ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

On Monday of last week Mrs. Christ Decker slipped on the snow at the Decker home below Zion, fell and broke her left arm about five inches above the wrist. Mr. and Mrs. Decker were beginning to arrange their affairs so as to return to their home in this place for the winter, but now Mrs. Decker's injury will delay them a little, although they expect to be able to move about the last of the month.

Fingerling trout are now being shipped by the thousand from the Bellefonte fish hatchery to stock the streams in the various parts of the State. They are all of last winter's hatching and measure from two and a half to four inches in length. Trout of that size will be able to take care of themselves and a very large per cent. of them should live and grow to a catchable size wherever planted.

A two hundred pound bear was an attraction at the depot in this place for several hours on Saturday. It was shot at Paddy mountain by John Witherow, a member of a party of hunters from Irwin, who spent last week in Centre county. The party did not get a deer, and saw only two does. Disgusted with such luck they broke camp and went home on Saturday, spending several hours in Bellefonte between trains.

On Thursday of last week Andrew H. Knisely and Charles Getz, of Tyrone, went out in the neighborhood of Warriors-mark on a rabbit hunt. The first rabbit chased up was shot by Getz, but unfortunately Knisely happened to be in range and part of the charge of shot struck him in the calf of his right leg. He was taken home in an auto and a half dozen or so of the leaden pellets picked out of the flesh. Mr. Knisely was a former resident of Bellefonte.

On Tuesday of this week some un-known hunter shot a cow elk in mistake for a doe, on the Allegheny mountains back of the Orviston brick works. The badly wounded elk was found by Harry Miller and George Heverley, who notified game warden John Winklebleck. That gentleman secured a wagon and help and went out into the woods and secured the wounded elk. The animal was killed to put it out of its misery and the dressed carcass sent to the Lock Haven hospital. It weighed 234 pounds.

Wednesday, November 19th, was the fiftieth anniversary of the dedication of the Gettysburg battlefield cemetery. Dr. Thomas C. VanTries, of this place, was present at the dedication and avers that the weather was just about as warm as it was on Wednesday. He heard President Lincoln make his immortal address which has lived ever since as a gem and masterpiece of pure English. It was the real dedicatory speech although it followed a lengthy and brilliant oration by Edward Everett. The day after the dedication from five to six inches of snow fell.

The Bellefonte High school football team has had the most successful season in its history. State College High, Clearfield, Jersey Shore, Lock Haven and Bellwood have been defeated and arrangements have now been completed for a game in Bellefonte on Thanksgiving day (Thursday of next week) when the Bucknell Freshmen will be Bellefonte High's opponents. The game will be played on Hughes field and will be called promptly at three o'clock, which will give everybody ample time to get through with their Thanksgiving dinner. Securing this team will mean considerable expense and all friends of the High school should patronize the game and help the boys out.

Now that the Acadie building has been plastered and painted all white on the outside it presents a very imposing appearance. Workmen are now engaged on overhauling the exterior of the Acadie residence which will be painted to conform with the Acadie building. A big porch will also be erected with concrete pillars from the foundation to the roof. An infirmary is being fitted up which will be equipped with medical supplies and instruments and be in constant charge of a trained nurse. The grounds have all been laid out and graded ready for sodding, and when this work is finally completed few preparatory schools in the State will be able to surpass it in beauty. Standing on the eminence it does the building stands out more prominently than any other in town, and just west of it, in plain view, is Bellefonte's big spring.

CRAIG.—Jeannette Virginia Craig, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Craig, of Creighton, Allegheny county, was found dead in bed last Sunday morning. Mrs. Craig before her marriage was Miss Grace Steele, a daughter of Mrs. William L. Steele, of this place, and she has the sympathy of her many Bellefonte friends in her bereavement.

WAGNER.—Following an illness of five weeks of a general breakdown in health, the result of a cold, Mrs. Susanna Wagner, widow of the late John M. Wagner, died at her home in Milesburg last Friday night, and her death marked the passing away of Milesburg's oldest resident.

Her maiden name was Susanna Hahn, her parents being John and Sarah Hahn, and she was born in Clinton county on February 1st, 1824, hence at her death was 89 years, 9 months and 13 days old. On January 2nd, 1849, she was united in marriage to John M. Wagner and for twenty-five years they made their home in Bellefonte. In 1875 Mr. Wagner erected the flouring mill at Milesburg and the family moved to that place, where Mrs. Wagner spent the balance of her life. She was a member of the Reformed church and a woman greatly esteemed for her many noble qualities by all who knew her.

