

WHAT SHE THOUGHT.

After the young woman in pink had lured the young man into a secluded seat under the palms on the plea that she was too tired to dance she talked herself hoarse without being able to start a flow of conversation on his part. Then he coughed.

"There - er - was something 1 wanted to say," he began, hesitating-

The young woman in pink leaned over and adjusted her slipper rosette to conceal her gratified surprise. "What was it?" she murmured as she sat up and regarded him confidingly. "Somehow," he said, "I feel that you always understand me-you have a sympathetic nature."

"I am glad if you think so, Mr. Friller," the girl in pink said softly.

"Oh, I do!" declared the young man, earnestly. "It makes it easier-

"I hope, Mr. Friller-Henry," the girl in pink said, looking at him with great seriousness, "that you feel it easy to say anything to me. Why, we've been friends so long! It was four years ago last January that we were introduced!"

"Was it?" asked the young man, startled. "Do you think I could ever forget,"

the girl in pink asked him, tenderly. "Oh, no, indeed."

"It's been a long time," agreed the young man. "By the way," he said "you know Antoinette suddenly. Graves, don't you?"

The girl in pink wrinkled her brow a bit. "I haven't seen much of her of late because, really, she's not in our crowd at all!"

"Oh, is that so?" asked the young man in some surprise.

"No," the girl in pink told him. "Poor Antoinette simply dropped out Building a Poem. "Any man on earth can be a poet if he tries." said a speaker at a bankers' banquet, "and there never was a better evidence than when the provost of Dundee died. It seems that the provost had been a fine man. His four deputies mourned him greatly, and after the funeral they all got together and decided that they should write him an epitaph.

"It was a hard matter to decide just how four men could write an epitaph, but it was finally settled by the agreement that the inscription should be a verse of four lines, each man to write a line. And so they started. The first man wrote his line. The second man scratched his head and then added his line to the first. The third man thought long, but finally got his inspiration and put down his line. Then the fourth, after much deliberation. made the final rime, and the epitaph ran something like this: " 'Here lies the provost of Dundee,

Here lies him, here lies he, Hallelujah, hallelujee, A-B-C-D-E-F-G!"

-Chicago Tribune.

Spelling Shakespeare's Name. E. H. Sothern in an article in a magazine on the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy gives the Baconians a sound drubbing. Because Shakespeare spelled his name in various ways the Baconians have been pleased to refer to him as a "barbarian." Here is what Mr. Sothern says on the subject of the spelling of the name: "This is one assertion that is not denied. It is also true that Sir Walter Raleigh, admittedly one of the most cultured men of the time, spelled his name 'Rauley,' 'Rauleigh,' 'Raleghe' and 'Ralegh.' Sir Philip Sidney frequently signed himself 'Sydney,' while Spenser often wrote 'Spencer.' Take any of Shakespeare's contemporaries. and we find the same thing. Marlowe's name occurs in ten different spellings, Throckmorton's in sixteen, Gascoigne's in nineteen. Percy's in twenty-seven, while Ben Jonson wrote his in almost every imaginable form."

A Good Retort.

A Spaniard was traveling from San Sebastian to Biarritz in a first class compartment with an American. "You Spaniards are a great nation," the American said. "But I can't understand how a nation that produced Velasquez and Valdes can stomach the savage cruelty of the bullfight." The Spaniard rolled his black eyes at this, inhaled a great cloud of cigarette smoke and said: "You have in America a number of societies for the prevention of crueity to children. I believe?" "Yes.'

"And they do good work?" "Oh, splendid work!" Now the Spaniard showed his white teeth in a smile.

"Well, senor, such societies would be useless in my country," he said. "The man who would lift his hand against a little child has not been born

Insomnia and Tobacco.

The dominant characteristic of tobacco is the fact that it heightens blood pressure. The irritant action by which does this sometimes leads to still more harmful results. Its second action is narcotic. It lessens the connection between nerve centers and the outside world. These two actions account for all the good and all the bad effects of tobacco. As a narcotic it temporarily abolishes anxiety and discomfort by making the smoker care less about what is happening to him. But it is a well known law of medicine that all the drugs which in the beginning lessen nerve action increase it in the end. Thus smoking finally causes apprehension, hyperexcitability and muscular unrest. Here this inevitable law seems to give contradictory results. Every physician knows that an enormous amount of insomnia is relieved by smoking, even if it is at the expense of laziness the next day. At the same time every physician knows that most excessive smokers are troubled with insomnia.--Century.

Meanness of Mose.

