ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

—There are two cases of scarletina and one case of scarlet rash in Bellefonte at this writing. The former is Rose Derstine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Derstine, in the old stone jail back of Howard street, and Fred Saylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Saylor, of Penn street. The scarlet rash case is a Zimmerman child on east Bishop street. All the homes are under quarantine and as a preventive against the spread of the disease the brick school house was thoroughly fumigated on Tuesday.

—Next Thursday, October 31st, will be Halloween and many of the surrounding towns are arranging to have a demonstration of some kind that evening. So far no movement to this effect has been made in Bellefonte, though there will likely be the usual number of Halloween parties, etc. Of course the small boys—and girls, too for that matter—will likely be in evidence on the streets, but they should confine themselves to innocent and harmless sport and not resort to the destruction of property.

—The large bank barn on the Joseph F. Gummo farm, one mile east of Salona, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning. In addition to the barn and outbuildings 500 bushels of wheat, 300 bushels of oats, 25 tons of hay, a calf, and many farming implements were destroyed. The fire started under the mow hole in the rear of the entry and when discovered had gained such headway that it was with some difficulty the stock was gotten out. The loss is placed at three thousand dollars with a small insurance in the Sugar Valley company.

—The rummage sale, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital, which is being held this week in the Moose house on Spring street, has never had such an abundance of good, warm, desirable clothing and at such reduced prices. Those who can sew in order to remodel or mend, are given opportunities which seldom come to anyone. While quantities have been sold, quantities remain and as the sale will close this year without an auction, but two days remain for taking advantage of such an opportunity and at the same time of making a contribution to the hospital. The receipts of the entire sale when closing Wednesday night were $650.

JONES.—Alfred Jones, one of the best known business men in Philipsburg, died at ten o'clock last Friday morning after an illness of over six months. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jones and was born in Philipsburg on December 9th, 1841, hence at his death was 70 years, 10 months and 9 days old. When a young man he learned the blacksmithing trade with his father and at the latter's death succeeded to the business which he carried on for some years. Thirty or more years ago he engaged in the hardware business and later added dry goods and groceries. He was quite successful, and in his success was always deeply concerned in the welfare of his native town. For a number of years he served as a school director in Philipsburg and was a member of the board when the handsome new school building in that place was erected. He was a member of the Moshannon Lodge F. and A. M., and his death has caused a feeling of genuine regret throughout that entire community.

His wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Rebecca Bailey, of Stormtown, died last March but surviving him are three children, namely: Mrs. W. W. Andrews, Paul and Edward, all of Philipsburg. He also leaves three sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Clara Mayer, of Wilkinsburg; Owen, of Windber; Mrs. M. L. Gano, of York; George E., of Osceola Mills; Miss Ella, of Harrisburg, and Harry, of Philipsburg.

The funeral was held from his late home at two o'clock on Monday afternoon. Rev. J. H. Keller was assisted in the services by Rev. George M. Glenn, and burial was made in the Philipsburg cemetery.

McKINNEY.—The WATCHMAN is indebted to Col. John A. Woodward, of Howard, for the following very interesting account of the life and death of Mrs. David McKinney:

At about one o'clock Monday afternoon, Oct. 14, Mrs. David P. McKinney, formerly Miss Mary Katherine Hogan, died at the home in which she was born February 16th, 1837. Mrs. McKinney's father was a born Irishman and as proud of his ancestry as he was of his adopted American citizenship, and his daughter inherited both these characteristics to the highest degree. She was educated in the public schools of the community, and the Notre Dame, in Baltimore, and her high mental endowments well developed. She married David P. McKinney, a most estimable gentleman and good citizen, who preceded her to the grave by several years, and by him bore two sons, the elder of whom John DeMert, died in early manhood, and the younger, C. Logan McKinney, having been educated for the priesthood, is now pastor of a large field in Huntingdon county. Besides this son she leaves one brother, James Hogan, a resident of Howard. Mrs. McKinney was a devout christian, living closely to the tenets of the church of her fathers and her faith. Funeral services were held in St. Bernard's church Wednesday morning, conducted by her son, Rev. C. Logan McKinney, and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery at Bellefonte.

