TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

The Bellefonte Academy will open its fall session on Tuesday, September 15th, at two p. m.

Don't overlook the fact that the Scenic will be open every forenoon during the fair next week.

Miss Pearl M. Knisely is arranging to teach rec basketball in Bellefonte and surrounding towns.

Paul Tate, of State College, has been appointed a rural mail carrier at the Philipsburg postoffice.

Eight wagons laden with fruit and produce were at the curb market on Tuesday morning, the largest number seen there this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peters, of Bellefonte, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Estella Mae Peters, to Guy A. Shuey, of State College.

Governor Tener on Tuesday appointed John H. Stephens, of Johnstown, a member of the State Board of Agriculture to succeed the late Gen. James A. Beaver.

The American Lime and Stone company started their new plant of four kilns, on the Brockerhoff farm in Buffalo Run valley, on Monday. The plant will be known as No. 22.

This has been a busy week at the Y. M. C. A., as the swimming pool has been re-opened after a general overhauling, and many young people have taken advantage of the weeks free pleasure.

When in Bellefonte next week attending the big Centre county fair, don't forget the Scenic. It will be open an hour or two each morning and every evening. Change of program daily. New and up-to-date pictures shown. Regular price five cents.

Uriah Kitchen, of Blanchard, Centre county's veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary on the eighteenth instant. His general health is good and he takes a keen interest in watching the progress of the European war, as told in the meagre reports received.

When figuring on attending the big Centre county fair next week don't imagine that there will be only one big day. Every day will be big and if you miss one of them you are liable to miss the best part. Remember also that the fastest races are scheduled for Wednesday and Friday, the big free-for-all being on the latter day.

John A. Way, of Halfmoon township, one of the few old line surveyors in the county, has been here this week making a survey of some of the lands of the Nittany Iron company. This company still has some real estate that was not sold at the recent foreclosure sale and the purpose of the survey is to get everything in shape for sale in the near future.

Mrs. Debora Knox Livingston, of Bangor, Maine, will speak in the Presbyterian church of this place on Sunday evening next and in the Methodist church in the morning. Mrs. Livingston is the State President of the Women's Christian Temperance Association of Rhode Island and is said to be a most interesting and talented speaker.

William H. Brouse has given the Development company with which he has been associated at Seward, Cambria county, a month's notice and on or about the first of October will come back to Bellefonte and take charge of the Brouse grocery store in the Bush Arcade, which was conducted so successfully the past eleven years by his father, the late R. S. Brouse.

Mrs. Kate McCloskey, of near Beech Creek, stepped on a nail last Friday which went through the sole of her shoe and penetrated the foot to a depth of half an inch. She was unable to pull the nail out or take off her shoe and was compelled to endure the pain for an hour or longer until a passing neighbor heard her cries and extricated the nail. The injury has proven so serious that Mrs. McCloskey has since been confined to bed.

The WATCHMAN last week contained an account of the poisoning of a number of cows out at Coleville and the death of four of the animals. Notwithstanding the fact that a pretty thorough investigation was made it was impossible to discover where or how the cattle secured the poison. Inasmuch as they were all running at large on the mountain side it is possible that the poisoning was the result of carelessness on the part of some one and not a willful act.

Henry Keep, superintendent of the Thompson Starrett company on their work at the new penitentiary, and James G. Bent, foreman, have decided to move to Bellefonte. Mr. Keep has rented the old McClain house on east Curtin street recently occupied by Mrs. J. A. B. Miller and will move his wife and little baby here from New York sometime during October. Mr. Bent has rented the Charles R. Kurtz house on High street and will move his wife and five children here from New York in the near future.

THE BIG CENTRE COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK.—The Centre county fair management have secured some big attractions for the fair next week, chief among which will be an aeroplane ascent on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by aviator Williams. This will be the first opportunity Centre counties will have of viewing an aeroplane within their own territory and both big and little should be here to see it.

The Aaronsburg band has been engaged to furnish the music on Wednesday; Our Boys band of Milesburg will be here on Thursday and on Friday both Our Boys band and the Runville band will be here, so that there will be no lack of music.

