SECOND WEEK OF COURT.—On the convening of court Monday morning the list of common pleas cases for the week was gone over and a large number continued for various reasons. The cases disposed of were as follows:

Ellen E. Gray vs. Thomas R. Weber, administrator, etc., of Jacob P. Weber, deceased, an action to recover on a mortgage. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $3,299.

Christian Buck, Daniel Buck and Joseph D. Buck, trading as C. Buck and son, now for the use of Daniel Buck and Catharine E. Buck, dec'd. vs. Mary Denlinger Holt and J. Kennedy Johnston, administrators of J. H. Holt, an action to revive and continue the lien of a judgment. Verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $8,032.67.

Dora G. W. Spotts and James L. Hamill, administrators of estate of William White, dec'd. vs. the same, an action to revive and continue a lien of a judgment. Verdict for $9,585.23.

Same vs. same, verdict for $15,184.12. At this point in the proceedings district attorney D. Paul Fortney informed the court that he had present in court two ladies who had been held up on the public road in Rush township by three men on the evening of September 13th, and robbed of money, bread and meat, and he would like to have Theodore Karniasen, the man convicted last week of being one of the three who held up and robbed John Roush, of Madisonburg, in the Millheim Narrows on September 16th. The Polander was brought into court. The two ladies were Mrs. Maude Davenport and Miss Mary Miller and they easily identified Karniasen as one of the highwaymen, and the man who caught their horse as they were driving along the road then whistled for his companions. Karniasen was remanded to jail and the above identification will likely be taken into consideration by the court when pronouncing sentence.

John Nolan vs. Martin Nolan, administrator of Patrick Flanagan, dec'd. An action to recover for six years boarding. Verdict for plaintiff for $900.

Mrs. Kate E. Hastings as an individual vs. Kate E. Hastings, administratrix of Enoch H. Hastings, dec'd. An action brought to recover for money loaned the defendant. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $2,061.51.

William J. Davis vs. F. H. Dale and William Biddle. Two cases of replevin. Defendants confessed judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

Joel S. Royer vs. Elizabeth S. Meyer and W. H. McIntyre, administrators of the estate of J. C. Meyer, dec'd., an action to recover on a note. Verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $378.

James A. Davidson vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., an action in trespass to recover for damages done his property at Snow Shoe Intersection by fire caused from sparks from an engine. Plaintiff asked for $223 damages. At the close of plaintiff's testimony counsel for defendant company asked the court for binding instructions to the jury for a verdict for the defendant on the ground that the plaintiff in his testimony had failed to show negligence on the part of the company. Such instructions were given, a verdict for the defendant returned and this motion granted for a new trial. This ended the list of cases for trial.

TWO UNFORTUNATES.—On Saturday Fred Bidwell's mind became so unbalanced that for his own good it was necessary to put him under confinement until a commission in lunacy could inquire into his mental condition. On Monday the court appointed Dr. J. L. Seibert, S. Kline Woodring and W. Miles Walker as a commission, who after examining the unfortunate young man, recommended that he be placed in an institution for feeble minded. The court made an order for his entry at the Warren hospital and he was taken there Tuesday afternoon by deputy sheriff W. C. Rowe and D. Paul Fortney Esq.

On Monday Edward Thompson, the young colored man who conducted the cigar store and shoe shining parlor next the Gazette office, went clear out of his head on the subject of marriage and had to be placed in confinement. On certification of his condition by two doctors overseers of the poor decided to send him to Danville, to which institution he was taken on Wednesday by overseers of the poor Harry Badger and Alexander Morrison.

MANY PICKERS AFTER NICE PLUM.—The recent Legislature passed a law requiring the appointment of a sealer of weights and measures in every county. The office will be a very good one as the minimum salary is $1,000, and the man appointed cannot be removed without very good cause, and must first be heard in his own defense. That it is considered a nice juicy plum in Centre county is evidenced by the number of men with hands up ready to pick it. Up to date the list is as follows:

R. G. Larimer, S. Kline Woodring, William W. Waddle, J. M. Cunningham, Wm. H. Garman and D. Wagner Geiss, Bellefonte; T. B. Shope and Homer Carr, Milesburg; Ezra H. Auman, Millheim; James E. Harter, A. L. Auman and C. A. Weaver, Coburn; L. D. Orndorf, Woodward; John R. Herd Philipsburg; James H. Rathmell and C. M. Hoy, Hublersburg; Deemer I. Pierce, State College; George C. Miller, Axe Mann; W. F. Leathers, Curtin; John Haugh and Herbert Haugh, Benore; A. W. Reese and J. S. Williams, Fort Matilda; J. H. Close, Boalsburg.