Mr. Wagner died on May 23rd, 1892, but of her ten children six survive as follows: Mrs. John M. Keichline, of Bellefonte; John C. Wagner, of Barnesboro; Mrs. Peter F. Keichline, of Bellefonte; Mrs. James Weaver, of Milesburg; Mrs. Lewis Wallace, of Bellefonte, and Miss Ella at home. She was one of a family of seven children only one of whom survive, namely: David Hahn, of Clinton county.

Funeral services were held at her late home in Milesburg at 2.30 o'clock on Monday afternoon by Rev. S. S. Clark, of Milesburg, and Rev. W. K. Harnish, of Lemont, after which burial was made in the Bellefonte Union cemetery.

STIVER.—Dr. David S. Stiver, a brother of Mrs. J. E. Ward, of this place, died at his home in Chicago on Sunday morning, November 9th. He had been ailing for several weeks with rheumatism and other complications but had been around attending to his practice until a few days prior to his death, and he was sitting up talking to his brother when he suddenly passed away.

Deceased was born on a farm near Potters Mills and at the time of his death was 47 years, 9 months and 24 days old. In 1885 he went to Lena, Ill., and attended the High school one year. During the next five or six years he worked at Lena, Monticello and Decatur, Ill., and in 1893 he began the study of dentistry at Northwestern University, Chicago. He graduated in 1897 and at once opened up an office in Chicago for the practice of his profession, and had been located there ever since. For several years he was an instructor in the Haskell post graduate school. This is the third member of the Stiver family to pass away within a period of ten months, the other two being Dr. T. J. Stiver, of Lena, Ill., and Mrs. William Krape, of Spring Mills. Surviving him, however, are three brothers and one sister, namely: Dr. W. B. Stiver, Dr. R. J. and P. O. Stiver, all of Freeport, Ill., and Mrs. J. E. Ward, of Bellefonte. The remains were taken to Lena, Ill., where the funeral was held and burial made last Friday morning.

MARKLEY.—John M. Markley, a well known veteran of the Civil war, died at his home in South Philipsburg last Friday morning as a result of a stroke of paralysis sustained the Monday previous. Deceased was born in Bald Eagle valley on October 2nd, 1837, hence was 76 years, 1 month and 12 days old. He served three years during the Civil war and had a record as a brave soldier. In 1865 he was united in marriage to Miss Susan Spittler, and to them were born twelve children, five of whom survive, as follows: William, of Williamsport; Mrs. Nancy Watson, of Snow Shoe; Vinton B. of Houtzdale; Mrs. Gertrude Bordman, of Madera, and Mrs. Alice Little, of Nant-y-Glo. The funeral was held at 1.30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Spangler officiated and burial was made in the Philipsburg cemetery.

MILLER.—Martin Luther Miller died at his home at Baileyville on Wednesday afternoon after a protracted illness with a complication of diseases. He was born in Ferguson township and was sixty-nine years old on the 14th of last March. He followed the occupation of a woodsman for many years but had been incapacitated from work for four years or more. In 1867 he was married to Miss Emma L. Craine, who survives with the following children: A. L. Miller; N. B. Myra C., of Altoona, and Calvin C., of Pittsburgh. One sister, Mrs. Lizzie Grazier, of Warriors-mark, also survives. Mr. Miller was a veteran of the Civil war and a member of the Presbyterian church at Baileyville. Funeral services will be held at 10.30 o'clock this (Friday) morning, burial to be made in the Graysville cemetery.

KEATING.—Thaddeus S. Keating, of Ocoeca Mills, died on Tuesday morning, at McGirk's sanitarium, Philipsburg, after an illness of two weeks with Bright's disease. He was born in Columbia and was sixty-five years old. He was a railroad engineer by occupation and for many years was employed on the Moshannon branch. His wife and four children preceded him to the grave and only one daughter survives, Mrs. John Wayne, of Ocoeca. Burial was made at Ocoeca yesterday.

Some time ago Mrs. Alonzo Ross, of south Potter street ran a splinter in her arm. The wound would not heal properly and last week blood poisoning developed and on Friday she was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Naturalization court was held on Tuesday but nothing of importance was done.

Willard Hartwick and Roy Grove recently passed very successful civil service examinations for the positions of clerk and carrier in the Bellefonte post-office, and it is possible that both of them will soon be enrolled on Uncle Sam's pay roll.

