric light, heat and power alone. The delegates will travel on special trains "de luxe," leaving different points of interest throughout the United States and Canada. The return trip being arranged to allow each traveler to make his own selection of route. Taking it all in all, the electrical experts are planning to mix in a good measure of pleasure with their annual business meeting.

Richeson Pays Death Penalty.

Clarence V. T. Richeson, the self-confessed murderer of Miss Avis Linnell, and a former Baptist clergyman, was put to death by electricity in the state prison in Boston early Tuesday morning. At 12.10.02 o'clock the electrician threw a lever that sent a powerful current of electricity through the condemned man's body as he sat strapped in the chair. The first shock caused instant death, and after an examination by the physician in attendance Richeson was pronounced legally dead at 12.17 a. m.

Richeson went to his death with composure, as he said he would. He stepped from his cell into the corridor and through a door into the death chamber. When he had taken thirteen paces he was in front of the electric chair. He took his seat in it, the straps and electrodes were quickly put in place. The four guards who had accompanied him from his cell, and Chaplain Stebbins, who preceded him into the room, stepped back. Warden Bridges raised his cane as a signal, and in the next second Richeson's spirit had left his body.

Richeson passed the last twenty-four hours of his stay on earth in much the same way that he spent the two previous days. He slept very little, scarcely tasted food, read the Bible and other religious books, talked and prayed with Rev. Herbert S. Johnson and Rev. W. H. Stebbins, the prison chaplain, and expressed his last final wishes to William A. Morse, of his counsel. Because he abstained from food so long Richeson was in a much weakened condition, but he retained complete control of himself.

Floyd Allen Guilty of Murder.

Floyd Allen, first of the Hillsville mountaineers tried for the Carroll county court house murders, was adjudged guilty of murder in the first degree at Wytheville, Va. He will pay the penalty of his crime in the electric chair at Richmond. Sentence was not pronounced on Allen, as he may be called to testify in the other cases. Allen was very cheerful in the expectation that a mistrial would result. When the verdict was announced he relaxed into despair. There was barely a handful of people in the court room. Whether this was because of fear that the Allens might attempt to repeat the scene enacted at Hillsville is not known, but there was no reason for such fear.

Gives $4,000,000 to Cripples.

The memories of a crippled child of a devoted wife and of a brave son, who gallantly stepped aside on the wrecked Titanic that women and children might be saved, were revived when P. A. B. Widener, of Philadelphia, executed a deed of trust to the Land Title and Trust company and delivered to it $4,000,000 in 4 per cent securities as an endowment for the Widener Memorial Home for Crippled Children. The sum given makes a total of $7,000,000 actually paid and set aside for the home by Mr. Widener. It is proposed to utilize and invest the $4,000,000 in such a manner that it will eventually become an endowment fund of $5,000,000.

Killed Fighting Mine Fire.

The body of John Lipokowicz, who was killed, and three other men, in a heavy fall of rock at the Hillside colliery at Avoca, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was dug out of the debris. The men were constructing a rock cut to head off a fire. This is the first fatal accident in the region since the suspension of mining.

Deadly "Movie" Realism.

Roy Wilt and James Salyard, ten-year-old boys, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., were playing "Old Scout and the Indian," just as they saw it in the moving picture show. Salyard pulled the trigger of an old rifle, and Wilt fell with a bullet in his body. Young Wilt is dying in a hospital.

Judge Killed Son; Acquitted.

Judge J. J. Conners, former president of the state board of agriculture in McAlester, Okla., who served and killed his son, when the young man attacked him with a razor, has been declared not guilty of murder.

Agrees to Preside at Opening of Big Fight in Chicago.

Colonel Harry S. New announced in Chicago that United States Senator Elihu Root, of New York, would be temporary chairman of the Republican national convention. It has been common gossip in political circles that the New York senator would be acceptable to both the Taft and Roosevelt forces.
