PINE GROVE MENTION.

With daily snow squalls winter still lingers in the lap of spring.
O. F. Sharer has been a very sick man the past week with heart trouble.
Mrs. Joel Ferree has been a victim of the grip and other complications.
Andrew J. Lytle is shy a good horse, which dropped dead in its stall Saturday.
Miss Carrie Saunders, of State College, has been visiting her uncle, W. J. Dale.
Mrs. Linnie Rudy and baby boy John have been visiting her parents in town the past week.
Miss Maggie Murphy, of Liverpool, Ohio, has been visiting the Ward sisters on Main street.
Fred Resides was here Tuesday purchasing cattle for his butcher block at State College.
Mary Port Miller and daughter Adaline have been visiting grandpa Port's home on Main street.
Alfred Musser and daughter Katharine, of Clearfield, were over Sunday visitors at his parental home.
Henry S. Illingsworth, a Junior at Bucknell, spent the Sabbath with his grand-parents at Bloomsdorf.
Mrs. Sallie Fortney spent Sunday at the home of her son, to add her blessing to the new arrival, James Luther Fortney.

The friends of Mrs. J. A. Adair will be glad to hear of her recovery, as she will soon be able to be around again.
You don't want to miss the entertainment by the Senior class of the High school this (Friday) evening in the I. O. O. F. hall.
A moving picture show was given in the I. O. O. F. hall every night last week with a good attendance. Mrs. Maude Randolph held the lucky card that drew the watch.

Master Brooks, son of Mack Fry, had a close call Monday evening. While leading a colt to water the animal took a sudden turn and kicking the lad on the hip, cut it through.
The entertainment held by the Ladies Circle at Rock Spring Friday evening was a great success. Each piece was well rendered. A special orchestra interspersed the play with choice selections.
E. W. Watt, of Pittsburgh, recently took over the stock and real estate known as the J. N. Everts store. Mr. Watt expects to carry a large assortment of goods on his shelves to meet the wants of the public.

C. B. Hess, the Bellefonte merchant and Civil war veteran, spent several days at the county capital in the interest of the C. D. Miller estate of which he is the executor. The home at Rock Springs was sold at public sale in the early fall but there seems to be a hitch in the transfer.

J. H. Bortoff and mother, Mrs. Belle Krebs, Carrie Fortney, Pearl Price and Bertha Musser were those from a distance who attended Mrs. Julia A. Musser's funeral last Wednesday. Dr. C. T. Aikens, of Susquehanna University, was present and paid a glorious tribute to the aged lady's christian character.

N. C. Neideigh and Will Lytle were among the bidders at the Tate sale Friday and brought home a horse. R. D. Gregory and S. H. Moore, both up-to-date farmers and stock dealers, were bidders at the Cronover sale Thursday, where everything brought top-notch figures. A sow and four pigs four weeks old brought $101.00; four weeks old calves brought $32.00, cows $84.00; shoats $20.00; a horse $243.00; the mule team was knocked down to John Carper at the $500.00 mark. The sale totaled $4,450.00, the banner sale of Harris township. Mrs. J. C. Sunday's sale on Tuesday totaled up $2,250 and the Jacob Herman sale Wednesday $3,200.

LEMONT.

George Martz had the great misfortune to fall and hurt himself, but is able to be around again.

Mrs. Howard moved from her farm in the Barrens to town, where she intends making her future home.

Jacob Ray, who has been quite ill for more than a week with an attack of indigestion, is able to be out again.

The wild-geese are wending their way to the far north again, and that looks as though spring would soon open, but old winter is holding full sway.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wasson are pleased with the young lady that came to their home last Thursday, and don't see how they can get along without her.

Mr. and Mrs. Sears, after enjoying a week among old friends, have returned to Washington, where he holds a good position in the Forestry Department.

The State Highway Department opened the road along Chas. Zettle's farm, last Tuesday, and now about all the roads that were drifted shut in College township have been opened.

SPRING MILLS.

The calendar calls this spring—Good gracious. H. I. Brian, of H. I. Brian & Co., made a trip to Lemont this week.

John Haas and C. F. Long, of Buffalo, N. Y., were here on a business trip last week.

Garden making will soon be here, so hunt up the shovel and rake and get a move on.

Perry Krise, our new landlord, says that he is doing a good business and is improving daily.

Charles Neese, a clerk at the railroad station, has resigned his position and gone to farming.

Wm. H. Meyer, butcher, had sale of his household effects on Saturday last, and will move to Millheim during the week.

We have a dozen or more aspirants for the post office. The Wise Guy says that two or three of them had better be at the plough. "Yes," replied the Simple Mug "but they w'n't do it."

Irvin Zettle is erecting a very handsome portico to his new residence. Mr. Zettle will vacate the property within the next ten days and move to Center Hall. Professor Jones will occupy the dwelling after April 5th.

There is a call out for farmers to meet here in the Grange hall on the 4th prox., to organize for a new creamery. We have now a live creamery and have no use for any more. Of course the call will amount to nothing.

—The WATCHMAN enjoys the proud distinction of being the best and cleanest county paper published.
