THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Columbus day on Monday was not generally observed in Bellefonte, although the banks and postoffice were closed.

—During the month of September the county commissioners paid out as bounties on noxious animals the sum of $448.50.

—One hundred and eight tickets were sold at the Bellefonte station last Saturday night for the excursion to Washington.

—Gettysburg fell a victim to the State football team on Beaver field, last Saturday, the score being 13 to 0 in State's favor.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team will go to Indiana, Pa., today, where they will play the Indiana Normal tomorrow afternoon.

—A dinner was given last night by the Misses Helen and Roxanna Mingle in compliment to Miss Rose Fauble, who will be one of the fall brides.

—Paul Foreman, son of prothonotary D. R. Foreman, is the latest victim of scarlet fever, and the Foreman home on Spring street has been quarantined. The case is not a very serious one.

—The Phillipsburg railroad collision and Labor day demonstration pictures will be repeated at the Scenic this (Friday) afternoon and evening. Special matinee for children from two to five o'clock for five cents.

—There is all the difference in the world between ice cream made on sanitary machines and that made on unsanitary. Only the latest and best sanitary machines used at Candy-land, and the ice cream talks for itself.

—Two showers last week freshened up the dying grass and vegetation, but the rain was not sufficient to effect the springs and streams; and as a consequence Centre county farmers are compelled to continue hauling water.

—At a session of juvenile court last Thursday Foster and Harry McCullough, aged 11 and 9 years respectively, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCullough, of Coleville, were sentenced to the Glen Mills school on account of incorrigibility.

—Mrs. Frank P. Bartley slipped on a leaf on the concrete pavement in front of the Heckman residence on east Lamb street, on Tuesday, fell and tore the ligaments of her right leg at the ankle. The injury is quite serious and will keep her confined to the house for some days.

—The Manhattan Players drew good crowds at Garman's every night last week and gave pleasing performances. The company is made up of ladies and gentlemen and they made many friends during their week's stay in town. As they return to Bellefonte next season they will be sure to draw big houses.

—A wedding that will interest Bellefonte people will be that on Wednesday of next week, October 21st, of Miss Marguerite Potter, daughter of Mrs. George L. Potter, of east Linn street, and Sylvester A. Bixler, of Lock Haven. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, only the very close relatives of the contracting parties to be in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Bixler will reside in Lock Haven.

—Several weeks ago S. D. Ray left his car stand in front of his office on south Water street. He had a new tire in the car which he had just purchased. When he came out of his office the tire was gone. A week or so ago he got a letter postmarked at Centre Hall in which the writer thanked him very kindly for the tire. As the letter was not signed there is no means of tracing the thief's identity.

—Two car loads of cattle from West Virginia and a car load of horses from Chicago were recently received by State College, the cattle for experimental purposes and fattening and the horse for experimenting in feed, etc. The cattle will be fed for five months and after exhibition at a cattle feeders convention to be held at the College April 1st, 1915, will be sold for beef. The horses will be used on the experimental farms.

—Tomorrow will be a big day in this section of town as it will be the formal opening of Candy-land in the room next the WATCHMAN office. Everything has been fixed up spic, span and bright. Candies, ice cream, Chocolate and sodas, and all the sweets usually found in a candy land. The proprietors invite you to "come early and avoid the rush," but if you can't get there early you any time during the day as there will be plenty there for all.

—Over one thousand hunters licenses were granted during the past week, the total number up to yesterday evening being 2127. Last year over three thousand licenses were issued in Centre county and this number will likely be equalled this year when the deer hunters get theirs. Three women, Miss Ida Daughenbaugh, of Howard; Mrs. Harry Mann, of Milesburg, and Mrs. Ellis Harvey, of Orvinton, were among those who took out licenses.

ARRESTED FOR GETTING MEAT ILLEGALLY.—Sherman Bennett and Charles Rodgers, who live in the foothills of the Alleghenies in the vicinity of Gum Stump, were arrested last Friday and lodged in the Centre county jail for killing a two and a half year old steer belonging to James Watson. The steer disappeared from Watson's herd on Wednesday and in hunting through the woods for the animal he found a sack containing a hind quarter of beef and the liver, both apparently freshly killed. The meat was taken on the ridge between Bennett's home and that of Rodgers.

