

The Commonwealth Male Quartet

AT THE 1913 CHAUTAUQUA.

These "big town" entertainers are known in a dozen States. Niagara Falls, Milwaukee, Galveston, Richmond, Rochester, Harrisburg have all heard them in the last season, and the enthusiastic comment of committees and press all down the line has been "the most versatile troupe in Lyceum work!" Every one is a master of make-up, and mimicry, solo and chorus work. Besides, the first tenor plays the piano and the baritone gives readings. Chautauqua has secured them to give the assembly this summer two hours packed full of everything delightful from a Southern melody with banjo accompaniment to the impersonation of "Uncle Billy" in a humorous recitation.

NATURALIZATION.—Judge Ellis L. Orvis held a session of naturalization court on Tuesday morning at which there were two applicants for citizenship, Philip Saul, a German, of Spring township, and Tony Cocco, an Italian, of Bellefonte. Frank S. Becker, of Philadelphia, naturalization examiner for Pennsylvania, was present representing the United States. In his examination of Cocco he brought out the fact that the latter had been arrested last summer for having a gun in his possession in defiance of the Alien law prohibiting the same. The arrest was made by two game wardens, who had evidently been tipped off by some one, and when Cocco was arrested only the stock of the gun was found in his possession, the barrel being found at a gunsmiths in Bellefonte where it had been for weeks for repairs. Nevertheless Cocco was taken before a justice and fined $25 and costs, $29 in all, which he paid.

At naturalization court on Tuesday Mr. Becker addressed the court, stating that Cocco's arrest and the proceedings against him were illegal because they had not been in accordance with the provisions of the Alien law, and that he knew of nine such cases that had occurred within the court's jurisdiction. That so far as he had been able to find out none of the fines had been returned to the State by the justice who heard the case, as provided by the law, and he characterized the system as one of petty graft being worked on the illiterate foreigner. He also stated that he would make a thorough examination of the records at Harrisburg and if he found that all returns of fines thus collected had not been properly made he would bring action against the guilty parties and bring them to justice.

The board of pardons on Wednesday again refused to interfere in the case of John O. Keeler, of Clearfield, under sentence of death for the murder of Joseph Roessner.

The Centre County Association of Philadelphia will hold its annual basket picnic at Belmont Mansion, Fairmount Park, on Saturday afternoon, June 28th, 1913. All Centre counties residing in and about Philadelphia are earnestly requested to affiliate themselves with the association.

A Wedding Present.

No better wedding present could be made than a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great work is a true guide to health and happiness. It contains 1008 pages and 700 illustrations, and is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book bound in durable and handsome cloth, or 21 stamps for the book in paper covers to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Roosevelt to Go to Argentina.
It was announced in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, that Theodore Roosevelt is coming to Argentina to lecture on the progress of the United States.

Colonel Roosevelt's private secretary in New York confirmed the report that the colonel contemplates a trip to Argentina, but added that the details had not been settled.

Present plans call for his departure this fall. "That is all we care to say about it now," said the colonel's secretary.

Mule's Kick Injures Four.

Four men were fatally injured at the No. 3 mine of the Jefferson Coal Co. near Pine Fork, Ohio, when a keg of powder exploded. A kick of a mule which came in contact with an electric wire made a spark that connected it with the powder and the explosion followed.

Battle with Moros Was Hot.

General Pershing Tells How the Tribesmen Were Beaten Back and Overwhelmed.

Fourteen American soldiers were killed in the recent four days of fighting on old Island, the Philippines when General Pershing's command finally subdued and disarmed the rebellious Moros, according to a report to the war department.

On the list of dead were Captain Taylor A. Nichols, of the Philippine scouts; eleven scouts and two privates of the regular army.

Captain Nichols, who was thirty-four years old, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Philippine Scouts in 1905, and received his captain's commission in March, 1912. He was the son of John Nichols, of Durham, Cal.

The two regulars, both of whom were killed in the first day's action last Wednesday, were Oliver Villard Co. M, Eighth Infantry, whose sister, Miss Anna Villard, lives in Arctic, Rhode Island, and Luther Gerhart, of the same company, whose father is Henry B. Gerhart, of Reading, Pa.