STRAW.—Mrs. Hattie Straw, wife of Uriah S'raw, of Blue Ball, Clearfield county, died at eleven o'clock on Sunday night after almost two weeks illness with a complication of diseases. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tobias Fahr and was born near State College on September 16th, 1853, making her age 59 years, 1 month and 4 days. She was married to Uriah Straw in Huston township in May, 1873. Their early married life was spent in the Bald Eagle valley and nineteen years ago they moved to Blue Ball. In addition to her husband she is survived by six children, namely: Charles, Blanchard, Allen, Howard, Mrs. Leslie English and Miss Martha, all at home. Funeral services were conducted at the family home on Tuesday evening by Rev. Mr. Campbell, of the U. B. church, with which deceased had been identified from early life, and on Wednesday the remains were taken to Unionville, this county, where burial was made the same afternoon.

STOTT.—Mrs. James Stott, a former resident of Bellefonte, died very suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Frantz, in Harrisburg, on Tuesday evening. She had been in good health all day and shortly before five o'clock was stricken with paralysis, dying within a few minutes. The Stott family came to Bellefonte from Pottstown at the time the nail works were started many years ago. They lived here until fourteen years ago when they moved to Reading and a number of years later went to Harrisburg. Surviving the deceased are her husband and six children, namely: Jeremiah, of Denver, Col.; James, of Reading; Mrs. William R. Jenkins, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Stigel, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Edward B. Rankin and Mrs. Joseph Frantz, of Harrisburg. Arrangements for the funeral are not known at this writing.

ROTE.—Mrs. John B. Rote died at her home at Salona, Clinton county, on Thursday last week of a complication of diseases, aged seventy-four years. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Snook and was born in Brush valley, Centre county. In 1883 the family moved to near Salona where they have lived ever since. Surviving the deceased are her husband and four children, namely: Thomas E. Rote, of Iowa; Mrs. Ira E. Spangler, of Milton; Mrs. Matthew E. Miller, of Salona, and Mrs. Maurice E. Brungard, of Salona. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Courter, of Lock Haven. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, burial being made in the Cedar Hill cemetery.

WEAVER.—Thursday morning, October 17th, at 10:30 p. m. Mrs. Lydia Straub Weaver, wife of Daniel B. Weaver, died at her home in west Brush valley, Centre county, after a lingering illness of four years with dropsy, during two months of which time she was a severe yet patient sufferer. She was born in Union county, September 4th, 1840, and later, with her parents, emigrated to Centre county, near Bellefonte, where in August, 1864, she was married to Daniel B. Weaver. The family resided in west Brush valley for the past forty-one years. Her age at time of death was 72 years, 1 month and 3 days.

She was a member of the Lutheran church at Farmers Mills and a devoted and loving mother. She is survived by her husband, Daniel B. Weaver, and the following children: Newton E., of Altoona; George F., at home; Mrs. Emma Hall, of Lebanon, Ohio; William H. and Miss Cora B., at home; Mrs. Minnie Miller, of Salona, and Mrs. Annie Miller, of Jersey Shore. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Amelia Miller, of Bellefonte. These with nine grand-children and a wide circle of friends and neighbors, mourn her death, it being the first broken string in her family harp.

The funeral cortege left the house at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning for the union church at Farmers Mills where services were held and her body laid to its last resting place in the Union cemetery.

MISS EDNA WEAVER,
Altoona.

