THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Mrs. Hugh N. Crider has recovered her health and was taken home from the Bellefonte hospital on Thursday evening of last week.

—"The Blighted Son," a four reel Pathe feature film, will be the attraction at the scenic this (Friday) evening. Go early in order to get a good seat.

—Strawbridge and Clothier's salesman will be at the Bush house Thursday, October 10th, for the day, only, with a full line of suits and coats.—AIKENS.

—Owing to the high price of coal a slight advance will be made for the coming season in the price of steam heat, according to notices sent out recently.

—The Lewisburg and Tyrone train did not reach Bellefonte until almost one o'clock on Wednesday, being held up below Coburn by a washout on the road.

—The Grangers certainly were in luck in holding their fair and encampment last week, as the wet weather this week would have spoiled the gathering.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klingner and family moved on Wednesday from their old home on Penn street into one of the Zimmerman houses on east Lamb street.

—Autumn came in on Saturday with real autumn weather. Probably getting in shape to stand the steam heat which is due to be turned on the beginning of next week.

—Workmen were engaged all Saturday night and Sunday making a number of badly needed repairs to the Bellefonte steam laundry, principally on the boiler and its fittings.

—While in Bellefonte attending court drop into the Lyric in the evening and see the moving pictures. It costs only five cents and you can't spend an hour cheaper than that anywhere.

—The farmers have begun to raise their late crop of potatoes and from the size and quality of several loads brought to Bellefonte last Saturday the predictions of a good crop are being substantially verified.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold an exchange tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon from two to four o'clock in Spigelmeyer's store on Allegheny street. Home made bread, pies, cake, candy and plain and fancy articles will be on sale. Give them a call.

—The Bellefonte Council Knights of Columbus are planning for a big evening at cards on Thursday, October 10th. There will be tables for euchre, five hundred, etc. Refreshments will be served during the evening and there will also be music to help entertain the crowd.

—Max Gamble and a party of friends, who were up Bald Eagle on a motor trip last Saturday night, were held up for an hour along about midnight, on the road this side of Unionville, on account of running out of gasoline. Sunday had a pretty good start by the time they reached home.

—Exclusive of Company L less than one hundred people went to Altoona on the special train Wednesday morning for the big day at the semi-centennial celebration of the War Governor's conference. The very wet weather of Monday and Tuesday no doubt kept many people at home, but better weather prevailed on Wednesday.

—Mr. T. A. Shoemaker entertained a small party of gentlemen at dinner on Monday evening, at his home in this place. It was in honor of chief engineer A. C. Shand, of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., who was Mr. Shoemaker's guest while inspecting some improvement work which the company has under way at various points on the system.

—Mrs. Nora McClain, of Allegheny street, celebrated her ninety-third anniversary last Friday. She is the oldest resident of Bellefonte and one of the oldest in Centre county. While she naturally feels the weight of her years her mind is still quite acute and she is always interested in the happenings of the day. Generally speaking her health is fairly good.

—Several months ago Howard Martin, while working at the stone quarries, had his left leg broken below the knee by a stone falling on it. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital and early last week was discharged, with the fracture apparently healed. Thursday evening he started to go to bed and when on the second step slipped and fell, breaking his leg at the old fracture, so that he is again back in the hospital for treatment.

—Last Friday morning John Raymond received a telegram announcing that his son, Edward Raymond, a soldier in the United States army and located at Fort Niagara, N. Y., had been killed on Thursday in Rochester. No particulars were given and it was not until Saturday that Mr. Raymond learned that the report was false. After trying in vain to get word from his son direct he took the matter up with the War Department at Washington and on Saturday received a telegram from the commanding officer at Fort Niagara that his son was alive and well and on duty regularly.