From present indications the string of horses will be larger and better this year than it has been in many seasons, and some very fine racing will be seen on the track during the three days beginning Wednesday.

Many applications have been received for exhibition space but there is still room for others. Bring in your exhibits and crowd the main building as well as fruit tents. It takes exhibits to make a good fair. Farmers are again urged to bring their best stock. Your horse, your cow, hog or sheep may win first prize.

As it looks now the Midway will be crowded with attractions that can be seen for little money, and without which no fair is complete. No gambling operations will be permitted on or near the grounds.

Every arrangement has been made for proper police protection, so that everybody will be as safe and secure as at home.

All that is needed now to make the fair a success is good weather and the crowd, and while you can't control the former you can help swell the latter.

THE WILLIAMS FAMILY REUNION.—It was estimated that between four and five thousand people attended the seventeenth annual reunion of the Williams family in the John Q. Miles grove near Martha, last Saturday. People were there from all over Centre county, with many from Clinton, Clearfield and Blair counties as well as from distant points. There were amusements of various kinds all over the grounds, which kept the crowd well entertained from the time they arrived upon the ground until the departure of the last train.

In the afternoon there was a full program of appropriate exercises. Ralph Williams, the president of the association, presided, and the invocation was made by Rev. Gordon Arch Williams, of Altoona. Rev. Wilson, of the Port Matilda United Brethren church, delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Rev. W. H. Williams, of Spring Mills. Rev. Gordon A. Williams, of Altoona, made a splendid address on "Our Family Needs." Rev. Board talked on "Our Home," and appropriate addresses were also made by Clement Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, and William E. Tobias, of Clearfield, Democratic candidate for Congress. The exercises closed with singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and repeating the Lord's prayer in unison.

UNDINE FIRE COMPANY PRIZE WINNERS.—The Undine fire company returned home at noon last Friday from attending the annual convention of the Central Pennsylvania District Firemen's association, and they were considerably elated over the fact that they came home prize winners. They won second prize ($50.00) in the band contest and the five dollar prize for the tallest man, policeman Harry Dunlap. Weber Condo, of the Reliance fire company, Philipsburg, was pronounced the smallest fireman in line but the Undines protested against this decision because Condo is only ten years old, and in "Pinkey" Doll they claimed they had the smallest fireman. The judges, however, over-ruled the protest on the grounds that Condo is a voting member of the Reliance company and entitled to the prize.

THE GRANGERS' GREAT PICNIC EXHIBITION.—At Williams' Grove, which will be held August 31st, to September 5th, this year.

In addition to the usual implement show there will be an extra large display of stock, poultry, dogs and ponies. Horticultural hall will be filled with fruits, grain and garden products. A tent 60x120 will be filled with automobiles. The auditorium will be particularly attractive as all the candidates for State offices and U. S. Senator will appear.

The evening entertainments will be as high grade as ever. Everything first-class, clean and attractive. Low rates on all railroads. Consult your station agent.

REST TENT AT THE FAIR.—A rest tent, where women tired and worn, from the excitement of a day, can be quiet and comfortable for a time, will be given a prominent place next week, on the grounds of the Centre County Fair. The tent will be equipped and in charge of the Woman's Club of Bellefonte, where the committee each day, will make comfortable and welcome, every one who takes advantage of their hospitality. Every woman who comes to the Fair is most cordially invited to rest a while at this tent.

A Scott Harris has given up his residence in Pittsburgh and come to Bellefonte to accept the position of time-keeper on the new state road work between Pleasant Gap and Lemont.

Fourth class postmasters appointed in Centre county this week are George F. Hoy, at Hubbersburg; Austin F. Hockman, at Zion; Harry S. Williams, at Martha Furnace, and William B. Culver, at Moshannon.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey announces that "Effective September 1st, 1914, Mr. C. B. Williams is appointed purchasing agent of the company, with offices at 143 Liberty street, New York city." Mr. Williams' many Bellefonte friends will be glad to know of this merited promotion. Since going with the Central Railroad of New Jersey he has been steadily promoted and the fact that his new position is one of great responsibility shows the confidence reposed in him by the company.