Lowery Shope, of Valley View, had a run off last Saturday evening. Starting from the Potter-Hoy hardware store his horse ran diagonally across towards the WATCHMAN office, colliding with one rig and scattering packages of groceries, etc., which Mrs. Shope had just placed in the buggy. The horse was caught without doing any great damage.

The Tyrone band will accompany the Tyrone Y. M. C. A. basket ball team to Bellefonte today and will give a concert at the Y. M. C. A. this evening. This band has a reputation more than State-wide and the concert they gave in Bellefonte during fall week was so well appreciated by our people that the Y. M. C. A. should be crowded this evening to hear them.

Edward E. Rine, Adams Express agent at Tyrone, is now housed up at his new home at Coleville on account of a crippled leg which he had squeezed between two heavy boxes. During his absence his place is being filled by the messenger on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad and his place is taken by Leo J. Toner, of this place, while John Woods is helping out in the local office.

Among the prisoners recommended for parole by the inspectors of the western penitentiary under the new parole law is Chambers O. Templeton, the former Tyrone attorney and ex-State Senator. The Board of Pardons, on Wednesday, also granted him an unconditional pardon. Mr. Templeton expects to go to Michigan where he claims he has an offer of a position with a life insurance company at a salary of $5,000 a year.

J. S. Sayers, a second year student at State College, was arrested last week and brought to Bellefonte and put to jail on the charge of passing forged checks on the merchants of that town. He at first maintained his innocence but the proof was strong against him. His father who lives in Philadelphia, was notified, and he came to Bellefonte last Saturday, paid all claims and costs, securing a settlement of the case and release of his son, whom he took along home with him.

The deer hunting season will close next Tuesday and while it may have been a successful one for hunters from some localities Bellefonte hunters are not in that class. The Gentsel party returned from the Green woods last Saturday evening without even a deer smell about them. A number of the Panthers are home and report nothing doing in their camp and as the balance of the crowd will be home either today or tomorrow it is hardly likely there will be much venison brought in by them. In fact not a deer has been brought into Bellefonte this season.

Amos Garbrick, of Coleville, butchered yesterday and as an act of courtesy which he has extended for years, had Col. Emanuel Noll and mail carrier W. H. Taylor out to help eat the big dinner that is one of the prominent features of a family butchering. Many years ago Mr. Garbrick invited Messrs. Noll and Taylor, Gen. John I. Curtin and Capt. S. H. Williams to help them dispose of the butchering dinner. They all accepted and it was made an annual event thereafter. Gen. Curtin and Capt. Williams have answered the last roll call, but the custom will continue as long as the other three are able to stand on the firing line.

The Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania is being represented in Bellefonte by Rev. Beni, Porter White, of Pittsburgh. Mr. White is Field Secretary of this work and is making his first visit here. The Society however is well known in this section. It is state-wide and works under a state charter. It has been highly successful in supplying private homes with children for adoption. Rev. Mr. White expects to remain several days and will doubtless be heard in church services next Sunday. The offices of the Society are in Pittsburgh and the Receiving Home is at Edgewood. Rev. Dr. W. Henry Thompson is the State Superintendent.

Jerome T. Ailman Dead.

Lewisport, November 19.—After an illness of four months with tuberculosis of the bone, Hon. Jerome Thompson Ailman, a lifelong resident of Juniata county, died at his country home in Walker township last evening at 8.30 o'clock. The sorrowing family, wife and four children, the youngest of whom is 6 years old, surrounded the bedside of the husband and father when the end came. Deceased was aged 64 years, 2 months and 13 days.

In recent years Mr. Ailman had been living the life of a farmer at his rural home and since 1894 had been secretary of the state Grange. He was elected to the House of Representatives, March 30, 1907, to succeed William C. Pomeroy, deceased. He was returned to the state Legislature the following year and again in November, 1910. Mr. Ailman was the people's party candidate for Governor in 1894 and the people's party and Democratic candidate for Congressman-at-large in 1896. Mr. Ailman was born October 5, 1849, and spent the days of his early youth on a farm, receiving a common school education in the public schools.

Our Correspondents' Opinions.

Fruit Wine.—An Open Letter for the Public Health.

LAMAR, PA., Nov. 16, 1913.

I am delighted that you are in the open to receive subjects relative to our common health, and willing to aid publicity for our meditation by producing a chart on actual conditions of the subject, whereby to formulate sound opinion. This being Sunday morning, a day of rest and devotion to that which is good, and to seek to aid long, bright life.