General Pershing's report was as follows:

"On June 12 the Moros' resistance at Bagak was formidable, and their fort and trenches on the precipitous side of the crater not only supported each other strongly, but were defended with modern arms. The Moros fanatically and continuously tried to rush the American lines, but the careful disposition of our force held the American loss to a minimum. Probably there has been no fiercer battle since American occupation.

Major George C. Shaw, of the Philippine scouts, commanded the right wing, with Company M, Eighth regiment, United States Infantry, and the Fortieth company, Philippine scouts. Captain Taylor A. Nichols, of the Philippine scouts, commanded the left wing, with the Fifty-first, Fifty-second and Twenty-ninth companies, Philippine scouts. A mounted gun was with each wing and proved of great assistance. At the close of Thursday, Captain Patrick Moylan, of the Philippine scouts, with two companies, was supporting the gun on Mount Bunga, and the American forces occupied a controlling position on the rim of the crater.

"First Lieutenant Edwin H. Rackley, Philippine scouts, was slightly wounded and three Moro scouts, of the Fifty-first company, were killed. Captain Taylor A. Nichols was killed in the early morning fight and is a serious loss to the army. Amil and several leading outlaws reported killed. Other Moros losses still unknown."

A cablegram from Major General Bell not only explains the reason for the attack upon the Moros' stronghold but assumes responsibility with General Pershing. General Bell said:

"The fight at Bagak was incident to the disarmament policy of the governor general (Cameron Forbes) and the governor of the Moro province adopted after many months of patient but fruitless negotiations and marked by promises disregarded by the Moros. A situation arose that I believe left no alternative. Amil and a relatively small following, occupying one ward of the island of Jolo, were the only Moros who refused to give up their arms peacefully. Disarmament was generally desired by the Moros themselves. All of the rest surrendered their arms months ago, without resisting. Under the circumstances it was impossible and unjust to disarm Moros to permit a few of them to retain arms."

Takes Poison Pill Instead of Quinine.
As a result of swallowing a bichloride of mercury tablet in mistake for a quinine pill, Charles A. Brice, a commission merchant, of Philadelphia, is in a serious condition at the Hahnemann hospital.

He swallowed the tablet while riding in his motor car and collapsed in the car.

Mr. Brice's case is similar, according to the hospital physicians, to that of the banker in Macon, Ga., who swallowed the same kind of poison tablet several weeks ago and who died after he had calmly arranged all his affairs.

Brice told the physicians that he swallowed the poison in mistake for quinine. According to the physician at the hospital, Mr. Brice said he took several of the tablets out of a closet before he deft home, but did not realize he had mistaken the poison for quinine until it was too late.

Dr. Troxall, who is attending Mr. Brice, said his condition is as satisfactory as can be expected. He said the poison will not be fatal unless it reaches the kidneys.

Robbers Loot Freight Train.

One of the most daring hold-ups of a fast freight train on the Reading railway happened within the city limits of Reading, Pa., when train No. 57, from Philadelphia, was stopped at Bingham street by the Hall signals, being set against it.

A moment later the seal of a freight car was twisted off and the car entered by the gang. The crew started back with a view of driving the parties away, when they were fired upon by the thieves and a battle started.

There was a regular fusillade of bullets fired by men stationed at different places to guard those who had been delegated to enter the cars.

Word was sent to the chief dispatcher's office and an officer hurried to the scene. The city authorities were telephoned to, but before they reached the scene the thieves had made their escape. The loot is said to amount to several hundred dollars.

Wilson For Direct Choice.
Representative Britten, of Illinois, sought President Wilson's views on his measures to provide a six-year single-term tenure for the president and the vice president of the United States, the abolition of nominating conventions, the nomination for president and vice president at presidential preference primaries and direct elections without the use of presidential electors.

Mr. Britten said on leaving the White House that the president favored the abolition of national conventions for nominating purposes, but thought them necessary to draft party platforms. He declared that Mr. Wilson approved of presidential primaries and direct election, which would shorten the ballot. On the six-year proposition, Mr. Britten said, the president refrained from comment.

