

PINE GROVE MENTION.

J. E. Bressler has the auto fever. Whooping cough and measles are here. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goss were Altoona visitors last week. Curt Neidigh, of Patton, is home helping his brother harvest. The stork visited the E. E. Royer home leaving a chubby little boy. The Major J. I. Ross barn is being beautified with a coat of paint. G. W. Ward, of Pittsburgh, is here mixing business with pleasure. E. C. Musser, of Bellefonte, spent the Fourth in his dad's harvest field. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sunday, of Tyrone, were home for Independence day. E. S. Moore and daughter Mary were Stone Valley visitors over Sunday. Miss Henrietta McGirk, of Altoona, spent Sunday with friends at Boalsburg. Charles Homan, is manipulating the lever on a new Buick, 5 passenger car. W. H. Weaver is receiving congratulations over the arrival of a little girl. E. C. Rosman has his new barn about completed and ready for the crops. Harry Sunday and wife, of Tyrone, were here for a few days outing recently. John Andy Hunter, of Boulder, Col., is visiting among his Centre county folks. Miss Ruth Ellingsworth, of Tyrone, is visiting the Grandpa H. M. Snyder home. Mrs. Mollie Prophet, of Colorado, is visiting the home of her youth at Fairbrook. Mrs. Bertha Dale Miller, of Juniata, is visiting the home of her youth at Houersville. Miss Hulda Forney, of Boalsburg, spent Monday at the Dangley home on Main street. Mrs. S. E. Goss, of Reading, is here for the hot weather, visiting the home of her youth. Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman, and Miss Maude and May Dreibleis autoed to Spring Mills Sunday. J. C. Corl is having his barn re-roofed with galvanized roofing. Ward and Sons have the job. Elmer Isler is suffering a relapse with some serious stomach trouble, and is confined to the house. Mrs. Maude Kocher has been a very sick lady the past ten days, suffering with a complication of diseases. Clement Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, spent the first two days of the week among friends in Harrisburg. Prof. S. C. Miller, of Chester, with his family, are spending their vacation at their parental home on east Main street. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martz, of Cleveland, Ohio, are making their annual visit among their many friends in the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, of Altoona, were welcome visitors at Grandpa Port's home on east Main street, recently. Will Musser, of Tampa, Fla., is spending two weeks with relatives in the valley and has words of praise for Dixie land. Will and Harry Collins with their wives, of Broadfoot, spent several days among their Centre county friends last week. We are sorry to note the illness of our mutual friend, Will Swabb, now in the Bellefonte hospital for a surgical operation. Mrs. Maude Miller, of Bellefonte, spent last week at the J. F. Kimport home, getting a good supply of cherries and berries. The hum of the steam thrasher is being heard hulling out the golden grain, which is yielding well and of excellent quality. After a two weeks visit among the Centre county friends George Woods and wife returned to their home at Pitcairn Friday. Rev. J. O. C. McCracken, of Johnstown, and family are making their annual summer visit at the old family home in the Glades. J. A. Service Sunday 10:45 a. m. Wednesday 8 p. m., 94 E. High street.

UNION VESPER SERVICES.
Union vesper services under the auspices of the Ministerial Association of Bellefonte, will be held in the open air on the plaza in front of the High school building, on Allegheny street, for six successive Sunday evenings. These will begin next Sunday, July 19th, at 7:00 p. m. Each of six clergymen of the town will in turn take charge of the services and deliver the sermon. The choir of his church will lead the singing and his ushers will take up the offerings. From these offerings the expenses of these meetings will be paid and the balance will be equally divided among the co-operative churches. Mr. C. D. Young has been selected as treasurer. A common singing book will be used and furnished to each worshipper. The name of the preacher having charge will not be made known until the time of the meeting. The whole service will not last longer than one hour. In case of unfavorable weather the auditorium of the High school or one of the nearby churches will be available. A plea is made for all to attend these services.

Temper vs. Temperance.
Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Commissioner of Health.

Over two thousand years ago Confucius said, "Few are those who err on the side of self restraint." All neurologists unite in the opinion that anger has a dangerous effect on the human system. Experiments have been carried on to show that the various functions of the body are materially interfered with or arrested by excessive passion. It is not uncommon for illness to follow a fit of temper and for those whose blood pressure is high or where there is defective heart action it is extremely dangerous. Not only those who give way to uncontrolled passion work an injury to themselves but they are almost certain to arouse a like passion in others. There are few occasions in life which justify the display of "righteous anger" and even in such instances it is always a debatable question whether calm and well directed energy would not have accomplished far more.

During the hot weather small annoyances are apt to be exaggerated and trifles assume an importance out of proportion. Self restraint is a valuable asset in the building of individual character and in the cultivation of those temperate habits of mind and body which go far to maintain sound bodily and mental health.

Tail Can't Wag the Dog.

From the Galveston News.
The Pinchot boys are important members of the Progressive party, but they do not seem to be justified in assuming that they are all of it.
—It appears that the reorganizers in Philadelphia voted a dead man to get control of one of the ward committees. The reorganizers are very enterprising reformers.

Huerta Quits as Mexican Dictator.