Reducing cost of living by utilization of our vast amount of wild fruit, as medicinal and nourishing food; a digestive to other solid foods,—huckleberry and wild grape wine compound, to wit: To make six gallon keg, 20 quarts of huckleberries, put in mash in tub or jar, crush therein and cover with cloth and board. Every day, for four days or more, turn the mash over from bottom to top and then squeeze the juice out by screw compress and dilute by two gallons of pure, soft water, with five pounds of granulated sugar free from blue. Stir the whole and keep air tight until obtaining twelve quarts.

Wild grapes to be treated the same until compress the grapes and prior to this drain off huckleberry cider and empty keg of residues for the chickens, or strain the fruit for jelly. Purify the keg by hot water, ready for the squeeze of wild grape juice, which ferments very rapidly to one-third greater volume and needs immediate diluting with two gallons of water and five pounds of sugar. Keg the whole—huckleberry and grape—to fill the keg within one inch of bung-hole and provide bung with inlet to place a lead pipe to form a loop, not touching the wine, to convey gaseous to water jar by lead pipe going in water, whereby there will be no air going in the keg. Seal up tight, but provide faucet for tapping off and when fermentation stops, in one month, withdraw bent lead pipe and seal keg tight for four months and then draw off until you get clear liquid for bottling. It will improve with age to become a dry burgundy, port claret wine.

My experiment this year delights me in lieu of cultivated grape wine, I made the above and its rich dark color tempted immediate use to relieve me of throat trouble, caused by excessive salt in lamb meat pie, by three saltings, and on partaking of wine it gave me immediate relief.

Yours faithfully, JAMES WOLFENDEN.

T. W. Hosterman has been re-appointed postmaster at Coburn, an office he has filled the past twenty years.

SPRING MILLS.

Jacob Sunday has rented the Dreibleis farm. Frank Osman, who was paralyzed on one side last July, is not improving very rapidly.

John Dunkle, who has been engaged in Altoona all summer, returned home on Saturday last. All our teachers speak very highly of the courteous treatment they received at Bellefonte during institute week.

William Rossman and wife, of near Philadelphia, are here on a visit to the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman.

How about turkey for Thanksgiving dinner or will it be sausage and liverwurst? Turkeys are so "all fired" high in this latitude that one must get on a ladder just to look at one.

The Penn Hall hunting club returned home on Saturday last, empty handed. They seemed to have had ill luck. One or two deer were seen but they stood afar off, and that ended the story.

J. C. Condo, of the Penn Hall carriage works is arranging the salesroom for his usual winter display of sleighs, sleds and vehicles, some of which are now in place. The sleighs are marvels of beauty and elegance.

Who was that little piece of precocity when told by his father, "Now Willie, you must learn all you can at school, for you may be President some day. You want to be President, don't you?" "No sir, I don't," the lad promptly replied. "I want to be a tough."

Miss Bessie R. Grove, the handsome and accomplished daughter of W. M. Grove, of our town, was married to Mr. M. P. Cummins, on Thursday last, in Philadelphia. On Sunday the couple left for Reidsville, N. C., their future home. Congratulations.

A day or two since, I called into the millinery apartments of Mrs. George N. Wolfe, just as she was opening her second invoice of new and smart winter styles of hats, many of them in the latest small and close turban effects. In the lot were also velvet hats of the large dress shapes, with the shirred brim and soft crown. They were all very beautiful. Mrs. Wolfe displays exquisite taste in all her selections and naturally does a large business.

Even New York Funerals are Fast.

A funeral procession was halted in Long Island City, L. I., and the chauffeur of the automobile hearse that headed it was arrested and convicted of exceeding the speed limit.

The arrest was the outcome of numerous complaints that New York funeral processions on the way to Calvary cemetery have been so speedy as to endanger the lives of persons crossing streets through which they pass. Other arrests, it was announced, will follow if the speed of funeral vehicles is not slackened.

Christian Frickey, the chauffeur of the hearse, protested that a funeral should not be stopped, but the policeman making the arrest insisted that the cortege was making thirty-five miles an hour.

Despite his protests and those of the mourners in other automobiles, Frickey was taken to court and the procession permitted to proceed at reduced speed.

With the Churches of the County.

Notes of Interest to Church People of all Denominations in all Parts of the County.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY. Service Sunday 10:45 a. m. Wednesday 8 p. m., 9 1/2 E. High street.

Under the auspices of the Epworth League, the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a series of evangelistic services, beginning Nov. 30 and extending through the following Sunday.

The pastor, Dr. E. H. Yocum, will be assisted on the various nights by several out-of-town ministers, and careful preparations are in progress to make this a week of social interest and profit. All persons are extended a cordial and earnest invitation to be present.

