

Lind Expresses

His Good Intent

American Interests Concerned in Revolution to Be Exposed by Special Senate Committee.

Dispatches to the state department in Washington from John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, described his visit with Frederico Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations.

Though officials declined to discuss the dispatches, it was understood on good authority that the conversation extended beyond the mere formalities of a social call.

Senator Gamboa and Mr. Lind talked briefly about the situation, and though Mr. Lind did not reveal entirely the purposes of his errand, he is declared to have set at rest rumors that he was coming to interfere directly in Mexican politics. The general understanding in official circles is that Mr. Lind had intimated the American government would continue to oppose recognition until a constitutional election was held.

Certain American interests alleged to be concerned in revolutionary activities in Mexico will be attacked in the report of the special senate committee, which investigated conditions along the border. Senator Smith, of Michigan, chairman, laid an outline before the foreign relations committee indicating the report would deal particularly with activities of American representatives of the revolutionists and the aid they are reported to have received from the American side of the border in the Madro uprising and succeeding revolutions.

A conference between President Wilson and the house committee on foreign affairs will be held soon.

During the tariff debate in the senate Senator Clapp, Progressive Republican, referred in passing to President Wilson and the Mexican situation.

"I believe your president has the love and the confidence of the American people," said he. "I do not share in the effort here or elsewhere to embarrass him in the delicate situation which now confronts him.

"Though I would put a stop to the president dictating tariff bills, I would leave him alone in the delicate situation which now confronts him, believing that he will find the right solution. I believe he has shown wisdom in his high office."

Henry Lane Wilson, the furloughed ambassador to Mexico, issued a statement attacking the recent statement accredited to the British foreign office declaring that Great Britain had recognized the Huerta government as a provisional government only; that its recognition was prompted by a desire to contribute to the restoration of order, and also because of Wilson's congratulatory speech on the occasion of the reception of the Mexico City diplomatic corps by Huerta.

Mr. Wilson characterized the statement as "at variance with the traditions of the British foreign office and with the character it has maintained before the world for two centuries."

"I doubt the genuineness of the statement, as it is a pure subterfuge unworthy of the British foreign office," said Mr. Wilson in a lengthy discussion.

Aviator Cody Killed by Fall.

Colonel S. F. Cody, one of the best known aviators in England, and a passenger, Lieutenant Evans, of the Indian civil service, were killed when Cody's monoplane turned turtle near Aldershot, Eng., and buried both men under it when it crashed to earth.

Cody's two sons, Leon and Frank, were among the spectators who saw the machine fall. Cody's neck was broken. The watchers saw the wings of the monoplane suddenly double up. The machine at once buckled and fell into a group of trees.

Cody's monoplane fell from a height of 200 feet and was so broken up that it was impossible to tell what had caused the accident.

"Colonel" S. F. Cody was born an American, but in 1909 took out naturalization papers as a British citizen in order that he might retain his connection with the British war department in the development of the aerial corps of the army.

Cody was addressed as "Colonel" by King George in a message of congratulation upon his flights in 1912. The king apparently confused him with "Buffalo Bill." Subsequently Cody declared that as the king had addressed him as "Colonel" he would retain the title.

LEMONT.

Miss Catharine Steele, of Bellefonte, spent last week here in town.

David Evey came home to spend his vacation with his parents here.

Lloyd Worrall, of Milroy, is circulating among the people here selling porch swings.

John E. Murray is visiting his sister in Huntingdon county, it being thirty years since he had seen her.

The Lemont Methodist congregation put a new iron roof on their church, which will help beautify the structure.

The contractors who are working on the State College sewer plant came last week, with teams and engines and will begin work at once.

The College township school board is having the school rooms of the township papered and painted, which will make them very home like for the teachers and pupils.

The state road people have stored all the tools that they used in the repair work on the road from Lemont to Bellefonte, and that looks as Spider's Bite Kills Jersey Man.

As the result of being bitten by a spider, it is supposed, at Fernaldo, Sullivan county, Abraham Snyder, of Paterson, N. J., died on the operating table at the General Hospital.

Snyder was on his vacation and last Thursday went on a straw ride. Upon returning home some one struck upon the idea of sleeping in a hay mow and Snyder joined in.

Early Friday morning a swelling was noticed on his lip. At Liberty, N. Y., he underwent an examination, but received no relief. He could neither talk nor eat.

He returned to Paterson on Saturday, gradually became weakened and went to the hospital for an operation. He died on the operating table before it could be performed.

Two Drowned at Atlantic City.

While a crowd looked on without making the least effort to rescue them, Miss Edith Rocky, aged twenty-one years, of Quarryville, Pa., a town twelve miles outside of Lancaster, and William Lewis, of Washington, were drowned off State avenue, at Atlantic City, N. J., while bathing in the ocean before the guards went on duty.

It remained for a colored man, who came on the scene just before the girl sank out of sight, to risk his life in a vain effort to save her.

This hero, Rufus Bradley, is in the City hospital recovering from the effects of his brave effort to save the girl. His condition is serious and he has only a fighting chance for recovery.

Girl and Snake in Accord.

With a six-foot blacksnake coiled about her arms and waist, Mollie Hibner, a pretty Coresawo township girl, created a sensation in a city market in York, Pa.

Miss Hibner caught the snake after it had plundered a guinea hen's nest, and she invited persons who stood about in awe to wonder to feel the shape of the eggs, still unbroken, in its stomach.

Her parents say she has played fearlessly with all sorts of snakes, including copperheads and rattlers, since she was a baby, and that they never hurt her.

Eagle Carries Off Child.

An enormous eagle carried off the four-year-old child of a wood cutter while it was playing near him when he was working in a forest in the vicinity of the village of Andeer, not far from Chur, Switzerland.

A large body of hunters, accompanied by dogs, set off to the rescue of the child, but they were unable to find any traces of the eagle or its prey.

53 Poisoned in Soldiers' Home.

Forty men and thirteen women, employees of the soldiers' home at Milwaukee, Wis., are confined in the hospital as a result of an attack of potato poisoning.

Brothers Under Knife.

Three brothers, Frank, Henry and M. A. Matheny, of Brockton, Iowa, were operated on at a hospital in St. Joseph, Mo., for appendicitis. The operations closely followed one another and were performed by the same surgeon. The patients are doing well. An other brother died of appendicitis several months ago without an operation.

Senator J. Ham Lewis Ill.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, is ill at the Army and Navy club, in Washington, threatened with appendicitis. He is under observation and it will be determined later if his case is serious enough to require an operation.

One Killed, Four Hurt in Crash.

William Thomas was killed and four other occupants of the car were injured when their automobile collided with a freight train at Franklin Junction, near Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Negro Youth is Lynched.

Protesting his innocence to the late Richard Puckett, a young negro, was charged with attacking a white woman, was taken from the jail at Laurens, S. C., and lynched.

His swinging body afterward was riddled with bullets. Two thousand men composed the mob. The sheriff declared Puckett had confessed the crime. The mob overpowered the sheriff and his deputies, tearing to pieces a steel cage in which Puckett was confined.
