Miss Mitchell is spending the summer in Bellefonte.

Dr. James H. Dobbins was eighty-five years old on Wednesday of last week, having been born on July 10th, 1827, so that he is the oldest living native of the town. Though he occupies a room in the Bellefonte hospital owing to a certain degree of helplessness, he is enjoying comparative good health and is as happy and contented as the average man.

The moving picture continues its grip upon the people of Bellefonte and the scenic retains its hold upon the public as being an unusually popular place of amusement. A special feature picture is shown every Friday evening, the one for this evening being entitled "A Tragedy of the Desert," by the Kalem company. But the feature films are not the only good pictures, as every evening something of exceptional interest is shown.

BOROUGH COUNCIL NOTES.—The hot weather this summer must have sort of a stay-at-home effect upon Bellefonte councilmen as a bare quorum of five members is all that turns up at the regular meetings nowadays. But even that number is ample for the transaction of the small amount of business brought before them.

At Monday night's meeting a communication was received from the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania in reply to the notice given them by the secretary of council to remove the large poles in front of the Bush house and the one at the corner of the Potter-Hoy hardware store within thirty days, in which they state that they have about completed arrangements for the removal of said poles as well as the removal of all the poles on High street, but as it will be impossible to do the work within the specified time they virtually asked for an extension of the time limit. The matter was allowed to hang over until the next meeting.

Nothing of importance was reported by any of the committees, though the Fire and Police committee reported the fire at Montgomery's stable on Saturday evening.

Secretary W. T. Kelly reported the borough tax duplicates as having been completed and ready to turn over to the collector as soon as he files his bond.

The Penn Decorating company submitted a bid of $24 for painting the bridge at the Phoenix mill with graphite and oil and $65 for painting the Lamb street bridge. Charles Saylor and Fred Gehret submitted a bid in which they agreed to paint both bridges with graphite and oil for $90, or do the work for $45, if the borough found everything. Both bids were referred to the Street committee.

Contractor R. B. Taylor's bill for $669, for balance due on the paving of High street, was presented but before any motion was made to pay the same Dr. Brockhoff stated that he objected to the payment of the bill at this time because the work had not yet been officially inspected and accepted; and also because Mr. Taylor had agreed to fix the paving in the street at Aiken's corner and had not done the work satisfactorily. The bill was held over.

Mr. Judge stated that the citizens of Coleville would like to have the Bellefonte water service extended to that suburb. The matter was referred to the Water committee without discussion.

Bills to the amount of $333.76 were approved and council adjourned.

DR. HUNT TO LEAVE STATE COLLEGE.—It is reported on reliable authority that Dr. Thomas F. Hunt, dean of the school of agriculture and director of the experiment station at The Pennsylvania State College, will leave that institution in the near future to go to Berkeley Cal., as dean of the school of agriculture at the University of California. Dean Hunt came to State College from Cornell six years ago to succeed Dr. Armsby as head of the agricultural department and director of the experiment station. That he has been very successful is shown in the fact that since January, 1912, the agricultural department of The Pennsylvania State College has ranked first of all colleges in the country.

Dr. Hunt will go to California with the determination of making the agricultural department of the University of California the leading one in the country. He has been assured of unlimited funds and will be unrestricted in the salary limit of his assistants. Just when he will leave State College has not been divulged but it is believed it will be before the opening of the college year in September.

A BAN ON THE HOBBLE SKIRT.—The Bellefonte police have put a ban on the hobble skirt, that is the skirt that is hobbled from the waist down so that every curve and line of the wearer is almost as plain to the public eye as if no skirt were worn, and hereafter any woman appearing thus costumed will run the risk of arrest and confinement somewhere or other until she can secure and array herself in clothes that will pass inspection before the police department's critical eye.

At least such is the sensational story going the rounds of the town now, because of the allegation that a few evenings ago a certain young woman very hobbly habituated was ordered off the street under threat of arrest. Of course some consideration may be shown for a trim ankle and an alluring form but at that it will be best not to draw the hobbles too tight.

RAIN AT LAST.—Following a long period of dry and extremely hot weather the drought in Bellefonte and certain portions of Centre county was broken on Monday evening by a severe thunder shower which passed over most of the county. While an abundance of rain fell in the half hour of the storm's duration it failed to relieve the depressing heat to any appreciable extent, though it did purify the atmosphere. And it might here be noted that Monday was St. Swithin's day, and according to an old saw, if it rains on that day rain will fall on forty consecutive days, so there is a possibility of more rain in the near future.

