Bathurst, daughter of the late Lawrence Bathurst, of Curtin, were united in marriage on August fifth, at Akron, Ohio. After a honeymoon on the Great Lakes the young couple will go to housekeeping in Akron.

WARREN.—Very few ministers in the Central Pennsylvania conference of the M. E. church were more widely known than Rev. George Warren and his many friends will learn with regret of his sudden death at his home in Tyrone on Wednesday morning. He had been in good health up until Tuesday when he was seized with a chill and a collapse followed which resulted in his death the next morning.

Deceased was born in Adams county on September 1st, 1822, hence had reached the advanced age of 90 years, 11 months and 12 days. When eighteen years of age his parents moved to Gettysburg and young Warren went to work in his father's foundry. At the age of twenty-two he was converted to the doctrines of the Master and united with the Methodist church. He became an enthusiast in all church work and five years later he began to preach the gospel. For four years he served as pastor under the presiding elder while he pursued his studies in preparation for his life work. In 1854 he was admitted to the Baltimore conference and served in the territory embraced in the Central Pennsylvania conference after its organization in 1868.

For forty-one years he was in active work in the Master's vineyard, filling the following appointments: 1854-5 at Great Island; '56-7, Bloomsburg; '58-9, Sunbury; '60-1, Milton Circuit; '62-3, Penns Valley; '64-6, Shrewsbury; '67-8, Birmingham; '69-71, Hollidaysburg; '72-3, Jersey Shore; '74-5, Renovo; '76-7, Northumberland; '78-80 Shickshinny; '81, Jeansville and Auderwild; '82-4, Chestnut Avenue, Altoona; '85, Williamsburg; '86-8, Salona; '89-91, Millinburg; '92-4, Milesburg and Unionville; '95, Duncansville. At the conference of 1896 he was placed on the supernumerary list and took up his residence in Tyrone where he had since lived. Rev. Warren was deeply sincere and earnest in his work for the betterment of his fellowmen, and was universally liked by all who knew him.

His wife died in 1905 but surviving him are one son and six daughters. The funeral services will be held in the First Methodist church of Tyrone at 2:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon and will be in charge of Dr. B. H. Mosser, of Huntingdon, district superintendent of the Juniata district. Burial will be made in the Grandview cemetery, Tyrone.

SHORTER.—Mrs. Rebecca Louise Shorter, wife of James Shorter, died at five o'clock on Saturday evening after several weeks illness with rheumatism. Her maiden name was Rebecca Louise Umphrey and she was born in Warren county on February 29th, 1852, hence was in her sixty-second year. She came to Bellefonte thirty-eight years ago and on March 20th, 1889, was united in marriage to James Shorter. They had no children and her husband is her only survivor. Deceased was a member of the A. M. E. church for twelve years and was a leading member of the Household of Ruth when that society was active in Bellefonte. She was a faithful worker and one of the most respected colored women of Bellefonte. The funeral was held from her late home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. E. D. Robinson, of the A. M. E. church, had charge of the services and burial was made in the Union cemetery.

CLARK.—Mrs. George L. Clark died at her home in Johnsonburg on Wednesday evening of last week following a ten days illness with pneumonia. Her maiden name was Jessica Villa Deise and she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Deise, being born and raised at Beech Creek. About ten years ago she was united in marriage to George L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Irvin Clark, of Blanchard. The first few years of their married life were spent in Louisiana but several years ago they located in Johnsonburg where they have since lived. In addition to her husband she is survived by four young children; her parents, one brother and two sisters. The remains were taken to Avis, where burial was made on Saturday afternoon.

HALE.—William W. Hale, who for many years was a resident of Phillipsburg, died on Monday of apoplexy at his home in Alden, Harden county, Iowa. Deceased was a son of General Reuben C. and Sarah J. Hale and was born at Lewistown seventy years ago. He located in Phillipsburg when practically a young man and the best years of his life were spent there. It was mainly through him that South Phillipsburg was incorporated into a borough. Surviving him are his wife, two daughters, Misses Carrie and Maude Hale, of South Phillipsburg; one son, Hugh, of Little Rock, Ark.; and one sister, Miss Julia Hale, of "Halehurst," Phillipsburg. The remains will be brought east and taken to Lewistown where burial will be made tomorrow.