A typical southern "mammy" entered the office of a well known attorney and, after mopping her shining brow with a bandanna handkerchief, said to the man at the desk. "Ah wants t' git a divo'ce f'om mah husban', Mose Lightfoot." "On what grounds?" asked the attorney. "He's jes natchelly wufless," was the reply. "What is your husband's occupation?" "He jes sets roun' de house all day rock de cradle by tyin' its tail to one "Did the scheme work?" "Land sakes, no! Mose am so evahlastin' grouchy dat he couldn't speak Oculists have often called attention to the fact that the eyes are easily fatigued by the reflection from white paper, especially when the surface is under a strong light. Since green is known to be the color most restful to color in libraries and private studies. tion. In strong daylight it is softer than pure white paper, and in artificial light is not too dark. Black letters on a yellowish background show clear and distinct. Many mathematicians use yellow paper in figuring long and difficult calculations, and many writers have adopted it for manuscripts .--Youth's Companion.

Maddening Rapid Transit. The accommodation trains of Germany seldom fail to provoke the wrath of American travelers. One of them thus vented his feelings in a letter home "One morning I saw from the car riage window a square forty acre field of some unknown grain. It stretch ed for a quarter of a mile along the track. and we were just at the first quarter of it. A feeble old man with a reaping book had begun at that cor ner to mow directly away from the track round the field. Calling out in him. I asked the name of the grain. but he was probably deaf and did not her. I sat watching him awhile and then put my question to the passen gers. I went to every one in the car but no one could answer my question However, with some my inquiry served as an introduction, and I passed the day very pleasantly in conversation Going, toward evening, into the smok ing compartment. I settled down to read a newspaper, and as the air was close | raised a window. A sharp sound of clashing steel struck my ears. I looked out. We had now arrived by a direct line at the far corner of the field. And the old man. having mowed along three sides. was there, whetting his blade."-Youth's Companion.

Preparing For the Wedding. There was to be a wedding in east ern Kentucky. Many of the mountain eers would be there. Early in the morning of the nuptial day Bud Hightower was noticed filling an old No. 12 shoe with slugs and nalls and plaster of paris. "Wot you doin'. Bud?" drawled Sin Beesley. "Kan't you see wot I'm doin'? I'm makin' moonshine sperrits out'n cheese scrapin's." Sim chuckled. "Gettin' good an' ready f'r th' wed din', l reckon."

"I reckon." "Goin' to throw it at th' bridegroom maybe?" "Goin' to throw it at him, maybe but it ain't goin' to hit him. It's goin to break th' face of Snipe Tolliver an do it accidental too. I been layin' f'r that ther Snipe f'r a right smart spell." And he drove an extra railway spike in the bardening mass. - Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Powdering Closet. When capricious fashion ruled that ladies should wear only white hairthe color supplied by nature being of no importance-the operation of putting on the powder made special ar rangements necessary. These took the form of a special room or cabinet, and いれ

の山口口口

公六

齐

1

江

行

百百

11

公贝

1

介

公公

会

1

10

small chamber was set aside for the exclusive use of powdering the hair A curtain divided in the middle. a powdering stand to hold the bowl of that the closet contained, and throug! this curtain the lady whose head was to be powdered protruded her head, the maid standing on the other side and "throwing" the powder at her head by means of a powder puff. To preserve the eyes and complexion a mask was held to the face. Unfortunately, no 11lustration of a "powdering closet' seems to have been preserved -- Courier de Londres in every house of any pretension a

Why Lincoln Helped a Bug. President Lincoln was walking with a friend about Washington and turned back for some distance to assist a beetle that had got on its back and lay on the walk, legs sprawling in air. vainly trying to turn itself over. The friend expressed surprise that the president, burdened with the cares of a warring nation, should find time to spare in assisting a bug.

"Well," said Lincoln, with that bomely sincerity that touched the hearts of millions of his countrymen. "do you know that if I had left that bug struggling there on his back I wouldn't have felt just right. I wanted to put him on his feet and give him an equal chance with all the other bugs of his class."-Kansas City Star.

The Family Skelton. "Pop. us boys is going to have a minstrel show."

"Yes. son." "Well, can't we have the skeleton old Mrs. Gaddy says you've got in your closet to rattle the bones?"-Baltimore American.

Profiting by the Occasion. "I met Pantoufle just now. He's awfully bad; can hardly eat anything and drinks nothing but water." She-And didn't you like to invite him to dinner?-Pele Mele.

Consistently Dressed.

Mrs. Fuclose-Isn't my new decollete gown great? I tell you. I'm in the swim now. Mr. Fuclose-You are certainly dressed for the part-Philadelnhia Record.

