BOROUGH COUNCIL PETITIONED TO KEEP YOUNG GIRLS OFF THE STREETS.

Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, Judge Ellis L. Orvis and district attorney D. Paul Fortney appeared before council, at the regular meeting Monday evening and begged of that honorable body to do something to keep the girls of tender age from congregating in the alleys and dark places around town with boys and young men, and if possible keep them off the streets at night. Dr. Schmidt was the principal speaker and he stated that the lax and immoral condition existing in Bellefonte was woeful beyond description. That young girls from twelve years of age upwards were allowed to go where they will, when they will and with whom they will at any and all hours between sundown and midnight. Among the places he mentioned as favorite hanging-out places were the armory, in the vicinity of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania depot and Crider's lumber yard. Dr. Schmidt stated that he was probably brought into closer touch with the situation in Bellefonte than the average citizen through his association with the juvenile court. He further stated that just now the probation officer had oversight over eight boys and girls in this community who had been committed to his care by the court. Dr. Schmidt suggested as a remedy that an extra policeman or plain clothes watchman be employed to serve from seven o'clock in the evening until midnight, whose special duty it will be to prevent the young people from congregating in the alleys and dark places.

Judge Orvis stated that he was present to corroborate Dr. Schmidt in what he said about existing conditions and while he knew that council could not regulate or control the moral condition of the town, if they could see their way clear to appointing a plain clothes man for a time at least it might result in a great deal of good. Burgess Bower stated that the condition is one that the borough authorities have been up against for some time but he thought that it was more or less exaggerated. He said that he knew of perhaps four or five girls who should not be allowed on the streets at night, and the police had instructions to order them home whenever there was anything suspicious in their actions. But it was a rather difficult situation to cope with, for while girls may be under suspicion and morally you believe them guilty, as long as you can't prove it the authorities have no legal right to chase them off the streets, if they are past the curfew age.

He further stated that one of the worst places in Bellefonte for boys and girls and young men and women to meet and make dates was between the corner at Beezer's meat market and the Scenic, and that the police had instructions to keep the crowd moving in that locality. Having heard all parties president Keller referred the matter to the Fire and Police committee for investigation and report on what they thought would be the best way to control the situation. So be careful, girls, you may be nabbed by a plain clothes man before you know what's happening.

In the reports of committees the market committee suggested that the newspapers give notice of the fact that it was time for the curb market to open, but no date was given. However, if truck raisers and farmers have anything to market they will doubtless be at liberty to bring it in any time.

Complaint was made about the new crossing recently put down on south Water street, at the Bellefonte steam laundry. It was described as a regular "camel-back," and dangerous. The Street committee was instructed to see that it was fixed.

Secretary W. T. Kelly stated that he had been requested by a number of citizens to ask if council would put oil on the streets if they would buy it. That the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply company had arranged for a tank wagon and the expense of putting on the oil would be less than last year. Council voted to put on the oil as has been done in years past.

An old note for $5,000 was renewed for six months from May 5th, a new note for $500 authorized for one year and bills to the amount of $1,216.93 were approved and council adjourned.

—May sale of muslin-underwear at AIKEN'S, beginning Saturday the 10th.

SOMETHING UNIQUE IN MINSTRELSY.

The Bellefonte Academy minstrelsy will inaugurate a new departure in minstrelsy at their annual appearance next Thursday and Friday nights when they will do away with the customary second part and have one continuous performance from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Two full hours of fun and music. All the jokes and music are new and will appeal to a Bellefonte audience. Remember that the curtain will go up promptly at 8:15 o'clock and not a minute later. Immediately after the performance Mrs. Garber will give an after dance in the Bush Arcade hall. Don't fail to watch for the big free street parade at noon. The State College band of sixteen pieces, in full uniform will lead the parade, while the regalias worn by the minstrels will be simply gorgeous. Remember the dates, Thursday and Friday, May 15th and 16th; the time, 8:15 o'clock, and the prices, 25 to 75 cents. Buy your tickets early in order to insure getting good seats.

—Frank G. Clark, of New York, manager of Clark's tours around the world, one of which was taken by George T. Bush and Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway, has already begun arrangements for one to start in January, 1915, and go through the Panama canal, across the Pacific ocean and return by way of the Suez canal and Atlantic ocean. A large ocean liner will be chartered for the trip.

—Bellefonters who were out at Hughes field last Saturday and saw the Bellefonte Academy base-ball team defeat the strong Lyceum team of Altoona, will have another opportunity today to see a good game, when the Bloomsburg Normal will be the Academy's opponents on Hughes field. Game will be called at 3:15 o'clock and you want to be there for the opening and stay until the last man is out.

—The weather has been pretty warm the past week, but the scenic is always comfortable, and warm weather does not affect the pictures in any way. The quality is the same all the year round and the scenic is the place to see them. Never less than three reels and sometimes four reels a night, all of the General Film company release. Can you beat that anywhere else for five cents? It is just the hour you need each evening to help you forget the cares and worries of daily life.

—A consignment of six hundred chicks, one day old, were at the Adams express office here over Monday night. They were shipped by Bartholomew, at Centre Hall, to a party in Oklahoma and as the Lewisburg train was late they missed connection with the 4:44 west here consequently lost twelve hours. Had they made the connection desired they would have been near St. Louis by the time they actually did get away from here Tuesday morning. All of the chicks were in one six tier crate, one hundred in a tier, and had neither food nor water, as they are not required by chicks for the first two or three days of their life.

