THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Argument court was held on Tuesday of this week.

—Seafonso kisses, fruit and nut croquets, and other new kinds of candy at CANDYLAND.

—Measles are prevalent in Bellefonte and quite a number of school children are detained at home on account of being afflicted with the same.

—Fred Craft entertained a number of his friends at a stag party on Tuesday night, in his rooms over the State-Centre Electric company's store.

—Lincoln H. Musser has taken the agency for the Hippobone and the first car he sold was to Howard Struble, of Zion; the latter trading in his old car as a partial payment.

—Mrs. Alice A. Robb has sold her home on east Bishop street to Emanuel Corman, of Spring township, who will move to town in the spring. We understand that the consideration was $2000.00.

—A. A. Dale Esq., had a fall on Friday evening and broke a bone in his shoulder. He was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Saturday where the fracture was reduced and he is now under treatment.

—Sherbert's world famous New York hippodrome, "America," in seven realistic reels, will be shown at the Scenic next Wednesday, January 20th, matinee and evening. This is one of the most stupendous motion picture productions.

—Isaac Sager, was up town on Wednesday evening, slipped on the ice, fell and broke his leg. He was not taken to the hospital but had to be helped home and yesterday he was out and around as usual, because it was his wooden leg that he broke.

—The warm weather and rain we have had this week has relieved the water famine throughout Centre county to a great extent. The ice has gone out of the streams and they now have their normal capacity of water, while springs and wells have been filled up.

—John Handza, of Snow Shoe, who some time ago underwent an operation at the Cottage State hospital, Philipsburg, for an infected foot, was compelled to undergo a second operation on Monday and it may eventually be found necessary to amputate the entire foot.

—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cook were compelled last week to cancel their reservations for a trip to California owing to Mrs. Cook's injury in that coasting accident on Monday night, January 4th. They had intended leaving on Monday but when they will go now is uncertain.

—The strong basket ball team of Altoona will play the Bellefonte Academy five in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium tomorrow (Saturday) evening, at 8:45 o'clock. This will be the Academy's opening game and it will undoubtedly be an exciting contest. Admission 25 cents, and everybody is invited.

—Jack Mabus, the eighteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Mabus, attempted to get out of his high chair on Tuesday when his foot caught back of the foot board and he was thrown to the floor, breaking his right shoulder blade. A physician reduced the fracture and the little chap is now getting along all right.

—Horatio S. Moore, who manufactures all kinds of steel frame work and bridges at his plant north of Bellefonte, recently erected a sixty foot steel frame hoisting tower at one of the hard coal mine tips at Nanticoke. It took a large crew of men six weeks to erect the tower after the foundation had been completed.

—Comedy, drama, music, vaudeville, such is the program offered by the Earle Stock company which will be at Garmans all of the week beginning Monday, January 25th. A continuous show. No waiting between acts. Up-to-date dances, magic and other novelties. Prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. Ladies tickets for opening night under usual conditions.

—Bellefonte friends of Miss Henrietta Butts will be interested in learning that she has been promoted to money order clerk in the middle district postoffice, Philadelphia, at a salary advance of $100 per year. Miss Butts went from the Bellefonte postoffice to the office in Philadelphia a number of years ago and her promotion was a merited one.

—The new State bank at Snow Shoe will open for business some time next month, though the exact date is not yet known. The directors have elected Lloyd McDowell, of Clearfield, cashier. Mr. McDowell has been connected with the Farmers' and Traders' National bank and the Clearfield Trust company, and is amply qualified to fill the position.

—The nine young people injured in a coasting accident on Monday night of last week are all recovering nicely. Miss Celia Moerschbacher, whom it was feared was very seriously injured, is now getting along splendidly and will soon be able to be around as usual. Robert Taylor's injuries have proven to be the most serious of any, owing to the fractured bones at the hip and elbow.

PREPARING FOR BIG EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN.—Bellefonte is on the eve of what is hoped will be the biggest evangelistic and religious campaign ever waged here.

These services will be under the auspices of the Presbyterian, Methodist, United Brethren and United Evangelical churches, and will be held in the armory for a period of three weeks, beginning Sunday morning, January 17th.