On Thursday Watson came to Bellefonte and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Bennett and Rodgers and on Friday afternoon constable Horace Musser and chief of police Harry Dukeman, armed with a search warrant, went out to make a search. The first place visited was the Bennett home. Mr. Bennett was not at home and the officers searched his house from cellar to garret. They then made a search of the premises but found nothing until they reached the garden. There they found a shock of corn fodder spread around in a hap-hazard way and on kicking it aside discovered fresh earth. They began to prod around and soon discovered buried about ten inches underground a large candy bucket which, when brought to the surface and opened, was found full of fresh beef, nicely salted down. Nearby an old telescope, or suit case, was also found full of meat.

About the time the officers discovered the meat Mrs. Bennett made her appearance from somewhere and began to denounce the officers and threaten them with arrest for trespassing, but when they threatened to arrest her, too, for conspiracy in concealing the stolen meat she subsided, and even told the officers that her husband was up over the hill at a neighbors.

The officers started for the place designated and when they got in sight of it they saw Bennett sitting on the porch with the family. He also saw them and getting up walked slowly around the house until he got out of sight when he ducked into the mountain. All efforts to find him proved fruitless.

The officers then started across the ridge to get Rodgers but after going some distance Dukeman suggested to Musser that he and the guide go alone and he would lay for Bennett. Taking a circuitous route he got back to the woods in the rear of the Bennett home where he concealed himself and in the course of half an hour Bennett appeared from the woods on the opposite side of the house and going home asked if "they had gone." Just about that time Dukeman appeared around the corner of the house and ordered Bennett to throw up his hands. After a little parley he submitted to arrest.

In the meantime Musser got Rodgers without any trouble and the two men were brought to Bellefonte. Before "Squire Musser they admitted having stolen and killed the steer, as they "wanted the fresh meat." In default of bail both men were committed to jail.

ANOTHER AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening between nine and ten o'clock John Kreps, engineer for the State-Centre Electric company, left Bellefonte in the company's Ford car to go to his home in Milesburg, taking with him Lane Johnson, Homer McKinley and Frank Wyland. It had rained quite heavily during the evening and the state road was rather slippery. While going along at a moderate rate of speed on the hill near McCoy & Linn's works the car skidded and before the driver could get control the car crashed into a telephone pole. All the men were thrown out and Johnson and McKinley so badly cut and bruised about the face and head that they were brought to the Bellefonte hospital to have their injuries attended to. Krebs had his nose broken, his left hand badly hurt and a number of small cuts and bruises on the face. Wyland escaped without any serious injury. The front of the car was badly wrecked and it was not until Sunday evening that it was gotten in condition to haul in for repairs.

THE MISLEADING LADY.—A fresh, ingenious, melodramatic farce, full of humor and surprises, "The Misleading Lady," by Messrs. Charles Goddard and Paul Dickey, authors of "The Ghost Breaker" will be seen at the opera house on Tuesday night, October 20th. There is a house party on the upper Hudson, and Miss Helen Steele is one of the guests. She is a very attractive young woman and wants to be an actress. One of the men guests in the same house is a play writer and the leading part in his play is that of a siren. Miss Steele wants to play the part but nobody thinks she has it in her. So they make a wager, according to which she is to exhibit her arts on young Mr. Jack Clayton, another of the guests. The play throughout presents a number of unique and original situations which lead up to a thrilling climax. Plenty of surprises and enough comical situations to render the play a very pleasing one.

—A report from the hospital at Buffalo, N. Y., states that Hon. J. K. P. Hall has had a relapse and his condition is considered very critical. Senator Hall's advanced age is naturally against his recovery but as long as there is life there is hope and his many friends anxiously await any news that may come of a favorable turn in his condition.

