MANY DEER KILLED.—The deer hunting season will come to an end on Saturday and while it has been impossible up to this time to get anything like an accurate number of the deer killed in this section, it is no exaggeration to state that the complete returns will show the largest number killed in years, notwithstanding the absence of a tracking snow and other unfavorable conditions during the first half of the season.

The first deer brought to Bellefonte this season, were by L. H. Gettig on Saturday evening. He came in with two fine bucks, the result of the week's hunt of the Gettig party out in the Green Woods.

The Orviston hunting party, in camp at the head of Big run in the Alleghenies, got three bucks at one killing last Saturday. The men were starting out to make a drive and while walking quietly through the woods came upon a herd of ten deer.

The Eason party in camp on Baker's run in the Scootac region had five deer hanging up by the end of last week, and were hopeful of getting more this week. Up until Sunday the "Dick" Quigley party of Look Haven located at McClure's Springs, had three deer to their credit, one of which was shot by Mrs. Quigley.

The Uzzle party hunting out beyond Karthaus got one buck, and a party from Madera hunting in the mountains back of Hayes Run, got four deer and a bear. James Shearer, of Williamsport, hunting near Loganon, on Monday killed a buck which weighed 185 pounds.

The Foster crowd at State College had three deer up to Tuesday of this week, and the Riley party of Boalsburg five. On Monday a large doe ran into a wire fence at Coburn and hurt itself so badly that it was killed and the carcass sent to the Bellefonte hospital.

PENNSYLVANIA DAY AT STATE COLLEGE.—The annual observance of Pennsylvania Day at State College last Friday was on a far more elaborate scale than ever before, planned and carried out to impress all those who attended with the bigness of the institution and the urgent demands for greater State support in order to carry on successfully the great educational work of the college and do justice to the two thousand students in attendance this year. And if the pledges of the Gov- ernor, State officials and members of the Senate and Legislature can be counted upon State College will be well taken care of at the next session.

Governor Tener and party arrived at the College on Thursday evening and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Erle Sparks. Thursday evening was one of considerable social activity as a number of the fraternities held receptions and dances. The first part of the exercise on Friday morning was an industrial parade in which thirty-one large floats were used to show the different departments of the college as well as the work of the stu- dents. This was a very interesting fea- ture. Following the parade the new annex to the engineering building was dedicated, and later the regular Pennsylv- ania day exercises were held in the auditorium. Governor Tener presided at this meeting and the principal address was made by Attorney General John C. Bell. Senator Boies Penrose was present and also made a brief speech.

In the afternoon the battalion of cadets, numbering twelve hundred young men, was inspected by Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart. The Sophomore-Freshmen football game resulted in a tie -6 to 6. The Thanksgiving cotillion was held in the army Friday evening, which closed the day's exercises, though the Governor and party remained through Saturday in order to inspect the work being done on the new penitentiary site. Among the prominent guests present were Gov. Tener, Attorney General John C. Bell, Adj. Gen. Thomas J. Stewart, Senator Penrose, N. C. Shaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction; Congressman M. E. Olmsted, of Harris- burg; Representative Alter, Senator A. W. Powell, of Allegheny county, Auditor Gen- eral-elect; H. Walton Mitchell, of Pitts- burgh, vice president of the board of trustees, and Trustees J. Dawson Callery, E. S. Bayard and J. E. Quigley, of Pitts- burgh, as well as a large number of Sen- ators and Members of the Legislature.

A Pathe weekly operator was on the ground and took a moving picture of the industrial parade as well as the battalion drill and other important features of the day.

ARGUMENT IN CONTESTED WILL CASE.—The Altoona Times of Wednesday con- tained the following item in its Blair county court report: Judge Thomas J. Baldrige sat in court yesterday, to determine whether or not the late D. Miles Buck, of Warriorsburg, made a good and valid will. Mr. Buck bequeathed all his property to his brother-in-law, John P. Sebring, of Bellefonte. Mrs. Anna Stephens, his sister, contested this will alleging that her brother was insane and unduly influenced to make this disposition of his property. The will was drafted fourteen years ago by at- torney C. P. Hewes, of Bellefonte. Nine farmers testified that Mr. Buck was a quiet and reticent man, who did not love social companionship, shunned and avoided his neighbors, and either could not or would not talk with them on any ordi- nary topic of conversation.

