

Halt Germans In All Assaults.

Fresh Teuton Troops Attempt to Drive Anglo-French From Trenches at Ypres.

The latest official communications regarding the operations on the western battle fields are much the same as those of preceding days. There has been fighting virtually all along the front, but without an appreciable change in the situation. From the coast of Flanders to the river Lys, on the Franco-Belgian border, much of which has been flooded by the allies to hinder German attacks, there has been a repetition of a somewhat smaller scale of the bombardment which the invaders invariably resort to in the hope of breaking down the allies' resistance before infantry attacks, and in isolated spots attacks in force, but according to the French and British reports, all these have been repulsed.

The Anglo-German forces, which have been holding the territory about Ypres, have again been subjected to determined attacks, fresh German troops having attempted to force the allies out of their trenches, a task which the Prussian Guards a few days previously failed to accomplish. As was the case with the Prussian Guards, the Germans, who made the latest effort, appear to have taken the first line of trenches, but, like the Guards, found themselves attacked on the flanks, and were compelled to give back the ground gained after holding it a short time.

Both sides, as shown by the casualty lists of the officers, are losing heavily in the fighting, but the Germans on the offensive and so often enfladed after success was nearly in their hands, are said to have suffered enormously. The French Zouaves, who have frequently distinguished themselves by dashing charges, have been utilized again to dislodge the Germans from a position near Bixchoote, over which there has been much fighting, and according to the French communication, they have again been successful.

These incidents are merely examples of what has been occurring in northern France, along the Aisne valley, around Rheims, in the Argonne forest and on the banks of the river Meuse. First one side and then the other gains an advantage, but when all is told the general situation remains about as it was.

Reports come from France that the Germans are preparing to make another attempt to get through to the coast by way of La Bassee, but like the rumor that they are preparing for a retreat, there is no confirmation. The official bulletins are as follows:

FRENCH.

"The day has been marked by a very violent and almost uninterrupted cannonade on our front in the north.

"In the region of St. Mihiel the Germans have blown up the west part of Chauvencourt, which they had mined.

"There is nothing new to report from the other parts of the front.

"Yesterday (Tuesday) passed much as did the day before. There were numerous artillery exchanges and some isolated attacks on the part of the enemy's infantry, all of which were repulsed.

"From the North sea to the Lys the front was subjected to a fairly active bombardment, particularly at Nieupoort and to the east and to the south of Ypres.

"Near Bixchoote the Zouaves, charging with the bayonet, brilliantly took possession of a forest which had been disputed between the enemy and ourselves for three days.

"To the south of Ypres an offensive movement on the part of the enemy's infantry was repulsed by our troops. The English army also maintained its front.

"From Arras to the Oise there is nothing new to report.

"In the region of Craonne our artillery on several occasions secured the advantage over the batteries of the enemy.

"The bombardment of Rheims has continued. From Rheims to the Argonne there is nothing new to report.

"In the region of St. Mihiel, in spite of counter attacks by the Germans, we have retained in our possession the western part of the village of Chauvencourt.

"In Alsace the landwehr battalions sent into the region of Sainte-Marie-Aux-Mines have been removed, for the reason that they lost half of their effective strength."

GERMAN.

"Fighting in West Flanders continues and the situation on the whole remains unchanged.

"In the forest of Argonne our attacks continue successfully. French sorties to the south of Verdun were repulsed.

"An attack was made against our forces which had moved forward on the western bank of the river Meuse, near St. Mihiel, and although it was originally successful for the enemy it broke down completely later on.

"Our attack to the southeast of Crey compelled the French to surrender some of their positions. The Chateau Chailillon was stormed and taken by our troops.

"New battles have developed in Poland in the region north of Lodz, but no decision has yet been reached.

"To the southeast of Soldau (East Prussia), the enemy has been forced to retreat in the direction of Mlaw. Upon the northwestern wing a strong Russian cavalry force which was defeated on Nov. 16 and 17, has been driven back through Tikallen."

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR

THURSDAY.

Great Britain and France warned Ecuador and Colombia that violations of neutrality by them will not be tolerated. The United States has been formally notified that hope is expressed that this government will be able to impress upon the South American countries the importance of being neutral.

Optimism in England has been dashed by the raid of the German submarine which sank the torpedo gunboat Neger near the mouth of the Thames.

The Kaiser's army holds fast to Dixmude, Belgium. The allies hold the line between Dixmude and Dunkirk, barring further German advance westward.

The Russian army is reported to have advanced all along the line. They are thirty miles inside the border in East Prussia. Cracow, Southern Silesia, is under fire. Przemysl, in Galicia, again is surrounded.

