—OSCAR STRAUSS is the Bull Moose candidate for Governor of New York but his brother is among the most liberal contributors to the Democratic campaign fund.

—If PENROSE had decided to support ROOSEVELT, after his ten days of deliberation, he would be nearly as upright a citizen as PERKINS and almost as worthy a gentleman as FLINN.

—HARRY JACKSON says there isn't an inch of ground up Salt River that hasn't been tramped by Democrats but after next Tuesday there will be other footprints on the salty shores.

—The friends of Senator PENROSE who vote for the Bull Moose candidates for Auditor General and State Treasurer are building a political mausoleum for him. If those servile tools of Bill FLINN and VANVALKENBURG get into office they will see that PENROSE remains dead for a long time.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

—Col. H. S. Taylor, Hard P. Harris and Edward T. H. Harter attended the George Robb butchering on the mountain above Coleville, last Friday.

—The Glens Falls Daily Times of October 12th, published an account of the "September Event" at Saratoga, which is a golf event participated in by local players of that section of New York State, and which shows W. T. Achenbach, formerly of Bellefonte, the winner. The Times further speaks of Mr. Achenbach as being a golfer of great experience, who is an acquisition to any team and on whom the season's trophy had been bestowed with an unusual amount of pleasure and satisfaction.

—Those contemplating going in costume to the Charity Ball, to be given in the Armory the 14th of November, will, if in need of suggestions or help with regard to the peasant dress of the different countries of the world, get perhaps the information they would like from Mrs. John N. Lane, chairman of the committee on costumes. The peasant dress is inexpensive, simple, and the most picturesque of its country, and it is to be hoped that many of our people will be interested enough in these annual Charity Balls to make an effort to aid in making each one a social event for Bellefonte.

APPEAL TO DEMOCRATS

A Full Vote Secures Success. Victory is Now in Sight.

To the Democratic Voters of Pennsylvania:

"A careful canvass gives promise of victory on November 5th for your candidates and the cause of liberty, good government and progress in both the State and nation.

"The people are tired of a government of arbitrary power and special privilege—a government which has been perpetuated by machine methods and the misuse of money and patronage and has overridden the liberties of the people and ignored their needs.

"In this State, the Republican machine—that criminal conspiracy which masquerades under the name of the Republican party—is disrupted.

"In the struggle of the bosses lies your opportunity. There are no ills in Pennsylvania for which this machine and these bosses are not responsible.

"Experience has shown that there is no hope of honest government or of true progress under the rule of this machine, no matter who is the boss.

"It must be destroyed before you can hope for good government.

"Enough earnest and sincere Republicans who place public good above partisanship are ready and willing to unite with you and redeem the State.

"The opportunity is here; the power is in your hands.

"Do not be alarmed by the false prediction of panic, by which partisans are at the eleventh hour seeking to frighten you from the assertion of your rights.

"Even the head of the Steel Trust himself has publicly declared to his associates that we are enjoying an era of unsurpassed prosperity which is not due to any political policy or efforts, but has come in spite of them—because nothing could prevent.

"Contrast this deliberate declaration of a responsible business leader, with the 'calamity howling' of political partisans seeking only a continuance of their own power.

"Be true to yourselves and have confidence in the result of a just and righteous cause.

"Stand for self-government against machine rule and arbitrary power.

"Stand for justice and the square deal for all against special privilege.

"Stand upon the principles upon which this government rests, that all its powers belong to the people and must be used for equal good of all.

"You can now, if you will, recover the power of self-government and secure that legislation and administration necessary to restore Pennsylvania to her proper place in the sisterhood of States and free her from the shame which has been brought upon her.

"Your country calls you to duty; your country demands your services.

"Give at least one day to your citizenship.

"Go to the polls and vote with good men of all parties who stand ready to assist you and place Pennsylvania's name again on the keystone of the arch which stands for liberty and justice to all men.

"In conclusion, we desire to express our deep appreciation of the faithful and efficient services of the officers and committees of your party, and of your confidence and co-operation in their work.

