P. GRAY MEEK,

Ingratitude.

Really the ingratitude of some people is beyond the comprehension of many of us. For instance there is Mr. WILLIAM H. BERRY, who has been spending weeks of the time the government has been paying him to perform official duties, going up and down the State berating and heaping all manner of political abuse upon Col. Jas. M. Guffey and Senator J. K. P. HALL as "bi-partisans," when it is to these two men that he is indebted not only for the political positions he has been permitted to occupy, but for almost everything else he has to point to, either politically, socially or financially.

Less than a dozen years ago they took him from the grime and grease of a country machine shop down in Delaware county, and made him Treasurer of the great State of Pennsylvania, with the liberal salary that goes with it. They paid the expenses attendant upon his election, they furnished the transportation required for his campaign, and after his election and before his induction into office paid the attorney he selected.-Mr. HOMER CASTLE-for a full and complete examination of, and a verified report of the condition of the Treasury, at the time it was to be turned over to its Democratic incumbent. The fight for that position cost Mr. BERRY just $250. He had been assessed as a candidate, by the State executive committee, $2,500 which assessment was paid by Col. GUFFEY, whose instructions to the committee, at the time of making the payment, was that nothing more should be asked of or received from Mr. BERRY. In addition to Mr. BERRY's assessment, Col. GUFFEY and Senator HALL paid from their own purses for campaign expenditures that year over $55,000.

It is these two men particularly against whom the animus of Mr. BERRY, and the two or three office brokers he is now serving, is directed and their chief charge is that they are "bi-partisans," (whatever that may mean,) and for years dominated Democratic conventions and dictated their nominees.

If they ever dominated any convention it was the one that lifted Mr. BERRY out bearer of the great party they represented and had kept together, from the time BRYAN, up to that date. And they not only had him nominated but they paid of a 6th rate clerk who had secured the names of the officers of the Democratic held Mr. Guffey's letter of endorsement.

Even to the party that elected him Mr. BERRY has shown the most unpardonable ingratitude. While holding the office buried at Faith, South Dakota. of State Treasurer, he never contributed a penny to the party expenditures nor would he have any of his numerous clerks and assistants give anything to campaign funds. He bolted the party nominee in 1910, and insured the election of the present Republican Governor, and now he is on the stump, and has been for weeks trying to build up a faction that will insure the defeat of the Democratic nominees at the election of 1914. Verily Ingratitude, thy name is WIL-LIAM H. BERRY.