FRIDAY.

Attempts by the German army in Belgium to recross the Yser have been repulsed. The allies report advances north of the Aisne and at other points in France.

General Von Hindenberg is reported to have been captured by the Russians. Five battles are reported at various points along the eastern line of warfare. Russian forces are inside the East Prussian line, and near the borders of the provinces of Silesia and Posen. The Germans are resisting stubbornly.

A German submarine was sunk by a French torpedo boat off the Holland coast.

SATURDAY.

Canadian volunteers are on the fighting line in Flanders. Confirmation of the report that the allies have recaptured Dixmude, Belgium, is lacking. Berlin reports satisfactory progress in western field of the war.

The Kaiser's army has begun a new invasion of Poland, from the German province of Posen, with the apparent object of relieving the troops facing the czar's invasion of East Prussia. The Austrian army under General Dankl continues its retreat through Galicia. Vienna admits the Russians have taken Tarnow, Jaslow and Kosno.

Constantinople reports the Russian army in Caucasus has been defeated with a loss of 8500 men.

An unconfirmed report says that the British dreadnought Audacious was badly damaged by a mine off the north coast of Ireland.

SUNDAY.

Official dispatches from Paris say that the Germans were driven from the right bank of the Yser canal and that they had evacuated their positions on the left bank.

Heavy storms have caused a lull in the battle in Flanders. Reports from London say the Germans are preparing for a winter in Belgium and have built extensive defenses in that section of the battle front.

Great Britain is mourning the death of Field Marshal Lord Roberts, who died of pneumonia on the battle front in France.

The Russians and Turks are engaged in a battle in the Caucasus, the result of which may have a marked effect on the war in that part of the world.

It is announced in Vienna that the Austrian forces are meeting with fierce resistance at Valjevo, where the Servians and Montenegrins have massed their forces.

MONDAY.

It was announced in Washington that the United States government was informed two weeks ago of the destruction of the superdreadnought Audacious. Berlin published a report that the British torpedo boat destroyer Falcon, the cruiser Brilliant and the sloop of war Rinaldo have been disabled by German gun ashore.

A blizzard is raging over the flooded battlefield in Flanders. German attacks near Ypres, Dixmude and Bixchoote have been repulsed.

Seven Russian armies, 2,400,000 men, are pressing westward. One of the czar's armies has reached Angersburg, East Prussia, apparently moving upon Koenigsburg, fifty miles distant. Petrograd reports the invasion of the province of Posen as continuing, with the Russians three days march from the city of Cracow.

Fighting of severe character is reported from Trans-Caucasia, where the Russian advance guard is said to be falling back.

TUESDAY.

A violent artillery duel is in progress between the Germans and the allies across the flooded valley of the Yser. From Nieupoort to Dixmude, in Flanders, German attacks to the north and to the south of Ypres, Belgium have been repulsed, Paris reports, as was an attack against the allies' line near Vailly, on the Aisne. The French report an advance, with heavy fighting, along the Meuse.

Berlin reports a decisive victory over a heavy Russian force which was moving toward Thorn, East Prussia. The battle was fought at Wloclka, west, in Russian Poland, and the forces of the czar were driven back thirty-three miles to Kutno. A Rome dispatch says Cracow is in flames.

Russia officially admits that the czar's advance in Armenia has been checked. Several hot engagements have been fought between Indian and Turkish troops near Fao.

LEMONT.

Game is scarce on Nittany mountain this year. The fine rain on Sunday was followed by very windy and cold weather.

Mrs. Thomas Houtz visited among friends in Mill Hall the latter part of last week.

A.H. O'Neil and family returned home Saturday, after spending a few days among friends in these parts.

Most of the farmers are ready for winter now, as they have their corn away, threshing done and hay baled.

Clyde Stamm had his foot mashed on Friday by a railroad rail falling upon it. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Saturday for treatment.

Spring creek is lower at present than it has been for many years, and it is hoped that there will be rain enough to raise the springs before it winters up.

Last Saturday was the last day for the filing of liquor license applications and the total number filed is thirty-three, just one more than was granted last year.

"STOP, LOOK, LISTEN!"

A Lawyer received $10,000 for suggesting these words to a railroad. The sign, "Stop, Look, Listen!" saved the road many thousands of dollars in damages. It's a good sign. It's worth $10,000. Wise people are often warned by a similar sign on the road of extravagance. They stop in time. How about yourself? Think this over seriously. A bank account is the Best Kind of Security at any time.
