The Scenic is always warm and comfortable so there is no reason for staying away because the weather is cool.

—During the huckleberry season Irvin DeLong and his twelve year old son, of Blanchard, picked and marketed 1252 quarts of huckleberries. Most of the berries were gathered on Bald Eagle mountain and in the foothills of the Alleghenies. The above number of quarts would be over thirty-nine bushels and at a weight of sixty pounds to the bushel would weigh one ton and 347 pounds. Figure out if you can how many pies the above quantity of berries would make.

—About nine o'clock last Friday evening James K. McDonald, of Pittsburgh, a State "I" man, who was on his way to the State—W. & J., football game, went down to Beezer's garage and asked Fred Gehret to look over the machines. Supposing the man to be a possible purchaser Gehret willingly accommodated him and to demonstrate the smoothness of the motor of the Flanders started it running. As he did so McDonald jumped in the car and drove out of the garage, up Allegheny Street, around Spring and Bishop to the Brockerhoff house. As he was driving without lights he was arrested by policeman Dukeman and taken to jail. Saturday morning he was taken before Squire Brown and fined ten dollars and costs, or $15.50 in all, for driving without a light. Inasmuch as the car was not damaged Mr. Beezer did not push the case and the young man was let go his way.

The Board of Trade Has Considered Many Propositions.

The Bellefonte Board of Trade met in the public building Monday evening to hear the report of the executive committee on the investigation of many proposals that had been made by industrial enterprises looking to a possible location in this place.

In all eighteen offers have been received and acted upon since the reorganization of the Board in January last and in all of them the only two that seemed to be within the range of possibility were the ones to rehabilitate the Lingle foundry and to capitalize a company for a test and manufacture of the automatic recording scale of the International Electric Scale Co.

The former proposition was reported on at the meeting by Mr. Chas. M. McCurdy, who stated that several conferences had been held between the executive committee, the owners of the property and Mr. J. Howard Lingle and gentlemen interested with him in the movement to reopen the foundry and machine shop to do a general business as well as work on specialties for another enterprise they propose operating in DuBois. Mr. Lingle had no definite proposal to make but asked Bellefonte to buy the property, furnish a certain amount of working capital and he and his associates would then operate it. No one seemed to know just what terms would be arranged if such a plan were carried out. The owners offered to sell the site, buildings and machinery for $20,000 taking $2000, of the sum in preferred stock of the enterprise. This price was regarded as being too high and when the matter of raising $10,000 more for repairs and working capital was taken into consideration the committee thought the plan impossible and so reported. After considerable discussion by Messrs. Montgomery, Moore, MacAvoy, Seibert, Hamilton and McCurdy a motion was made to accept the report of the committee.

It was carried. This action put the Board of Trade on record as being opposed to paying $20,000 for the property and raising a $10,000 working capital without knowing upon what terms, by whom or for what purpose the plant would be operated.

Then chairman Reynolds appointed Messrs. Moore, Seibert, MacAvoy and Hamilton, a committee to visit the Lingle plant and make an intelligent appraisal of its physical value. This action was taken in order to have the view of practical men as to what the value of the property really is, so that if there may be any occasion to reconsider the action on the Lingle proposal the Board will be in a position to consider whether it would be cheaper to build and equip a new, modern plant or try to modernize this old one.

The proposition of the International Electric Scale Co., was really not a proposal at all. It was more an effort on the part of the committee to find some way whereby this patent of Edward McGarvey, in which there seems to be great possibilities, could be developed and if found practical, manufactured right here in Bellefonte. It was reported that the committee had offered $700 in cash to be used in installing and operating a scale in the P. R. R. freight station in this place. If that test should prove satisfactory then a company was to be formed with a capitalization of $50,000. $30,000 worth of common stock was to be sold to the public and the balance of $20,000 given to the owners of the patent. They declined to entertain any proposition that would take the control of the manufacture out of their own hands; accordingly it was dropped. All of the other proposals made were found to be either by wildcat promoters or by corporations wanting more in bonus that Bellefonte could raise. Possibly the American Thermos Bottle Co. was the only one we could have taken seriously. It wanted $20,000 to establish a plant here, but it has since been given $75,000 in cash and located in the city of Norwich, Conn.

The list of proposals as read by secretary Kelly is as follows: Proposition of E. J. Decker, Philadelphia, to start the Lingle foundry. Declined not to come on account of no bonus being offered. Washburn Rotary Sewing Machine Co., Washington, D. C. Wanted borrowed capital and bonus $100,000. Fuller Bed Co., New York city, manufactures metallic beds. Wanted $10,000 and site free. J. Clifford Moore, New York, advised that American Thermos Bottle Company had accepted a gift of $75,000, in site and buildings and located at Norwich, Conn., and asked for list of available sites in Bellefonte, which was sent.