The evangelist who will be in charge of the services is Dr. W. W. Orr, D. D., of Charlotte, South Carolina. He will arrive in Bellefonte tomorrow afternoon accompanied by his singer, Mr. Culber, of New Haven, Conn. They will make their first appearance in the armory on Sunday morning, and the public in general is urged to turn out and take part in the services.

The armory has been put in shape for the accommodation of large audiences, even up to two thousand people. Chairs have been installed so that all who attend can be comfortably seated. A choir platform has been erected to accommodate the large choir and orchestra. At a meeting on Monday night sixty-five persons reported for choir work. Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the High school building and it is the desire of those in charge that others report, as it is hoped that a choir of one hundred and twenty-five voices can be secured. Christy Smith's orchestra and the orchestra connected with the Methodist church, will assist with the music.

In preparation for these meetings cottage prayer meetings have been held throughout Bellefonte and at Coleville beginning on Thursday night of last week and continuing through this week. The town was divided into sixteen districts and an average of five meetings were held in each district every night but Saturday evening. Fourteen prayer meetings have been held in Coleville. The attendance at these meetings has been very good and a determined spirit has been manifest in the work. The men representing the different churches who have had charge of this preliminary work are as follows:

Methodist—James K. Barnhart, William Tressler, M. R. Johnson, J. E. Stover, C. C. Shuey, Cyrus Solt.

Presbyterian—Rev. James P. Hughes, David Miller, Charles Gilmour, D. F. Fortney, H. C. Yeager, M. L. Altenderfer.

United Brethren—Christ Young, Darius Waite, W. R. Shope, Ellis Stine, W. T. Shirk.

United Evangelical.—E. J. Teaman, Willis Grove, Edward Young, Rev. Fulcomer.

Coleville.—Joseph Lowry, Warren Minnemyer, James H. Rine.

Three meetings a day will be held in the armory, morning, afternoon and evening, but the hours or the exact nature of the meetings will not be known until Evangelist Orr arrives.

Dr. Orr comes to Bellefonte with a reputation as a powerful worker and a wonderful influence for good. He has been doing evangelistic work the past four or five years, principally throughout the west, and has proven very successful. This will be his first work in Pennsylvania and naturally he will be desirous of getting good results. But Dr. Orr alone can't do it. The people of Bellefonte, in the church and out of it, must be with him heart and hand. It must be a union of hearts and souls in the common cause of fighting sin and bringing sinners to the foot of the cross.

Every person in Bellefonte should feel responsibility for the success of these meetings, for what is for the good of one is for the good of all and for the betterment of the town and community in which we live.

POSTMASTER COBLE'S SHORTAGE INCREASING.—During the past week a postoffice inspector has been busy trying to unravel the affairs at the Pleasant Gap postoffice to find out definitely the amount of the shortage of postmaster George W. Coble, who ran away on Monday of last week with the funds of the office, the announcement having been made exclusively by the WATCHMAN.

As near as can be figured out now the shortage will be in excess of $600, but the records of the office are in such a shape that it may be months before a definite and accurate count can be made. Whole pages were torn out of account books and destroyed, the stubs of money order books were made away with and all the records are in such a mixed up shape that it is a difficult case to unravel.

Mr. Coble had charge of the office only since the first of October, and the only way to check up his accounts is to get a statement of the supplies furnished him and the amounts of the money orders issued, and check up with the records of the office as they were when he left.

But as many of the money orders were sent to foreign countries it will probably be necessary to await their return before an accurate accounting can be made and the exact amount of Coble's shortage figured up.

Charles K. Stitzer, merchant at Pleasant Gap, was this week appointed postmaster to succeed Mr. Coble, and has taken charge of the office.

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS.—At the annual meeting of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company on Monday Frank M. Fisher, of Penn Hall, was elected secretary to succeed the late Daniel F. Luse, who held the position for forty-two years. All the other officers were re-elected.

—The doors to the Scenic are open every evening to welcome the people of Bellefonte. Good, clean pictures, such as shown at the Scenic, will not hurt anyone, while some of them are exceedingly interesting and instructive. Another good thing about the Scenic is the good order, and perfect ventilation, while it is always warm and comfortable. As a motion picture show the Scenic is in a class by itself.

