THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—A little daughter was born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Herr, of Curtin street.

—Keep in mind the dates for the Big Centre County Fair—September 2, 3, 4 and 5.

—Twin boys arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reick on Sunday, making four children in their little family.

—Mrs. C. M. Bower has vacated her home on East Linn street and moved to one of the Zimmerman houses on Curtin street.

—Any persons taking papers or magazines to the room in the Garman building, can get the key by going to the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co.

—Sunday and Monday were two of the hottest days experienced in Bellefonte this summer, the thermometer registering ninety-eight degrees in the shade.

—What are you doing in preparation for the Centre county fair? Plan your exhibit now, so that when the time comes it will be an easy matter to get it together and transport it to the fair grounds.

—The free attractions at the Centre county fair this year will be fine. Bring your children in to see them. There will also be a number of good attractions on the Midway which can be seen for little money.

—The Shaffer-Hazel reunion, held on Wednesday last at Madisonburg, is reported as the largest and most enjoyable meeting of these two representative families that has ever been held in the county.

—The many friends of Mrs. Cyrus Goss will be pleased to know that she is slowly recovering from a long and serious illness. Dr. Ella Smiley and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goss have been at her bedside the last four weeks.

—Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Mary Gherry and James Davis. Miss Gherry is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Gherry and Mr. Davis is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. C. Davis, of the Garman house.

—There will be a session of Juvenile court tomorrow morning to dispose of the petition of Mrs. Belle McAuley, of Walker township, to have the court make an order for the control of her twelve year old son, Dean W. McAuley, who she claims will not go to school and is otherwise an incorrigible.

—Announcements have been sent to Bellefonte by Dr. Oscar M. Meyers, of the marriage of his daughter Anna M. and Mr. Harry C. Burdick, which took place at Rochester, on Friday the fifteenth of August. Dr. Meyers, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Meyers, lived the early part of his life in Bellefonte.

—On Friday of last week Thomas Kelley, of Cato, went security on the thousand dollar bond for the appearance of John Masarish at the September term of court to answer to the charge of manslaughter for the accidental shooting of Anna Duke, at a wedding celebration at Cato several weeks ago. Masarish was then given his liberty.

—John M. Shugert sold his old Flanders runabout to Philip Shoemaker and purchased a new Studebaker runabout, 1914 model, through the George A. Beezer agency. Mr. Beezer also delivered to Thomas H. Harter a new Chalmers-Detroit touring car, 1914 model. Both cars are up to date in equipment and of the very latest design.

—Mrs. W. P. Seig with her little son and mother arrived in Bellefonte yesterday to join her husband, who is treasurer and general manager of the Bellefonte Automobile Manufacturing company. Their furniture arrived here from their former home in York this week and it will only be a few days until they are comfortably located in the Orvis house on East Linn street.

—“There is no place like home,” neither is there another moving picture show exactly like the Scenic. From the big program of moving pictures every evening to the comfortable and well ventilated room everything is complete in detail. The Scenic was the first motion picture show in Bellefonte to give a three reel program and some nights four reels are shown, all put out by the General Film company.

—Only members of the immediate families of Miss Blanchard and Mr. Reed will be present at their wedding, which will take place in Lock Haven, Saturday, August twenty-third. Very shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reed will leave for New York city, where they will be joined Sunday by Mrs. Reed's sisters, Mrs. George Green, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. J. Norman Sherr, of Harrisburg, who will remain with them until the time of sailing on Tuesday. From New York they will go direct to Syria, not expecting to return to America for four years. Mr. Reed is an instructor in the American Presbyterian college at Beirut.

WHITEROCK QUARRIES TO MAKE BIG EXPANSION.—It has only been a few years, comparatively speaking, since a number of gentlemen purchased a vein of limestone west of Pleasant Gap and opened up the Whiterock Quarries. Operations were begun on a limited scale but increased as the demand for their product warranted it until within the past year they were not able to supply the demand. Anticipating the present condition of affairs the company has from time to time been purchasing limestone properties until they now own the following: The Mary Valentine farm on the Hornstown road near Pleasant Gap, for years occupied by David Reamy; the Spicher, Herman and Coldren farms east of the Valentine farm, and have options on the Abram Miller farm and a small tract owned by the Harrison brothers, which, with the exception of the Eckeroth farm owned by the American Lime & Stone company, includes every foot of marketable limestone in that vicinity. The company has also purchased in the vicinity of Jacksonville the stone on the Betz, Yocum, Dunkle, W. W. Orndorf, George N. Hoy and W. C. Vonada farms lying east of the gap through Muncy mountain from Jacksonville to Howard, which includes all the limestone of the Bellefonte vein in little Nittany valley worth developing.

