THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Fall plowing is progressing rapidly in Centre county.

—Tomorrow is the date for the Dale family reunion at Oak Hall.

—Any person finding a bunch of keys is requested to leave same at this office.

—A little son was born Saturday, to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Twitmore, of Lancaster.

—The Williams family reunion will this year be held in John Q. Miles' grove near Martha, on Saturday, August 24th.

—Miss Editha Armor, who has been ill the past three weeks, at her home on east Linn street, is somewhat improved.

—The condition of Mrs. George Port, who has been ill at her home on Howard street for five weeks, is slightly improved.

—The summer school for teachers at The Pennsylvania State College will close today and most of the teachers will go home this week.

—J. C. Lykens, of Curtin street, who has for some time been employed at Bellwood, will shortly move his family from Bellefonte.

—Miss Ada Koch, who left State College the middle of July to spend three months at home with her parents, will be married in October.

—The Tyrone Motor club is making arrangements for a run to Penns Cave next Tuesday, August 6th, to be followed with a five o'clock dinner at the Old Fort hotel.

—Miss Sara Potter, who has been ill for a number of weeks with rheumatism, and whose condition a week ago was thought to be serious, is slowly getting better.

—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lukenbach, who will leave Bellefonte in a few days, gave a party in their honor on the top of Nittany mountain, Tuesday evening.

—On the N. H. Yearick farm near Hubbersburg, Jacob Weaver raised a crop of 472 bushels of wheat on 22 acres of land. This is getting along towards intensive farming.

—Harry Zimmerman, having lately purchased the double house on Curtin street owned by Mrs. John M. Dale, is repairing the side damaged by fire, in anticipation of renting both houses.

—While not seriously injured, Mrs. Joseph Ceadar has not been able to leave her bed since falling down the stairs a week ago. It is thought the shock is mostly responsible for Mrs. Ceadar's condition.

—The Misses Vera and Erma Snook, who moved from Bellefonte to Philadelphia several years ago, with Miss Edith Allport, of Philipsburg, sailed Saturday last week to spend six weeks traveling in Europe.

—Thomas McClellan was admitted to the Altoona hospital on Monday afternoon for treatment for an injured foot. He was run over by a wagon and it required an X-ray examination to determine the extent of the injury.

—Jimmy Shope, a young son of W. Reynolds Shope, fell off of the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad bridge into Spring creek on Wednesday and would have drowned had he not been rescued by some older companions. As it was, he is none the worse for his involuntary bath.

—Henry Packer, a young boy whose home is at Curtin, was brought to the Bellefonte hospital last Friday to have a deep cut in one of his legs sewed up. The lad was out in the field where his father was mowing with a scythe and got in the way of the keen blade as it was swung backwards and got a nasty cut.

—The Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania will soon have things in shape to move their general business office and the Western Union telegraph office into the room on the ground floor of the Bush Arcade. This will make it more convenient for any one having business to transact with either company.

—At a board meeting held Wednesday, July 31st, the appointment of Mrs. Sara Gephart as historian of the Bellefonte chapter of the D. A. R., was confirmed. This appointment was to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Sara Burnside Valentine, who has been historian of this chapter for many years.

—Col. H. S. Taylor is now engaged in shipping a portion of his accumulated stock of coal tar to Barrett & Co., of Philadelphia. He has already shipped one car load of 10,048 gallons and is loading another of about the same capacity. While the two car loads is all he will ship at the present time it represents less than half the stock he has on hand.

—Why go hunting for a place to spend an evening when the scenic is open every night. There it is comfortable and pleasant, and you will get one solid hour of good entertainment for the small sum of five cents. A big feature picture every Friday evening, and these are always worth seeing. The price is never less than five cents, and on the other hand it is never more, no difference how elaborate the attraction.

BOY BADLY MANGLED BY DOG.—William Winton, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winton, of Quaker hill, was badly bitten on the left leg, last Saturday morning, by a mongrel cur owned by Joe Zalisen, a Finlander, who for some time past had been employed by the Eyre-Shoemaker Construction company in loading cinder at the Nittany furnace dump. The man with his wife and children lived in two camp cars and when these were finally hauled away they moved into the old blacksmith shop. The dog was known to be a savage beast and ordinarily was kept tied. Saturday morning, however, he was loose and while young Winton with several other boys were playing around the cinder dump the dog attacked Winton and before he could be driven off bit him three or four times on the left leg, sinking his teeth into the bone and tearing the flesh. The boy was taken home and a physician hastily summoned who cauterized and dressed the ugly wounds.