SEPTEMBER COURT NEWS.—It took but three days this week to dispose of all the business brought up at the first week's session of the September term of court. Monday morning's session was entirely taken up with swearing in the grand jury, of which Isaac Frain was made foreman; hearing the reports of constables, various motions and petitions, and an acknowledgment of the treasurer's deeds. The following cases were disposed of:

Commonwealth vs. Hyman Garfinkle, receiving stolen goods. Defendant plead guilty and sentence was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

Commonwealth vs. D. W. Pletcher, F. A. Fields, J. J. Maggs and B. W. Smith, an appeal from a summary conviction before a justice of the peace for trespassing upon the land of Burdine Butler. After hearing the evidence the court reversed the decision and discharged the defendants.

Commonwealth vs. Harry Toner, forgery. Prosecutor J. M. Robb. Defendant waived the finding of the grand jury, plead guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than two and a-half years nor more than ten years.

Commonwealth vs. Jacob Jackson, charged with larceny. Plead guilty and was sent to the penitentiary for not less than nine months nor more than three years. This is the case in which Jackson and John F. Murray were caught stealing chickens from L. L. Marshall. Mr. Murray also plead guilty but in his case sentence was suspended.

In the case of Edith Ingram, charged by Marcella Beals with pointing a gun and shooting, the bill was ignored and the costs put upon the prosecutor. In the trespass case against Marcella Beals, Esther Chandler, Estella Wellers and Esther Boyer the bill was ignored and the costs put upon the prosecutor, Edith Ingram.

Commonwealth vs. Calvin Coble, assault and battery. Prosecutor Edward Sellers. Defendant plead guilty and sentence was suspended upon the payment of the costs.

A number of betrayal cases were disposed of and several civil cases either settled or continued.

Three cases were heard in which ex-sheriff W. E. Hurley was the defendant, growing out of his having issued an execution and sold property supposed to belong to Mollie Miller to satisfy a claim of the International Harvester company. The first case was brought by Frank Columbine, who brought action to recover $55 as the value of two sewing machines claimed as his property. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $20. The other cases were brought by George Confer and Ada Fisher, the former claiming clothing, furniture and dishes to the value of $31.40 and the latter claimed $52.00 for an incubator, brooder and a cupboard. In these cases the jury returned verdicts in favor of the defendant.

Commonwealth vs. Mr. and Mrs. Grant Jones, larceny, etc., prosecutor Jacob F. Kast. Jones was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs of prosecution and six months in jail, while sentence was suspended on Mrs. Jones on condition that she leaves Buffalo Run valley and in the future conducts herself in a proper manner.

The case against Edward Freedman, charged by Mrs. Andy Staick with skipping a board bill, was continued.

The grand jury in its final report recommended a large number of repairs and improvements to the jail, and surroundings.

JUVENILE COURT.—A session of juvenile court was held last Friday afternoon to hear the cases of William Blundell, of Philadelphia, in the Centre county jail on the charge of stealing a bicycle, and Samuel Dewy Halderman, in jail for robbing Gross Bros. grocery store. The evidence against both boys was conclusive as to their guilt and they were sentenced to the house of correction at Glenn Mills, where they were taken on Tuesday by deputy sheriff W. C. Rowe and policeman Harry Dukeman. Neither of the lads showed much concern over their sentence.

COMMISSIONER NOLL IN BAD RUNAWAY.—County commissioner W. H. Noll and family had a rather frightful experience last Thursday evening while on the way home from the Granger's picnic at Centre Hall. Mr. Noll with his two daughters, Misses Helen and Beatrice; his sister-in-law, Mrs. Abner Noll, and a young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hile, drove to the picnic in a carriage. Coming down the mountain this side of the watering trough the neck-yoke slipped from the tongue, allowing the latter to fall to the ground. The carriage of course bumped against the horses and they started to run. There were numerous vehicles on the road but Mr. Noll managed to steer the team to the side of the road and thus failed to run into anyone. At a curve in the road the team ran so close to a telephone pole that the front wheel of the carriage was hooked around it. The vehicle naturally came to a sudden halt while the horses broke loose and continued their race down the mountain. All the occupants of the carriage were thrown out when it came to a sudden stop, and though there were lots of stone lying around, none of them were injured beyond a few small cuts and bruises. The carriage was very little damaged and the horses, which were caught further down the mountain, were uninjured.

