—An unusually hard wind storm passed over Bellefonte about four o'clock Sunday afternoon, tearing limbs from trees but doing no great amount of damage. There was very little rain here but in some portions of Bald Eagle valley the rain amounted to almost a deluge.

—When the new High school building was erected several years ago concrete steps were built on a deep fill at the north end of the building. The ground settled and the steps broke loose from the concrete entrance. They were torn away this week and new steps will be built.

—On Monday Harold Kirk, while at work at the plant of the North Tonawanda Iron and Steel company, at North Tonawanda, N. Y., fell from a building a distance of twenty-five feet to the ground. A badly contused right leg was his most serious injury, and he expects to be around again in a few days.

—During the storm on Sunday evening the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James I. Briggs, who occupy the Henry Yearick farm in Marion township, was seriously injured by lightning. The boy was in the yard playing with the dog when there was a sharp flash of lightning which knocked the boy down. His left side has been partially paralyzed since but the attending physician has hopes of a permanent recovery.

AN UNFORTUNATE SHOOTING AFFAIR.

—A deplorable shooting affair occurred at Alters' shooting gallery in the McClain block, about 5:30 o'clock on Monday evening, of which Hugh Hanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanley, of Quaker hill, was the unfortunate victim. Hanley was in the gallery and was handling the target guns while John Martin, a boy who works in the gallery, was cleaning them. There is some uncertainty as to just how the accident happened. One statement is that Martin was cleaning a gun which he did not think was loaded, but which contained one cartridge, and the hammer struck the counter discharging the weapon. Another statement is that both boys were handling the guns with the belief that none of them were loaded and when Martin pulled the trigger of the gun he had there was a report and Hanley was struck in the forehead of the neck.

The shot did not knock him down and he was able to walk out on the pavement and sit down, but when the wound began to bleed profusely he was taken to the hospital by Max Gamble, who happened along in his car at the time and physicians were summoned, who found the wound to be a very serious one. The bullet struck on the left side low down on the neck, was deflected by the shoulder blade and passed under the collar bone and diagonally downward across to the right side. The physicians probed for the ball and failed to locate it, but are of the opinion that it is lodged below the ribs on the right side. The ball in its course severed one or more small blood vessels which caused the bleeding but the physicians aver that no vital spot was hit. The young man has been getting along fairly good, and though there are still slight internal hemorrhages, there is a good chance of his recovery.

John Martin, who was handling the gun when it was discharged, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, of east Howard street, and a trustworthy boy. When he discovered what had happened he almost collapsed and has been all broken up over the affair ever since. The only blame that can be attached to him is carelessness in handling the gun without a positive knowledge that it wasn't loaded.

KILLED ON RAILROAD.—James Patrick McKee, at one time the most popular passenger brakeman on the Tyrone division of the Pennsylvania railroad, and who was known by many Bellefonte people, was killed on the railroad at the Tyrone station at an early hour Tuesday morning. During the past few years deceased had been employed as a flagman at a street crossing in Tyrone. Monday evening he went to Altoona, returning to Tyrone on the 12:51 train. His dead body was found about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, and he had evidently been struck by a train and killed while crossing the railroad on his way home.

Deceased was fifty-four years old and was born in Ireland. He came to this country when twelve years old and located in Tyrone where he lived the balance of his life. Surviving him are his wife and one daughter, as well as his aged father, one brother, two half-brothers and four half-sisters. The funeral was held yesterday morning, burial being made at Wallacetown, Clearfield county.

THE COMING CIRCUS.—There are parades and parades. Mankind's love for pageantry display dates back to the days when the immortal Caesar "brought many captives home to Rome."

So, Sig. Sautelle and his aids, catering to that great critic, the Public, will present to the good folk of Bellefonte Thursday, Aug. 28, on the circus grounds Bishop street, Hughes field, a replica of those olden, golden days—with modern, 20th Century accessories of the times luxuriant. The cages in his parade will be open. The wild and tame animals, behind secure iron bars, will gaze back at an interested and amazed public.

Prancing steeds, golden chariots; royal Bengal tigers, leopards, panthers, jaguars, hyenas, cougars, in fifteen open dens. Four bands of music, a coterie of funny clowns, to add humorous variety to the splendor of it all.

HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER.—Several weeks ago the WATCHMAN published an account of the shooting of Anna Duke and her younger brother, John Duke, by John Masarish, at a wedding celebration at Clarence. The girl died but the boy will recover. Masarish was arrested the same day and brought to the Centre county jail but was later turned out on bail. Last week he was re-arrested and was given a hearing yesterday before Judge Orvis on a writ of habeas corpus. Masarish admits the shooting and the only purpose of the hearing was to get him out on bail. The court fixed the amount of bail at one thousand dollars, and though the bond had not been filed yesterday afternoon it is quite likely it will be today. Masarish must appear at the September term of court to answer to the charge of manslaughter.