Huff, of Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Alice Trossell, of Pine Grove Mills, and Mrs. Anna Trossell, of Warriorsmark. Funeral services were held at his late home at 11:30 o'clock on Saturday morning by Rev. Courtney, after which burial was made in the Baptist cemetery, Warriorsmark.

LEE.—Dr. George Livingstone Lee died at his home in Centre Hall on Thursday night of last week after a brief illness with a disease of the liver. He was born in Potter township on July 26th, 1853, hence was 60 years and 12 days old. His early education was received in the public schools of Potter township and when a young man he read medicine with Dr. Peter Neff and after his death with Dr. William Jacobs. Later he graduated from the Medico-Chirurgical College of Maryland, at Baltimore. Thirty-one years ago he began practicing at Madisonburg and proved quite successful. Prior to locating in Centre Hall in 1900 he spent a year or so at Pleasant Gap. Dr. Lee was well known throughout Pennsylvania and in the practice of his profession did much charitable work, attending the poor as faithfully as the well-to-do and without even asking a cent of remuneration. He was married on September 20th, 1882, to Miss Rose Belle McKinney, who died without issue in March, 1912. Surviving the deceased are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Ellen Ruble, of Caney, Kan.; Mrs. Emma Stamm, of Boalsburg; John H. Lee, Bellefonte; James W., Bedford, Iowa; Frank D., Bellefonte; Hiram, Chester Springs, and Felix, of Wilkes-Barre.

Funeral services were held at his late residence at two o'clock on Monday afternoon by Rev. W. H. Schuyler and Rev. Fred W. Barry, after which burial was made in the Centre Hall cemetery. Dr. Lee was probably one of the largest men in Centre county, weighing when in health 390 pounds. At his death he weighed about 340 pounds and it took twelve men to carry the huge casket containing the remains to the grave. The pall-bearers were Cyrus Brungart, John Moore, Thomas Moore, Fred Carter, James Stahl, Harry Shirk, David Bradford, Charles Slack, Luther Emeric, Charles Flink, Perry Breen and Elmer Royer.

Dr. Lee died possessed of considerable property which he bequeathed to his two brothers, Frank D., of Bellefonte, and Hiram, of Chester Springs, on condition that they provide for Miss Sarah McKinney, who has been a member of the Lee household for years, during her lifetime.

CLOSE.—Patrick Close, a well known resident of Rush township, dropped dead while out for a walk on Sunday afternoon. In company with his grandson, LeRoy Close, and William Reese he went for a walk on the mountains along Cold stream. On the homeward trip Mr. Close apparently stumbled and fell down. Making no attempt to get up Mr. Reese went to assist him and was astounded to find him dead. He had been a sufferer with Bright's disease and his death was the result of heart failure caused, no doubt, by the exertion of his mountain walk.

Deceased was sixty-six years old and was a native of Nova Scotia, though he had been a resident of Phillipsburg and vicinity for fifty years. He at one time followed lumbering but of late operated a small coal mine at Cold stream. Thirty-eight years ago he was married to Miss Adaline Hicks who survives with two sons, George Calvin and Edward, both of Phillipsburg. The funeral was held on Wednesday.

An Undivided Christendom.

Editor The Democratic Watchman. DEAR SIR:—Regarding the religious situation of our National Union, the greatest wonderment in my mind is that the Christian ministry and the church still persistently retain the names of "Protestant" and "Roman." In my humble opinion, these nominal appellatives should no longer appear in our ecclesiastical vocabulary except in reference to the past. More than a thousand years before the Christian era, the Psalmist exclaimed, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"

The Apostle Paul, soon as he discovered the beginning of divisions among the disciples, expressed his strongest dissent against it, when, reminding them, he said, "We are laborers together with God." In our Lord's last prayer for believers, we have the three-repeated petition, "that they all may be one, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me."

It can be easily foreseen that "the world" will believe when there shall be visibly manifest to "the uttermost parts of the earth" an undivided Christendom.

The new Republic of China openly expresses its desire for a united Christianity with all the differing religious denominations eliminated.

A similar message comes to us from India, likewise also from Korea and Japan.

The new Emperor of the Sunrise Kingdom, Nishihuta, has adopted as his significant motto, "the realization of a greater righteousness."

Just across the border, the final consummation in a denominational merger seems to be assured for one Christian church in the Dominion of Canada.

Meanwhile the World Conference on Faith and Order which the Episcopalians are promoting grows more strongly important and a favorable outcome is hoped for in the near future.