—One of the deepest snows of the winter, so far, fell on Monday night and Tuesday. It began snowing on Monday evening and continued throughout the night and Tuesday morning until nine o'clock when it turned to rain. It rained most of Tuesday and Tuesday night but cleared up by Wednesday. Notwithstanding the big fall of snow and rain the streams throughout the county were not effected to any appreciable extent.

—James E. Solt, the shoe repair man, of south Allegheny street, appeals to the people of Bellefonte for more work in order to properly support himself and family. He does not ask or want charity, but work and lots of it. He is an expert shoe repairer and there is plenty of this kind of work in Bellefonte to give him a fair share of it. He will put your soles in good condition at reasonable prices, and is deserving of your patronage. Try him.

—The funeral of the late Senator J. K. P. Hall, at Ridgway, on Saturday, was one of the most largely attended of any held in Pennsylvania in recent years. The gathering included five Congressmen, a large delegation of State Senators and members of the Legislature, eight judges and many distinguished citizens of the State, in both political and business life, who were present to pay their last respects to the memory of a man worthy the highest esteem.

—Hiram Fetterhoff found a freak head of cabbage last Friday among the supply he had stored away for the winter. It looked like an ordinary head until he pulled off the outer leaves when he discovered that the big head was made up of sixteen little heads, from the size of an egg to a man's fist. Each of the small heads were solid and natural as any cabbage head. Mr. Fetterhoff don't know whether to blame the vegetable freak on the Democratic party or assign it to some other cause.

—The Postoffice Department at Washington has selected the Price property and the adjoining lot on Beaver avenue as the site for the government building at State College, for which $60,000 were appropriated at the last session of Congress. The site is opposite the Phi Gamma Delta house and will be about as central a location as it was possible to select. It is expected that work on the erection of the building will be begun in the spring. The plot of ground purchased is 110x160 feet in size, and the price paid was $14,000.

—There was a man in Bellefonte last Saturday wearing one of the old blue army overcoats with cape like those worn during the Civil war fifty years ago. The coat was somewhat faded and worn but in pretty fair condition, and the sight of it aroused the curiosity of a Bellefonte gentleman who inquired where he had come across the coat. The man, who is an old soldier, drew himself erect and replied that he wore that coat when he fought in the Civil war and he had worn it ever since; that it is the only overcoat he ever owned.

—The ice went out of Bald Eagle creek and the Susquehanna river last week without doing any damage. At Beech Creek a number of big floes of ice were left stranded on the banks of the creek and two or three people got enough to fill their ice houses. Along the Susquehanna all the ice was carried down stream, none of it being left stranded on the banks, and old rivermen aver that this is a sure indication that there will be little more ice on the river, if any; and that there will be no more high water during the winter and spring.

—Bellefonters will be interested in knowing that the Rev. John Hewitt, formerly rector of St. John's Episcopal church in this place, who has been priest-in-charge of the Cathedral of St. Paul in Erie, Pa., has accepted a call to the church at Coldwater, Mich. While the work at Erie was quite agreeable to Rev. Hewitt and the environment most delightful the Coldwater call was so insistent that he was unable to decline it. From what we understand the new charge is quite an important one and requires of him to officiate at but one service a day.

—One hundred invitations have been issued for the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Miller, which will be celebrated at their home at the toll gate tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, with a reception from two to six o'clock. Mr. Miller and Miss Catharine Pennington were united in marriage at Pleasant Gap on January 16th, 1864, by Rev. Carothers. The half century of their married life has been spent at Pleasant Gap, on the hill above the toll gate and at the toll gate, where they have been the past twenty-three years. With them tomorrow will be their three children, Mrs. E. P. Moore of Tyrone; Isaac, of Philadelphia, and Mog, at home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller are enjoying good health, and the WATCHMAN hopes they may live to celebrate many more wedding anniversaries.

YOUNG MEN ON RAMPAGE.—On Monday afternoon Boyd King and William Lauver, two young men of Millheim, filled up on hard cider then started out to do up the town and community in regular cowboy fashion.