SPECIAL TRAIN.—We have just learned that a special train will leave Lock Haven at 6.45 a. m. on August first, (Methodist day at Lakemont Park) and run into Bellefonte, arriving at Altoona at 9.27.

On account of Tuesday's severe storm and hard rain, which rendered the roads very heavy, the sociability run to Bellefonte of the Altoona motor club was postponed until more favorable conditions prevail when a date will be named by the committee in charge.

The Garman house at Tyrone will be torn down and a new twenty-five thousand dollar hotel erected on the old site. It will be three stories in height and contain thirty-two sleeping rooms, six bath rooms in addition to all the other rooms and apartments of a good hotel.

E. conference, who was recently elected to the presidency of Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, to succeed Bishop W. P. Eveland, last Friday formally accepted the position. Rev. Dr. Gilbert will do Rev. Connor's work as district superintendent until next conference.

While on his way to Bellefonte last week Frank H. Clemons ran into a telephone pole and completely wrecked the front part of his automobile. The accident happened while coming down the long hill above Rouseburg. It began to rain and Frank turned around to get his rain coat out of the tonneau when he lost control of the steering wheel and the collision was the result. He then went to Tyrone and bought a new E-M-F and his old car was hauled in for repairs.

Between one and two hundred men, mostly foreigners are now employed on the job of changing the route of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad in the neighborhood of Howard, but at that the contractors, A. L. Anderson & Co., of Altoona, are anxious for more workmen. The contract is quite a large one and in order to complete it before next winter sets in the work will have to be pushed more rapidly than it is at present. The new road bed will be constructed for a double track, although the second track will not be put down this year.

The entire road from Snow Shoe Intersection to Snow Shoe has been put in good repair under the direction of the State Highway Department. W. D. O'Brien had charge of the work and he saw to it that it was thoroughly done. Not a breaker was left in the road and it is perfectly rounded up and scraped clean of stones. Mr. O'Brien and his force of workmen are now working by way of Moshannon on the road to Philipsburg. Slow progress is being made in remodeling the Nittany valley road owing to the inability to secure enough laborers.

According to a report made public on Monday by officers of the Huntingdon Presbyterian five Presbyterian churches in the district are in need of pastors. The first and most important is the First Presbyterian church at Tyrone. It is the only congregation in the Huntingdon Presbytery having one thousand members and since the resignation of the Rev. Dr. J. R. Day various clergymen have been mentioned for the place. The four remaining vacant pastorates are Newton Hamilton, Mapleton, Snow Shoe and Moshannon. Several vacancies on various charges have been filled since the recent conference.

ARRESTED ON THE CHARGE OF FORGERY.—Harry Toner, a son of the late Patrick Toner, of this place, was arrested in Howard on Tuesday on the charge of forgery and brought to Bellefonte and jailed for trial at the next term of court.

Toner worked for John Robb, at his livery stable. On Monday he opened one of Mr. Robb's letters in which was a check for $25. He forged Mr. Robb's endorsement on the check and going to the general store of W. F. Hall stated that he wanted to pay Mr. Robb's bill. The account was $17.00, and deducting that amount Mr. Hall gave Toner nine dollars in cash. That amount of money looked pretty big to the young man and he took the first train to Lock Haven for a good time.

When Toner was missed from the livery stable an investigation was started and it did not take long to unearth the whole transaction. The Lock Haven police were telephoned to arrest Toner and it was but a short while until he was in the clutches of the law. He was brought to Howard and on Tuesday afternoon was given a hearing before justice of the peace Hayes Schenck, at which time he virtually confessed to the whole transaction. Being unable to furnish bail he was sent to jail and was brought to Bellefonte on the 4.44 train and taken to Fort Lee on the Hill. Toner has already served time in the Huntingdon reformatory.

The annual meeting of the Country club was held at Hecla on Tuesday afternoon. All the old officers were re-elected and John Curtin, Edmund Blanchard and Henry C. Quigley elected members of the Board of Governors, L. T. Munson and R. S. Brouse being dropped from the Board at their request. It was voted to make some changes in the power lighting plant which it is believed will give a greatly increased lighting capacity.