Victoriano Huerta presented his resignation as president of the republic to the chamber of deputies in Mexico City through the department of foreign relations. The resignation was referred to a committee after it had been read. The deputies and spectators who filled the galleries shouted: "Viva Huerta."
The committee will report back to the chamber, and the question as to whether the resignation will be accepted will then be decided.
In his resignation Huerta, who himself wrote the document, says that he resigns because he is actuated by the highest motives of patriotism and is "complying with supreme duty to my country."
General Huerta's cabinet members sprang a surprise while the congress was in session, when every member tendered his resignation, to take effect at once. This drastic action came after it was reported that General Huerta was ready to step down from the dictatorship. The resignations, while wholly unexpected, were anticipated by Foreign Minister Francisco Carbajal, who will assume the provisional presidency of Mexico, and who already has prepared a new cabinet to assist him in ruling the turbulent republic until a new election has been held or the Constitutionalists, refusing to mediate, have captured Mexico City and set up their own government.

General Huerta is still in the capital. That he did not flee with the members of his family, who left for Vera Cruz, was demonstrated when he appeared on the principal streets. In some quarters it was declared that the dictator would not flee, but would await the coming of the Constitutionalists and make a final desperate stand at Mexico City.
It was officially announced that the Huerta, Blanquet, Fuentes and Paedres families had left enroute to Vera Cruz to take refuge on a foreign vessel. Close friends urged General Huerta to leave on the special train, but he declared that he would stick to the end.

Risks Life to Save Wife.

Hanging by one hand to the sill of a third-story window in his burning home in Brooklyn, John Sarsken supported his wife with the other arm until the flames reached him. Then he and the woman fell. Mrs. Sarsken was caught in the street below by men who had been watching Sarsken's endeavors to save his wife, but Sarsken suffered a fractured skull and is believed to be dying.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, Etc.

"THE HEIR APPARENT TO THE WITCH'S THRONE."—Out in our neighboring county of Clearfield this usually common occurrence once led to a romance and a series of remarkable happenings which quicken all other witch stories. There is the strangest factor in a witch story, love to make it humanly real and thrillingly exciting. Emily Wayne was the heroine in spite of her witch's ill fame. Her innocence and the love of a strong young man, who cared nothing for the gossip of the foolish and ignorant, are the tender phases in "The Heir Apparent to the Witch's Throne," a romance appearing in the Sunday North American July 19. There is, in addition, mystery, adventure and gripping climaxes enough for any lover of excitement. This is sure to become one of the popular of the Romances From Pennsylvania History which have been appearing in the Sunday North American. If you have been reading them, you will know what this means; if you have not, don't miss another one of the series.

In order to avoid disappointment, place your order at once with the local agent, or drop a postal to Circulation Department of the North American.

GREAT ACCOMPLISHMENT.—The most noteworthy newspaper achievement of years is the securing of Theodore Roosevelt, most popular and notable American of his day, as a regular contributor by the Pittsburgh Sunday Dispatch. The strenuous one will tell in graphic style all the adventures of his tremendous trip of thousands of miles through the hitherto unpenetrated Brazilian wilderness, and he will give to readers of this paper first-hand view of the wonderfully valuable photographs taken by Kermit Roosevelt and others as well as a close insight into the remarkable scientific facts discovered by him.

"The River of Doubt," now the most famous stream in the world, will be described during the course of the series, which will be among one of the most fascinating ever attempted for newspaper publication.

This wonderful series started last Sunday, July 12. It will continue indefinitely—even the redoubtable Teddy does not know how many installments it will take to tell the story—and may be found only in the Pittsburgh Sunday Dispatch.

PRIZE COMPETITION FOR A CHRISTMAS STORY FOR THE PUBLIC LEDGER, PHILADELPHIA.—The Public Ledger invites you to enter a competition for the best 2500 word story suitable for a Pennsylvania, the merit of the story to be valued according to the Christmas spirit that pervades it perfectly no pathetic, bright and buoyant.

The Public Ledger will pay $300.00 for the best story submitted, $150 for 2nd and $50 for 3rd best. The judges will consist of three of the most distinguished American critics. All copies must be submitted by September 1st 1914. The prize story will be copiously illustrated and will be printed in colors in the Christmas Supplement of the Public Ledger; second and third prize stories will be printed in the Sunday Public Ledger. All subsequent publication of the winners will be authorized.

Submitting the story for competition, if desired, it would be satisfactory for the writer to enclose his real name and address in sealed envelope to accompany the manuscript; the story can be submitted by the author under an assumed name, precautions being taken that the sealed envelopes containing the real name may be identified from the assumed name. These envelopes will not be opened until after the award is made.

THE AUGUST WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION.—In the August Woman's Home Companion appear photographs of 17 babies who, out of 100,000 examined at the Better Babies contests, were the only ones marked 100 by the physicians in charge. All of these children were examined and graded according to the Woman's Home Companion standard score-card adopted for use in all Better Babies contests.

Other interesting special contributions to the August number are: "Good times That Cost Next to Nothing," being accounts of happy vacations spent by resourceful persons who are willing to pass their ideas on to others; "Queen Mary of England," an intimate personal account of Great Britain's sovereign family; "The Lived-in Garden," a practical, suggestive article about gardens contributed by Frank A. Waugh, professor of landscape gardening at the Massachusetts College of Agriculture; "Homemade Fireless Cookers," contributed by readers; "Every Girl Should know the Right Way to Stand, Sleep and Walk" by William J. Cromer "Such a Pretty Girl!" by Katharine Ferguson; and "A Britanny Summer Fair and Festival."

Fiction and special art features are contributed by Juliet Wilbur Tompkins, Fannie Heaslip Lee, Margarita Spalding Gerry, Mary Heaton Vorse, Henry Hutt, Charles C. Curran, and Maud Toussay Fangel.

The regular Fashion, Cooking, Housekeeping and Young People's departments are filled with splendid suggestions peculiarly valuable in summer.