Enough rain fell this week to wet the ground sufficiently for the farmers to complete their fall seeding, but not enough to fill up the streams throughout the county.

—William Doak, the blind man who has energy enough to endeavor to make his own living selling lead pencils and novelties, has taken the agency for a key ring and hanger combined which is a very useful little article. The price is only 15 cents and any person in need of anything of the kind can get fitted up by Bill and at the same time be encouraging him in his endeavors to make an honest living.

—The farmers are now busily engaged in husking corn and raising the late potato crop. Corn is turning out a good yield in most every section of the county but some farmers claim that the potato crop is not a very large one. That is there are not very many potatoes on a vine, though what there are are of good size and fine quality, being free from rot or other blemishes. Potatoes are now being shipped by the car load from Centre county to Altoona and other cities.

—Week after week the WATCHMAN has told its readers about the Scenic. As a motion picture show it has stood in a class by itself. The liberal patronage it has enjoyed in the past is evidence that the people are pleased with the pictures shown there. As in the past so will it be in the future. Manager T. Clayton Brown is always looking for the latest and the best, as proven in his bringing "The Garden of Allah" pictures here on Wednesday evening. And other good pictures will follow.

—Paul Miller, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller was playing on the Lewistown pike yesterday morning when Mr. Lee, of Pleasant Gap, came driving along with a load of apples on his way to the cider press at Milesburg. The boy attempted to climb on the wagon to get an apple when he slipped and fell, the rear wheel running over the small of his back. At first it was feared he was very badly injured, but fortunately his condition yesterday afternoon was such that it is believed no serious results will follow.

—The presentation of Eugene Walter's new play "Fine Feathers" at Garman's Monday night, met with the enthusiastic approbation of a large audience. Like "Paid in Full" and "The Easiest Way" it is an intensely interesting story with a lesson for every community in which there are men and women who for fine feathers are ready to submerge their conscience. The cast seen here was strong, the settings complete in every detail and the action so admirable that there was positive satisfaction for every one who was fortunate enough to witness the production.

—A few Bellefonte employers of female labor are somewhat exercised over the woman's employment law passed by the last Legislature and which will go into effect November first. Especially is this the case with merchants who employ girls. The law requires that no woman be required to work over ten hours in any one day or fifty-four hours a week. In order to keep within the law it will be necessary for stores employing mostly girls to close at 5.30 o'clock four evenings in the week if they keep open Wednesday and Saturday evenings until nine o'clock, or else work their help in shifts.

The matter is now being considered from every standpoint but so far no satisfactory solution of the situation has been arrived at. Places like the match factory and shirt factory can adopt a nine hour a day schedule or give a Saturday half holiday, though the operators have not yet decided which.

—Mrs. D. G. Bush is contemplating closing her home and taking apartments at Atlantic City for the winter; Mrs. Callaway will accompany her mother, and Mrs. Garber will furnish a suite of rooms in the Arcade where she and Mr. Garber with George T. Bush, will live during Mrs. Bush's absence. Mr. and Mrs. John N. Lane are preparing to move from Linn street into the house on Allegheny street, for many years occupied by Mrs. Lane's father, J. H. Sands. Mrs. A. Wilton Norris has rented the home on Curtin street belonging to the Abram Valentine estate, vacated by Mr. North, of the Lauderbach-Barber Co., and his family, and will take possession immediately; the North's having taken the Kurtz house on High street. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gephart will return to Bellefonte to live and have secured the apartments in the Benner house, made vacant by the moving of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brandon to Altoona. Mrs. Brandon left Bellefonte on Wednesday.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team went down to defeat in their opening game with the Apprentice team of Altoona on the Hughes field Saturday afternoon. The score was 21 to 0 but at that it was not an inglorious defeat as the Apprentice team is wrongly named. While probably not professionals the bone and sinew of the team are graduates in the game. For instance: Arcasa and Bergie, were the crack right half and full-back on last year's Carlisle Indian team. Corboy, the quarterback, was captain of last year's University of Pittsburgh team, and Large, at left end, was another Carlisle Indian star player, and these four were practically the whole team. In the Academy lineup were a number of new men, all playing their first game, and with less than two week's practice, and the only wonder is that the score was not larger. That they were able to hold the Altoona bunch as they did shows that they have grit and the making of a strong eleven.