Deal, the Boston third base man whose stick work contributed its share toward the defeat of the Athletics in the worlds' series, got his initial training on the Huntingdon ball team and played in various towns in Huntingdon and Blair counties.

—Workmen have begun digging the trenches for the foundation walls of the dining hall, laundry and hospital at the new penitentiary. As soon as the foundations are completed there will be work for many carpenters in erecting the forms for the concrete walls. All of these buildings will be located back of the death house on the hill and will be built as permanent parts of the main prison buildings.

—The State College football team will play Ursinus on Beaver field tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, which will be the last game at home until they play the Michigan Aggies on Pennsylvania day. Therefore if you want to see what progress the State team is making you had better see tomorrow's game. It will help you to dope out the chances State will have when she plays Harvard on Saturday of next week.

—Dr. and Mrs. McCluney Radcliffe, of Philadelphia, have issued invitations for the wedding of their only daughter, Miss Sarah Cunningham Radcliffe, to Robert Ronald Mackay, the wedding to take place in the Central North Broad Street Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, on Thursday of next week, October 22nd. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the Aldine. Dr. and Mrs. Radcliffe are well known in Centre county.

—Notice has been sent out by the State Highway Department urging automobile owners and drivers to get their applications for licenses for 1915 in early and license plates and cards will be ready to send out December first. These licenses will not be valid until January 1st, 1915, but as the 1914 license will not be good on or after that date it will be a good plan to have the 1915 one on hand and ready.

—Wilfred O. Thompson, a retired band master of the United States army, has been secured by the State College faculty to direct the College band. It is proposed to develop a band of sixty pieces and already there are seventy-five applicants, thirty-three of whom are experienced players. Mr. Thompson served in the Spanish-American war, the Boxer uprising and the Philippines. In addition to the Cadet band Mr. Thompson will organize a drum corps and an orchestra.

—The electric score board at the Scenic was the next thing to seeing the world's series games played in reality, but it was heart-rending every one of the four days to the Athletic admirers to see their team go down to defeat. But the baseball world has awakened to the fact that the Boston Nationals have proven themselves a vastly superior team to the Athletics in every phase of the game, and perhaps Philadelphia fans will now wake up to the fact also that there are other ball players.

—R. J. Bell, who has started a dancing class in the hall in the public building has rented a room in Temple court where he will establish a studio for the purpose of giving private lessons in dancing. Mr. Bell is not only regarded one of the best interpolators of the modern dances in the country but has also proven himself a most efficient instructor. He will teach both old and young and give especial attention to children. See his advertisement on the fifth page of today's paper.

—The Panther hunting club of Bellefonte are planning for a two weeks deer hunt in November. For a dozen years the club camped annually on the Allegheny mountains and several years were quite successful. Two years ago they went into the gap in Little Sugar valley, and failed to see anything larger than a rabbit which so disgusted the members that they did not go out last year. This year, however, they feel again like tempting fate, but have not yet decided on where they will go into camp.

—The Phillipsburg Labor day demonstration moving pictures at the Scenic last Friday evening drew a large crowd and George T. Bush and Our Boys band of Milesburg were liberally applauded. While the Scenic cannot show local pictures or world's series base ball games every day, you can always see an interesting program of moving pictures every evening. And you can be sure of the fact that when anything unusually good or exciting comes along manager T. Clayton Brown will have it. That's the reason why you want to patronize the Scenic.

—The State fisheries department has for distribution this year about a million and a half of trout for stocking the various trout streams of the State, most of which are being sent out from the Bellefonte and Erie hatcheries. These are not trout fry but trout five and six inches long, all able to take care of themselves when placed in foreign waters. Just what per cent. of the trout die through the transfer from the hatchery to the streams has not yet been figured out, but many of those that live will be of a legal size to catch next spring when the fishing season opens.

FALL FLITTINGS.—Having stored their household goods Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richard are living at the Bush house, where they will be until they leave Bellefonte for the winter.

Henry C. Quigley, who purchased the Richard home on east Linn street, will with his family, take possession of it immediately.

