What a Democratic Board of Commissioners Has Done in One Year.

The WATCHMAN gave a guarantee to the voters of Centre county in the fall of 1911. When the present Board of County Commissioners were candidates for office it was this paper that analyzed the business methods of their predecessors and published broadcast the guarantee that if NOLL and GROVE would be elected the business of the county would be more economically conducted.

The WATCHMAN congratulates the County Commissioners, it congratulates the taxpayers of Centre county and it points with pride to the fulfillment of its own guarantee made in 1911.

Never by word or inuendo, in that campaign, did this paper charge any sort of dishonesty in the court house, because we did not then and do not now believe that the old Board of Commissioners would be a party to anything that even savored of wrong.

The guarantee this paper gave to the tax payers was in no way an intimation that it expected to have a finger in the management of the Commissioner's office should Messrs. NOLL and GROVE be elected.

When NOLL and GROVE went into office there was a balance of only $278.10 in the treasury. Now there is $15,284.74.

When they went into office there were bonds and notes outstanding and unpaid to the amount of $160,867.00. Now they amount to $142,445.90.

When they went into office the total indebtedness of the county was $139,506.85. Now it is only $80,699.22; which means that in one year they have saved for you $58,806.62.

It is true that your tax millage has raised, but that you know to be inevitable because the old levy was insufficient to run the county after it had been plunged so far into debt.

Through every department the statement reveals the prudent management of your Commissioners and, best of all, it carries the assurance that beginning with 1914 taxes will begin to fall. For now that the Board has fully acquainted itself with the business greater things may be expected in 1913 than are recorded for 1912.

Manifestly it is unfair to refrain from giving full credit for this splendid achievement to everyone who contributed to it. Therefore we heartily congratulate all of the other county officials for had their offices been expensively conducted the Commissioners could not have made the showing presented.

JOHNSTON.—Harry H. Johnston, a brother of J. Kennedy Johnston, died at his home in Fresno, California, on Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of two weeks.

THE MEANS OF GRACE.

Most of the WATCHMAN readers have read and heard not a little about the necessity and privilege of using the means of grace. That is what all of us ought to do. There is "growth in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ"; no progress in Christian living; no regeneration, sanctification or salvation without a faithful and diligent use of the means of grace.

MISSIONER. Bellefonte, March 10, 1913.

PALM SUNDAY IN OLIVE BRANCH CHAPEL.

If the weather is not too unfavorable on Palm Sunday, March 16th, the Bible school in the Olive Branch chapel, observing its 6th anniversary, will be favored by the presence and services of Rector John Hewitt and some of his choir singers at 2:30 p. m.

All who can be present on that sacredly important occasion will receive a cordial gospel welcome with free seats if they come in time to occupy them.

Father McArdle will provide palms for all the scholars. Collection will be taken to provide better seating accommodation, chairs, etc.

Mr. W. C. Pringle, of the national reform movement, will speak in the Methodist church on Sunday morning; will talk to boys in the Presbyterian church in the afternoon, and in the evening united services of the Y. M. C. A. and United Brethren church will be held in the latter edifice.

Confirmation services will be held in St. John's Reformed church next Sunday at 11 a. m. Music and sermon will be in harmony with the day—Palm Sunday.

Life Guards.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but your, ours, everybody's should have its life guards. The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip, and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of all life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.

An Appeal to Old Soldiers.

BELLEFONTE, PA., March 7th, 1913. Comrades of the G. A. R. and Members of Post 95.

The committee of Gregg Post No. 95 having in charge the financial management of Post 95, find it absolutely necessary to take this appeal to members of the Post. Membership in any Post prescribes certain rules and regulations, and entails various obligations on the members thereof.

We regret to say that many members of Gregg Post are not observing these obligations, thereby making the burden of sustaining the Post a heavy one for those who never falter in their loyalty to the Post, and to all the glorious and honorable traditions of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Comrades, we trust your pride in the achievements on tented field and bloody battle ground of that great Army, of which we are but a remnant, will prompt you to a fuller realization of what is due to yourselves, as well as to the comrades of the Post, who are struggling to uphold the honor of the G. A. R.

Do not forget that ONLY THOSE who served their country during the dark days, from 1861 to 1865, are eligible to membership in the G. A. R.

Comrades, the hand of time has traced the lines of half a century upon our brows since Appomattox, and many have answered the roll call since then, but as we stand then shoulder to shoulder, let us, as long as two remain, to "speak of deeds that else were silent save on marble," maintain our allegiance to the Grand Army of the Republic.

In conclusion we call attention of the Comrades to Article 3, Section 4 of the by-laws of Post 95. Comrades, renew and keep up your connection with the Post. Yours in F. C. and L. COMMITTEE.

SPRING MILLS.

Mrs. Susan Hering has been on the sick list for the last week.

Miss Mabel Neese made a visit to Centre Hall on Sunday last.

L. F. Brown, of Selingsgrove, made us a flying visit on Tuesday last.

Miss Bessie Grove left on Friday of last week on a month's visit to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bair and Mrs. Dunlap spent Sunday last in Millinburg, guests of Mrs. Bair's daughter, Mrs. Wentz.

Luther Muser, who had an operation performed for appendicitis a few weeks since, is improving quite rapidly.

To stock the remaining empty ice houses this winter looks like dismal business just now. Quite a number are without a pound.

Mrs. Harry Kreamer and Miss Helen Bartholomew, of Centre Hall, were the guests of Mrs. C. C. Cummings on Saturday last.

John Messer is now an agent for the Harrisburg bakery, and delivers bread and cakes twice a week, here in town and in the neighborhood.

Rev. Martin, of the Evangelical church, who has been with us for the last few years, now goes to Sugar Valley. We are sorry to lose the reverend gentleman, he is a kind neighbor and a good citizen.

J. C. Condo, of the Penn Hall carriage works, managed to dispose of nearly all his sleighs and sleds. Fortunately his stock was not as large as usual, had it been, the profits would have been on the wrong side of the ledger.

Mr. Condo made a business trip to Columbia county last week.

The farmers institutes in Centre county promise to be highly interesting and instructive. The institute will be held here on the 14th and 15th insts., in the morning, afternoon and evening. The different subjects will be discussed by able speakers. No doubt the attendance will be large, as the program is quite lengthy.

Prof. U. A. Meyer will commence a session of High school in our Academy building on April 7th, for those desirous of becoming teachers and others. The curriculum embraces all the higher branches of learning, and the general instructions are on a plane almost equal to a college.

Mr. Meyer is widely known as a finished scholar, and ranks high as a teacher and instructor.

Our railroad agent, J. C. Lee, is very fortunate in having two such able and accommodating assistants as Homer Snook and Ray Rosman. Nothing seems to be too much trouble for either of them. Quick, affable and always pleasant, any business you have at the office is attended to at once. There is never any delay in receiving or delivering freight, but everything is done promptly and in a business like manner. These two assistants will evidently be, at no very distant day, thorough railroad men.
