

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., July 3, 1914.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—James K. Barnhart and family returned on Wednesday from a ten days' camp on Fishing creek.

—This time next week we will be right in the midst of the big Chautauqua, and you all want to be there.

—J. Dorsey Hunter has purchased the Orison property on Curtin street occupied by Wallace H. Gephart and family.

—The boy or girl who turns into the store of G. R. Danenhower & Son the most orders for Gold Coin flour will get that Premo Juvenile auto.

—Wednesday's rain caught the farmers with considerable hay in the field, but so far it has not been damaged to any appreciable extent.

—The repairing of the state road between Bellefonte and Milesburg was completed on Saturday and it is now one of the best pieces of road in Centre county.

—A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McGovern, of east Lamb street, on Tuesday. This makes the fourth son, without a daughter in the family.

—Two car loads of watermelons arrived in Bellefonte last week, but were not a very rapid sale at the retail price of fifty cents. In Milesburg watermelons were sold for thirty-five cents.

ANNUAL JULY SALE AT AIKEN'S.—For the month only. All Spring and Summer goods at cost. 10% off on Corsets, Hosiery, Neck-wear etc., for the month only.

—The Interstate Commerce Commission has decided that the rate of $1.60 gross ton on iron ore from Fruitland and Ontario to Curtin, Milesburg and Bellefonte is unreasonable, and should not exceed $1.40.

—The weather this week has not been like haymaking and harvest time, but more like October. In fact Monday was the coldest June 29th and Wednesday the coldest July 1st experienced in this section in years.

—While learning to ride a bicycle one day last week Lois Foreman, daughter of prothonotary and Mrs. D. R. Foreman, sustained a bad fall, injuring her knee so badly that she has been confined to the house ever since.

—J. M. Keichline, agent for the Northern Insurance Co., of New York, on June 30th, 1914, delivered a check for $1,000.00 to F. E. Naginay for insurance on his stock of goods that was destroyed by fire on June 20th, 1914.

—During the hard storm of Tuesday last week a bolt of lightning struck a tree on the farm occupied by Mrs. William States, in Ferguson township, and killed twenty-four sheep that had taken shelter beneath its spreading branches.

—W. H. Miller, of Tyrone, has been transferred to Bellefonte to take the place of traveling salesman for the Lauderdale-Barber company made vacant by the promotion of Fred Herman to general manager of the Bellefonte store.

—The first consignment of twenty crates of huckleberries were shipped through Bellefonte, from Coburn to Altoona, yesterday. The berries are said to be unusually plentiful this year and those that have found their way into the Bellefonte markets are of good quality.

—J. A. Shull, of Millheim, last week purchased the photographic studio of A. P. McDowell, in Philipsburg, and took charge of the same on Monday. Mr. McDowell will look after his studio in Clearfield and also a real estate investment he recently made at Curwensville.

—On Monday evening Mrs. F. Potts Green was out in the yard gathering flowers. She slipped and to prevent herself from falling threw her right arm around some lily bushes. The sudden wrench dislocated the arm at the shoulder. Though quite painful at the time she is now getting along nicely.

—Only three weeks more of that contest in the Premo Juvenile automobile, now on exhibition in G. R. Spigelmyer's store window. And its up to the most enterprising girl or boy to get it by selling Gold Coin flour. The contest is now on but there is still plenty of time to be a winner. Get an order blank from G. R. Danenhower & Son and start out today.

—Did you read the opening installment of "The Story of Waitstill Baxter," in last week's WATCHMAN? If not hunt up the paper and read it, then follow it up with the installment in today's paper. You will find it interesting enough that you won't want to miss a chapter. The story is by Kate Douglass Wiggin and her reputation as a clever writer is international.

—The fifth annual summer course for teachers opened at State College on Tuesday with an enrollment of over eight hundred, and it would not be surprising if the number reached a thousand before the end of the week. They come from most every county in the State and with a determination to get the most they can out of the six weeks. A valuable corps of instructors has been secured for the course.