A. H. Eastmond & Co., New York asked for information as to inducements that would be offered for well established plant, which proved to be a silk mill. Wanted $50,000 subscribed and supply of labor assured.

F. K. Mullin, Dayton, Ohio, wanted to organize company to operate silk mill. Wanted $100,000 in preferred and $100,000 in common stock subscribed.

A. E. Williams, WilkesBarre, to give aeroplane exhibition. Declined by Merchant's Committee.

Matter of application for Charters—Water-Power. Referred to Committee on Industrials to look after interests of Bellefonte.

Proposition received from Mr. H. S. Moore to re-organize his business. Afterward withdrawn by Mr. Moore.

J. N. Myers, Osceola, L. N. Morgan, McKeesport, with the Dawson Pump Company, McKeesport, relative to Lingle foundry. Put in communication with owners of plant.

Bayless Pulp & Paper Co., Austin, Pa.,

considered new location for plant. Decided to stay at Austin. Brown Bros. & Co., Elmira, N. Y., manufacturers of caskets and moulding. Wanted gift of site and money.

Clark & Co. Belmont, N. Y., wanted to be recompensed for transfer of plant, loss of site and buildings also for loss of advantage of 30 years association with the name of Belmont.

E. S. Holstein Rubber Co., New York and Boston, wanted bonus in site and money for building.

Alex. M. Damon, Philadelphia, asked for map and printed matter descriptive of Bellefonte. Nothing to offer.

The Glass Brick Co., of Pittsburgh and Connellsville, stated they were looking for new location but after considerable correspondence, decided to remain in Connellsville for present but promised to consider Bellefonte in event of change.

—On Friday afternoon about three o'clock John Yearick's hay-baling outfit was on the way to the White farm on the hill west of the Miller toll gate and when turning in off the pike to cross the bridge over Logan's branch the engine got away from the driver and ran over the bank. It ran down the declivity of about five feet before the regular driver, who had been walking beside the engine, could get aboard and stop it. The engine from Yearick's threshing outfit had to be hauled up and it was several hours before the smaller one could be pulled back onto the pike. No damage was done to the machine.

COURT APPOINTS NEW ASSIGNEE.—On May 11th, 1912, Howard Tipton, of Curtin township, executed a deed of assignment of his property for the benefit of his creditors to Wm. Tressler, of Bellefonte. Owing to the fact that Mr. Tressler was executor of the Meyer estate, and in that capacity directly interested as a creditor of Mr. Tipton, a number of the creditors filed objections to him acting in the capacity of assignee and petitioned the court for his removal. The case was heard at the last argument court and several days ago Judge Orvis handed down a decision releasing Mr. Tressler and appointing Harry Keller to act as assignee.

PENN STATE DOWNS W & J.—The biggest crowd that ever gathered on Beaver field, State College, was assembled there last Saturday afternoon to witness the State—W. & J. football game. One week previous the western Pennsylvania team held the Carlisle Indians to a no score tie, and naturally Saturday's game was expected to be very close and exciting. But it wasn't. State was an easy winner by the score of 30 to 0. Captain Mauthe, Very, "Dad" Engle and Miller were the stars for State, although the whole team played good football. The issue now before the State team is the Cornell game tomorrow. Judging from comparative scores made the past two weeks State ought to be a winner, but football is a very uncertain sport and the outcome of course will be watched with unusual interest.

PRISONERS TO BE DISCHARGED HERE.—Four prisoners brought from the western penitentiary to the new prison site in Benner township have already been discharged, their terms of sentence having expired, and in each case the men had to be taken to Pittsburgh to be given their discharge. At the request of warden John Francis Attorney General John C. Bell last Friday gave it as his opinion that the warden had the right to discharge the prisoners here and pay them the gratuity which the State allows to discharged convicts. If the men lives within fifty miles of the new penitentiary site he may be given five dollars, and if a greater distance ten dollars, with clothing allowance. So that in the future all prisoners brought here from the western penitentiary will be discharged at the new prison site when their terms expire.

TURKEYS NOT VERY PLENTIFUL.—This year's crop of turkeys is not a very large one, according to reports from the farming sections of Centre county, and the outlook for that toothsome dish of roast turkey and cranberry sauce for the Thanksgiving dinner is not very promising. The only reason that can be assigned for the small crop is so much wet weather. The turkey, in its growing state, cannot stand wet weather, and many of the early hatchings died before they reached an age old enough to stand the cold weather and frequent wet spells of the spring months. And those turkeys that did survive present a more or less stunted growth at the present time, so that it will require considerable feeding to get them in good marketable condition by Thanksgiving, without considering the question of price.