W. H. Benner, a flask maker at the foundry of the Bellefonte Engineering company, met with an accident on Wednesday that may cost him the sight of his right eye. He was attempting to pry out a set pin with a file when the latter broke and the jagged end flew back and struck him in the eye, piercing the pupil. He is now at the Bellefonte hospital under treatment, but it is impossible to tell at this time whether the sight of the eye has been destroyed. Mr. Benner is a married man with a family and his accident and consequent lay-off from work is considerable of a misfortune.

On Monday evening when the freight train on the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania was on its way to Bellefonte a wheel came loose on one of the cars and after bumping off the rail and on again finally jumped the track and before the train could be stopped seven loaded cars had been derailed and about one hundred and fifty feet of track torn up. Practically all the ties in that distance were so broken and splintered they had to be renewed. The P. R. R. wreck train from Tyrone was secured to replace the cars and fix up the track, but at that time on Tuesday morning ran two hours or more late.

All exhibitors in the young people's department at the Fair next week are asked to have their entries at the building before Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. Those in charge of the department will be in the building from Monday at noon until Tuesday afternoon, to meet the children and place their exhibits. It is hoped that this department which has been steadily growing will exceed any previous year, both as to art, the quality and number of its exhibits. Parents are urged to encourage their children in gathering together their work for this display, in order to keep it what it always has been, the most interesting department at the Fair.

AUTOMOBILE WENT UP IN FLAMES.—On Monday evening Jesse Nevil, driver for Albert Thompson's livery made a trip to Pennsylvania in the latter's Buick car. He drove over to Tusseyville to see his mother and while sitting in the car in front of the house he was suddenly confronted with a sheet of flames that enveloped the dash and hood of the machine. He managed to get out of the car without sustaining any burns but was unable to extinguish the fire, which spread rapidly to every part of the machine and in less than twenty minutes all that remained of the car was the metal parts. Young Nevil is at a loss to know what caused the fire, but is of the opinion that there must have been a leak in the prestolite tube and the gas caught fire from the heat of the motor. But whatever the cause the Thompson livery is now short one car.

CENTRE COUNTY VETERANS WILL PICNIC IN BELLEFONTE.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Centre County Veteran club, last Saturday, it was decided to hold their annual reunion and picnic in Bellefonte on September 12th. The High school grounds will be used for the outdoor gathering, and the principal speaker will be Hon. J. D. Hicks, of Altoona. Brief addresses will also be made by members of the club.

The business meeting will be held in Gregg Post rooms and will be of more than the usual interest, because at this meeting a new president will be elected to succeed the late Gen. James A. Beaver, and another vice president to succeed the late W. A. Ishler. W. H. Musser, who has been secretary of the club for many years, has decided to retire from that office, consequently a new secretary will have to be chosen.

IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL THE PAST WEEK.—About thirty young men and women hied themselves to the fair grounds last Thursday evening and enjoyed a corn feast. The capacity of a big iron kettle was taxed to the utmost to hold enough of corn to satisfy the crowd. The Rosenhoover sisters also gave a corn roast up Spring creek the same evening.

On Monday evening Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Parrish entertained at cards in honor of Mrs. Parrish's sisters, Mrs. LeRoy Plumb, of Newton, Kan., and Mrs. Howard Gearhart, of Coatesville. About two dozen guests were present.

The young friends of Miss Helen Todsock gave her a shower on Wednesday evening in honor of her marriage on Wednesday morning of next week to Joseph Black, of South Bethlehem. Entertained and Mrs. Edmund Blanchard burgess on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ray's guests; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Rich, of New York city.

HOME FROM WAR STRICKEN EUROPE.—Miss Adaline Olewine arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday on her return trip from Europe and while she tells a very interesting story of her observations in war-stricken Europe, she had no very exciting or thrilling experiences herself. She was a member of a party in Berlin, Germany, at the time war was declared and they with all other foreigners were notified to leave the city, as a precaution to their own safety. They left immediately for Holland and had no trouble of any kind on the trip.