The present Whiterock quarries will be made the central plant for all the operations in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap. Six new kilns are now being erected and it is expected that they will be ready to put in blast by the latter part of September. As soon as they are completed and in successful operation work will be started on another battery of six new kilns.

The right of way has been secured and work on grading started for a narrow gauge railroad to connect the new developments east of Pleasant Gap with the present plant. The road runs almost through the center of the town and the first opening will be made on the Valentine farm, or in the event of the purchase of the Miller farm, on that place at what is known as the “big sink.” The stone will be hauled from the new development on dinky cars to the present plant for manufacture into the marketable product.

Down at Jacksonville a right of way has been secured and survey made for a railroad two and two-tenths miles in length through the gap to Howard. Complete plans for developing operations there have been made so that it will be possible to begin work there at a moment's notice. The land now owned by the Whiterock Quarries totals 896 acres, and includes in addition to the valuable veins of limestone good farm land which, of course, will be leased out for cultivation.

PROMOTERS OF BELLEFONTE ENGINEERING COMPANY TO LEAVE BELLEFONTE.—During the past week there have been various stories floating around the town that the plant of the Bellefonte Engineering company was to be moved to Bradford. The stories are incorrect so far as moving the plant is concerned but it is true that Messrs A. C. Roberts, Victor E. Reh and J. T. Maule, who compose the company, are going to Bradford to take charge of a large foundry and machine shops, but in the meantime the foundry here will be kept in operation until it can be turned over to a new management.

While the action of Messrs. Roberts, Reh and Maule seems rather sudden, they could not do any different in justice to themselves. The plant at Bradford is a very much larger one than the foundry here. In fact its valuation is $150,000, and it is equipped with the very latest labor-saving machinery, and located right in the natural gas belt. Less than three weeks ago the proprietor of the plant made Messrs. Roberts and Reh an offer to go there and take charge of the plant, which is specially equipped for the manufacture of gas engines on a large scale. A large order from Montgomery Ward & Co., of Chicago, for various kinds of gas engines is waiting to be filled and the offer was such a good one for the promoters of the Bellefonte Engineering company that they could not afford to turn it down.

During the brief time they have been in Bellefonte they have built up a very fair business, carrying over fifty men on their payrolls. They have offered their men the opportunity of going along with them to Bradford, if they desire to do so, but whether any of them will go or not is not known at this writing. Mr. Roberts and Mr. Maule have already gone to Bradford and Mr. Reh will go as soon as he can make satisfactory arrangements for the plant here.

It is rumored that the plant may be taken over by the Bellefonte Automobile company. It would thus afford them quarters to begin the manufacture of their Bellefonte Six car at once. Some of the machinery there would be suitable for the automobile company while the plant would be dismantled of all that was not needed. There will be a full meeting of the board of directors of the automobile company tomorrow and at that time it is likely some definite action will be taken, either to take over the foundry or award the contract for the erection of a new building on the old Hughes field.

—Dr. M. J. Locke's family, who occupied the House of Lords on the top of Nittany mountain for three weeks, returned home on Wednesday.

—Farmer George H. Musser, of Boggs township, was in Bellefonte yesterday exhibiting an exceptionally handsome team of black registered imported Percheron mares. They are four and five year olds and weigh 1480 pounds each. Mr. Musser takes pride in all his farm work—growing crops and raising stock—and he has good reason to feel proud over such an excellent team of horses.

—Upwards of five thousand people attended the Williams family reunion at Martha last Saturday. Trains on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad were made up of eight to twelve cars and every one was crowded. The P. R. R. band of Tyrone was the great musical attraction during the day, giving frequent concerts. The sports included baseball and various foot races, but the greatest pleasure derived by many was in meeting and greeting old friends.

—The attention of the children of Centre county is called to the fact that it is the desire of those in charge to make the children's department at the Centre county fair this year bigger and better than ever and they are urged to lend their hearty co-operation. Exhibits in the children's department win good premiums, a fact you don't want to overlook. In many cases the premiums cover all the expense of attending the fair and give a bunch of pin money besides.

—On Tuesday morning while Mrs. Harvey Weaver, of Romola, was cleaning up things in her kitchen she moved an old iron powder can and instantly there was a loud explosion and sheets of flame filled the room. Mrs. Weaver's clothing was set on fire as was that of her two children. She managed to extinguish her own burning clothing but by that time the eldest one of her children was badly burned and may yet die. The other one was seriously, though not fatally burned. The house with all its contents was destroyed.