McWILLIAMS.—Mrs. Annie S. McWilliams, wife of William McWilliams, of Pennsylvania Furnace, died at 4:45 o'clock on Sunday afternoon of a complication of diseases, after an illness of three years, though she had been confined to her bed but about three weeks. Her maiden name was Miss Annie S. Goheen, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Goheen, and she was born near Rock Springs, in Ferguson township, about sixty years ago. She was united in marriage to Mr. McWilliams when a young woman and ever since the family resided in the neighborhood of Pennsylvania Furnace. When a girl she became a member of the Graysville Presbyterian church and all her life was a devout christian woman.

In addition to her husband she is survived by the following children: Milliken, of Tyrone; John and Harold, of Johnstown; Misses Sarah, Isabel and Nannie at home. She is also survived by two brothers and two sisters, namely: J. W. Goheen, of Tyrone; Robert G., Mrs. Frank Gardner and Miss Belle Goheen, of Pennsylvania Furnace.

The funeral was held at one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. R. M. Campbell had charge of the services and burial was made in the Graysville cemetery.

ROSS.—Mrs. Maria Ross, wife of Joseph T. Ross, died quite suddenly at her home at Pleasant Gap on Tuesday morning. She came home on Sunday evening from Niagara Falls, where she had been since July, and was in good health until Monday night when she was taken violently ill. A physician was summoned at once and everything possible done but she died at three o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Deceased was born near Bellefonte in 1842, hence was about seventy years of age. Her entire life was spent in the neighborhood of Bellefonte and Pleasant Gap. For many years she was a member of the Methodist church and was a woman of many fine attainments and had a legion of friends who sincerely mourn her death. Surviving her are her husband and the following children: Mrs. C. E. Cowdrick and Charles, of Niagara Falls; William and Mrs. Dorris Eckenroth, of Pleasant Gap; Misses Belle and Lida at home.

The funeral was held from her late residence at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Rev. D. J. Frum officiated and burial was made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

SMITH.—Through the kindness of Mr. W. P. Humes we have the intelligence of the death of General Frank G. Smith, of Washington, D. C., which occurred at his home on the 7th inst. after a very brief illness. General Smith was a son of Dr. F. R. Smith, who practiced medicine along in the fifties, in this place and resided, while here, in the house now occupied by Mr. Murray Andrews, opposite the residence of Mr. Humes, and will doubtless be remembered by some of our older citizens. Dr. Smith moved to St. Paul, Minnesota, before the breaking out of the war, and his son, General Smith, entered the army from Ohio. He served for several years as private secretary to General George B. McClellan, and afterwards gained distinction for bravery on the battlefield. After the war he joined the regular army and served in several Indian campaigns, and also in the Spanish-American war, and in 1903 was brevetted Brigadier General. He was known as an exceedingly good soldier, and one of the most popular army officers in the service. His remains were laid to rest in Arlington cemetery.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team added another victory to their list last Saturday by defeating the Dickinson Seminary eleven, on their own field in Williamsport, by the score of 26 to 3. One Williamsport paper made the unkind statement that the umpire helped with the job, but even the rankest kind of an umpire could not roll up such a one-sided score.

—The Frank Wrye farm of one hundred and fifty acres, near Loveville in Halfmoon township, has been sold to J. A. Strunk, of Yates Centre, Kansas, for five thousand dollars.

—Rev. C. W. Winey will begin evangelistic services in the United Brethren church on Sunday, November 17th. Rev. E. G. Sawyer, who was here two years ago, will be here to assist in the work.

—For some weeks past the Bellefonte Electric company has been advertising a "live wire" wiring proposition in the columns of the WATCHMAN. If you are a property owner and have not noticed the offer it might be to your benefit to consult the same.

—The Civic club will hold a special meeting on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in their new room of the High school building. Members will please note the change in the time and place. One of the interesting features on the program will be a report of the delegates to the meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs, held in Williamsport last week.

—Miss Morton, a missionary of the Presbyterian church, who is aiding in the special effort made during the year of 1912 to arouse greater enthusiasm in the missionary work of China, spoke in the chapel Wednesday night. Miss Morton has been working in Shanghai, and was granted a furlough to devote her time to the work in America, at present visiting the Huntingdon Presbytery. While in Bellefonte Miss Morton was entertained by Miss Linn.

