No matter how severe the disappointments of the primaries may have proven, let us all now forget our difference and, as unflinching Democrats, support the choice of the majority, and use our best efforts to elect the ticket.

Is nothing to be done towards celebrating the Fourth of July, or is it going to be so sane that everybody will think that we have a Sunday in the middle of the week? Why not get up a town picnic, make a move to do something, and shake off this Rip Van Winkle sleep? Some folks say, however, that a big picnic is a bore, a nuisance, and not worth the trouble to get it in shape, and so on and so forth, with plenty of other excuses. But then some people have an infinite capacity for talking nonsense.

No Restrictions Placed on Conversation With Indians of the Big Wild West Circus.

When on Thursday, June 4th, you make your way to the show grounds where the World Famous Kit Carson Buffalo Ranch Wild West is to exhibit, be sure the first point of interest you make for is the Indian Village.

There you will see Indian Chiefs and Warriors of three distinct tribes: Sioux, Comanche and Cheyenne braves with their squaws and papooses, clad in their gaudy, many colored blankets and feathers, living in their historic tepees, beading their moccasins and chanting the songs of the unforgetten war path.

It is a rare sight indeed to see them just as they exist when on the government reservation, for before many years the Indian of today will be but a memory. They are fast disappearing and many of us who are living today will almost see the last of their kind.

Among the Indians carried by Kit Carson's Buffalo Ranch Wild West Shows are many noted historical characters, the foremost being Chief Clear. To hear the old chief, with the aid of an interpreter, chronicle some of the feats of his youth, of the battles with the blue-coats, the long trail and the trips to the hunting grounds is indeed interesting, and any patron of this exhibition is at liberty to view the Indian from every angle and several interpreters are constantly at hand to assist the public in conversations with the red men. Bellefonte afternoon and night, Thursday, June 4th.

—Mrs. Laura Brett, formerly of this place, but for years a resident of Perry, Kansas, will spend a month or more at Independence, Mo., and writes from that place that "the wheat is now higher than the top of the fence and gives promise of an exceedingly large crop." Here it is a little over a foot in height, but like in Missouri promises a great yield.

Becker is Guilty in First Degree. Charles A. Becker, former lieutenant of police, was found guilty on his second trial in New York for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler.

The verdict was returned four hours and two minutes after the jury retired for its deliberations. The verdict was guilty in the first degree. The penalty under this verdict is death in the electric chair.

By convicting Becker the jury accepted as true the story of the murder plot as told by "Jack" Rose, "Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon. After the short formal proceedings in court were over it was learned from a member of the jury that only one ballot was taken.

No sign of emotion showed on the impassive face of the former head of the "strong arm squad" when the jury handed down the finding that sentenced him to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison, where only a few weeks ago the four gunmen who killed Rosenthal paid the penalty with their lives.

Kills Three and Ends Life. Louis Gilsoul shot and killed three women, one of them his wife; seriously wounded another and then killed himself, at the farm of his father-in-law, O. K. Olson, thirty miles north of Thief River Falls, Minn.

The dead are Mrs. Ludwig Larson, forty years old; Mrs. Louis Gilsoul, twenty-three years old; Miss Inga Olson, seventeen years old, and Gilsoul. Mrs. Olson was so seriously wounded that she probably will die. Gilsoul appeared at the Olson home and asked to see his wife, a daughter of the Olsons, from whom he was separated.

He was met at the door by Mrs. Larson, who refused him admittance. He drew a revolver and killed the woman. He then set fire to the house and began shooting at the other members of the house hold, killing his wife first. He then started for the woods. Gilsoul's body was found in the woods where he had shot himself.

Huckster Held For Murder. John Benton, a Harrisburg huckster, who has several aliases, and whose nocturnal drives have caused him to be suspected of many raids on chicken roosts, is confined in the Cumberland county prison at Carlisle, Pa., charged with the murder of John M. Rupp, on his farm, near Mechanicsburg.

It is said that Benton has admitted the killing, but declares it was in self-defense. Benton is alleged to have gone to Rupp's farm to steal chickens. Rupp went out and was fired on. He returned the fire and hit Benton. A moment later he was killed.

Embezzler Gets Three Years and Fine. Former County Treasurer William M. Lloyd, of Shamokin, was sentenced to three years in prison and was also fined $19,497.38 and costs for the embezzlement of Northumberland county funds by Judge Moser at Sunbury, Pa. Mark L. Swab, of Sunbury, deputy treasurer, who was also convicted, has not yet been sentenced.
