other enabled the whole battalion to cross over in single file.

Meanwhile the Second Middlesex, not to be beaten, borrowed haif a dozen empty beer barrels from an inn and made a light foot bridge.

The Somerset Light infantry finding plenty of cut timber in Pyestock wood, made a fairly substantial trestle bridge in less than two hours, across which all the vehicles of the brigade were passed, the battalion following in fours.

The Second Border regiment also constructed a light barrel bridge, and the whole brigade crossed the canal, thanks to their handy men, without mishap, the rear guard destroying the bridges.

"Humbug" Spreading Out.

"Once upon a time," writes an American woman from Munich, "the humbug was looked upon as a strictly American product. With its habitat in the land of Uncle Sam, the echo of its 'hum' might sometimes reach beyond the sea, but the bug itself, it was supposed, could never live and thrive except in the country which had produced the wooden nutmeg, Cardiff giant and the army of worthless mine promoters. But the humbug has become an institution in Germany, and some American tourists who climb mountains incautiously will realize the fact when the edelweiss which they took home as proof of their deeds is discovered to be a sham, made in this city, with intent immediately confessed. to deceive."

Most persons know the story that is told of Cleopatra to illustrate her luxurious habits of living-that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution.

The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly, and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind, in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.

Health is the vital force of woman's attractiveness. When she loses her health she loses her charm. Nothing can simulate the sparkle health gives to the eye, the mirth it lends to the laugh. The general health of woman is bound up with local health of the delicate womanly organs, and any attempt to re-establish the health of woman must begin by curing the ulceration, inflammation or fe-male weakness, or stopping the debilitat-ing drains which sap the strength and mar the beauty. The use of Dr Pierce's Favorits Prescription works wonders in restoring the general health. "Friends hardly know me." "I am again robust and rosy cheeked," are only some of the frequent testimonies to the rejuvenating power of "Favorite Prescription." ad. appeared in the sa recognized gentleman the purse on Boylst quests the loser to call --Boston Transcript.

large numbers. Bee experts say they may come from many miles around. The remarkable thing is that although this one particular factory has been honored by these armies of visitors for ten years two mineral water factories quite near at hand have been left severely alone. Another curious thing is that the bees come every morning as soon as day breaks and depart when the sun does down. They do not deliberately sting, but some employes have been stung through catching hold of some utensil upon which bees have fastened.

Small Clue to Crime. A mysterious St. Petersburg crime has just been solved by means of a trousers button. Some days ago the police found the bodies of a well-to-do couple named Andrejeiff lying near the Ninekaja railway station, bearing unmistakable evidence of having been stabbed to death. The wife was known in the district on account of the valuable jewelry she used to wear, and the jewelry was missing when her body was found. No clue to the identity of the murderers could be found except a trousers button, which was lying near the bodies, but as this button was similar to those used for a certain uniform a search was instituted. This led to the discovery of a man in the One Hundred and Forty-sixth Infantry regiment whose trousers were minus a button, and on being accused of the crime he

"'Nothing on earth,' she answered; and then, with a little silvery laugh, she added, 'Nothing in this world. Nothing under heaven.' "-New York Tribune.

Called the Bluff.

"So you advertised for your lost purse, pretending that the person who found it was recognized?"

"Yes." "How did the bluff work?" "Didn't work at all. Next day this ad. appeared in the same paper: "The recognized gentleman who picked up the purse on Boylston street re-quests the loser to call at his house."

catch fish Life Without Microbes.

The oft-debated question as to whether there can be life without microhes is held to have been solved by M. Michel Cohendy of the Pasteur institute of Paris, who has reared live chickens in an enclosed space which was quite free from microbes. By the use of an ingenious apparatus for hatching the chickens and then rais ing them for a certain time, he was able to produce animals which did not contain any microbes, and they were able to live, and appeared to be as healthy as usual. His apparatus served in the first place as an incubator for hatching the eggs and then as a chamber where the chickens are able to live as long as may be desired. M. Cohendy kept the chickens in his apparatus for 45 days, and the contents of their digestive organs, blood and so on, were found to be free from microbes. Those that were kept alive did not seem to suffer at all from being transferred to the germ-laden atmosphere, for they grew up success fully.

Machine to Write Music,

A German musician has invented a machine which, he states, automatically registers the notes emitted by the piano. The new machine has the same object as one invented by an Italian and used by Mascagni in writing his operas, but it is a larger instrument and is operated by elec-tricity. Into the machine is inserted a roll of paper, and the composer seats himself before the piano and executes the composition that he desires to give to the public. The machine faithfully registers every note produced, so that the musician does not have to depend upon his memory. -Harper's Weekly.

Herons Most Affectionate Birds. Of all the birds he had studied, said W. Farren in a lecture at the Royal Photographic society's exhibition, (London, England,) none showed conjugal affection in quite the same way as the brown backed herons of Andalusia in Spain. Whenever the husband relieved his wife at the nest he invariably laid his neck over hers in a momentary embrace and then took up his position while the other bird flew away. The herons never omitted this affectionate salutation.

St. Petersburg's Growth.

That St. Petersburg is rapidly growing in population is evidenced by the census taken in December, 1910, which showed the population, including certain suburban villages formerly not covered, to be 1.907,708. It is preeminently an "office town," and also a seaport for six or eight months of the year.