When Mr. Winton, who is conductor on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, arrived home from his morning run and learned what had happened he naturally decided that the dog must be killed. He made a trip to Pleasant Gap and interviewed constable William Irwin, but that gentleman counseled different action. Mr. Winton then went to the Finlander and offered to pay him for the dog if he would keep him in Bellefonte five days to see if he developed rabies and at the end of that time kill him, but the man declared he wouldn't sell and wouldn't kill but would take the dog away. On Sunday the Fin and his family packed their limited household effects, crated the dog and made ready to get out of Bellefonte on Monday morning's 9:15 train. When Mr. Winton heard this he got the officers busy and after midnight on Sunday swore out a warrant for the man's arrest, also the dog.

Early Monday morning a drayman brought the Fin's belongings to the railroad station, the crated dog hidden under boxes and old trunks. The officers, however, were on the job and with their search warrant were able to locate the dog. Mrs. Zalisen is a woman above the average size and she protested against the taking of the dog. In fact she protested to the extent of shaking her fist right under the officer's nose and swearing in as many different languages as she was capable of, but it availed nothing and Mr. dog was hauled up the street and safely deposited behind lock and key in 'Squire Henry D. Brown's' office under the Lyric. There it was kept until Monday afternoon when it was carried out into an alley and promptly sent to dog heaven by constable William Irwin, of Spring township, who blew part of its head off with a shot gun. 'Squire Brown' then cut off the balance of the head with an axe and the same is being examined to see if the dog was afflicted with rabies. The rest of the carcass was buried and so ended the tale of the Finlander's dog.

At this writing the boy who was bitten is getting along as well as can be expected and it is to be hoped that no serious consequences will follow.

INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.—Mrs. R. T. Comley, of Unionville, is nursing a badly contused shoulder and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elwood Comley, has a broken arm on account of the buggy in which they were riding being run into by an automobile driven by Thomas Kelley, of Snow Shoe, on Tuesday morning. The two ladies with Mrs. Elwood Comley's baby were up at Runville and had started on the return trip home. Mr. Kelley with another man and two ladies were on their way to Bellefonte. There are various stories as to how the accident happened, so that it is difficult to tell which one is correct, but the one thing certain is that the car ran into the buggy, upsetting the vehicle and throwing the occupants out. The elder Mrs. Comley was fortunate in not sustaining more serious injuries but Mrs. Elwood Comley had her left arm broken and dislocated. The baby was uninjured. The ladies were taken home and are now getting along as well as can be expected. The buggy was considerably damaged but the horse was uninjured. The automobile which figured in the accident, it is claimed, is the same one which killed the Linn-McCoy iron company mule less than two weeks ago.

MISS MIRIAM HAZEL BADLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY.—Yesterday morning Christian Hoy, son of county auditor Siny H. Hoy, came to Bellefonte and when he had concluded his errands he was accompanied home by Miss Miriam Hazel, the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hazel. They were in sight of the Hoy home and while going down a hill one of the hold-back straps broke allowing the buggy to run against the horse. The animal frightened and ran away throwing both occupants out. Miss Hazel fell on a rock and was seriously injured. She was brought to the Bellefonte hospital as soon as possible where it was found that she had sustained a deep cut in the head at the top of the right ear and it is feared that her skull is fractured. She also sustained a number of bad cuts and bruises on different parts of her body. Up to two o'clock in the afternoon she had not recovered consciousness and it is impossible to tell just how serious her injuries may prove.

Young Hoy was thrown over the fence into a field, but escaped serious injuries. The buggy was more or less damaged.

—The Lyric moving picture show on the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets continues its popularity in giving a wide variety of pictures. The management now receives the General Film company release, which controls the best pictures made.

—The New York Central railroad will build a branch from Philipsburg by way of the Six Mile run to what is known as Atherton's camp in the Allegheny mountains to tap the Harris and Prentiss lands on which there are large deposits of fire clay and coal. The Pennsylvania Firebrick company, of Beech Creek, has leased the land and will begin operations there in the near future.

—Charles Lukenbach has resigned his position as clerk in the First National bank and on Sunday will leave for Detroit, Mich., to accept a clerkship in the National bank of Commerce, of that city. The latter institution has been doing business only five years but it has shown a remarkable growth, having deposits aggregating ten million dollars. Among its large stockholders are the Fords, manufacturers of the Ford automobile.