Wouldn't Let Him Die. Bella-He said he would kiss me or die in the attempt. Della-Well? Bella -He has no life insurance, and I pitied his poor old mother .- Philadelphia Telegraph.

Certainty is the father of right and mother of justice.-Pope.

The Real Reason.

Freddie-Mamma, me face is dirty. Please wash it. Mamma - Freddle. where in the world do you learn to say "me face." like a little street bowder and possibly a stool were all arab? Why don't you say "my face is dirty?" Freddie-Because your face isn't dirty .- St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

His Efforts,

"What did you do to catch that cold?" "Oh, ran after it for a couple of Marathon sprints and then finally overtook it by borrowing a friend's racing car." -Baltimore American

The Necessity Removed. Baker-Manning's operation has been postponed indefinitely. Barker-Why's that? Baker-His surgeon's wife has inherited a large fortune.-Life.

Medical.

Endorsed at Home.

SUCH PROOF AS THIS SHOULD CONVINCE ANY BELLEFONTE CITIZEN.

ANY BELLEFONTE CITIZEN. The public endorsement of a local citi-zen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The follow-ing statement given by a resident of Belle-fonte adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being pub-lished about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it. Iames H. Rine. 239 W. High St., Belle-lished about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it. James H. Rine, 239 W. High St., Belle-fonte, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly a wonderful kidney remedy. Ten years ago I first used them and at that time I told a public statement of the benefit I had received. That statement still holds good. I have often urged my friends to try Doan's Kidney Pills and in every case where my advice has been followed relief has been received from kid-ney trouble. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of kidney fills knowing that they will have a good effect." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States. Remember the name-Doan's-and take no other.

(Successor to D. W. Woodring.)

and p'tends to mind de baby." "Does he take good care of the child?" "'Deed he do not! He's too lazy. Dis mawnin' he tried to make de dawg ob de rockers."

enough kind words to make de dawg wag its tail!"-Judge. Yellow Writing Paper Easy on Eyes.

the eyes, it is a common practice to use wall papers and draperies of that For writing paper, however, green is an unsatisfactory color. It imparts a reddish appearance to the writing and makes it hard to read. Yellow writing paper is not open to the same objec-

"You Know Antoinette Graves, Don't You?"

of things-she is so very odd, you know. I feel sorry for a girl who fails to be popular! Of course, I can't even faintly imagine how it seems, but I should think it would be awful!"

"As bad as that?" asked the young man.

"Goodness, yes," said the girl in pink. "You never see Antoinette anywhere. She hasn't been to a dance for a year or so. And she wears such funny clothes! Of course you can't really blame a girl if she has no instinct for style and doesn't care to keep up with things! Why, last winter when every one was pawning her rings to buy enough hair to keep up with the styles I saw Antoinette going around with just her own hair on-"

"She has a lot of it," said the young

"But fancy!" cried the girl in pink. "No matter how much hair you have you can't do it up in style if one end of it is fastened to your head! She just didn't care! And she's never had a hobble skirt to her name. She's gone right on wearing her last year's tailor suit as though she felt perfectly up to date in it. Don't you like to see a girl progressive?"

"Er-yes," said the young man. "But-"

"I really don't like to say anything that sounds like running another person down," went on the girl in pink. in a pained voice. "That isn't my nature, as you know, Mr. Friller-Henry. But Antoinette always struck me as being terribly empty headed! I never could get her to settle down to a serious talk-she would act restless or laugh or move away.

"I think a really sweet natured girl would take some interest in her friends' affairs, don't you?

"Poor Antoinette! I wonder what life can hold for unfortunate girls like her! They have nothing to look forward to! But I try not to dwell on such things. There is no use in harrowing one's self over the misfortunes of others. However, I feel things so deeply. I really suffer, Mr. Friller-Henry, if I think every one isn't as happy and contented as myself, I-"But you said you had something to ask me?" "I asked it," confessed the young man, looking red and uncomfortable. "I asked what you thought of Antoinette. You see, I wanted to tell you that she and I are ergaged!"

----For high class Job Work come to the WATCHMAN Office.

in Spain."-Los Angeles Times. Mental Twilight.

Mental health passes into mental disease most commonly in a gradual way. as light passes into darkness. There is a mental twilight, a borderland in which it is impossible to say whether the patient is mentally ill or not. It is always well for a man who undergoes such changes mentally to consult his doctor, and it is always well for the doctor not to make too light of such a change because treatment is usually far more effectual in that borderland stage than 't is when the symptoms have been fully developed. The best test of mental health is when a man feels a conscious sense of organic well being, although many persons go through life with more or less of a sense of ill being all the time and are not on that account to be regarded as insane.