—Strawbridge and Clothier's salesmen will be at the Bush house Thursday, October 10th, for the day, only, with a full line of suits and coats.—AIKENS.

—Several very conspicuous signs were this week pointed on the windows of the room in Bush Arcade occupied by the Bell telephone and Western Union telegraph companies; and yet with all their conspicuousness they failed to attract the attention of strangers hunting the place, and who sought directions elsewhere.

—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bickford, of Lock Haven, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anne Bickford, to J. A. Long Jr., of Roxboro, N. C. Miss Bickford has a number of relatives and friends in Bellefonte who will be interested in the above announcement. The date for the wedding has not been made public.

—Last Sunday's special excursion to Gettysburg was not as successful as the one earlier in the season. From Bellefonte the train went by way of the Bald Eagle Valley and P. & E., and one section furnished ample accommodation for the crowd. In fact the crowd numbered in the neighborhood of three hundred when the train reached Lock Haven.

—Meat is now so high in price that the ordinary man can hardly afford to have it on his table, and hides are advancing so much in price that it will soon be a question as to keeping shoes on his feet. Last week cowhides sold in Bellefonte for fifteen cents a pound and calf hides for $1.90, the highest prices since the war. This is one way in which the butcher evens up.

—Beginning next Tuesday, October first, you can go hunting for bear, if you care anything about that kind of sport. These lusty animals are said to be quite plentiful in all mountainous districts, even on Nittany and Brush mountains, but so far they have kept under cover and made few raids into civilization. A number of bears have been seen, however, by people driving over the mountains. Trapping bear is forbidden by the game law.

—The thirty-ninth annual exhibition and encampment of the Patrons of Husbandry of Central Pennsylvania came to a close at Centre Hall last Friday, and it was one of the most successful held in years, despite the fact that no fairs were allowed on the ground. This feature of the gathering has been favorably commented upon by deputy Secretary of Agriculture A. L. Martin, who spent a day or two at the park last week. It is estimated that from twenty to twenty-five thousand people were at the encampment during the entire week.

—The opening foot ball game of the season will take place on Hughes field tomorrow (Saturday) at 2:30 p. m., when the Bellefonte Academy will play the P. R. R. apprentice team, of Altoona. Aside from the fact that it will doubtless prove a good game it will afford an opportunity to get a lineup on the possibilities of the new material on the Academy team. Among the candidates out for practice are a number of husky fellows and coach Weller feels that he has the makings of a strong eleven. The admission price will be but 25 cents.

—The Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church came to a close at Windber on Sunday with the reading of the appointments by Bishop William M. Bell. Rev. C. W. Winey was returned to the Bellefonte church, a fact that pleased his parishioners here very much. Other Centre county appointments are as follows: Phillipsburg, W. H. Spangler; Port Matilda, W. H. Artz; Runville, E. B. Sommers; Zion, J. F. Strayer. Rev. W. H. Blackburn, a former pastor of the Bellefonte church, was granted a transfer to the California conference, he having accepted a call to the church of River side in that State.

—A force of men have started work on the installation of the modern switchboard and connections in the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania exchange in this place. To afford proper space for the operating room the brick wall between the present operating room and the room that was formerly the company's business office in the Bush Arcade has been removed and the two rooms converted into one. The installation of the new system will be done without materially interfering with the service of the company's subscribers, and it will probably be the first of December before the work has been completed.

—Miss Mira Humes gave a dinner on Wednesday evening of last week in honor of Mrs. Haldeman, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Gross, of Harrisburg, who were visiting friends in Bellefonte, and on Friday evening Miss E. M. Thomas gave a dinner in honor of the same ladies at the home of Miss Mary Thomas. Mrs. D. G. Bush entertained a party of friends at dinner on Thursday evening. On Saturday evening Miss Mary Thomas gave a farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. Charles Shaffner and her daughter Miss Anne. Tuesday evening Miss Emily Natt entertained in honor of her guest, Mrs. Lillian Phelps, of Orange, N. J. Last evening Mrs. M. A. Kirk and Miss Mary McQuiston were hostesses of a six table card party at the McQuiston home on High street. Mrs. J. L. Montgomery entertained two tables of bridge on Wednesday evening and Mrs. Harry Keller will entertain this evening.