—A party of Tyroneans encamped near Beech Creek are having great luck catching bass, and quite a number of their friends at home are enjoying the fruits of their sport, as several nice baskets have been sent to Tyrone. Fishermen from other points also report fair luck, so that bass are quite plentiful in the Bald Eagle this season. Now that the trout season has closed Bellefonte fishermen will migrate down that valley.

—On Monday evening James Reed laid down on the turntable at the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania depot to take a snooze. He snoozed so long and so profoundly that he failed to hear the night train and when the engine was run onto the turntable Reed was shoved off into the pit. He was gathered up and found to be bleeding profusely but refused to be taken to the hospital. Examination by a doctor disclosed the fact that a three inch cut on the head was his only injury.

—Aid is solicited from over the entire county for the rummage sale to be held during the fall, for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital. A box placed in the attic to be used as a rummage sale box, into which everything can be put when discarded, will lessen the trouble of gathering things together later when asked for a donation. Clothing of all kinds, hats, shoes, furniture, dishes, pictures, anything not needed but saleable put aside for the committee in charge will be greatly appreciated.

—Last week A. L. Bascomb, who during the past school year conducted the boarding department of McAllister hall, State College, made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities are placed at three thousand dollars, while his only assets are his furnishings, which are composed principally of dining room and kitchen furniture. D. Paul Fortney was appointed assignee. It is rumored that McAllister hall will be dismantled as a boarding house for students and remodeled into class rooms for college use.

—The attention of the parents of children of Centre county is called to the fact that the date of the Centre county fair has been changed from the first of October to the first of September, giving them a month less time in which to prepare. Two classes having been made in the young people's department, one including those under fourteen years and the second from fourteen to eighteen years, offers a greater inducement for younger children to enter their work for competition. Parents are asked to encourage their children to prepare an exhibit and thus become interested in the Fair.

—"I wish to bid you all good-bye, and wish you a long life," was the message division operator A. A. Witter, of Tyrone, sent to every operator on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad on Wednesday. This was because he was that day retired on account of having reached the age limit of seventy years. Mr. Witter is very well known in Bellefonte and his many acquaintances here are gratified in the fact that notwithstanding his three score years and ten he still enjoys good health and his retirement from active duty will give him more time to devote to visiting his friends. His successor as division operator is Wilson T. Charles.

—Months ago the Bellefonte borough council took action requiring the removal of the strip of plank from the breast of the dam above the WATCHMAN office. The strip in question was placed there over fifteen years ago by permission of council, but on condition that the same be removed upon request. The request has been made repeatedly and a piece of the strip about fifteen feet in length has been removed but the balance is still there. Spring creek is now quite low, as it always is at this season of the year, and the result is that during the day there is hardly enough water coming over the dam to keep the fish in the stream alive. Certain it is that there is not enough of water to cover the bed of the stream and wash away the sewerage and the result is not only very unsightly but creates a stench that is nauseating and cannot help but be very unsanitary. Why is it that the proper officials do not see that the request of council is complied with?

CLOSE OF TROUT FISHING SEASON.—The trout fishing season closed Wednesday and now lovers of the art piscatorial will have to content themselves with angling for bass along the Bald Eagle or hang up their rod and line until the fifteenth of April, 1913. Experienced fishermen disagree as to the success of the trout fishing during the season just closed. Some aver that fewer trout were caught than have been for years while others declare that more were taken, at least from some of the streams in this section of the State. So far as the writer can judge fewer trout were taken from Spring creek and Logan's branch this year than last, but this is partly accounted for by the fact that two months before the season opened last year from four to five thousand adult trout were put into these streams from the Bellefonte fish hatchery and most of them were caught the first week of the season. This year a few were turned out into Logan's branch but the number was nothing compared to last year. Fishing creek, however, afforded some good sport and even up to the close of the season fair catches were made there by the experienced fisherman who had the patience to wait until the trout were jumping.

Next year, however, trout fishing ought to be very much improved, if fish commissioner Nathan R. Buller carries out his declaration of stocking the streams during the late summer and fall with fingerling trout. Trout of this size will be better able to take care of themselves and a fair per cent. of them ought to survive to make sport for the fishermen in years to come. No fry were sent out from the Bellefonte hatchery last spring so that now there are many thousands of fingerlings there awaiting distribution. There are also at the Bellefonte hatchery a number of adult trout which will be distributed some time this fall, so that taken together the conditions next spring ought to be very good.

—There are many good newspapers published, but none that is quite as good as the DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN. Try it.