Wilson to Visit Panama.

Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, conferred with President Wilson in Washington about his prospective visit to the canal zone.

The president told the colonel he would visit the isthmus as soon as congress adjourned, but did not hazard any guess as to when that might be.

Colonel Goethals said he expected to let the water into the canal about Oct. 1.

"I can hold the water out for two weeks longer, however," said Colonel Goethals, "if the president should be delayed in getting down, as we want him to see the canal before the water is put in."

Senate Committee For Women's Votes

Senator Ashurst submitted the report of the woman's suffrage committee recommending the passage of the Chamberlain resolution for a constitutional amendment extending suffrage to women.

"In this republic," says the report, "the people constitute the government. They are its creators and its maintenance; they are the government. The granting of the elective franchise to women would add to the strength, efficiency, justice and fairness of government, we have not the slightest doubt."

Woman Kills Doctor and Herself.

Dr. Guy O. Brinkley, a practicing physician, of Savannah, Ga., was killed by Miss Katie Kittles.

After killing Dr. Brinkley Miss Kittles turned the revolver upon herself, and shooting herself through the temple, fell dead across the prostrate form of her victim. Dr. Brinkley was shot three or four times. The shooting took place in Dr. Brinkley's office. Miss Kittles was probably insane.

Accused of Using Son as Mule.

Charged with hitching his twelve-year-old son, Frank, to a cultivator alongside a mule and working him in the field in a temperature of 120 degrees in the sun, John Friesmuth, a farmer near Lacrosse, Wis., was south on a warrant issued on complaint of the state humane officer.

SPRING MILLS.

Robison's circus was here on Thursday last. It was a good entertainment and largely attended.

Maurice Rachau, of Altoona, formerly of this place, is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rachau.

Hon. William Allison, who had been seriously ill for ten days or two weeks, is convalescing quite rapidly, and is again able to attend to business.

Miss Mabel Brown, assistant at the post-office, left on Saturday last for a few days visit in Laurelton. Miss Emma Zanes, a highly accomplished young lady, is on duty during her absence.

J. R. Gephart has the state highway from Penn Hall to a short distance below Spring Mills in a fine condition—even and smooth as a floor. Evidently Mr. Gephart knows exactly what to do and is doing it.

O. T. Corman, produce dealer, says that potatoes are hard to get, yet farmers have bushels of them, and are waiting for an advance. He remarked that no doubt many of them would wait too long, and finally throw the potatoes to the hogs.

H. L. Brian & Co., have just fitted up quite a large warehouse adjoining the coal bins in their yard for the storage of cement and plaster. The firm are large operators in cement and plaster, particularly the former which they handle in car load lots.

During the thunder storm here on Saturday last the lightning struck a large tree in front of the residence of Samuel Wise knocking the top off, splitting and shattering it to the roots. Likewise putting out of commission several telephone boxes located in the neighborhood. Mrs. Wise was considerably shocked but soon recovered.

As Col. Watterson Views It.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Courier-Journal warned the Democrats against the schoolmaster. It told them betimes that he would make common cause with nobody—work in harness with nobody—be boss or nothing, and now they see for themselves. Behold in the Courier-Journal, prophet, but let no one of them shake his gory locks this way and don't any of them monkey with the buzz saw! For, in this tariff matter the President has the right pig by the ear—has him right and strong—whilst just ahead loom 28 Senatorial primaries. As Emmett Logan used to observe "things have changed since Betsy died." Presently they will be accusing the White House of tyranny. Yet awhile, however, there is too much pie lying around loose in the larder. The old guard of the Senate is dead. But from its grave it cries out in warning, "Save yourselves, brethren, save yourselves, for the hell-spirits have got me!" We mourn for Cummins. Our hearts go out to Bristow. And what, ho, Tarheel! brace up there, and have some style about you!

—The soil is a great labor-saving device. It doubles the value of the corn as a feed, triples the stock-carrying capacity of the farm and returns back to the soil added fertility of great value and importance.