Home missionary services will be held in St. John's Reformed church on Sunday morning. The parsonage has been quarantined on account of a case of scarletina, but the church has been thoroughly fumigated and there is no danger of contagion, as Dr. Schmidt and family are under quarantine and will not take part in the exercises.

The union Thanksgiving services which were to have been held in the Reformed church have been changed to the Methodist church, next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preached by Rev. George E. Hawes, of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. R. E. Morgan, of Valley View, Schuylkill county, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Bellefonte United Brethren church, and will occupy the pulpit on Sunday, both morning and evening.

By the unanimous request of the session Rev. George E. Hawes on Sunday morning will preach a sermon on the local temperance situation.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

W. K. Cori is housed up with an attack of lumbago. Carl Harpster, assessor, is making his rounds, counting the dogs.

Indian summer is here and the late farmers are getting a hustle on.

Ray Williams is on the limp on account of a log rolling on his right foot.

Miss Bell Whitmer spent Monday at State College, on a shopping tour.

Mrs. Annie Miller will visit friends at Boalsburg for several weeks.

Wm. Glenn had two fine ewes killed by dogs last week, and a number crippled.

Mr. C. V. Smith is arranging to fit to Dixie land to locate in the Peninsula State.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goss visited friends at Spruce Creek and Tyrone last week.

Mrs. Esther Devo, of Lansing, Mich., is visiting Centre county friends and relatives.

Simon Reish, of Hollidaysburg, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Reish.

Miss Etta Keller, of Philadelphia, visited her many Centre county friends hereabouts last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCormick, of Scranton, are visiting relatives at Pine Hall and State College.

On Monday morning James Hoover departed for a two week's visit with relatives down in Tennessee.

The stork last week remembered George Fisher with a little girl and Homer Walker's with a chubby little boy.

Mrs. Amanda Fisher is having his home freshened up by a coat of paint. Segner and Coxy are handling the brushes.

We are sorry to note the serious illness of Luther Miller, at his home at Baileyville. He has heart trouble and dropsy.

Monday morning Harry Sunday sold his steam thrasher outfit to Wm. and Ed Frank, so the rig will remain on the circuit.

Mrs. Sadie Heberling and daughter, Estella May, are visiting friends at State College before cold weather comes to stay.

The venerable Peter Cori is among the hunters. The old aimrod is anxious to bring down a deer, to round up the forty in his days.

Mrs. Lizzie Kustaborder and Mrs. Bell Thomas are among the sick; the former is improving but Mrs. Thomas' condition is critical.

Mrs. Margaret Hess, of State College, spent several days with her father, G. W. McWilliams, whose condition is not improving.

James Glenn, tired of batching it, moved home. James Snyder moved in and John Cori now occupies his home, where Snyder lived.

Mrs. Sarah Henry, who has had charge of the G. W. McWilliams home the past summer, is visiting her old home at Cannonsburg.

J. B. Thomas, of Centre Hall, is here making repairs on his farm just east of town. Also piping the water to his house and barn.

Dr. Ray Gilliland last week visited his aged mother, who is ill at her home in Snow Shoe. While there he bagged some small game.

E. C. Musser is off on a vacation, mixing pleasure with business in the Mountain city and taking a peep at some of Blair county's dairy herds.

The pupils of the High school will hold a festival in the I. O. O. F. hall on Saturday evening, November 29th, and they solicit the patronage of the public.

Mrs. A. P. Ward closed her house on east High street and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Sallie Woomer, on east Beaver avenue, State College.

The George Bost Thompson sale last Saturday brought a large crowd of anxious buyers and stock of all kind brought fair prices. The sale totalled $1,850.

The Roosevelt club broke camp Tuesday morning and came out with a lot of empty boxes and kettles. The Tyrone gang came out the same day with three fine deer.

Allen Burwell and family, who took Horace Greeley's advice and went west to spend the summer in the Badger State, returned home on Monday, quite well satisfied with climatic conditions in the old Keystone State.

Our mutual friend, W. K. Goss, is laid up for repairs with a badly sprained ankle. Trouble never comes singly. Only recently they buried three of their children within a week and the family was quarantined for forty days.

The Senior class of the High school will serve an oyster supper on Friday evening, November 29th and a chicken and waffle supper on Saturday evening, November 30th, in the Odd Fellows hall. All are invited to participate in the pleasure of the events and at the same time help along a good cause.

