simony should be the result. The resignations are the result of inadequate pay and a successful hunt for a better paid job elsewhere. The dean of the faculty has gone to California at a salary of $3,000 over what he got in this We do not blame the instructors. We do blame the Legislature for its niggardly policy. As a member of the re-maining staff puts the situation: "We are trying to maintain a $1,000,000 a year establishmemt on $300,000 a year." And State College can no more make one dollar do the work of three than any individual or corporation can in these days, when the purchasing power of that dollar has shrunk to about 70 cents.

State College is not merely a free school for young farmers. Though if it were that alone it would be worth twice what it costs. It is a vitally important agricultural experimental centre for the whole State whose work along these lines has been of inestimable service to the whole community. This work has been carried on under almost crushing handicaps, and is threatened with discontinuance if these are not removed. Illinois spends $2,000,000 a year on her sylvania spends $300,000. Comment would be superfluous if it were not necessary to impress the needless and niggardly discrepancy on the members of the Legislature. Friends of State College should get after their Assemblymen in every district and get him to line $1,000,000 appropriation next

While the spirit of the above editorial is fine the facts are misleading to a degree. Dean Hunt, of the School of Agriculture, will go to California, where he will have unlimited funds to further develop the great work he has already begun in Agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College, but so far as is known there now none of the members of the faculty are going with him. It would not Allode, b. g., G. F. Deitrick. be surprising, however, if some of them should later accept the greater opportunities that Dean Hunt will be able to give them, if he so elects.

The greatest misfortune of The Pennsylvania State College is to be found in what the Telegraph alludes to as "the niggardly policy of our State Legislature in the matter of its support." The work the institution has been doing, the strides she has been making have arrested the attention of the whole country and naturally other and wealthier institutions will con- both of Altoona. tinue to take away the men who have been most responsible for her amazing growth and usefulness. As it is, it is more the environment and sentiment that holds many of the strongest men on the receive.

We wonder if the esteemed Telegraph will recall what it says this week when the lobbying begins at Harrisburg next January and both the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Pittsburg will have the effrontery to claim that they are "the real State College of Pennsylvania. "If the Philadelphia and Pittsburg institutions, already richly endowed, would site. Homer Barr has the job. not be continually holding clubs over the heads of the Philadelphia and Pittsburg torium at Warren and is on his job. Mrs. Moses Walters, of Bellefonte, was a wel-come visitor at the O. A. Johnson home at Pine Hall last week. In contradiction of the assertion of the "prominent member of the faculty" the following statement has been sent out by the college authorities:

The reported changes in the faculty said to be due to insufficient legislative support, has been grossly exaggerated. Not to exceed eight important resignations out of a staff of nearly 200 have been received during the year. These have all been filled except two and these are occupied by experienced substitutes. of Stone valley, were around among the farmers buying all kinds of stock. are occupied by experienced substitutes pending permanent selection. It is true that the appropriations made by the Legislature have not increased proportionately with the growth in the number of students or development of the experimental work; but the sums have sufficed to enable the college to benefit the people of the State in countless ways. No ses-sion of the Legislature for the past twenty-five years has failed to make an appropriation for the support of the college and it is confidently believed that the coming session will adopt a policy which will satisfy every friend and patron of

A number of new positions have been created, among them a dean of the general faculty, to which Dr. Arthur Holmes, of the University of Pennsylvania, has been called; a college chaplain and pro-fessor of Biblical literature, filled by the Rev. Robert Rush Reed, of Princeton; and a director of music, to which Prof. C. C. Robinson, of Oklahoma University, has been elected, while twenty-one positions as instructors and assistants have been filled. At this time over 600 students have registered for the Freshman

The Renewal a Strain. Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

CLOSING DAYS OF THE FAIR .- With favorable weather last week the Centre county fair, while not a big money-maker, proved a success and illustrates the possibilities of an agricultural exhibition with good weather and a greater interest by the farmers of Centre county. Thursday was naturally the big day and the races that afternoon, especially the 2.25 event, were unusually interesting. In the latter race "Dunlo," owned by James George and Harry Carlisle's "Dr. Directly," paced a dead heat in the fifth heat, and as the horses were about raced out and darkness approaching the drivers agreed to call it off and divide first and second money evenly. The summaries