"Upon you and your committees rest the final duty of seeing that the vote is polled and honestly counted and returned.

"Give the day to your country, your liberties and your rights.

"A. MITCHELL PALMER, National Committeeman of Pennsylvania. GEORGE W. GUTHRIE, Chairman Pennsylvania State Committee."

JAMES GLEASON, The people's candidate for Congress. Not in That Crowd.

BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 31, 1912. In a circular issued under date of October 28th, 1912, I am, without my knowledge and consent, put out as a member of the executive committee of the Washington party. No one had authority to use my name in connection with this committee. I am a member of the Wilson club.

The circular is so framed that it might lead others to think that I am supporting Patton and Gramley. Such is not the case, I am for Wilson and Marshall, Gleason and Foster, and the whole Democratic ticket.

Very respectfully, J. WILL CONLEY.

MANY BUILDINGS TO BE ERECTED.

Plans for the construction of many buildings have been made by the board of inspectors of the western penitentiary and warden John Francies for the new penal institution in Benner township, this county. Architect John T. Windrim, of Philadelphia, has about completed plans and drawings for a commodious stone structure that will accommodate not less than three hundred and fifty men, and it is given out on the authority of the board of inspectors that this building will be erected at once, most of the work to be done by the convicts. Upon the completion one-third of the population of the old penitentiary, which has been condemned because of its location and unsanitary condition, will be transferred to this county.

Work on the main cell house will not be begun until the spring. As designed now it will have capacity for fifteen hundred men. A separate prison will be erected for female convicts. Other buildings now planned are several workshops, a large construction shop in which all kinds of machinery will be installed, a refrigerating plant, a building to be used exclusively by the inmates as a dining room with a large kitchen conveniently adjacent; a modern hospital in which new prisoners will be quarantined and subjected to medical examination and treatment before mingling with other prisoners; and a plant to distribute water from the reservoir which will be built in McBride's gap to all departments of the institution, as well as an electric light and steam heating plant, and a large administration building.

LADIES DAY AT HUGHES FIELD.—Tomorrow, the occasion of the Bellefonte Academy—State College Freshman football game, will be ladies day at Hughes field when all ladies will be admitted free. In addition to the game and free admission there will be two other inducements for them to attend. One is that the State Freshmen will come to Bellefonte at two o'clock in a special train and they expect to bring along five hundred students as rooters. They will sing the State songs while the local boys have a lot of Academy songs with which to make the welkin ring. The other inducement is that the handsome new blankets for the use of the football team will be used for the first time tomorrow and the ladies will thus have a chance to see how the boys look when wrapped up in Indian fashion. Game will be called at three o'clock prompt and there ought to be at least five hundred Bellefontes there to offset the large State contingent. This will be the big game of the season in Bellefonte.

Tomorrow afternoon the Bellefonte Academy football team will have as their opponents on Hughes field the Penn State Freshmen eleven. Everybody in Bellefonte knows the record State College is making on the gridiron this year, and the fact that practically all the Freshmen players are used in the scrubs in practice against the Varsity is evidence that they have been getting good football training. Consequently they should be able to put up a good game tomorrow and one that will make the Academy boys hustle, if they want to win. This will also be the last game to be played on Hughes field this season and an unusually large crowd should go out to see the contest. The price of admission will be but twenty-five cents, and there will be ample accommodations for all.

State College defeated Gettysburg on Beaver field, last Saturday, by the score of 25 to 0. Considering the victories that State had over W. & J. and Cornell the above score does not appear large, but this is accounted for in the fact that the field was wet and muddy and several of the best of the Varsity players were not in the line-up. State's hardest battle will be with the University of Pennsylvania tomorrow. A large delegation of college students will go down to the Quaker city on a special train today to cheer for the home team. Quite a number of Bellefontes will also go down to see the contest.