ARRESTED FOR MISAPPROPRIATING MONEY.—J. Homer Decker, secretary of the Bellefonte Lodge of Moose, was arrested on Tuesday last week for misappropriating money belonging to that corporation and when time came for a hearing before Squire W. H. Musser, at three o'clock Monday afternoon, he failed to appear and the Squire declared his recognizance forfeited. R. Russell Blair is his bondsman. The information on which Decker was arrested was sworn out before Squire Musser and is as follows:

State of Penna.) s.s. Com. of Pennsylvania. County of Centre)
Before me, the subscriber, one of the justices of the peace in and for the county aforesaid. Personally came James Schofield and George H. Waite, of the borough of Bellefonte, and M. L. Emerick, of the borough of Centre Hall, trustees of Bellefonte Lodge No. 206 L. O. O. M., who upon their solemn oath, administered according to law, saith that one J. H. Decker, of the borough of Bellefonte, Pa., secretary of Bellefonte Lodge No. 206, L. O. O. M., a corporation duly chartered by the Supreme Lodge L. O. O. M., incorporated under the laws of Indiana, did at sundry times since February 10th, 1910, and June 6th, 1914, take fraudulently, convert and apply to his own use, or the use of some other person, certain moneys belonging to said L. O. O. M., No. 206, the said J. H. Decker being an officer of the said corporation, aggregating about $2,500, as appropriated or converted to his (J. H. Decker's) use between said dates.

JAMES SCHOFIELD, } Trustees GEO. H. WAITE, } M. L. EMERICK, } Sworn and subscribed before W. H. MUSSER, Justice of the Peace.

The shortage in money was discovered a month or more ago and Harry R. Bush, of McKeesport, auditor for the Supreme Lodge working out of Jefferson, Ind., came here and made a complete audit of the books and accounts. While the amount of shortage is given as $2,500, Mr. Bush has intimated that it may run in excess of that amount. As secretary of the Lodge Mr. Decker is under bond for a certain amount with a regularly incorporated bonding company and Mr. Bush has also entered proceedings to recover on his bond.

When Decker failed to appear for a hearing on Monday afternoon and his recognizance was declared forfeited his bondsman was at once notified, and shortly afterwards he received a telegram from Mr. Decker, dated New York city, in which he said "Impossible to be home before Thursday." In the meantime no action has been taken against his temporary bondsman.

Mr. Decker was naturally expected home yesterday but he did not return on either the morning or noon trains. Legal proceedings have been held in abeyance since his telegram from New York was received on Monday, but they will hardly be held over much longer.

Mr. Decker's friends express considerable sympathy for him over the trouble he has gotten himself into, as they do not believe he appropriated the money to his own personal use, but was led to invest it in some mythical Mexican proposition in accordance with an alluring offer made by a company which has headquarters in New York. And it is the prevailing belief that his mission to New York last week and this was for the purpose of realizing on his investments, if it were possible to do so. Just what luck he will have is problematical, but there are some who cling to the hope that he will be successful. But even if he should be it will not relieve him of the criminal responsibility of misappropriating the money, though it may mitigate the action of the court if he is brought to trial.

NITTANY FURNACE PROPERTY SOLD.—All the property, real, personal and mixed of the Nittany Iron company was sold at public sale, at the court house on Saturday afternoon, for $23,000. It was purchased by F. L. Crosley for the bondholders. At the bidding by separate lots the office buildings and furniture were purchased by Frank E. Naginay for $155, while the scale office and laboratory building and contents were sold for $50. The balance of the property was first sold in the same way but brought only $17,700. It was then put up in its entirety and knocked down at $23,000.

Immediately following the sale of the furnace property the Nittany Valley railroad was put up for sale, attorney Gibbs, for the stockholders, reserving the right to reject any and all bids. The property was first put up in three lots, the bids aggregating $4,700. It was then put up as an entirety but $7,000 being the highest bid received Mr. Gibbs stated that it was not enough and the sale was declared off. Between fifty and seventy-five furnace-men and junk dealers were here for the sale, but none of them got any of the property.

NO CUT-RATE TICKETS.—A rumor is abroad to the effect that there will be a reduction in the price of the Chautauqua season tickets. This is positively incorrect. The price for grown-ups is $2.00; for juniors $1.00, until the opening of the season when they will be $2.50 per ticket, the extra amount going to the Chautauqua, not to Bellefonte guarantors. There will be no gift tickets for the Chautauqua except as people pay for tickets and distribute them. The Chautauqua association gives passes to none of its helpers.

The Y. M. C. A. is headquarters for Chautauqua. Miss Overton and Mrs. Warfield will spend all of Monday, July 6th, at the Y. M. C. A., selling the remainder of the tickets. This will be the last opportunity to secure season tickets at the low price of $2.00 and $1.00.