—For five days a bulletin was posted in the front window of the WATCHMAN office announcing the fact that three hundred laborers were wanted at State College, and while many people stopped to read the same there were less than half a dozen inquiries as to details. The men are wanted by the contractors who are putting in the new sewage disposal plant at the College and, though they are paying 17½ cents an hour, they are unable to get the number of men they want. And yet there are a number of men walking the streets of Bellefonte every day who haven't done a stroke of work in months.

—About a month ago a gyp owned by Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick gave birth to a litter of nine pups. Four days later the mother dog died and the next day one of the pups followed its mother to dog heaven. This left eight little orphan dogs to be taken care of, and as they were of a full setter breed the doctor naturally wanted to raise them. As a means to that end Mrs. Kilpatrick came to his aid and for three weeks fed the puppies with a bottle and now at the age of a month they are as lively a family of pups as can be found anywhere, having discarded the bottle for the good old way of lapping their milk out of a dish.

—Announcement was made in the WATCHMAN last week of the fact that Theodore Westgate, Jr., a student at the Academy, would present a number of blankets to the Academy for the use of the members of the football team. When the proposed gift was announced in the school Henry Shank, another student, wrote about it to his father, who is a wholesale blanket dealer in Lebanon. That gentleman at once ordered from a blanket factory the desired number of blankets and had them sent to the Academy. When this gift was received young Westgate very willingly consented to change his selection and will order a dozen baseball jackets for the baseball team. These will be two valuable as well as very useful gifts for the Academy.

—Frank Benjamin and Mrs. Elizabeth Austin, both of Tyrone, were to have been married at noon on Tuesday. Benjamin, who is a carpenter, was in Johnstown last week and secured a good position and also leased a house to live in. On Monday he assisted his bride-to-be in the packing and shipping of her household goods from Tyrone to the Johnstown to make arrangements for the wedding. Mrs. Austin went to Johnstown on Tuesday morning and instead of being met at the train by the man she went to marry heard upon her arrival that Benjamin had been run over by a Baltimore & Ohio train on Monday evening and his body literally ground to pieces. The accident occurred after dark at a grade crossing.

—The student body at State College had a big bonfire and snake dance on Monday evening in celebration of the football victory over Cornell. All the boxes, barrels, etc., that could be begged or bought in State College were hauled to the campus west of the army where the bonfire was held. The hauling of the wagons was done by the Freshmen while the Sophs managed the job. At the scene of the bonfire a huge derrick was constructed by the erection of three telephone poles and the boxes were hauled up by rope and tackle until the pile was as high as a house. Then three barrels of gasoline purchased by the students were hauled up and the bungs knocked in. When the pile of material was thoroughly saturated with gasoline a torch was applied and in a very few minutes the flames enveloped the entire pile and leaped almost a hundred feet into the air. While the fire was at its brightest the two thousand and more students sang the college and football songs and wound up with a snake dance.

A Straddler Without Principle.

PHILIPSBURG, PA., Oct. 23, 1912.
To the Editor of the Watchman.