It was argued that if talkativeness con- stituted a test of sanity, Oliver Gold- smith, the great author, must have been insane, for although he "wrote like an angel, yet he talked like poor Poll." The court was informed that years ago, match- making neighbors conceived the idea of marrying Buck to a spinster maiden of uncertain years. When the village teases and cut-ups sought to badger and plague Buck no less volens into the state of matrimony, he avoided their society, and led a solitary life, in the end gaining the reputation of being daffy and a hermit. W. C. Fletcher represented the contestant, and Robert W. Smith, Mr. Sebring. The court reserved its decision.

THE GIRL FROM BROADWAY.—Go and hear Gretchen Von Bergen in her original creation of the "College Widow" in "The Girl From Broadway" at Garman's on Monday evening, December 9th. The play is the collaboration of Karl Hoschna and Herbert-Hall Winslow, and has made them famous the country over. It is full of fun that is pure, music of the newest kind, settings, mountings and electrical innovations that dazzle, comedians and vaudeville acts of a superior grade, and everything that makes the new "The Girl From Broadway" one of the fore- most of all farce comedy productions. Everything has been polished up to the minute and shines forth in a blaze of glory. New musical specialties in every act.

Hon. and Mrs. Alva Agee were given quite an ovation by the students prior to their departure from State Col- lege last week for New Brunswick, N. J., where Mr. Agee will become the head of the State experiment station at Rutgers College. WHERE, OH WHERE?—A dispatch from Greensburg last Saturday stated that Mrs. C. E. Pownell, captain of the Salva- tion Army in that place, was one of the heirs to the estate of the late Catharine Reese, located between Bellefonte and State College. The estate was valued at $150,000, and Mrs. Pownell's share was $10,000. There are Reeses in Centre county and there was a Catharine Reese, but the Salvation Army captain will hunt a long time before she discovers one who left an estate of such proportions.

SPRING MILLS.

A number of our people entertained quite lar- gely at dinner on Thanksgiving day.

Butchering was quite lively here last week, but no very heavy work has been reported.

The twaddle of that aggregation of Suffragists in Philadelphia is enough to give anyone the colic.

Decidedly winter weather here on Monday last, snowing the greater part of the day, with high- cold winds.

W. H. Smith is erecting quite a large build- ing in the rear of his residence, to be used for a sum- mer kitchen.

The saleroom of the Penn Hall carriage works is being fitted up for the usual winter display of sleighs, from the highest grade to the ordinary runner. The works have been running on full time all fall, and Mr. Condo says they will continue to do so.

Hunters from here are not meeting with any great success. The Penn Hall club returned home on Saturday last. They secured but one deer. Quite a number were seen, but as one of the hunters remarked, as the de-use would have it, they were all the wrong kind. No bears were visible anywhere. The club say that the weather was too fine for hunting.

On our main thoroughfare through town there are two localities where the road takes a very sharp turn, impossible to see half a dozen feet ahead. At these points danger signs are up for autos to be driven slow. But no attention seems to be paid to the caution, as these "mon- sters of the road" are driven ahead at a high rate of speed the same as running on a straight line. A collision and smash-up will occur at these points some day, and if only the reckless chauff- eur meets with damage, it will about serve him right.

Fancy a man dying of thirst, by the side of a spring of sparkling water. Thousands of thirsty people pass him, quench their thirst at the spring and go on their way rejoicing. But he doesn't know whether the water will quench his thirst or not. He never will know until he tries. But the fact that the other thousands have slaked their thirst at the spring is evidence enough. There are people bearing the burdens of disease, who are offered healing in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has heal- ed hundreds of thousands whose lungs were diseased, whose blood being impure bred disease in other organs nourished by the blood. And yet these people have never yet made the trial of this cure remedy. They are not sure it will cure them. It has cured ninety-eight per cent. of all who have used it. It always helps. It almost always cures.

When there is constipated habit use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Arbitrators Point Out Danger to Public of Strikes and Federal and State Commission Suggested as Remedy.

