HOUSEVILLE.

A jolly crowd of young people from Lemont, Houseville and State College held a corn boil on the evening of August 21st, on the Houseville school grounds. The evening was spent in games and music. Refreshments were served at a late hour, consisting of corn, sandwiches, pickles, olives, cake, bananas, potato chips and lemonade. All enjoyed the night very much and departed for their homes about midnight. Those constituting the party were, Minnie Grove, Mary Houtz, Mary Evey, Ibbie Hoy, Mabel Myers, Edna Myers, Pearl Wertz, Henry Norris, Marion and Helen Whitehill, Roxie Houser, Jane Johnson, Ruth Cronmiller; and those from a distance were, Esther Kelley, of Bellwood, Lottie Hettlinger, Spring Mills; Ted Williams, Earnest Johnson, George Wise, Jim Houser, Bob Smith, Ed. Johnstonbaugh, Paul Shuey, Ed. Spotts, Ed. Houtz, Elliott Armstrong, Wilbur Houtz, Roy Rockey, Orvis Rockey, Paul Houser, T. Poorman, Enoch and Rudy Yocum, "Chippie" Rishel, and Eph. Klingler. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, Etc.

The North American of August 30th will contain the story of Nell Mannering, "The Cleopatra of the Backwoods," who might have had "Mystery" for her name. Everything about her was extraordinary, her marriage, her liaisons and her death. Like the storied queen of the Nile, she lured many men to her feet, took their gold or their love, whichever she desired, and drove them away.

Neither race nor color seemed to matter to her. Adventures meant nothing to her unscrupulous nature, and whispers of terrible crimes floated around the country side. But whether or not she was guilty, men could never forget that she was beautiful. The sensational romance of her life is told in "The Cleopatra of the Backwoods," one of the best of the "Romances from Pennsylvania History," which the Sunday North American is publishing in its weekly series.

The September Woman's Home Companion is a "Fashion Forecast Number." Grace Margaret Gould, the fashion editor, with the assistance of her staff of writers and artists, presents the fashion news in a practical way so that readers can follow up her suggestions and make definite use of them. In a general way her policy is to show women how they can make use of the latest fashions without extravagance. An interesting feature of this month's fashion department is a colored plate of an afternoon gown designed by Madame Paquin for the conservative American woman. The gown is reproduced from Madame Paquin's design by Henry Hutt and is done in full color.
