A number of timber land owners have criticised the Pennsylvania Forest Fire Protective association, recently organized in this county, for lack of efficiency, but the criticism is very unjust. beauty, the Big Spring, now shows off to greater advantage than ever before since that new concrete pavement and curb has been completed, all the ground perfectly sodded and the spring cleaned out. It now shows off to better advantage than ever before and its real bigness is easily apparent. And when the fact is noted that more than half the capacity of the spring runs over the gate and down the tail-race into Spring creek it is hard to conceive that some Bellefonte residents are continually on short water rations, but such is a fact, nevertheless.

---On Monday evening a man was struck by a freight train in the New York Central railroad yards at Newberry, near Williamsport, and seriously injured. He was taken to the Williamsport hospital where it was found that his condition was such that he was unable to tell his name or anything about himself. From newspaper clippings and letters in his pockets the authorities decided he was Brinton Mongan, of Bellefonte, which is probably correct. Mongan is of a roving disposition and has probably figured in more accidents, scrapes and police nets than any man for his age in this section. Just how serious his present injuries are is not known.

-A good-sized crowd was in Bellefonte last Saturday to see Young Buffaeast show and all who attended were well pleased with the performance. In addition to the general run of events pulled off in a wild west they had a number of new features never before seen in Bellefonte. > GOVERNOR APPROVES PENITENTIARY PLANS.-Plans for the new western penitentiary which the State will build in Benner township, this county, were submitted to Governor Tener on Tuesday by the inspectors of the western insitution, superintendent of construction John Francies and architect John T. Windrim, of Philadelphia. The plans call for a model institution, with thirty-eight acres inclosed within a wall and accommodations for one thousand prisoners. The buildings will be in a group plan and will be constructed of native stone. This penitentiary will embrace the most modern ideas in the care of prisoners and will be far and away above those of the present. The Governor expressed his satisfaction with the scheme and will send a formal letter of approval.

He carried with him a camping outfit and in nice weather will rough it along the journey, in this way anticipating a delightful time.

-Mr. Frank McMahon, one of Bellefonte' promising young men, has accepted a position in Johnstown and left for his new home on Monday We can assure the people of that bustling little city in getting him away from Bellefonte they have taken from it one of the kind of boys that helps give a town a good name, and one of the kind that any community is always the better for having.

-Hon. W. C. Lingie, of Philipsburg, and J Frank Lingle, of Patton, were Bellefonte visitors from Monday until Wednesday, the former having some business in court while the latter came over on a visit, his first in four years. Hon. W. C. Lingle and family, who spent the past year or more in Olcott, West Virginia, have moved back to their old home in Philipsburg and will reside there in the future.

-John Snyder, Sr., of State College, was a juror at court this week and of all the pokes good old Bellefonte has ever received we think he nanded us out the worst one. When asked whether he wasn't sorry that court adjourned so early in the week, he replied: "Sorry, well, I should say not. I couldn't stand it down here. seems too much like Sunday, I'll be glad to get back home where there is something doing every minute.'

-Among the jurors at court this week was R. C. Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, looking sleek and contented as good health and the satisfaction of living under a Democratic administration could make one. He was almost a stranger in Belle onte, as he doesn't come in nearly as often as was his custom in years gone by.