STATE CONSTABULARY HERE.—Troop B, of the state constabulary, composed of sergeant Paul B. Stout and privates F. C. McDivitt and J. A. Conrad arrived in Bellefonte Tuesday afternoon. They rode to Bellefonte from Greensburg, averaging over twenty-five miles per day on the trip. The troop will be stationed here permanently with headquarters at the Brockerhoff house. They will patrol the streams and forests and be on hand for any emergency demanding their services.

—Miss Grace Vallimont has been elected principal of the Milesburg grammar school.

Lane gave a supper at the Old Fort Wednesday, in honor of her visitors, the Misses Witmer, and Saturday evening the girls of the younger set will give a dance in the town hall.

—Don't wait for the circus to have a good time. Go to the Scenic and you will have a good hour every evening. And all you will have to do will be sit still and watch the motion pictures. They are a study in themselves, interesting and amusing. Big programs every evening and some evenings bigger than others. But there is never any increase in the price.

—The Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania on Friday received a new Krit delivery car for use in the Bellefonte district. There traveling equipment here now includes, in addition to the above delivery car, two Ford runabouts and two motorcycles, and all of them are hardly adequate to do the work required in maintaining their system up to the required standard.

—The Undines have arranged to attend the Central Pennsylvania district firemen's convention at Jersey Shore, on Thursday, August 21st, in a body and will be accompanied by the Boys band of Milesburg. They will go down over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, leaving Bellefonte on the regular train at 7:10 o'clock. Returning they will leave Jersey Shore at nine o'clock. The fare for the round trip will be $1.30.

—The opening of the season at Gorman's opera house will take place on Saturday, August 30th, matinee at 2:30 and evening 8:30. The Edison famous talking, singing and dancing pictures. The most wonderful picture machine in the world. Played before kings and queens. You can't afford to miss the first showing in this city of one of the country's greatest wonders. It entertains and mystifies large audiences everywhere.

—Mr. and Mrs. John William Mitterling, of Centre Hall, have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna Mary Mitterling to Rev. Frederick William Barry, the ceremony to take place in St. Luke's Lutheran church, Centre Hall, at six o'clock on the evening of Wednesday, August 27th. A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents from seven to nine o'clock the same evening. Rev. Barry was formerly pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church.

—While bathing in Bald Eagle creek near Curtin, on Sunday, Francisco Greco, a young Italian in the employ of A. L. Anderson & Co., railroad contractors, got into deep water and being unable to swim was drowned. The body was discovered by Raymond Bryan, who notified the proper authorities. After examining the body Dr. Huff decided that an inquest was unnecessary and the remains were turned over to undertaker Frank L. Wetzler, of Milesburg. Burial was made at Curtin on Tuesday.

—Tomorrow, August 16th, is the date of the big Baileyville picnic which will be held at Beaver Dam park, near Pennsylvania Furnace. Aside from the Centre county fair and the Granger's encampment at Centre Hall the Baileyville picnic is one of the largest outdoor gatherings held in the county each year. People gather there from far and near and the crowd usually runs into the thousands. A good program has been arranged for tomorrow which includes two baseball games and various other sports. There will be good music and every family goes with a well filled hamper of good things to eat.

—Penns cave has been exploited time after time in the newspapers but of late it has been so little talked about that few Centre countians realize what an attraction it is for strangers. Take last Sunday, for instance. Up to three o'clock in the afternoon just seventy-two people had registered for a trip through the cave, and more than half of them for dinner at the hotel. People were there from Altoona, Tyrone, Lock Haven and Williamsport. One man became so frightened when the boat left the dock for a trip through the cave that he demanded to be unloaded and the boat had to return to leave him off.

STRANGE BUT TRUE.—A peculiar chain of circumstances marked the lives of Arthur May and Walter Fey, the two State College Juniors who were electrocuted at the Harwood plant of the general Electric company at Hazelton, on Wednesday last week. The two were born within a few months of each other. Were playmates from childhood, attended the same school and graduated from High school in the same class. They attended the same church and Sunday school and were confirmed and admitted to membership in the church the same day. They entered State College at the same time and took the same course, civil engineering. Both young men were five feet ten inches in height and there were only a few pounds difference in their weight. Funeral services were held for both at the same time by the same pastor and they were laid to rest side by side.

HUNTINGDON AGAIN WET.—Last spring Judge Woods refused all applications for liquor license in Huntingdon, one associate judge being too ill to sit in court.

The latter died and a new associate was appointed. The hotel men immediately took out a writ for a rehearing in their applications for license and the same was held on Tuesday before the two associates, Judge Woods not being present, Wednesday morning the associates granted licenses to four hotels in Huntingdon, one distiller's and a wholesaler's license.