W. Harrison Walker and family will move into the house to be vacated by the Quigleys, which he purchased from Mrs. Keller.

Mrs. James B. Lane will move from the Bush house into the Sands house to be vacated by the Walkers.

Thomas Elliott Mayes and family will about December first move from the Snyder house on Bishop street to one side of the new double dwelling almost completed by Lewis Hill on east Bishop street.

Miss Bertha Laurie, who during the past year has had rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore, on east Linn street, during the last week in October will move in with Miss Emma Montgomery, on north Allegheny street.

Robert Sechler, mail agent on the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad, has purchased from the Linn estate the one-half of the double house on north Spring street, now occupied by Mr. Bennett and family, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made the two families will change residences in the near future. The other side of the house has been purchased from the Morrison's by William H. Bilger, a clerk in the Bellefonte postoffice, who will move there from Willowbank street just as soon as some necessary repairs are made.

HUNTING SEASON NOW ON.—The season for hunting squirrel, pheasant, Hungarian quail and woodcock opened yesterday and from now until the first day of January one kind of game or another will be in season. So far squirrel are reported scarce and the hunter who succeeds in bagging any number of the frisky little animals will be lucky, indeed. As to quail and woodcock there never were enough of them in Centre county to count so far as hunting was concerned. Pheasants have been reported quite plentiful on the mountains but whether many of the birds were destroyed by the recent forest fires is not known. It is highly probable, however, that they were able to evade the flames, in which case they will likely be found more plentiful in the districts not burned over. Wild turkeys have been reported quite plentiful, but don't shoot them as they are still protected by law. The rabbit season will not open until November 1st, and deer season on November 15th.

MCCOY & LINN CLOSED ORE MINES.—The Gatesburg ore mines which have been operated for several years past by the McCoy & Linn iron company, were closed on Saturday and on Monday all their horses, mules, wagons, carts, etc., were moved to the McCoy & Linn works near Milesburg where wagons and carts will be stored. All the horses and mules not needed will be either sold or farmed out. The shut down became imperative owing to the fact that there is no indication of a possibility of the starting of the furnace so long as the war continues abroad, and as the company now has hundreds of tons of ore piled up at the furnace they could not go ahead mining and piling up indefinitely with no opportunity of realizing upon the output. This is the first time the McCoy & Linn company have been closed tight in a number of years and the shut down throws forty men out of employment, thirty at the mines and ten at the furnace plant.

WATCH OUT FOR THE INDIANS.—Bellefonte will be invaded by Indians on Saturday, October 24th, and while they will probably not come around with a tomahawk and scalping knife, they will come prepared to fight. The invaders will be the Carlisle Indian scrubs and they will be the Bellefonte Academy football team's opponents on Hughes field. This will be the first time for an Indian football team to meet the Academy eleven on the gridiron and the game should be a very interesting and exciting one. The Carlisle scrubs are a pretty swift aggregation, while the Academy team has shown up strong in the games so far played. Make your arrangements in time and go out and see the game.

TO JOIN "CHRISTMAS SHIP" MOVEMENT.—The W. C. T. U. women are going to hold a rally and reception in their rooms in Petrikin hall next Thursday evening, October 22nd, from 7:30 to 10. Refreshments will be served and there will be interesting exhibits of new posters and literature. All free. A plan will be discussed to aid the "Christmas Ship" movement for the poor little children of Europe, which is creating so much interest and sympathy throughout the State. Everybody at all interested, whether members or not, will be most cordially welcomed. A large attendance is desired.

PROFESSORS VACATE HOUSES TO ACCOMMODATE GIRLS.—Four professors have vacated their residences on the campus at State College and turned them over as dormitories for the thirty girls who entered the Freshman class to study scientific housekeeping. Forty-seven girls are in the class this year. The total enrollment at the college is 2,265, an increase of 239 over last year. The Freshman class numbers 646, and over two hundred applicants had to be refused admission on account of lack of accommodations.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL.

—Edwin F. Garman left on Sunday on a business trip to New York city.