ALTOONA HAS BIG CELEBRATION.—Bellefonte and Centre county figured conspicuously in the semi-centennial celebration of the Loyal War Governor's conference in Altoona this week. It was Governor Andrew G. Curtin who inspired the conference fifty years ago; it was he who drafted the call for the conference; it was he who, at the meeting which followed, advocated the call for enough volunteers to carry the war right into the enemy's territory; and no other county in the State responded so readily with an outpouring of its young men as did Centre county. The acts and deeds of Pennsylvania's revered War Governor formed the central theme around which this week's celebration was constructed, and the attendance from Centre county was large enough to show the interest felt in the same.

Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, was chief of staff to chief marshal Stayer in the military parade on Wednesday, and in the line were the soldier boys of Company L. Many other Bellefonters and hundreds from the western part of the county were in attendance both Wednesday and Thursday. The rain on Tuesday spoiled the gathering to a certain extent, but at that the Mountain city was crowded. The automobile parade scheduled for Tuesday afternoon had to be postponed until yesterday afternoon on account of the wet weather, but all the band concerts on the program were held on time.

Wednesday the big attraction was naturally President Taft, who spent the whole day in the city and made a brief speech at a meeting in the afternoon. Mayor Walker made the address of welcome and other speeches were by Governor Tener and Dr. Sparks. The military and school parade on Wednesday morning was an imposing spectacle, and it is estimated that from six to seven thousand school children were in line. Yesterday was another big day when the industrial parade was held in the morning and the postponed automobile parade in the afternoon. Different band concerts were held every day.

The celebration was the greatest gathering Altoona ever had and the city's hospitality was taxed to the limit, but at that everybody was fairly well taken care of. The railroad company managed to handle the crowds on good time.

The representatives of the Curtin family who were in attendance were Miss Jule Curtin, the only living sister of the War Governor; Mrs. Nora Sheldon, Mrs. John M. Shugert, a grand-daughter, and John and H. L. Curtin, great nephews. President Taft made an informal little call on Miss Jule Curtin during the afternoon and later met the other representatives of the family in the drawing room at the Logan house.

RAILROAD OPERATIONS DOWN BALD EAGLE.—The work of changing the route of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad from below Mt. Eagle to a point below Howard is more than half completed and when finally done travelers by rail up and down that valley will hardly recognize the road. Instead of following close to the foothills of Muncy mountain the road has been moved north, in some places several hundred feet, and runs almost straight through the valley. The roadbed has been raised and practically all the grade crossings eliminated. The grade has been reduced to a minimum while the percentage of curvature is very small. When the new road is completed it will be one of the easiest grade short lines belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad company.

At some places the new right of way covers the location of the old public road and this necessitated changing the course of that thoroughfare. Where this is being done a good state road is being constructed, with telford foundation and limestone top dressing. This will comprise a section of the state road that will be built through Bald Eagle valley by the State, the work now being done being under the supervision of the State Highway Department engineers.

EXCURSION TO STATE COLLEGE.—On Thursday of next week the Pennsylvania railroad company will run a special excursion train to State College to afford an opportunity for all those so desiring to visit and inspect that institution. The train will start from Duncannon, on the middle division, will be run to Tyrone and over the Bald Eagle Valley to this place and from here over the Bellefonte Central to State College. Arrangements will be made to serve lunch to all the visitors at the College and they will be given every opportunity for a thorough inspection of every department of the College. The rate will be about one cent a mile.

TO ORGANIZE NEW FRATERNITY.—A meeting of college men will be held at the Brockerhoff house on Friday evening, October 11th, for the purpose of organizing a chapter of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. From fifty to seventy-five college men from various parts of the country will be here to institute the fraternity and the outlook is that it will start out with a good membership. Following the organization of the chapter quite an elaborate banquet will be served.

—Strawbridge and Clothier's salesmen will be at the Bush house Thursday, October 10th, for the day, only, with a full line of suits and coats.—AIKENS.