Mr. Patton, prior to April 13th, 1912, did take a positive stand for Mr. Taft. He still again took another stand, for his cards announced that he was a candidate for Congress subject to the rules of the Republican party. He won the Republican nomination largely by the use of money, if we are to believe Mr. DeHaas who contended for this nomination with him. On the night of August 28th, 1912, in the presence of twenty-nine men in a law office at Clearfield, he, in person, voluntarily surrendered and abandoned the maintenance of the principles of the party that had nominated him and without committing himself to Mr. Roosevelt and the principles he represents. Mr. Patton promised that if he received the Bull Moose nomination he would be strictly neutral as between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt. He stands today upon his own weak confession of political faith an avowed neutral. Nearly one-half of the twenty-nine present failed to understand his position for twelve of them voted against his endorsement by the Bull Moose party. We have also met a great many Republicans and Bull Moosers who, notwithstanding the Courier, do not understand his position. There can be no neutrality as between the conflicting principles represented by two great men who are engaged in a bitter national struggle for the death of an old party or the life of a brand new one. Mr. Taft says that the Payne-Aldrich Tariff bill is one of the best tariff bills that was ever written and he has principle enough to sustain his mistaken convictions, for he vetoed every attempt made in 1910 and 1912 to lower or revise it, notwithstanding the Republican party in its national platform of 1910 advocated its revision downward. Mr. Roosevelt and his chief organ, the North American, boldly state that this tariff bill is iniquitous, a sham, delusion and a snare. Now how can Mr. Patton be a neutral even in this instance?

In the last Congress he voted with the trusts and favor seeking corporations and against the people every time an effort was made to revise the tariff. So far as the Democrats are concerned we will admit that they thoroughly understand Mr. Patton's position and their vote will indicate that it is not a mistaken understanding when it is heard from in November.

As the days go gliding by, evidences of Mr. Patton's straddling propensities are startlingly increasing. The latest is that he has made another straddle. In 1910, while a candidate for Congress, he toured Clearfield and McKean counties with John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Governor. In DuBois he occupied the speaker's stand at the Commercial hotel and applauded the utterances of Mr. Tener.

We learn now that he is a Keystone and has procured in some way the Keystone nomination for Congress. Thwarted in his attempt to get on the Prohibition ticket, his weakness for landing upon as many tickets as possible, regardless of principle, asserted itself so strongly that he has landed upon another.

For Mr. Tener in 1910, he now stands on the ticket with Mr. Berry whom he was against in 1910. Berry and Cresswell, both of whom toured McKean and Cameron counties this fall, highly commended the candidacy of James A. Gleason to the voters of this district. Do not be fooled by this bogus Keystone candidate for Congress from Curwensville.

Mr. Farmer, in the last Congress 226 Democrats and Progressives voted together to pass the farmers' free list bill over the President's veto, while a miserable 127 stand-patters voted against it. This bill would have released you from the pillaging exactions of the International Harvester Co. When this bill passed the House Mr. Patton dodged it but he was one of the 127 that voted to sustain the President's veto. Does he represent you or the International Harvester Company? Remember that 237 votes would have passed the bill over the veto and it only failed becoming a law by eleven votes, notwithstanding the veto of Mr. Taft. Why did Mr. Patton vote that this great trust should have perpetuated power to hold you up? Don't you need relief?

A PHILIPSBURG VOTER.

INJURED IN DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.—Four men were fatally injured in a dynamite explosion on the Forge Run branch railroad to the Pennsylvania Fire Brick company's clay deposits at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning. Two charges had been put in and after the explosion the men supposed both had gone off and started back to work. But only one charge had exploded and when they got close to the scene the other went off. The injured men are: Alexander Heberly, foreman, of Eagleville; face and eyes badly injured. Charles Kunes, of Eagleville; face and eyes injured and arm badly lacerated. John N. Williams, of Blanchard; eyes very seriously injured, one of which he may lose. James De Haas, of Beech Creek; injured also about the face and eyes. They were all taken to the Cottage hospital, Philipsburg, for treatment.

CHILD CHOKED TO DEATH ON PEANUT.