—The WATCHMAN office employees will take their mid-summer vacation next week and consequently no paper will be issued from this office. The next issue of the WATCHMAN will be on July 17th. The office, however, will be open every day for the transaction of business, and our friends are always welcome.

—The state highway gang are now making repairs on the lower end of the Nittany valley road, between Lamar and Cedar Springs. The Centre county end of the road could be improved by a new top dressing and thorough rolling.

—Get a hustle on, boys and girls! You have only three weeks more, or until Saturday, July 25th, to win or lose that Premo Juvenile auto to be given away free for selling Gold Coin flour. Full particulars of the contest and order blanks can be secured at the wholesale establishment of G. R. Danenhower & Son. Don't let this valuable prize go by default. Any boy or girl can win it if they go after it in the right way.

—Confidence once established is difficult to destroy. That is the reason the scenic enjoys the large patronage it has among residents of Bellefonte. They have confidence in its management and confidence in the character of its programs. Nothing is shown that will in the least offend good taste or corrupt morals. A fine, new program every evening, with a wide enough variation to suit the large number of moving-picture patrons. Regular price, five cents.

—Last week the discovery was made that the small sewer pipe on Lamb street had become clogged and all efforts to flush it clean with water proved unavailing. In fact it was finally found necessary to dig up a hundred or more feet of the pipe in order to get it opened up. This is the second time within a year that this pipe has clogged and one reason is probably because being only six inches in diameter it is not large enough to carry away the sewerage emptied into it.

—On Wednesday the Western Union telegraph office was moved from the office of the Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania to the room in the basement of the Garman building on High street, next door to Thal's grocery. Harry Garber, who has been in charge the past five months, has resigned as manager owing to having something else better in view and A. C. Lehmer, of Harrisburg, has been put in charge temporarily. John Garman has been secured as messenger boy.

—Inadvertently we omitted to mention the fact that among the recent graduates from the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy was James A. Fox, son of Mrs. Joseph Fox, of this place, whose standing in his class was excellent. He is now in charge of a large drug store at the corner of Thirteenth and Spruce streets, Philadelphia, where he will be during the summer, at least. James is a bright young man and his many friends are glad to see him already located in a good position.

—The railroad telegraph tower in this place is being enlarged by building an extension of two feet on the east side. This is being done in order to afford space for a student to learn the business. A good railroad operator must not only know telegraphy and have good hearing for the telegraph, but he must understand all the signals, the use of the block system, control of the various levers, etc., and for this reason the railroad company prefers taking a young man and teaching him the system thoroughly.

—While on his way to State College to attend the summer course for teachers J. Z. Sloan, principal of the public schools at Hellwood, run down Mrs. Lavina Spanogle, of Philipsburg, on Monday, with his motor car. At first it was believed the woman was fatally injured but she is now much improved and her recovery is expected. Mrs. Spanogle was watching a car coming in an opposite direction and walked right in front of Sloan's car. Sloan was arrested and gave bail in the sum of $300 to appear when wanted.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. are figuring on some plan to eliminate the blocking of the High street crossing at train times. One plan suggested is to use the track east of the station as the main line track. To do this would necessitate paving the intervening space with brick and also the probable building of a train shed, as the track is so far from the station building that it would be an injustice to require passengers to go that distance through rain and snow. However, the company will likely give as good accommodation as possible.

—Some days ago A. A. Dale Esq., went to Howard township to survey the boundary lines of Sand Hill cemetery and while he was there workmen were pulling out bastard pine trees, in order to clean up the cemetery. In uprooting one they uncovered a peculiar looking stone, about eight inches long and five in circumference, and worn perfectly smooth. He immediately recognized it as an Indian "pestle" or grinding stone, used in grinding wheat into flour and corn into meal. Mr. Dale did not look for any other Indian relics, but the fact that a pestle was found there is taken as evidence that an Indian camp or village was located there at one time.

A DELIGHTFUL DANCE.—One of the most delightful social events of the season was the dance given at the Country club on Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Walker, for their son Robert. The guests, forty-eight in number, went to the club and back in automobiles. The patronesses were Mrs. Harry Keller, Miss Anna Shortidge, Mrs. John G. Love, Mrs. John S. Walker and Miss Helen E. C. Overton. Christy Smith's orchestra furnished the music and delicious refreshments were served by the caterer of the club. Among the guests were people from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, Oil City, Chicago, and Virginia and California.

—Overcoats were in demand on Wednesday, July 1st, 1914, and quite a number were worn.