The Bellefonte Academy football team won another victory on Saturday when they defeated the strong Bloomsburg Normal eleven by the score of 14 to 0. The game was played on Hughes field, this place, and was witnessed by a good sized crowd.

Wednesday evening was what the young people call "gate night" and some of the youngsters cut up about as bad as the youngsters of years ago used to do. The one thing that came closest to bordering on malicious mischief was out at the new High school building. It was broken into and a garbage can and old barrels carried up into the laboratory on the top floor while seats, benches and chairs were strewn around in reckless profusion. An offer of twenty-five dollars reward has been made for information that will lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties. A few crossings were torn up in various parts of town, houses stoned, corn thrown, etc. while the boys kept up what might justly be termed "an infernal racket" until a late hour, but no great damage was done.

"The Fortune Hunter," one of the biggest and best plays on the road, will be the Thursday evening attraction at Garman's during teachers' institute week, on November 14th. Some very prominent and well known actors and actresses are in the cast.

GENERAL BOOTH'S MEMORIAL DAY.

There is a widespread feeling among the people that such a life as that of the late General William Booth should be kept green in the people's memory by the establishment of some great institution that should have for its aim a work harmonizing with the ideals so vividly set forth by the career of the founder of The Salvation Army.

Gradually this sentiment is taking shape, and if the present movement continues it will not be long before another dream of the grand old General will be reduced to an actuality. Quite a powerful committee has been formed for the purpose of raising funds for the establishment of suitable Training Colleges which will be the beginning of the "University of Humanity" which the General, toward the close of his life, spoke of as such a desideratum from the educational standpoint. Whatever can be done to make this institution a fact should have the hearty support of every man and woman who wishes the best for his day and generation.

For the present need the promoters of this scheme are asking for five hundred and fifty thousand dollars. There are a good many men, single-handed, who could well give the entire sum required. However, this is not the plan, for General Booth labored for and with the poor and less fortunate, and consequently it is felt that this class will desire to contribute; hence a National Tag Day is being arranged for Tuesday, November 5th, when five million people will be asked to give ten cents each. The balance will be made up by larger sums.

Commander Miss Booth, who is the head of the Salvation Army in the United States, is specially gratified with the wide and generous support that is being given to the project, and in this town a company of ladies will work hard to realize a good proportion toward the grand total needed, and it is fully expected that the results will abundantly justify the worthy effort.

Look out for the tag, and have your gift ready.

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

DR. WOODCOCK GIVES UP PRACTICE.

The following article appeared in the Sunday North American as a special dispatch from Scranton, and as Dr. Woodcock was born and raised in Bellefonte, and is well known here personally, it will no doubt be of interest to readers of the WATCHMAN: Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, a young physician and society man whose practice has been among Scranton's wealthiest residents, has caused a stir by giving up his profession to open a studio for voice culture. A few months ago doctor Woodcock surprised his society friends by embracing socialism and he is now one of the most ardent workers in the cause here.

Explaining his latest move, Doctor Woodcock asserts that he has found very little personal satisfaction in his work as a physician. It has been remunerative enough, he says, but he intimates that his conscience has troubled him for taking money for his services.

"I could not feel that I was doing anything for humanity," said Doctor Woodcock, "and I have come to feel that the greater part of practical medicine is valueless. I do not say this with disparagement of the profession or its members. There are many brilliant men in the medical profession and they have done a great work; but this has been on the scientific side of medicine, not on the practical side, and it is there that I have become dissatisfied.

"For example, I am called to attend a case of pneumonia," the physician continued. "In that instance I am merely a watcher. I must let nature do its work and I must keep my hands off. Then the doctor is often compelled to treat cases in which he knows he can do no good and when I have been placed in that position I have felt that instead of being a benefit to humanity I was in reality working for his harm."

Doctor Woodcock was graduated from the Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, in 1898, and spent several years in hospital work in Philadelphia and in Europe before opening an office in this city. He has gone abroad every second year to pursue a course under noted physicians of the continent. His barytone voice has been heard frequently at musical and society gatherings.
