The most attractive feature of the evening will be the grand march by those in costume, which will open the dance promptly at nine o'clock, following this the masks will be removed and the regular dance program begun. Neither the peasant dress nor the mask is obligatory, the suggestion simply being made to carry out the scheme for an inexpensive picturesque costume. The tickets of admission which are seventy-five cents can be secured from the members of the club.

TWO MEN KILLED IN PREMATURE EXPLOSION.—Frank Hazel and Robert Hunter, two young men of Spring township, are dead as the result of a delayed blast at the slag pile at Nittany furnace. The young men were employed by Toner A. Hugg, who has the contract for loading the slag which is being used on the state road and railroad operations down Bald Eagle. The slag is so solid that it is necessary to blast it loose. On Saturday afternoon the men drilled six holes and loaded them with dynamite, with a fulminating cap and fuse attached. Shortly before four o'clock they put them off. Five of the blasts went off and one failed to explode at the time. Supposing the fuse on the other had gone out Hazel and Hunter went up to relight it and when almost on the spot when it went off. Both young men were blown into the air. Hazel was killed outright, his entire body showing the terrible force of the explosion. Hunter was so badly injured that he died at the Bellefonte hospital about eight o'clock that evening. On Friday afternoon the same young men might have been killed but for Dr. David Dale. They were just ready to put off a blast of nine holes when they saw the doctor coming and signalled for him to stop. After the explosion they started toward the dump when the doctor asked them how many charges they had put in. They told him nine and he stated that only seven had gone off. They waited and it was almost a minute before the other two exploded, and had they not been stopped by the doctor they probably have been blown up that day.

Hazel was about twenty-six years old and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hazel, of Pleasant Gap. His parents and two brothers, Oliver, of Philadelphia, and Morris, of Altoona, survive. His funeral was held on Monday afternoon and was in charge of the Bellefonte Lodge of Moose, of which he was a member. The services were in the Lutheran church at Pleasant Gap and were in charge of Rev. J. I. Stoneypher, of Boalsburg, assisted by Revs. Frum and Stimer. Burial was made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

Hunter, the other victim, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hunter, of Axe Mann. He was only about nineteen years old and in addition to his parents is survived by a number of brothers and sisters. His funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. D. J. Frum had charge of the services which were held in the church at Axe Mann, and was assisted by Rev. C. C. Shuey. Burial was made in the Pleasant Gap cemetery.

CENTRE COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—More than three hundred school teachers will be in Bellefonte next week for the sixty-sixth annual session of the county teachers' institute. Superintendent David O. Eiters has arranged a good program and the exercises throughout promise to be very interesting. The instructors secured for the week are Dr. Arthur Holmes, of State College; Dr. Fred Mutchler, of Bowling Green, Ky.; Supt. S. R. Shear, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Supt. C. D. Koch, one of the State High school inspectors, and Dr. Byron W. King, of Pittsburgh. Several of the above have been heard at former county institutes and their reputation as able instructors and lecturers is more than state wide.

A superior class of evening entertainments has also been arranged. On Monday evening Albert E. Wiggin will give his famous lecture, "Dollars and Sense, or Forty Kinds of Fools." Tuesday evening Dr. Byron W. King will lecture on "Modern Seers and Macbeth." On Wednesday evening Dr. John W. Every one of the above entertainments will be worth hearing and the public should attend as well as the teachers.

LADIES EXTEND THANKS.—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital acknowledge their thanks due to every one who in any way contributed their service, or property, thereby making possible the holding of the rummage sale for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital, making it the success it was without incurring any expense. Special mention is due every one who made any contribution, namely, Faubles, Montgomery & Co., Lyon's Clusters, Katz & Co., Mrs. Aiken, Joseph Bros. & Co. and Miss Snyder, all of whom sent new articles in abundance; for boxes received from Millheim and other parts of the county, residents of which always manifest a great interest in the hospital; for donations of cash amounting to $53.06, which swelled the total fund to $1,016.01; and to manager Harper, of the Lyric, who gave his house for a benefit last evening.

The receipts in the various departments of the rummage sale were as follows: Women's department, $178.20; children's, $214.49; china, bric-a-brac, voting contest, etc., $131.31; men's $104.95; haberdasher, $71.37; shoes, $85.57; millinery, $82.20; boys $27.48; exchange, $67.38; cash donations, $53.06, making a total of $1,016.01.

The foot and ankle were crushed and after trying in vain to save the foot it was amputated on Wednesday.

—Shortly after noon on Saturday Andrew McNitt driving his E-M-F car collided with Will Keichline's taxi-cab at the Aiken corner on Allegheny and Bishop streets. The taxi-cab had a spring and one fender broken and the lamps smashed while McNitt's car had one fender torn loose and both lamps broken. Fortunately neither driver was running very fast else the accident might have been worse.