It was upon her arrival in Rotterdam that she cabled home for more money. Her explanation was that while she had enough money for her immediate needs she did not know how long she might be marooned hence her desire for additional funds. In Rotterdam the party stopped at a very comfortable hotel and suffered no inconvenience. They sailed for home on the Hamburg-American steamer Nordham on Saturday, August 15th. Practically no distinction was made among the hundreds of passengers, who occupied the cabins and steerage alike, and while they did not have all the conveniences and seclusion of first cabin passengers, they were at least made comfortable on the trip over. They landed in New York on Monday and Miss Olewine started at once for home.

She states that the Holland government has made preparations against an invasion by the Germans. All houses along the sea coast have been vacated and are ready to be blown up, if necessary. Trees have been cut down and everything at hand to cut the dykes and flood the entire country as a protection against the enemy. However, an invasion is hardly anticipated, owing to Holland's maintaining a strict neutrality.

A stand where a light, appetizing, inexpensive lunch and Suffrage literature can be gotten, will be in charge of the Centre County Suffrage committee at the Fair next week. Ginger cakes, buttermilk, iced-tea, sandwiches and sweets, can be had and will be attractively served, at small cost. Do not fail to visit the Suffrage stand or you will not have seen all of the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben R. Curry and little son Billy arrived in Bellefonte on Sunday evening from Pellamere, Florida, and are now guests at the home of Mrs. Curry's father, Charles F. Cook. The Currys came north because of Mr. Curry's desire to again get into the steel business as a chemist and not because they disliked Florida. They have not sold their land there, as stated in the WATCHMAN recently, but have left it in the hands of an experienced caretaker. Part of their land has already been planted with grape fruit and oranges and Mr. Curry says it is their intention to put out ten acres more next spring.

Mrs. Marks, who is a niece of Mr. Fleming, came east in June to visit for three months at her old home in Williamsport, and when in Bellefonte was on her return west to Utah.

John Guisewhite came to Bellefonte on Friday from Mendville, where he spent two days looking after a business proposition, and after visiting friends over Sunday left for his home in Cherrytree on Monday noon, accompanied by his daughter Catharine, who spent several weeks in Bellefonte with her grandmother, Mrs. Amanda Houser.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burchfield, their son Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Fleming and their son John, drove to Bellefonte Sunday from Philipsburg to celebrate Mr. Burchfield's and Mr. Fleming's birthday, which happened to fall on the same day, the 23rd of August. A few hours were spent with Mr. Fleming's parents before their return to Philipsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dubbs Jr., with their four children, of Philadelphia, were arrivals in Bellefonte last Thursday for a visit at the home of Mr. Dubbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dubbs. Mr. Dubbs, who is route agent for the Adams Express company, was compelled to return to the city on Monday but Mrs. Dubbs and the children will remain a week or two.

Hon. George M. and Mrs. Dimeling, with several friends whose names we failed to ascertain, moved to Penns Cave on Sunday last and enjoyed the scenery of that interesting place for a few hours, after which they went up to State College, where they remained for the night, returning to their home in Clearfield on Monday morning. Senator Dimeling reports the roads over the entire distance he traveled to be in unusually fine condition and a greater portion of the fall ploughing along the entire route to be completed, and many of the fields ready for seeding.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ulmer Tibbens and their two bright and interesting sons, of Wheeling, W. Va., are spending Mr. Tibbens' annual vacation among friends in Bellefonte and up Buffalo Run. Mr. Tibbens is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school, after which he drifted into newspaper work and was a reporter on the Altoona Tribune, but now is advertising manager for one of the largest department stores in Wheeling, W. Va. He is a staunch advocate of prohibition and will now have ample opportunity to see how the principle works out in West Virginia, which is state-wide dry.

Mr. D. M. Williams, of Sykesville, Pa., is one of the many members of that family who always tries to be at their annual reunion, with Mrs. Williams, made it suit when here last Saturday, to call on the WATCHMAN and say a kind word about the pleasure it gave his family to receive the paper each week and how much of interest about Centre county matters they found in its columns each issue. To both himself and Mrs. Williams the idea of getting along without its weekly visit would be no more considered than the suggestion of doing without a change of linen when conditions called for it. We hope they may both long entertain the same good opinion of the efforts made by the WATCHMAN to be useful and entertaining to people of our county, that they now have.