—Mrs. Frances Knoche gave a house warming on the old Dr. Bates farm near Tow Hill last night that attracted a large party of guests, every one of whom enjoyed to the uttermost the wholesome, good old fashioned country entertainment. From this community Misses Anne Fox, Lulu McMullen, Louise Ardy, Messrs. William Burnside, Andy McNitt, W. G. Runkle, Harry Green, Hard and Linn Harris were fortunate enough to be present. They had their rendezvous at Scotia and were driven from there to the Knoche home in the Scotia band wagon drawn by a team of mules. Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Clemons, Mr. and Mrs. D. Blanchard Mattern, Mr. and Mrs. Coons, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray, Miss Annie Gray and the Misses Sellers.

—Henry Keller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Keller, who was one of forty out of a class of 264 to pass the examination for admission to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, has been turned down by the physical examining board of the Navy Department because of two physical defects that cannot be overcome. He went to Washington a week ago last Monday to undergo the physical examination and while one defect was a minor one the other was such that the physician in charge of the examining board could not pass him. However, wishing to give him every chance the physician gave him a copy of his report and a letter to the surgeon general of the Navy explaining all the circumstances in the case and detailing Henry's eagerness to enter the Naval Academy. The latter took the papers to the surgeon general but after carefully considering them he decided that he could do nothing. The physical defects referred to above in nowise affect Mr. Keller's health but pertain entirely to measurements and certain lines of perfection that are required for admission to the Naval Academy.

—On Monday afternoon Charles Watson, of Snow Shoe, was in Bellefonte to get his E-M-F car which he had had in the machine shop for repair, and to try it out deciding to drive down Nittany valley, invited Col. H. S. Taylor and two other gentlemen to go along. On the return trip, in the neighborhood of Nigh bank, Col. Taylor's hat blew off. The car was stopped and getting out the colonel ran back to get his hat when a man came running toward him wildly gesticulating and on getting close enough told the colonel to telephone to the office of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and tell them that a bridge out there was burning down. The passenger train from Lock Haven was due in a few minutes and Col. Taylor advised the man to go down the road and flag it, as there was no way of reaching a running train by telephone. The man did so and the train was stopped before the burning structure was reached. The bridge in question is a small wooden one below Nigh bank and the fire was extinguished before the structure was burned to a dangerous condition, so that the train reached Bellefonte only a few minutes late.

CENTRE COUNTY PRISONER BREAKS JAIL.

—Harry Meese, of Coleville, better known as "Beany," who was in the Centre county jail awaiting trial on the charge of stealing chickens, planned and successfully carried out a jail delivery all his own on Monday evening, but his liberty was short-lived as he was recaptured Tuesday night and then it was back to the dungeon for him.

Meese's absence was discovered on Monday night when roll call was taken to lock the prisoners in their cells, but the fact did not leak out until the next day. How Meese managed to escape was as follows: In some way he got hold of a piece of wire and made a skeleton key with which he unlocked the door to one of the old cells on the lower floor. He went into the cell early in the evening and had little trouble tearing up a piece of the flooring. He then dropped down into the cellar and got out into the jail yard through an outside cellar door which he found conveniently unfastened. Mrs. Meese was up to see her husband on Monday afternoon and she is blamed for kicking loose the cellar door fastening.

At the rear of the jail is an old woodshed and a number of plank are piled there. Meese put a plank on end, crawled to the top of the building, then drew the plank up and made a foot bridge with it from the top of the building to the top of the jail yard wall. As told by himself after being rearrested he heard the locomotive whistle of the 8:30 train as he was walking the plank. When he got on the wall he saw only hard earth and stones beneath so he walked around to the rear end and jumped down into the soft earth of the sheriff's onion patch. He then ran down Ridge street to Howard and down past the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania depot and down the Pennsylvania railroad to the round house, reaching there just as the 8:30 train passed him going out from the Bellefonte station, so that he was running some.

He went to Coleville and to the home of Thos. Speece, where his wife is staying, where he spent the night. Tuesday he spent away from the house, mostly among the foreign laborers in the stone quarries. However, he was seen and recognized by several parties and the sheriff was given the tip. Tuesday night, or rather about two o'clock Wednesday morning, deputy sheriff W. C. Rowe, policemen Harry Dukeman and Jacob Knisely, Fred Lane and Harry Gehret went out to Coleville and while four of the men stood on guard around the Speece home two of them went in. When Meese heard the officers in the house he threw up the window and clad only in his night clothes crawled out onto the porch roof and started to crawl down a post. Deputy Rowe was stationed there and he sprang a flashlight and called upon his man to surrender when Meese started to climb back on the porch roof. Before he could do so, however, he was captured, and after getting dressed was brought to town and lodged in jail. He is now liable for trial on the charge of stealing chickens as well as breaking out of jail.

—May sale of muslin-underwear at AIKEN'S, beginning Saturday the 10th.

THE JUVENILE COURT.—At council meeting on Monday evening Dr. Schmidt spoke of the large number of cases of youthful offenders that have been before the juvenile court and ascribed one cause as the running around at night. The juvenile court was established in 1908 and during the five years it has been in existence just twenty-four cases have been brought before it, or an average of about five a year. And this includes not only Bellefonte but all of Centre county, so that the record cannot be considered a very bad one.

—Advertising car number one for young Buffalo Bill's circus, which will be in Bellefonte on Saturday, May 24th, will be here tomorrow to bill the town and surrounding country with glaring posters of Bellefonte's first show of the season.