Thirty thousand locomotive engi- neers on a fifty-two eastern railroads gain a partial victory in their demand for more wages, under the award an- nounced by the board of arbitration.

In its decision, however, the board holds that the public, which had no voice but to abide by the decision had more at stake than either engi- neers or railroads; and the report emphasizes the necessity of plans to safeguard the public against the possi- bility of a future strike, whose conse- quences it depicts in somber vein.

"It would be difficult to exaggerate the seriousness of such a calamity," reads the report. "It is safe to say that the large cities of the east would find their supply of many articles of food exhausted within a week. Of so important a commodity as milk they would have no more than a day's sup- ply. If a strike of the character averted for only a single week, the suffering would be beyond our power of descrip- tion. The interests of the public so far- exceed those of the parties to a con- troversy as to render the former para- mount. To this paramount interest both the railroad operators and the employes should submit."

To place such a strike beyond the realms of probability, the board advoc- ates the creation of federal and state wage commissions. These commis- sions, the board suggests, should be vested with practically the same pow- ers over organized labor as public utilities commissions now exercise over quasi-public corporations.

"It is the belief of the board," con- tinues the decision, "that in the last analysis the only solution is to qualify the principle of free contract in the railroad service."

From this suggestion F. H. Morris- sey, the representative of the engi- neers on the board, dissents.

While the award increases wages on some railroads and for some classes of service, it holds that a general increase on all roads is not warrant- ed. The award dates back to May 1 last, and will hold for one year from that date.

Mr. Morrissey, representing the engi- neers, has already indicated doubt as to its renewal. In the past, with several notable exceptions, the con- tracts between the roads and the engi- neers have been renewed annually.

Following are the more important of the board's awards and the requests of the engineers:

In passenger service, a minimum wage was granted of $4.25 for 100 miles or less; and an overtime rate of 50 cents per hour with an average speed of twenty miles per hour. The engineers asked $4.40 and $4.60 per day of 100 miles, according to the size of the locomotive cylinder, with an overtime rate of 70 cents per hour after five hours.

In through freight service a minimum wage was granted of $4.75 per day of 100 miles or less, with overtime pro rata after ten hours. The engineers requested rates of $5.25, $5.50 and $5.75 per day of 100 miles, according to size of the engine; and $7 for Mal- let engines; the same rates to apply to mine runs, work, wreck, helper or pusher, milk and circus trains.

In local freight service, twenty-five cents additional to the through freight rates was granted. This met the full request of the engineers.

In switching service, a minimum of $4.10 a day of ten hours or less was granted. The engineers asked $4.50 per day of ten hours in switching ser- vice and for belt line service.

All existing rates higher than the minimum granted by the board are continued in force.

In fixing the minimum wage in pas- senger service at $4.25 per day, a higher minimum rate is established for the roads, parties to the arbitra- tion with the exception of a few.

In awarding the minimum through freight rate of $4.75 per day, the board establishes wages for the dis- trict that measurably approach the current minimum of roads now paying the better rates.

In making the rate for local freight service twenty-five cents higher than through freight service a general in- crease of compensation is granted.

The effect of the twenty-mile per hour basis of computing overtime in the passenger service, the rules re- garding final terminal delay and other changes in the rules of service are all more favorable to the engineers than existing rules on many of the roads.

Eighteen Miners Hurt in Cave-in. Eighteen men were seriously injured by a cave-in at the Barnum mine, No. 2, of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Duryea, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

The cave-in came without warning, and the injured men were partly cov- ered by the slate and coal. Rescuers promptly went to work and the en- tombed men were taken to the surface before gas could accumulate.

Thirty other men, who were in the mine at the time, escaped by a second opening.

The most seriously injured are: A. E. Jetter, superintendent of the col- liery, injured internally; John J. Mc- Nulty, miner and treasurer of the school district of Pittston; Frank Flannery, miner; Martin Reap, miner, and James Langan, miner. All the other victims are foreigners. Several of the injured are likely to die.

Nearly all the physicians in the vicin- ity were summoned to the shaft to attend to the injured. Most of the victims were removed to the Pittston hos- pital.

An investigation shows that the ac- cident was caused by a depression in the surface, which caused the roof to fall and entombed the men in the place they were working.