Acoma's Queer Graveyard.

What is perhaps the most remarkable graveyard in the United States adjoins the old Spanish church in the ancient Indian pueblo of Acoma, N. M., and took more than forty years to construct. The village is situated high in the air upon a huge, flat topped rock, many acres in extent and entirely bare of soil. In order to create the graveyard it was necessary to carry up the earth from the plain 300 feet below, a blanketful at a time, on the backs of Indians who had to climb with their heavy loads up a precipitous trail cut in the face of the cliff. The graveyard thus laboriously constructed is held in place on three sides by high retaining walls of stone.-Wide World Magazine.

Got Through. Among other startling statements in her composition on "A Railway Jourpey" the following was made by a littie Baltimore girl: "You must get a ticket, which is a pass through."-New York Herald.

Her First Thought.

Ella-What a dreamer she is! Stella -I should say so! When I told her about an accident in which a poor fel low lost both of his legs she said that that was too bad, as he would not be able to leave any footprints on the sands of time.-Judge.

The National Game.

"You say baseball is your national game," said the stranger. "but what is your national pastime in winter?" "Politics."-Chicago Record-Herald.

When you lose your temper you lose your judgment. There's no precision in an angry decision.

Articles Marked "Patented." We are all accustomed to see a patented article marked "Patented," with the date of the patent. It is doubtful, however, whether one in a hundred who notices the mark realizes its importance to the patentee. The statute on the subject makes it the duty of all patentees or those holding under or making the patented article for them to apply the mark "Patented," together with the day and year the patent was granted, and the same statute provides as a penalty for not making that "in any suit for infringement by the party failing to so mark no damages shall be recovered by the plaintiff, except on proof that the defendant was duly notified of the infringement and continued after such notice, to make use or vend the article so patented."-Scientific American.

Music and Appetite.

The majority of the great musical composers had appetites on an equality with their talents. It is told of Handel that when he dined alone at a restaurant he always took the precaution to order the meal for three. Once on asking. "Is de tinner retty?" at a restaurant, or a tavern, as it was then called, where he was little known, he got the reply. "As soon as the company comes," and astonished the waiter by seating himself, with the remark "Den pring up the tinner; I'm de company." The appetite of Haydn was yet more voracious. He delighted in dining alone and always finished the meal ordered for five persons.

Curious Beehives,

In the village of Hoefel, Silesia, there are a number of beehives in the shape of life size figures cleverly carved in wood and painted in colors. The figures were carved more than a century ago by monks of the Naumburg monastery, who were at that time in possession of a large farm in the district. plece of paper, and you give it to a The beehives represent different char-man, who cuts a hole in it and lets you acters, ranging from Moses to a military officer. a country girl and a night watchman with a spear.

The Fastidious.

"Catch any fish on your trip?" "No, and I can't understand why. Had a $200 outfit. Had the right kind of hooks and the latest thing in flies." "Maybe you weren't wearing the right kind of hat."-Washington Her-

She Did. "Jack proposed to me while turning the music for me at the plano." "Ab. I see! You played right into his hands."-London Answers.

Hurt not others with that which pains yourself.

FAUBLES. Guacessor to D. W. Woodr Fire, Life ののの C

The name stands for Good Clothes and honest merchandising.

Many times the largest assortment in Central Pennsylvania. It will be worth your while to

-6

(Successor to Grant Hoover) Accident Insurance. This Agency represents the largest Fire Insurance Companies in the World. -NO ASSESSMENTS ----Do not fail to give us a call before insuring your ife or Property as we are in position to write rge lines at any time. Office in Crider's Stone Bu BELLEFONTE, PA. TATATATATATA The Preferred THE $5,000 TRAVEL POLICY Aeath by accidem. loss of both feet. loss of both hands, loss of one hand and one foot loss of one hand, and one foot either hand, either foot, total disability, 10 per week, partial disability, (limit 26 weeks) PREMIUM $12 PER YEAR, payable quarterly if desired. Larger or smaller amounts in proportion. Any person, male or female, engaged in a preferred occupation, including house-teeping, over eighteen years of age of good moral and physical condition may naure under this policy. Fire Insurance I invite your attention to my Fire Insur. nce Agency, the strongest and Most Ex nsive Line of Solid Companies represent i by any agency in Central Pennsylvania H. E. FENLON. Agent, Bellefonte, Pa 50-21.