—Harold, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Colyer, of Linden Hall, died in the Bellefonte hospital last Saturday night of strangulation, as the result of getting a small piece of a peanut in his windpipe. The older of the Colyer children were eating peanuts on Saturday afternoon and the baby boy got hold of a small piece of a nut. Before he could be prevented the child put the piece of nut in his mouth and instead of swallowing it, it lodged in the windpipe. A physician was promptly summoned and being unable to locate the obstruction he brought the child to the Bellefonte hospital. An operation was performed for the removal of the nut but it could not be located in one of the cavities of the lungs. The result was strangulation from which the child died at 11:30 o'clock the same night. The remains were taken to the home of the bereaved parents from where the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. S. C. Stover had charge of the services and burial was made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

—The Woman's Civic club of Boalsburg will hold a Halloween masquerade social in the Boal hall, on Thursday evening, October 31st, at 8 o'clock. Proceeds to be applied to the maintenance of the town lights. Admission 15 and 10 cents.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

Miss Mammie Bloom is on the sick list.

Frank Harsh was a Sunday visitor to Stone valley.

Some of our farmers are about through corn husking.

S. A. Dunlap is fast in bed with an attack of lumbago.

Dr. Frank Bailey, of Milton, is visiting relatives in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watt, of Tyrone, visited in the Glades last week.

A Halloween hop will take place in the town hall on the evening of the 30th.

Mrs. George Harper is visiting relatives in Pittsburgh for a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cori spent Sunday at the C. H. Struble home at Fairbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Walker spent Sunday at the Ed. Elder home on the Branch.

Mrs. Geo. Homan and daughter Mary Sundayed at the Ira Harpster home at Gatesburg.

Dr. Ella Smiley, of Altoona, is spending a week with her aged grandmother on Water street.

Misses Myrtle and Maude Harper were Sunday visitors at the J. O. Campbell home at Fairbrook.

District attorney D. Paul Fortney, of Bellefonte, spent Tuesday in this section on official business.

Mrs. Sallie Fortney is having her dwelling re-roofed with cedar shingles. W. B. Ward & Son have the job.

William Hoy will move from D. H. Bortoff's tenant house to Brush valley, where he purchased a small farm.

Sheriff A. B. Lee was here last week on official business. We are always glad to see him but do abhor his official calls.

Isaac Underwood, the popular machine agent, of Bellefonte, was here Friday and sold C. H. Meyers a brand new Frick engine.

The ladies circle of the Bethel church is the richer by $85 as the result of a chicken, noodles and oyster feast in the town hall last Saturday evening.

On Monday Miss Estella M. Heberling was taken to the Bellefonte hospital to go under the knife for the removal of a small growth near the arm pit.

Harry Eyer says he must put in longer hours on the railroad track in order to feed and clothe another boy, who put in his appearance last Thursday.

The venerable Henry McCracken is quite ill with heart trouble and other complications and his son, Rev. J. O. McCracken, of Johnstown, has been summoned to his bedside.

J. A. Decker is in charge of a crew of men fixing up that part of the public road taken over by the State from State College to the Huntingdon county line at or near Pennsylvania Furnace, a distance of eleven miles.

Dr. Havener is off on an inspecting tour in New York State, in the interest of State College. That institution is making some purchases of cattle with a view of increasing the herds as well as improving them, and under the law cattle must stand the test before shipment to another State.

—Miss Elizabeth Ward, daughter of J. Herbert Ward, formerly of this place, was married to R. B. Kline, in Bloomsburg, on Wednesday, October 16th, by the Rev. Edgar Heckman. The wedding was quite a surprise as none of her friends knew of it until after the ceremony had been performed.

On Saturday, October 26th, George Irvin, of Pennsylvania Furnace, will sell a lot of stock at public sale. On the 30th Robert Wigton will sell all his possessions and go west and on November 16th, H. N. Koch will make public sale with a view of going to New York to take a course in embalming and undertaking.

J. Herbert Ward, so well known here as the station agent and Edison phonograph distributor, has moved from Trevorton to Shamokin, where he has taken quarters in the Malick building, one of the principal streets of the town. He will enlarge his business considerably and become general distributor for the Edison machines in that locality.

—All ewes, and every other kind of young breeding stock, should be fed and cared for with a view to developing their breeding qualities, rather than putting on great amounts of fat or flesh.