BEAR SEASON BEGINS.—The open season for hunting and killing bear began on Wednesday but so far as the writer observed there was no general exodus of hunters from Bellefonte to go on the trail of this good sized game, notwithstanding the fact that they are reported quite plentiful. Bear hunting not only requires considerable sagacity but a lot of nerve and perseverance and very few hunters have the hardihood to go out after brim alone.

The season for English, Mongolian, Chinese and ring-necked pheasants, Hungarian quail, ruffed grouse, woodcock and squirrels will open on Wednesday, October 15th, and as pheasant and squirrel are reported quite plentiful they will furnish good sport for the army of hunters for small game. But while out on the trail if you happen to see a nice big wild turkey gobbler don't shoot, but turn around and walk away, as the last Legislature closed the season on wild turkeys for two years. This being the case woodsmen and farmers living along the mountain report turkeys very plentiful. Flocks of from a dozen to twenty are frequently seen and remarkable as it may seem they do not appear very wild.

Hunters are not favorably impressed with the closed season on turkeys and express doubts as to its resulting in the birds becoming more plentiful. They give as the reason that only the hardest turkeys can survive a severe winter, and the death rate from cold or lack of food will keep the turkeys about as scarce as they usually are. One reason for the many wild turkeys this year was the comparatively mild weather of last winter and little snow.

BOY FATALLY SHOT.—Last Saturday afternoon Reed McGill, aged fourteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis McGill, of Lock Haven, and Robert Bryerton, a schoolmate, came up Nittany valley to the John Burrell farm to spend that day and Sunday. McGill started first on the homeward trip, intending to walk to the next farm house and wait on his companion. He had not gone over thirty rods when he fell to the ground. Two young men who saw him fall ran to his aid, and as he seemed desperately ill, one of the men went to summon a doctor. The boy died, however, within five minutes. At first it was believed that the cause of his death was acute indigestion, caused by eating chestnuts, but when the undertaker was preparing the body for burial he found a bullet hole in the back. An autopsy showed that the ball had passed through the arch of the aorta, or main artery, and that death was due from internal hemorrhage. The bullet was a 22 calibre short. Who fired the fatal shot is a mystery.

A STATE-HARVARD GAME PROBABLE.—Graduate Manager of athletes at the Pennsylvania State College, Ray H. Smith, left for New York city last night where he will meet the Graduate Treasurer of Harvard University for a conference looking to a State-Harvard game at Harvard on October 25th.

Villa Nova is scheduled to play at State on that day, but she has signified her willingness to cancel if State finds Harvard's proposal attractive enough to ask her to do so. The opportunity for State to get a Harvard date came through the cancellation of all the Norwich University dates consequently Harvard has asked State to take that place. While State welcomes an opportunity such as this invitation affords she will not accept it unless it means consideration in the make-up of Harvard's schedules for the future, as well as assurance that it will cause no embarrassment to Villa Nova.

GOOD ROADS MEETING.—All persons interested in the good roads movement as well as those either in favor of or against the proposed fifty million dollar bond issue for the building of state highways throughout the State, are urged to attend a meeting in the interest of good roads at the court house, Bellefonte, on Thursday evening, October 16th. A number of speakers from different parts of the State will be present to discuss the value of good roads and how important a factor they are in raising to a high standard any farming community. They will also explain why farmers and others should favor the proposed bond issue. The meeting will be called at eight o'clock, which will be a seasonal hour for everybody.

—If advices from Harrisburg can be depended upon a big crowd of Harrisburgers will come to Bellefonte tomorrow in the Harrisburg motor club's economy and sociability run. Every dealer in that city has one or more cars entered in the economy contest and from forty to fifty cars are expected in the sociability run. The exact distance over the route to be taken is 116 miles. No effort will be put forth to make a record run so far as time is concerned, as it is planned to have dinner in Lewisburg, with the control at the New Cameron house. One hour will be spent there and the journey to Bellefonte made in the afternoon. The Diamond has been named as the checking control station in this place, and the entrance to the town will be over the hill by Malory's blacksmith shop as far as Bishop street, Bishop to Allegheny, Allegheny to the Diamond.