The hunters have three fine deer strung up in their camp. Last Saturday morning a large doe was found by the road side near Baileyville. The only marks to be found were some scratches on its hind legs as though it had been entangled in a wire fence. The district attorney at Huntingdon was notified at once but failed to see any orders for its disposal.

$100,000 in Bridal Gifts

The Arrangements for White House Wedding Next Week Are Rapidly Nearing Completion.

A guard of secret service men has been installed in the White House in Washington to keep watch over the valuable wedding presents for Miss Jessie Wilson, who is to be married to F. B. Sayre on Nov. 25.

The jewelry and four solid silver dinner sets, together with a hundred odd pieces of silver and gold, valued at more than $100,000, are locked up in a closet under guard day and night.

Many of the presents are bulky. One of the members of the "Southern Cousins Club" sent a massive set of antique mahogany furniture, and these are a number of other pieces of furniture, to say nothing of Oriental rugs and lamps. Two of the new "spare rooms," which were built in the top story last summer, are being used for the storage of these cumbersome gifts.

Packages are arriving every hour. The girls are sent up to the family sitting room on the second floor, and the family goes into "executive session" to take a "peek." Even the president, when he goes across from the offices to the White House proper for luncheon, is dragged up to have a look at the presents which arrived during the morning. Almost all of the "official presents" have been received, but there are still many friends of the family who have not been heard from.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond are said to have in contemplation the gift of a large and perfect single diamond, which may be worn as a pendant or affixed to a hair ornament.

Miss Wilson will have only one dog for a wedding present. She has been offered a great many pets of all kinds, but the only "live gift" will be Ping Pong, a Pekinese, sent to her from the American embassy in London, as the result of a long cherished wish.

Arrangements for the wedding are rapidly nearing completion. The east room will be roped off with white satin ropes from the entrance of the main corridor to the opposite window, inclosing the doors of the blue room and the dais on which the bridal party will stand.

An aisle will be marked in this inclosure, down which the wedding party will proceed. The president's family and relatives and the bridegroom's family will be grouped about the base of the dais.

Directly back of them the cabinet members and their wives will stand, with Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and Mrs. White and the associate justices and their wives. Vice President and Mrs. Marshall, Speaker and Mrs. Clark, Miss Gandy, Miss Gandy, Miss Gandy, and the ambassadors and ministers of the corps and their families.

The intimate friends of the Wilson family will also be in this inclosure. The rest of the guests will occupy a remaining space in the long room. There will be no seats.

Stefansson Believed to Be Lost.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer and discoverer of the white Esquimaux, who was aboard the steamship Karluk when that vessel was last sighted off Flaxman Island on Aug. 14, possibly is lost, as is the vessel, with all of her people.

Nothing has been seen or heard of the Karluk since that date, despite the fact that extensive search has been made for her. Whalers say there is little hope of her ever being discovered, as she is known to have encountered the heavy weather which prevailed off the Alaskan coast early in the month of October.

This is the opinion of members of the Canadian Arctic exploration party at Collinson Point, according to a dispatch received from Fairbanks. Stefansson left Victoria last summer with an expedition outfitted by the Canadian government to make explorations and scientific research along the northern coast of the American continent.

U. S. Army Flier Killed.

Second Lieutenant C. Perry Rich, of the Philippine Scouts, U. S. A., was killed in a fall with a hydro-aeroplane into Manila bay, P. I.

The accident was due to a faulty cylinder in the motor. Lieutenant Rich discovered the defect before he left the ground, and at first decided to abandon his flight, but he afterward repaired the cylinder and ascended.

He had ascended to a height of 200 feet and was making a preparatory trip around the feet before starting on his intended flight over the vessels, during which he was to attempt to drop a bomb on one of them, when his motor again broke down.

Lieutenant Rich, who was the only member of the Philippine Scouts attached to the aviation corps, was encircling the Asiatic fleet, which was at anchor in the bay, when the accident occurred.

Hunts Body of Son Stolen by Ghouls.

Alleging that ghouls robbed the grave of his son and sent the body to a medical school in Baltimore, August Kuhlman, of Pavia, Bedford county, Pa., left Altoona for Baltimore to try to recover the corpse.

The son, eighteen years old, was bitten by a serpent last summer. His mind was a blank for a time and then his head grew to twice its normal size. Finally he lost his reason, and two weeks ago he died. Doctors wanted to examine the brain, but Kuhlman refused to permit it.

When he went to place flowers on the grave he found the body had been stolen, and the shipment of a big box to Baltimore gave him a clue.