—On Friday of last week some reckless hunter shot a colt for Bun Williams, who lives on a farm between Martha and Port Matilda. The animal was pasturing in a field adjoining the woods and on Saturday when Mr. Williams went out to look for it he found it lying dead, with a bullet hole in the forehead. The colt was broken to work, of blooded stock and valued at two hundred dollars. Who shot it has not been learned.

—The trout in Spring creek are now hunting their spawning beds and this accounts for the dozen or more big ones that can be seen most any day in the creek opposite the WATCHMAN office. They not only present a tempting sight to local piscatorialists but strangers in town, who perhaps never saw a trout in a stream, stare with open-eyed wonderment at what to them is a great curiosity. Trout can be seen in this part of Spring creek during the next two or three weeks.

—On Tuesday three men, alleged to have been bar-tenders from Altoona, went into Warriorsmark valley and while the funeral of the late Martin L. Beck was in progress went to the home of Miles Buck and shot three of his turkeys, taking them home and exhibiting them as wild turkeys. They also stole a pig and some pumpkins. Fortunately the owner was able to learn the names of the treacherous hunters and a warrant was issued for their arrest with the intention of making an example of that kind of sportsmen.

—George Measchke, a son of Alois Measchke, of Tyrone, is in the Bellefonte hospital minus two toes. He came to Bellefonte last Saturday morning and went up Buffalo Run on a hunting expedition. When near Waddle station he stopped to rest, placing the muzzle of his shot gun on his right foot. In turning around his coat caught the trigger and the gun went off, tearing away the first and second toes of the foot. He was brought to Bellefonte and taken to the hospital where he is now under treatment.

—On Wednesday F. W. Crider sold the big Crider farm between Eagleville and Beech Creek to James H. Neese, his son John W. Neese and Reuben Tressler for $27,000. The farm is the largest in Bald Eagle valley, containing over four hundred acres, a good part of which is under cultivation, and it is very fertile and productive. It is the intention of the purchasers when they take possession next spring to divide the tract into three farms, one for each of them. Mr. Neese for several years has occupied one of the Reynolds farms recently purchased by the State for the new penitentiary site.

—Mr. Sam W. Baker, formerly of Howard, this county, but for so many years a resident of and connected with the public matters of Des Moines, Iowa, that he is known wherever that pretty little city is known, writes, in renewing his subscription for the coming year:

DES MOINES, IOWA, Nov. 1st, 1912. There are two suggestions of some significance that confront me today: One, that a few years ago, this date, I was born "down Bald Eagle." The other, that the tag on the wrapper of my WATCHMAN informs me that my paid up subscription expires, also at this date. So, to start my year properly I enclose you one dollar, the value to be received of which I think will tend to keep me regularly informed so that I will be able to maintain my political equilibrium of "A-I-I" at least until the branches have been scraped from the party in which I was born and bred. Yours truly, SAM W. BAKER.

—The county board of road and bridge viewers will hold a meeting in the grand jury room in the court house on Monday, November 25th, to hear testimony for and against applications for new roads or the vacation of old ones. SAXION.—A pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Young, on south Allegheny street, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Miss Ruth Young, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Charles S. Saxion. Rev. Ezra H. Yocum, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony and the attendants were Miss Esther Young, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Herbert Gray best man. After a brief informal reception Mr. and Mrs. Saxion left on the 4.44 train to spend a few days at the home of the bridegroom's parents in Birmingham, before taking up their residence in this place. Mr. Saxion is employed by the American Lime and Stone company and is an energetic and industrious young man.

—R. J. Kline, a son of William Kline, of Mt. Eagle, had a miraculous escape from death on Tuesday. For some time past he has been employed on the Emin-hiser farm at State College and on Tuesday morning he came to Bellefonte intending to go home to vote. He was standing on the platform at the passenger station waiting on the 9.25 train from Tyrone. He was right on the edge of the platform and when the train came in he paid no attention to the whistle or bell, with the result that he was hit by the engine and instead of being knocked in front of it was thrown face downward on the brick platform. His face was cut in several places and he sustained a deep cut on the back of his left hand but otherwise was not seriously injured. After washing the blood from his face and hand he proceeded on his journey.

—A large force of linemen went to work on Tuesday morning to make the numerous changes in the pole system of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania deemed necessary for the proposed improvement of their service. The lines will be changed on Spring street and rebuilt on Logan, Lamb and probably other streets. The changes will do away entirely with the line on the north side of High street. The new exchange equipment is being installed as rapidly as possible and it is expected that all the improvements will be completed by the first of the year.
