

Jewelry Worth $277,000 Stolen

Rare Jewels of New York Summer Visitors at Resort Are Strangely Missing.

The theft of jewels worth $277,000 is acknowledged by members of the millionaire cottage colony at Narragansett Pier, R. I.

The gang of expert burglars that looted profitably in 1911 is believed to be again at work.

The loss of Mrs. John H. Hanan, on Friday, is admitted to be fully $150,000. Mrs. Charles C. Rumsey, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, lost two pearl necklaces worth $60,000 and $40,000, other jewels worth $25,000, and an ancient Greek coin said to be very valuable.

The best detective genius available is matching wits with the expert crooks who took the $277,000 worth of gems almost under the nose of the summer colony. Rival agencies with international reputations as thief getters have been engaged by Mrs. Rumsey and Mrs. Hanan. Every pier on Narragansett Bay is being watched in the belief that the thieves, operating as gentlemen, are sauntering about the fashionable hotels looking for an opportunity to leave town without exciting suspicion. Thus far not a tangible clue has been found.

Mrs. Hanan's jewels were stolen from her room during an absence of not more than twenty minutes of a maid. The gems lost by Mrs. Rumsey were removed from her sleeping room while she was out.

Reports that the Hanans had been robbed were denied until Wednesday, when Mrs. Hanan told of their loss. Mr. Hanan is seriously ill and has been kept in ignorance of the robbery. An unwillingness to disturb him influenced his wife to withhold the facts.

The articles taken included a diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, two diamond encrusted watches, a set of star sapphires surrounded by diamonds, a pendant, a brooch and a pair of rare black diamond earrings surrounded by white diamonds.

A peculiar feature of the robbery was that some particularly valuable gems were left in the bureau drawer from which the others were removed. They could hardly have been overlooked, and this suggests that the job was a hurried one.

Mrs. Hanan seldom wears the jewels and would not ordinarily have had them at "Shore Acres." They had been brought over from New York at a time when she had expected to give her annual reception to Governor and Mrs. Pothier. The illness of Mr. Hanan had made it necessary to cancel the function.

Mrs. Hanan said that the domestics, of whom there are about twenty-five, had been eliminated in the investigation. With the exception of two butlers, engaged this year, all of those employed at "Shore Acres" have been with the family for years. A theory of motorboat thieves also has been dismissed, as the shore of Block Island Sound, over which the house looks, is rough, and a small boat would have great difficulty in landing anywhere near the estate.

It is the common belief in the Narragansett colony that the robberies are the work of the same gang of thieves who operated successfully at the Pier and Newport last season and that the same group is responsible for the theft of $50,000 worth of jewels from the home of Harry L. Haas, at Long Branch, on the night of July 2.

CASTRO IN VENEZUELA

He Starts a Revolution and Imprisons a Governor.

Reports have reached Westminster, Curacao, that former President Cipriano Castro has landed in Venezuela and started a revolution.

Castro's followers are said to have captured the town of Caro, in the state of Falcon. General Leon Juredo, governor of the state, is a prisoner in the hands of the invader's forces.

The government of Venezuela is thoroughly alarmed. Hundreds of arrests have been made in an effort to head off the revolution.

Castro, it is said, plans to invade the country from several points simultaneously. Expeditions are forming in Colombia, but the Colombian government is observing strict neutrality.

Bill Provides "Fathers' Day."

Senator J. Hamilton Lewis has come to the conclusion that the "old man of the family has not received proper recognition from a grateful country. He announced his intention to introduce a bill setting aside July 29 as "Fathers' Day." Already there is a "Mothers' Day" and a "Children's Day."

Shoots Dog; Hits Man.

Harry Brown, forty years of age, was shot in front of his home in Hamonton, N. J., presumably by Antonio Berenato. A companion of Berenato, who was arrested by Officers Myers and Small, says that Brown's dog attacked Berenato while the latter was on a wheel. Berenato then shot at the dog, the bullet entering Brown's shoulder.

Say Wig Caused Death.

A heavy toupe, worn because his natural hair had been lost through illness, probably caused the death of O. B. Swrner, of Mifflin, Pa., a Pennsylvania railroad track hand, who was overcome by the heat while at work along the tracks near Lewistown.

Physicians called to attend Swrner found that blood vessels of the head had been ruptured, and to the warm wig they attribute his death.

Police Kill Wrong Man.

William Butler, of Kenil, was shot and killed at Dover, near Newark, N. J., by police officers, who had mistaken him for William Corduan, husband of the woman who was murdered on Tuesday night at her home in Newark.

Corduan was arrested shortly afterward near the scene of the shooting. The police theory is that he killed his wife by forcing a sharp rat-tail file through the roof of her mouth into her brain.

The woman's husband disappeared after the murder, and the police learned that he had gone to the house of a friend near the Dover race track. Their story is that they waited outside this house, when they saw a man who, in the darkness, looked like Corduan. They called to him to surrender, but instead of doing so he whipped out a pistol and began firing. Chief of Police Ethelbert Bryan fired three shots at the man, who fell dead.

Butler had a magazine revolver and a bottle half filled with poison. His presence there thus equipped presents a mystery in itself.

Can Sell Eggs Three Years Old.

The New Jersey board of health released for sale for cold storage in Trenton 329 thirty-pound cans of broken frozen eggs, which have been in cold storage for nearly three years.

The board says the eggs are fit for human consumption. The case has been before the supreme court of the United States, which pronounced the eggs edible.

The state board of health will require the owners to label the eggs so that the purchasers of them may know how long the egg product has been in storage.

Youthful Firebug Insaue.

Raymond Raab, sixteen years old, who recently confessed to setting fire to a fashionable North Side apartment house in Pittsburgh, Pa., causing the loss of one life and property worth $50,000, was committed to an institution for feeble-minded boys. He also confessed to starting five other fires "just to see the horses run."

Kills Sister as Burglar.

Believing that he was firing upon a burglar, Mack Guest emptied his revolver at his seventeen-year-old sister in Elberton, Ga. Mortally wounded, the girl staggered toward him, exclaiming that a bolt of lightning had struck her. She died before medical aid could be summoned.

Named Jersey Collector.

President Wilson nominated Bernard M. Gannon as collector of internal revenue for the sixth district of New Jersey.