The wild turkey season opens November 1st and farmers through Bald Eagle valley had better keep their tame turkeys pretty close to home. State game warden Berrier returned to Harrisburg last week and gave out a report that "in the Bald Eagle valley, from Tyrone to Lock Haven, there are thousands of wild turkeys." Mr. Berrier stated that a few weeks ago, in the woods bordering Tyrone, he saw a flock of thirteen wild turkeys, and they did not appear very wild at that. If the game warden's statement is correct then wild turkeys must be able to survive wet weather better than the domestic bird. And whether the game birds are as plentiful in the Bald Eagle valley as reported or not, the story sent broad-cast throughout the State will likely cause an influx of hunters for the opening of the season, hence this warning to farmers to keep a close watch over their own turkeys.

IMPROVEMENT OF PUBLIC ROADS.—On the first of June, 1912, the State took over in the neighborhood of eight thousand miles of public roads in accordance with the provisions of the Sproul bill providing for a system of state highways throughout the entire State. At the time the public in general was more or less skeptical as to the good results, but there is now no doubt on that score. The roads taken over by the State in Centre county alone aggregate in the neighborhood of one hundred and twenty miles. Just as soon as possible after the roads were taken over gangs of men were put to work on the different sections whose object it was to put the roads in the best condition possible for public use until such time as they can be built into macadamized state highways. All the breakers were removed and the roads rounded up and stones removed and the result is better roads through this section of the State than was ever known before. Automobileists who travel by way of Snow Shoe to Philipsburg and Clearfield say there is not a breaker in that whole distance and the trip can be made in less than two hours and a half.

Through Bald Eagle valley, down Pennsylvania and over the Seven mountains the roads are also being put in repair, but the remodeling of the Nittany valley road is one of the best pieces of work in this section. Of course this road is virtually being built into a state highway. The work has progressed almost to Hecla and everybody who has traveled over it has a word of commendation for the builders. Grades have been reduced where possible, all breakers removed and the roadway has been rolled as solid and smooth as a floor. When the road has been rebuilt through to Cedar Springs it will be one of the prettiest and best drives in this part of the State.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.—When "Mutt and Jeff" appears at Garman's tomorrow (Saturday) matinee and evening it will be with a new man taking the important character of "Jeff." Gus Alexander, the star in that part, fell at Mischler's theatre, Altoona, last Thursday afternoon and broke his arm and was compelled to go to his home in Newark, N. J. The part of "Jeff" is now being taken by William A. Lester, Mr. Alexander's understudy, and without detracting from the latter's ability it is the opinion wherever the show has appeared since that Mr. Lester is playing his part superbly. "Mutt and Jeff" carries between thirty-five and forty people and the show abounds with humorous situations, described as one continuous "gale of laughter" from the rise to the fall of the curtain. There is a large chorus of pretty girls, well trained and gorgeously costumed, while the cast is strong and evenly balanced. Prices from 25 cents to $1.00, and seats should be reserved early. Matinee at 2.30 p. m. Prices, children 25 cents, adults 50 cents.

"East Lynne," that beautiful play of social life and of particular interest to women, will be presented by Mr. Joseph King's new company at Garman's, on Friday evening, October 25th. Written by a woman, Mrs. Henry Wood, "East Lynne" is one of the few dramas that appeals principally to the fair sex, and has for its leading characters, women whose prototypes can be found today in many fashionable drawing rooms. In no play of recent years have the tender passions been so strongly drawn upon for dramatic material as in "East Lynne." Love and sympathy predominates throughout, while selfishness and hatred are important adjuncts to the happy culmination of a story that is brimfull of interest. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY NOTES.—Theodore Westgate, Jr., a new student at the Academy and son of Theodore Westgate, head of the American Oil company, of Titusville, has announced his intention of presenting the school with fifteen fine gold and blue blankets, with the letter "B" on them, for the use of the football team; a gift that will be highly appreciated.

Dr. F. N. Seerley, of the International Y. M. C. A. school of Springfield, Mass., with headquarters in New York, spent two hours at the Academy on Monday morning and gave the students a heart to heart talk on physical morals, etc.

The Academy football team will go to Williamsport tomorrow and in the afternoon will play the Dickinson Seminary eleven. The Academy team won both games played so far by decisive scores, and tomorrow's game ought to be a good one.

NEW FRATERNITY AT STATE COLLEGE.

The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity placed a chapter at State College last Friday, when the Theta Psi fraternity was instituted as the Pennsylvania Lambda Chapter of the fraternity, starting out with seventeen members. The installation took place in the afternoon, in the foyer of the new auditorium. The committee on installation was composed of prominent men from all over the United States.

Friday evening the members of the new Chapter with their guests banqueted at the Brockerhoff house in this place. Just one hundred and eight covers were laid and all taken, which did not include the members of the college orchestra. The banquet was quite an elaborate affair and it was well along toward morning when the final "good nights" were said.