—Our Boys Band, of Milesburg, will hold a festival on the public lawn in that place, on Saturday evening next, and the WATCHMAN hopes that the people of that place and vicinity, as well as lovers of music elsewhere, will give them a most liberal patronage and all encouragement possible. Our boys deserve it. They have secured the Runville band to assist them in making a musical night of it, and we feel certain that all who get to the entertainment will be well provided for, as well as spend a very pleasant evening.

—Being anxious to continue the very rapid growth of the young peoples' department at the Centre county fair, an appeal is made to parents to interest and encourage children in displaying their work. The entries can include their manual training work, their sewing, school work, garden work, and everything that a child can make. The department has been divided into two classes—under twelve, and from twelve to sixteen years, hoping thus to offer greater inducements for younger children to make exhibits of their handiwork.

—At the midsummer cotillion at the Country Club last evening, which was one of the most delightful of the many dances that have been given there during the season, Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker was hostess of a party of fourteen; including the Misses Frances, daughters of Supt. John Francies, of Rockview; Miss Peggy Aull, of Philadelphia; Misses Martha Shoemaker, Katharyn Love and Margaret Cook and Messrs. McAfee, McKibben and Jamison. The gentlemen are engineers connected with the preliminary work in the construction of the new penitentiary.

—Miss Elsie Mingle is in the Bellefonte hospital with hardly a hope of her recovery from the effects of bichloride of mercury poisoning. She lived with a family in Pittsburgh and on Tuesday of last week took a bichloride of mercury tablet in mistake for a headache tablet. She did not discover her mistake for almost two hours. A physician was then summoned but knowing the slow and deadly effects of mercurial poisoning could hold out no hope of a cure. Having relatives in Bellefonte Miss Mingle on Sunday made the trip to Bellefonte from Pittsburgh and at once consulted a physician here, and was then admitted to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment. Everything possible has been done to offset the effects of the poison but yesterday they were more pronounced than at any time since she swallowed the tablet.

—Rev. C. W. Winey, of the United Brethren church, has in his possession a new testament (German) that is almost four hundred years old. It was printed by a man named Erasmus, in 1516, in Basil, Switzerland. It is a volume about four inches long, three wide and two thick. The covers are of wood, ornamented with brass tacks. The paper is of good quality and although yellowed with age the ink is as black and clear as the day it was printed. Rev. Winey was given the testament by his father, Mr. Menno Winey, who in turn received it from his father, Rev. Samuel Winey, a Bishop of the Menonite church, and he purchased the testament with a lot of other old books at a public sale in Juniata county, paying ten cents for it. Rev. Winey prizes the book very much as a relic of the days when religious strife was always rampant in the old world.

STATE COLLEGE MAN IN TROUBLE.—On Friday of last week Jerry Sauers, of State College, came to Bellefonte and traded a watch to William Lesh for a horse. That evening while in Blackford's restaurant he claims he was approached by a stranger who asked him to trade horses. Sauers had been drinking and, according to his own story, he agreed to trade without seeing the stranger's horse, but taking his word for it that the animal was in the Haag house stable and he could get him there. Sauers slept in the Haag house stable Friday night and was around town on Saturday until four o'clock in the afternoon when he returned to the stable, found a horse there, took him and started home.

The horse, however, proved to belong to B. F. Burd, of Mill Hall, who drove to Bellefonte the Monday previous, left the horse at the Haag house stable for safe keeping while he was at work at the new penitentiary. When the hostler discovered that Sauers had taken the horse he informed landlord Henry Kline, who swore out a warrant for the man's arrest and sent officer Jacob Knisely after him. In the meantime Sauers had taken sick on the way home and was found at the home of James R. Irvin, at Peru. He was brought to Bellefonte and spent Sunday in jail. At a hearing before Squire Brown on Monday he was held in four hundred dollars bail for his appearance at court.

ODD FELLOWS TO PICNIC.—The Bellefonte and State College Lodges I. O. O. F., will hold their annual picnic at Hunter's park on Monday, September 1st. Hon. P. O. Shaner, of Pittsburgh, a prominent Odd Fellow and one of the leading lawyers in the Smoky city, will be present and deliver an address on Odd Fellowship. A big program of sports has been arranged for both morning and afternoon, including about everything from a base ball game to a pie eating contest. Bailey's orchestra will be on hand all day to furnish music for dancing in the pavilion. Special trains will be run at frequent enough intervals to suit the convenience of the crowd. The gathering will be in the shape of a basket picnic and while it will be under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, the general public will be welcome to attend.