They went to the toll gate and created such a disturbance that Mrs. L. P. Auman was frightened almost into convulsions. From there they went to the D. P. Weaver home where they fired several shots. Mrs. Weaver and young son fled to the cellar when the young men proceeded to beat up Mr. Weaver. He finally escaped from their clutches and fled out of the house, calling for help. Two men passing in a sled stopped, but Lauver fired one shot at them and ordered them to stay in the sled. Finally they left without doing further damage.

On Tuesday Weaver swore out a warrant for the arrest of the young men and on Wednesday policeman Harry Dunlap went down to Millheim to assist constable J. W. Bower in making the arrest. Several other deputies were also sworn in and the officers started for Lauver's home. They met him on North street and as soon as he spied the officers he started to run, with Dunlap in hot pursuit. The latter fired several shots at the fleeing man but did no injury outside of scaring Lauver who plunged through Elk creek with the water up to his waist. He ran through alleys and streets and finally dodged into the home of Perry Deabler where he hid under a bed but was found and taken into custody by the officers. King later gave himself up and that evening the young men were brought to Bellefonte and lodged in jail. King is married and has two children, while Lauver is a single man.

THE P. R. R. MEN WON.—The first of the indoor base ball games at the Y. M. C. A. was played on Tuesday night. The Pennsylvania Railroad and Match factory teams were the opponents and Capt. Ben Beezer's braves put it over Capt. Troupe's players by the score of 24 to 9. The game was the opener of a series of fifteen in which six teams will compete and it proved so interesting, that there is likely to be considerable excitement as the contest progresses.

The rules under which they play are practically the same as for the outdoor game, the positions and scoring being identical. Base stealing and home runs are practically eliminated. A runner may not start to steal a base until after a pitched ball has crossed the home plate.

Five cents admission is charged, the proceeds to be used to purchase a trophy for the winners. The next game in the series will be between the grocery men and dry goods teams this (Friday) night.

IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL.—Miss Belle Lowery entertained at cards on Monday night in honor of Miss Helen Robb, who with her mother will leave Bellefonte on the first of February to make their home at State College.

Miss Mary S. Thomas, who during the absence of Mrs. J. Thomas Mitchell, has charge of the Mitchell home, gave a dinner on Tuesday evening to a half dozen or more of her close personal friends.

The Fireman's Relief association held their annual banquet at the Undine fire company's building on east Bishop street on Tuesday evening. Christy Smith's orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evey gave a taffy pulling party on Tuesday evening for their little daughter Mary. Ten of her young friends were present.

Mrs. Joseph Thal had a quilting party at her home on Thomas street yesterday afternoon.

STOCKHOLDER'S MEETING.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Potter-Hoy Hardware company was held on Wednesday morning and among those in attendance were George L. Potter, of Baltimore, and Robert Sommerville, of Winburne. Mrs. Sidney Keefer was selected as stenographer to take the place of Miss Helen Robb, who will shortly leave to make her home at State College.

In the evening the company gave its annual banquet to its employees at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The banquet was in the shape of a turkey dinner and covers were laid for twenty-five guests.

GEREN—MEWSHAW.—Word was received in Bellefonte this week of the marriage on Saturday, December 26th, of Fred M. Geren, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss Fannie Mewshaw, of Columbus. Miss Mewshaw is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Mewshaw, of this place, and her friends here extend congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Geren will live in Cleveland.

VONADA—STOVER.—A belated wedding notice is that of Emanuel J. Vonada, of Coburn, and Mrs. Margaret R. Stover, of Woodward, whose marriage took place on Christmas day, at the parsonage of the United Evangelical church in this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Fulcomer, the pastor.

AMONG THE SICK.—Joseph Apt Jr., was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Wednesday suffering with a very bad attack of appendicitis.

Miss Mary McCusley is ill at the home of her brother, James McCusley, threatened with appendicitis.

A big doe made its appearance on the farm of A. J. Flegel, near Philipsburg, on Sunday afternoon, and was less than one hundred feet from the house when it spied the dog, and turning, it returned to the woods at full speed.