In the gospel ministry more than a half century doing Christian union work, closely associated with most of the various religious denominations, the last one recently coming to my notice is named "the Millennium Dawn Denomination."

It is hoped that this is the last branch to be cropped for a united church and an undivided Christendom.

EVERYBODY'S COMING TO THE FAIR.—The premium list for the Centre county fair, which will be held September 2-6, has been distributed all over the county this week, and an endeavor was made to get it into the hands of every farmer. If by chance anybody was missed they can get one for the asking any time they are in Bellefonte. Considerable interest is already manifest in many localities over the approaching fair and the indications are that the exhibits of stock and farm products this year will surpass those of any former year. This naturally will mean a large attendance.

The fair management is arranging a program of free entertainments that will be worth coming many miles to see and there will be many other attractions to entertain the crowd. Coming as early in September as the fair does this year will no doubt result in a good string of horses, so that there should be fine racing.

The children's department this year is being carefully looked after and child exhibits all over the county are solicited to make exhibits. The usually good culinary and fancy work department is expected, as Centre county women can always be counted upon to do their part in helping along such a good thing as the county fair.

One thing we especially desire to call your attention to, and that is, that every day will be a big day. Don't hold off until Thursday, but arrange to attend every day. Some of the best racing for the week will be on Wednesday, while the big free-for-all on Friday is an attraction nobody should miss. Every farmer in Centre county can afford to spend three or four days in Bellefonte during fair week and be the better for it, so make up your mind now that you are going to come and bring the whole blamed family.

Governor Sulzer Wont Quit Office

New York Governor Will Resist Removal by Use of "Every Weapon in His Power."

Governor William Sulzer, impeached by the assembly of the New York legislature in Albany, will resist removal from office, will refuse to recognize Lieutenant Governor Glynn as the acting governor and will use every weapon in his power to retain his office, before, during and after his trial for impeachment, regardless of the verdict.

If Sulzer is deposed Glynn automatically takes the governorship. His plan of resistance to the effort to oust him embraces an appeal to the courts when such may become necessary, probably through mandamus proceedings. He intends to attempt to exercise all the functions of governor, including the pardon right if desirable, so long as he remains within the state during the remainder of his term or until stopped by the courts.

In short, Governor Sulzer will refuse to recognize the impeachment proceedings, and may refuse to appear before the court of impeachment for trial. He bases his program chiefly on the ground that the assembly had no constitutional right to consider impeachment at its extraordinary session.

As a part of his program, Governor Sulzer will continue to issue instructions to state troops and the naval militia as commander-in-chief, to the heads of the various state departments under his direction and will attempt to occupy the executive chamber daily.

The following statement was made by Lieutenant Governor Glynn: "I do not intend to enter into any physical contest with Mr. Sulzer over the office of governor. As far as I am concerned there will be no circus or military maneuvers about occupying the executive chamber. The law is supreme."

The lieutenant governor's brief statement was issued in response to reports circulated through the corridors of the capitol that he was prepared to resort to force, if necessary, to press what his friends regarded as his just claim to the governorship.

There was no dearth of such reports. One was to the effect that Governor Sulzer, as a last recourse, might ask the state troops to protect him in continuing his functions as governor.

Monday, Sept. 22, was made a tentative selection for the date for trying the governor on the impeachment charges. This selection, subject to change, was reached at a conference by Senator Wagner, president pro tem, of the senate, and judges of the court of appeals, who will sit with the senate as the trial court.

It is contended by Sulzer's opponents that the acceptance of the articles of impeachment by the senate automatically suspends the governor from the functions of his office. It is this stake of the impeachment that brought forth the declaration of Sulzer's intention to fight against removal.

Governor Sulzer was impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors in diverting campaign funds to his own use by the Democratic majority in the assembly. The vote was 79 to 45, and came after an all-night session, and after the governor's wife had made an eleventh-hour effort to save him at the risk of sacrificing her own reputation by taking the blame herself of using the checks in question for stock speculation in her husband's name.

The formal notification that the assembly had voted to impeach the governor was presented to the senate by a committee of the assembly. The majority leader, Senator Wagner, assured the committee "that proper action" would be taken.

The fact that the various state departments and bureaus are divided in their allegiance to the executive and the Democratic organization which is seeking to depose him, stimulates interest in the complicated situation. The possibility of two men endeavoring to discharge the functions of the chief executive at the same time suggests a chaotic condition that the courts alone would have power to deal with.
