

Democrats Decide to Hear No More Manufacturers After Next Tuesday and May Report Bill Following Monday.

Raw materials probably will be put on the free list in all instances where the house has determined in the Underwood tariff bill to remove all quotas from the product manufactured from those materials.

A radical program to this effect was decided upon by the sub-committee of the senate finance committee, and will be brought before the entire committee for consideration.

The proposed change, which affects many sections of the bill, is understood to have begun with wheat. The house placed flour on the free list, but made wheat dutiable. Western millers brought strong pressure to bear to have wheat placed on the free list to establish a balance. As soon as this change was agreed to in sub-committee further pressure was put on to bear to apply the same principle to the entire bill, with the result in one instance that ferro-manganese also will be placed on the free list. This represents a victory for the independent steel manufacturers.

Barley, rye and other agricultural products are affected; cattle also are to come in free. The amendments are of such importance that the effect on revenue must be taken into consideration, and this may determine whether the program is to be put through.

Democratic members of the finance committee decided to hear no more manufacturers after next Tuesday, and Senator Simmons issued a statement in which he said:

"The Democratic members of the finance committee desire that all persons who wish to confer with the sub-committees with reference to schedules referred to them should do so before the close of next Tuesday. After then the sub-committee will begin the work of actually framing the schedules."

Mr. Simmons added that no individual member could spare further time to listen to manufacturers. After next Tuesday the committee expects to complete the bill in four days or in time to report to the full committee the following Monday. Then the Democratic caucus will be called.

Mr. Simmons believes the bill will be ready for report to the senate by June 7. The cutting off of hearings will not stop the filing of briefs.

The entire committee met for the first time and took up the fight over making public names of manufacturers and others who appear before the sub-committees and publishing briefs filed in protest against rates.

Reply of the United States to Protest Made by Japan Has Been Delivered.

Governor Johnson, of California, signed the Webb alien land bill in Sacramento, aimed to restrict the ownership of land by Japanese and other aliens not eligible to American citizenship.

The approval of the measure, against which the Japanese government has made a vigorous protest and in an effort to sidetrack which Secretary of State Bryan traveled across the continent, will place on a more certain basis the negotiations between Japan and the federal government.

It is understood that President Wilson and his advisers, although informed of Governor Johnson's intention of signing the Webb measure, had intended to await the actual approval of the legislation before delivering the government's reply to the Japanese protest to Viscount Chinda, the Japanese ambassador in Washington.

Governor Johnson said he would wait a suitable length of time before signing the bill to give the president time to outline any further objection to the measure. As no communication from Washington was forthcoming, he gave his executive approval to the bill.

The next step, so far as California is concerned, probably will be the circulation of petitions for a referendum vote by the people on the act. If 70,000 signatures are obtained the petition will hold up the law till it has been passed upon at the polls a year from next November.

Unless held up by a referendum the act will go into effect ninety days from date, or on Aug. 17.

Governor Johnson, after signing the bill gave out the following statement: "I repeat what I have before said: That California has an anti-alien law. Any man who wishes another kind of law may consistently invoke the initiative. No man who really wishes an anti-alien law will sign a referendum as to this law.

"If another law is sought it may be presented by means of the initiative and in the meantime the present law will be in operation. To tie up the present law means no law until November, 1914."

Bank Official Stole Cigars.

Grant Stafford, vice president of the bank in Winfield, Kan., accounted one of the wealthiest men in Winfield, was convicted by a jury on five counts charging the theft of cigars from local dealers. Testimony was that Stafford on seven occasions took more cigars than he paid for. Sentence was deferred.

Grief Kills Boy Pitcher.

"Had I pitched my school would have won the pennant, but it's too late now; we've lost." Willie Lieser, fourteen years old, champion pitcher of the St. Paul, Minn., grade school, sobbed these words, buried his face in the bed clothing and died of a broken heart.

LEMONT.

Bruce Mitchell, of West Virginia, visited a few days among friends in town.

The class at the Boalsburg teacher's examination was made up of six teachers.

The new fence put around the Houserville cemetery is quite an improvement over the old one.

J. Harvey Shuey is attending a session of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Gettysburg, this week.

William E. Williams and wife, of Altoona, came down on Saturday to visit among friends in town.

Mrs. William Grove and children, of Watson, town, have been spending the past week among friends in this part.

J. B. Mayes and John M. Coble each had a coat of paint put on their residences, which makes them look bright and cozy.

The corn is coming up and the oats, wheat and grass are doing as well as can be expected, as they have been having such cold nights.

The state road people are moving their outfit from the State College quarries to the S. B. Warren farm near Lemont, where they will open new quarries.

THE JUNE WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.—The June Woman's Home Companion contains a further account of the fight for "Better Babies" which is now being carried on all over the United States. A number of photographs of prize-winning children are reproduced with this month's report. The campaign is a great educational movement, inasmuch as it is promulgating the best available ideas in the scientific care of children.

Other valuable articles are: "How To Take Your Vacation"; "The World's Greatest Lovers"; "Not One Minute to Lose," an article in which the author tells about the great work done by the National Consumers' League toward convincing the public not to buy goods made in sweatshops; "Fit for Company," an article in which the author shows the absurdity of the idea that extravagance and foolish preparations must be made for "company"; and "The Mother's Part," an article in which the author makes many practical suggestions to mothers in connection with the training of daughters.

Fiction by a great variety of writers, art features contributed by many of our most talented illustrators, and two departments full of good reading and useful ideas, complete an issue unusually charming and serviceable to the reader.
